SUNDAY EVENING.

Portsmouth was well provided with moral and religious amusements on Sunday evening, besides the social entertainments usually provided for each other on that evening by the young people—and some old ones—of the community. Rev. J. E. Bell, of Providence, R. I., (who had preached at the Advent church in the afternoon,) delivered an address on "The sin of intemperance" before the Reform Club in Rechabite Hall. Mr. Bell has never been heard before in Portsmouth, but so favorable was the impression made upon the audience gathered, that when he lectures in the Temple, which he has been invited to do after election, he will no doubt have a crowded house. The hall was filled with members of the Reform Club and their friends, and they were entertained for an hour (from seven to eight o'clock,) when the meeting broke up in order to enable those who wished so to do to attend Mr. Maynard's illustrated temperance lecture at Franklin Hall, which commenced at eight o'clock.

Owing to our being in another place at the time we were unable to be at Mr. Maynard's lecture; but we are assured by President Treat, of the Reform Club, and others, that the lecture was an earnest, interesting and practical essay on the evils of intemperance and the best way to oppose its extension and curtail its present limits,—the stereopticon illustrations of "Ten nights in a bar-room" being appropriate and (as illustrations) pleasing. The allegorical representations, "Rock of ages" and "No cross, no crown," given at the close of the lecture, were very fine.

At the Temple, Mr. George Everett, "the most remarkable materializing test medium in the world for the illustration of spiritualism by physical manifestations," was advertised to give a "grand religious lecture illustrating spirit power in the light." The dead were to appear and speak to the audience; spirit hands, faces and forms to be seen and recognized; a guitar played while floating around the room; and other wonderful phenomena to occur. There was a very fair audience, which however (for a reason already given) did not include the writer of this notice; but we are informed, not only by skeptics but by earnest believers in spiritual manifestations, who were present, that the spectators generally were very much disappointed in the show, as the dead persisted in remaining dead, and the other wonderful manifestations did not manifest worth a cent, owing to the lack of sympathy — or spirit power, or something else—in the audience. The spirits were utterly unequal to the task of untying knots tied by ex-Sheriff Rowe, and there were other awkward hitches in the proceedings. The influence exerted by the "grand religious lecture" on Sunday evening was not sufficiently powerful to prevent a strong spiritualist from using a most powerful double-adjective as a prefix to the word "humbug," in giving us his opinion of the great show, Monday morning.

PREVENTION OF CRUELTY.

A meeting of ladies and gentlemen was held in this city, on Saturday, October 7th, for the purpose of organizing a society like those already established in several of our larger cities, for the prevention of cruelty to children. After the meeting had organized by the election of a chairman and secretary, a constitution carefully prepared by a committee of gentlemen appointed at a previous informal meeting, was read and accepted. The following Board of Directors was then chosen:

James R. May, Mrs. J. J. Pickering, T. E. O. Marvin, Mrs. A. W. Haven, Chas. W. Gardner, Elizabeth H. Pearson, Edward B. Goodall, Mary R. Lyman, Charles A. Holbrook, Carrie A. Morrison, Chief Engineer Williamson, U. S. N., Mary A. Foster.

After the meeting had adjourned the Board of Directors met, and proceeded to choose the following officers:

President—Rev. Charles A. Holbrook;

Vice Presidents—Hon. Ichabod Goodwin, Rev. Eugene Grant, Mr. Joseph H. Foster, Miss Eliza A. Haven, Mrs. Charles Burroughs, Mrs. Stanton Parker;

Secretary—Miss Susan E. Christie;

Treasurer—Dr. James R. May.

RAILROAD CHANGES.

By the time-table of the Eastern Railroad, published in another column, it will be seen that numerous changes have been made in the starting time of trains, and that the number of trains has been much reduced. Instead of eight trains daily from this city to Boston, as per the Summer arrangement, there are now but five, only one train leaving here after 11:9 A. M., that one starting at eight minutes past five. From Boston for this city, the first train starts at 7:30 A. M., and any one missing that train must wait until a half hour after noon for the next one. There are five trains daily from Boston to this city, the last one leaving there at 8 P. M., an hour later than before. The Sunday trains are discontinued. One train less per day will run to North Conway, but the number of return trains will be as before. There is one train less each way between this city and Portland; and two trains less on the Portsmouth & Dover Road. The taking off of the 3:14 P. M. train from this city for Boston, and of the 9 A. M. train from Boston for this city, will possibly occasion some quiet grumbling on the part of travellers over the road; but the corporation cannot be expected to run trains at a loss for the accommodation of the public, and if the patronage was such as to make those trains pay they would doubtless have been kept running.

POLICE COURT.

Monday, October 9, before Batchelder, Justice:

Joseph Sheets, just down from Brentwood, was sent back for two months and to work out $6.90 costs, for getting three sheets in the wind.

Mary Jones, another graduate of Brentwood, acknowledged herself to be a vagrant and was sent up for six months.

John and Julia Barrett, charged with keeping a disorderly house, were bound over in $100 each to appear before the Supreme Court to answer.

William Chittick was charged with kicking up a brawl and tumult. He thought he did do that same, and that he did not have $11.90 to pay his fine and costs. The Court took his word in both cases, and sent him into the country $11.90 worth.

JOTTINGS.

This evening, at the Temple, Mr. W. J. LeMoyne, the great delineator of Dickens' characters, will appear as Capt. Cuttle in "Dombey & Son," and as Uriah Heep in "Heep vs. Micawber," supported by a large and efficient company,—a rare opportunity for admirers of Dickens and first-class acting to enjoy a treat.

On Monday the eight and eleven o'clock trains for Boston took about two hundred persons from this city bound for the Centennial Exhibition at Philadelphia. A party of about twenty from Dover, who intended joining those from this city, were delayed by an accident to the engine until after the eleven o'clock train had left, and were taken on board an express train from Bangor, which passed through here at half-past three in the afternoon, having on board about three hundred Maniacs. If there are any more left who intend visiting Philadelphia during the Centennial they still have a chance to avail themselves of the low fare of $10.70 for the round trip, which will be in force for a few days longer.

The Times says the Gas Company's new brick structure on Linden street is as plain as a Quaker meeting-house. The company essay to lay their pipes from their new reservoir through Linden to Daniel streets, but the Goodrich family, who own the estate by which the street runs, notified the officers of the company that the street was a private way, and the company could not pass through it with their pipes. An investigation of the question showed that the company had no right to dig up this street any more than to enter upon any other private property, and the company now ask the city to lay out the street as a public highway. The effect of this move, if successful, will be to make the city pay, in the shape of land damages, what the company would otherwise pay for damages in going through the street with their pipes. The city has managed to rub along many years without the street being made a public way, and there is no indication of any intention on the part of those who own it to close it against public travel.

Foster's Democrat, of Dover, referring to the republican parade there on Friday evening of last week, and the visit of the Portsmouth Hayes and Wheeler Guards, says: "The republican boys, Contiuental Guards, etc., etc., of Dover, and the young Hayes & Wheelers, etc., etc., of Portsmouth, made a good show last night tramping through the mud. They were all very handsomely uniformed, and their appearance on the streets with their torches was first-rate. They were good looking and well behaved bodies of young men, and we give them credit to this extent at least. We have seldom if ever seen a prettier exhibition than they made, and we are glad to be able to say that no disorders anywhere took place, but so far as these young men were concerned, they acquitted themselves honorably and as good citizens should always do."

The attendance of every member of the Portsmouth Heavy Artillery Company is earnestly desired at the meeting this (Tuesday) evening. Business of the utmost importance. PER ORDER.

Regular drill of the Portsmouth Cavalry Co. at the Plains on Wednesday afternoon. Members are requested to meet at the armory on Fleet street at half-past 2 o'clock, sharp. PER ORDER.

Wanted, a Testimonial.

They had a quarrel Sunday evening. He got mad and swore he'd leave her. Then she got vexed and told him he could do as he pleased. He left. The next night he came around again. He asked to see her alone. She readily complied. She was all of a tremor. Her heart went out to him in a gush of sympathetic love. She stood ready to throw both arms about his neck and cry out her joy. There was not much color in his face and his voice was husky. He said:

"I have been with you six months, Matilda, and I tried in all that time to do what was right." He paused an instant to recover the voice which was faltering rapidly, while her trembling increased. "I know that I have got considerable temper, and that I do not control it always as I ought. But I have tried to be faithful to you, tried to do everything that I thought would tend to make you happy. And feeling this I have called to-night to see if you wouldn't be kind enough to give me a sort of testimonial to this effect, so that I could show it to any other young lady I might want to go with. It might help me."

He looked at her anxiously. All the color left her face in a flash. She made a great effort to swallow something which threatened to suffocate her. Then she spoke.

"You get out of this house as quick as you can, you miserable whelp, or my father shall kick you out."

No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y.
CURES CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED,

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were provided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find meatifically furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—Dr. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichioli's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

Dr. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

In valids out of the city can be cured by consulting he Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, one for one of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 16, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and that they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been so free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half of the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good, I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Cordial he could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lungs trying climate of New England!

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

— USE —

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER.

Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round.

BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now is daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc., and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

The Northfield Robbers.

The Youngers are probably the best known of the gang who perpetrated the raid at Northfield, Minn. Their father, Col. Henry Younger was a man of some note and worth. He was born at Crab Orchard, Kentucky, but early in life moved to Missouri, and in 1830 married. He reared a large family of girls and boys. Of the boys Richard, Thomas, Coleman, James Henry, John and Robert Ewing attained their majority. Col. Younger figured somewhat conspicuously in local politics, meantime attending closely to business, and at the breaking out of the rebellion in 1861 owned a large livery stable in Harrisonville, Cass county, and was also doing a good trading business. Col. Younger espoused the cause of the Union, but so bitter was the feeling against him resulting from his active participation in politics, that in one of the raids into Missouri in 1861, by the Kansas jayhawkers, led by Jennison, his livery stable was sacked, and property valued at $20,000 run off. In September of the following year, while going to Harrisonville to deposit a large sum of money, he was waylaid and assassinated.

From this event, according to their own story, dates the criminal career of the Younger brothers. Swearing revenge, they joined their fortunes with those of Quantrell, the bloodiest cut-throat figuring in the history of the rebellion. In 1864 Cole joined the Confederate army, going South with Gen. Price as captain of a company. He was in Louisiana when the war closed. Before this time, the brothers say, they had killed all the men supposed to have been engaged in the assassination of their father. After the close of the war, Cole, with a picked band, went to Mexico on an expedition of robbery and pillage, but soon returned to his old home. Soon after his return from Mexico, the people and authorities of Missouri began a war of extermination upon Quantrell's bandits, and the Younger brothers and others became homeless wanderers and refugees from justice. Since then their career has been one of continuous crime. Large rewards have been offered for their capture, dead or alive, the rewards for Cole alone aggregating $27,500.

Cole, who is the spokesman for the captives at Faribault, pleads in extenuation that at first he only sought vengeance, but that after a career with Quantrell's guerrillas he found himself so hunted that he was driven into outlawry. Since the Youngers and Jameses have been known, almost every offence of the character of those in which they have been engaged, has been laid at their door. "Why," said Cole to a reporter, "I am accused of enough crimes to weigh me down, not one of which I have been guilty of. With a whole country infested with men who make their living as have I, every one of their acts and my own have been attributed to me."

In 1875 a preamble and resolution were introduced into the Missouri Legislature—the preamble reciting the various crimes charged against the brothers, and the resolution granting them amnesty and restoration to citizenship. The resolution was ably advocated in a most exciting debate, but was defeated by but a small majority.

The third of the bandits in durance at Faribault has been identified as Cal. Carter, a noted Texas desperado. He is considered the worst man of the three, and if he isn't, he is belied by his face. He has a wife and children, and the reputation of being the "ablest" horse thief in Texas, which abounds in characters of that class. He has for years operated more or less with the Jameses and Youngers, making his house the headquarters of the gang while operating in Texas. He was in the Gad's Hill robbery and the Iowa bank robbery.

The man killed at Madelia has been identified as Charlie Pitts, and by Mr. Bunker as the man who fired the shot that wounded him in the shoulder. He is simply known as a member of the band, and as a daring and desperate villain. He also belongs in Texas.

Of the identity of one of the robbers killed at Northfield there seems to be some doubt. It was generally supposed at first that his name was Chadwell, but it is now asserted that he was a former resident of Monticello, in Minnesota, and that his name was Bill Stiles. Stiles's father now lives at Grand Forks, Dakota, and says that his son has for some time lived in Texas. The father expressed no surprise at the fate of his son, and remarked that he had always been a wild boy, and that he could do nothing with him. About two months ago a man living near Cannon Falls received from Stiles a letter, dated at Middletown, Texas, saying he had made a good haul, "and if you want $100 or $200, say so." He also wrote that he was "coming up into the northwestern country in a few weeks, and knew where they could make another good haul, and would give him some more." Under date of Sept. 22, however, Sheriff F. A. Rodgers of Brownsville, Missouri, who has in charge Hobbs Kerry, a member of the gang who participated in the Otterville train robbery, writes the chief of police of St. Louis that Kerry identifies Chadwell by the photographs shown him. It is probable that the dead bandit is Chadwell and not Stiles.

Cal. Miller is a desperado of Jackson county, Missouri. He was an active member of the James and Younger gang. He was in the Otterville robbery, and, in fact, in nearly all the murderous and thieving forays of the band of desperadoes. It is said of him that in the district where he operated, whatever he did was law to the terrified inhabitants.

Daily Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1876.

FOR PRESIDENT,

Rutherford B. Hayes,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

William A. Wheeler,

OF NEW YORK.

Hayes' Platform in War.

In 1864, when Hayes was in the army, being nominated for Congress he was requested to come home and stump his district. His reply was, "I have other business just now. Any man who would leave the army at this time to electioneer for Congress ought to be scalped!"

Hayes' Platform in Peace.

"Honest money for all, and free schools for all. There should be no inflation which will depreciate the one, nor sectarian interference which will destroy the other."

The Elections.

On Tuesday, the 10th, West Virginia, Ohio and Indiana, held elections. In the West Virginia election but little interest was centred, that State being conceded to the democrats, who had about 9000 majority at the previous election, and chose 64 members of the legislature to 25 for all other parties. In Ohio and Indiana the canvass had been driven at high-pressure by both parties, and both parties (in the Eastern States) were very anxious—and possibly very scared—about the result.

The democrats proclaimed themselves sure of Indiana, by a majority of from 8000 to 20,000; the republicans hoped to carry the State, but did not feel like giving heavy odds in betting on it. At the election of 1874, the democrats had 17,252 plurality over the republicans, and a majority over all parties of 1,019. This was heavy odds to overcome, particularly with so adroit and unscrupulous a wire-puller as Tilden managing the democratic campaign, and working (as he has always worked) in his own interests; and the republicans all over the Union, Tuesday morning, felt that their brethren in Indiana would do all that could reasonably be expected of them if they prevented a heavy democratic majority from being rolled up against them.

Ohio's canvass was tame enough until a month or six weeks before the election, the republicans apparently assuming that the election would carry itself in their favor, and Tilden earnestly prosecuting his favorite "still hunt," in hope not to arouse the republicans until they would find it too late to prevent the State dropping out from under them. But the alarm was sounded, and since then things have been going on at a lively rate. The republicans, on election morning, felt as sure of Ohio as the democrats did of Indiana; the democrats "hoped for victory," and their Washington mouthpieces claimed 8,000 to 10,000 majority for the democratic candidate for Secretary of State, William Bell. The Tilden bureau had certainly tried every possible scheme to defeat Milton Barnes, the republican nominee. He had been accused in one set of circulars, judiciously circulated among the temperance voters, of being a drunkard and a roysterer; in another circular, spread broadcast among the Germans, of being a temperance fanatic and a leading "crusader." National prejudice had been invoked to aid in his defeat, through the most unscrupulous attempts to connect him, directly or indirectly, with Know-Nothingism; and sectarianism was also called upon, democratic tickets having been passed around in the Roman Catholic churches on Sunday, with instructions for the voters to carry them to the polls and deposit them. Yet the republicans expected to elect Mr. Barnes by a majority fully as large as that received by Gov. Hayes in 1875, when he defeated Foghorn William Allen by 5,544 majority. In 1874—"tidal wave" year—the democrats had 17,000 majority; in 1872, the year of the last Presidential election, the republican majority was 14,000 on the governor vote, Grant having 36,000 majority over Greeley a month later.

As Ohio and Indiana voted on Tuesday, there was no use in the democratic papers in the East claiming a democratic victory in Colorado any longer; so the Boston Post and Herald, which with the other democratic organs had up to Tuesday morning gallantly maintained that the democrats carried the new State, on that morning gave it up and acknowledged a republican victory. The republican majority on the governor vote is about 1300; for the legislature about 2700; the republicans have about two-thirds the legislature, in both branches.

The following dispatches over the Atlantic & Pacific Telegraph line, are all we were able to procure up to 4:15 this morning.

PHILADELPHIA, midnight.

Ohio republican. Forney has just received a dispatch saying democrats of Indiana concede election of Harrison. An immense torch-light procession is now being formed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11th, 1 A. M.

The excitement about the republican headquarters at 5th Avenue Hotel is intense; lobbies crowded; bets offering freely, two to one, that the democrats carry Indiana by 10,000 majority. Republicans confident, but waiting full returns. Indianapolis is reported to have gone strongly in favor of Harrison. Thousands of dollars are being wagered on the result. A dispatch from Hendricks claims Indiana by 2000 democratic majority. Nothing definite is known from Indiana or Ohio, reports from both being contradictory.

NEW YORK, 1:30 A. M.

Columbus, Ohio, gives democratic gain of 478 in five wards. Ewing, dem., is elected to Congress in 12th Dist. by 7000 majority. World's bulletin despatch (which comes no further than from democratic headquarters) says Ohio has gone republican by 17,500 majority. This is preposterous.

NEW YORK, 2 A. M.

Returns from 357 townships and wards in Ohio show a republican net gain of 1502. This does not include Cincinnati, Columbus, Toledo and other cities.

A telegram from Columbus, O., received here at 3 A. M. says: The mass of election returns in, though it does not give accurate figures, indicates the election of Bell and entire democratic State ticket, and nearly all the democratic Congressmen. Banning in 2d Dist. has 1500 majority; Sayler is chosen in 1st Dist; Payne is elected in 20th Dist.,—all democratic. Nothing definite from Toledo or Dayton districts to indicate who has been elected. No information is received to show whether Savage, McMahon, Vance or Poppleton are elected. Rice is elected in 5th Dist., and Dickey in the 7th—both democrats; Keifer, rep., in the 8th; Southard, in the 13th, and Finley in the 14th, both dem.; Van Vorhes in the 16th, McKinley in 17th, Monroe in 18th, Garfield in 19th,—all republican. Democrats very jubilant, and confident of having carried the State.

CINCINNATI.

Richard Smith, of the Gazette, concedes a dem. gain of 200 in Hamilton county, but believes rep. gains will exceed their losses throughout the State; considers Banning defeated. Murat Halstead, after a careful review of all returns in, considers the State about the same as last year; thinks both dem. Congressmen elected in this county, but a count will be needed to decide between Banning and Matthews, Dem. county ticket elected in Hamilton county by a small majority.

NEW YORK.

A telegram to the World from Indiana gives the democrats an overwhelming victory in both States,—Indiana by 7000 majority. A telegram at the republican headquarters claims Indiana by a good majority.

It being customary to have a picture in on the morning after election, we put one in. Our readers may assume that it represents either party or any candidate they please. For our part we have not the slightest idea of how the election has gone.

Political.

The Norwich (Conn.) Bulletin says that at the recent election "Rev." A. H. Bennett was put in as moderator of the town meeting at Canterbury by "Hon." Marvin H. Sanger, the democratic Secretary of State of Connecticut, and a red-hot Tilden "reformer." The "reverend" gentleman was caught stuffing democratic ballots into the box, and afterward as plainly caught taking republican ballots out; and the "honorable" democratic Secretary of State backed him up. The election will be contested by the republicans.

On Sunday, in the Roman Catholic churches of Ohio and Indiana, democratic tickets were passed around to the voters, who were duly "instructed" to carry the ballots given them. The democratic papers of those States keep up an indignant silence on this "bringing sectarianism into politics."

A democratic orator in Ohio hurled the terrific charge against Hayes that he "never obtained an office that was not thrust upon him."

At the democratic soldiers' demonstration in Indianapolis, an arch across Washington Street bore a live American eagle tied by the legs. Around his perch was the inscription, "I am safe in the hands of the democracy." An unfortunate omen occured. As the head of the procession was just under the arch, the bird broke loose and flew away. He evidently thought himself safer out of the hands of the democrats. It is of no use to try to put salt on the tail of the American eagle.

New Hampshire Items.

In the winter of 1874 a series of unaccountable robberies was committed in West Boylston, Mass., Silas Dinsmore's house being stripped of all its parlor furniture and C. M. Harris' of its carpets. All efforts to trace the property or the thief were unsuccessful; but Mr. Harris' servant girl, who was recently married, and moved to Fremont, in this State, found Mr. Harris' carpets in a house to which she went. She notified him of the fact, and a search warrant revealed in the same house a great amount of stolen property. The thief, a Canadian Frenchman, who formerly lived in West Boylston, was arrested, and an officer started with him for Massachusetts, but unfortunately, when near Nashua, he jumped from the cars and succeeded in making his escape.

The celebrated trotters, "Smuggler" and "Judge Fullerton," had a race at the Granite State Park at Dover on Tuesday, for a purse of $1000. Smuggler won in three straight heats, time 2:27, 2:21, 2:24 1-4. Smuggler won the pole on the toss, but Fullerton acted badly on the scoring, and finally Smuggler's driver requested the judges to give Fullerton the pole, which was done. On the third heat Marvin (Smuggler's driver) asked for the word when two lengths behind, and before reaching the quarter pole Smuggler broke, leaving a gap of at least twelve lengths; after which he gradually gained, and at the third quarter yoked Fullerton, both horses coming down the homestretch neck and neck, with Fullerton under the whip, Smuggler winning the heat by a neck. Afterward there was a trot for 2:30 horses, Young Wilkes winning the first two heats, in 2:30 1-2, 2:34. The third heat Orestes won in 2:31 1-2. The race was not finished when our informant left.

Thomas L. Thorpe's waste mill, stock and machinery in East Weare were destroyed by fire on the 9th. Supposed cause, spontaneous combustion. Loss $6000; insurance $1500.

—A stranger know as "Slippery Pete," hailing from Philadelphia, passed a few hours on the Berks county fair ground. He had a board on his lap and playfully tossed three cards back and forward. A young man somewhat from the country watched the gambler's movements closely. "Young man," said the monte player, "you see this card? (showing the ace of hearts)—watch it close and tell me whether you can pick it up." Three cards were tossed over and across each other, and then the gambler rested. "Yes, I think I can pick up that card at one trial," said the young man. "Bet you ten dollars you can't." The money was put up, when the young man said: "The bet is that I can't pick up that card." He then looked at them intently, and suddenly as quick as thought swept both hands toward each other across the board and picked up the three cards at one grab. He claimed his money and got it, too.—Baltimore American.

—All intelligent travelers who have visited Brazil speak in the most glowing terms of the country, the emperor of which, Dom Pedro II, has just paid a flying visit to this country. Professor Agassiz regarded it as the most productive and interesting country on the globe, and the one in which it is easiest to obtain a livelihood. Some who have sailed up the Amazon declare that a vessel can be loaded with Brazil nuts at an expense of only a few pence per bushel. These constitute a valuable article of commerce, while the oil extracted from them is very desirable. All the tropical fruits are produced in Brazil almost without cultivation. The soil in many parts of the country will produce twenty successive crops of cotton, tobacco or sugar-cane without the application of manure. No country in the world approaches the land of Dom Pedro in the variety of its forest productions. Professor Agassiz states that he saw one hundred and seventeen different kinds of valuable woods, all cut from a piece of land not half a mile square. They represented almost every variety of color, and many of them were capable of receiving a high polish. One tree furnishes wax that is used for food, and still another yields a juice which is used in place of intoxicating liquor. There is a single variety of palm from which the natives obtain food, drink, clothing, bedding, cordage, fishing tackle, medicine, and the material they manufacture into dwellings, weapons, harpoons and musical instruments. Doubtless the day is not far distant when the valuable woods of Brazil will be used for various useful and ornamental purposes.

—A Scotch professor in the University of Edinburg was experimenting before his pupils with some combustible substances, when, as he was mixing them, they exploded, shattering the vial which he held into fragments. He held up a small piece of glass, and said, very gravely, "Gentlemen, I have made this experiment often with this same vial, and never knew it to break in my hands before."

—A tailor and his son were, in the olden days, doing a day's work in a farm-house. The prudent housewife, to secure a good day's work, lighted candles when daylight began to fade. The tailor looked to his son and said, "Jack, confound them that invented workin' by candle-light." "Ay," replied young snip, "or daylight, either, father."

—The Lewiston Journal says an Auburn physician gave a patient a dose of morphine over night, and on calling next morning found him much better, "but," said he, "I had a broken night of it. My dreams were horrible. You don't know how much I suffered. Once I even dreamed—and grateful I was that I woke in the midst of my dream—that I was in a democratic caucus."

—John Kelly calls it "r-refar-um," George W. Julian calleth it "wefohm," Lieutenant Hobbs calls it "re-form," the Hon. John Morrissey calls it "ruffurm," Charles Francis Adams calls it "refawm," Boss Tweed, with his Spanish accent, calls it "rafurme," Bill Allen lays back the top of his head and calls it "ref-o-o-ouw-awrm!" and the American people, with a correct appreciation of its nature, call it "bosh."—Burlington Hawkeye.

—"Pshaw!" said a young lady of musical taste, passing a certain church Sunday night, where an incompetent organist was torturing the instrument, "it's enough to make that congregation all go wicked just to imagine their organist having a harp in the New Jerusalem and being entitled to play on it."

TO TAX-PAYERS.

If the improvement of Richards avenue cost sixteen thousand dollars, how much will the proposed road around the South Pond cost?

The Mayor and Aldermen have appointed Thursday evening, the 12th inst., for a hearing on a petition signed by thirty-two voters for a highway from the eastern line of Mrs. Burroughs' land on Pleasant street to Langdon Park; and is to be hoped that a sufficient number of the remaining twenty-two hundred voters will be present to put an end to this project. Every citizen's homestead is now mortgaged to twenty per cent. of its valuation, to pay the debt incurred for the Dover Railroad; and the voices of some of those most instrumental in fixing that incubus upon us, have been within a week loudly calling for more to go into that vortex—and those same men, who have shown themselves such unsafe counsellors in that case, whose predictions in regard to its benefits have so utterly failed, appear to be the most prominent movers in this new project for running the city further in debt. Have we not had enough of their advice in the way of Road building, to last us for the next decade?

In the name of common sense, for what is this new road wanted? It would possibly, in effect, bring the "Park" a few rods nearer to a few score of people, nothing more. For six months of the year, it would be of no use, for no one wishes to go to the "Park," in winter; for the summer months it would give the advantage of closer communion than can otherwise be had, with a filthy, disgusting, malaria breeding, sewerage cesspool,—half the time a mere mud bank—which has been for years a burning disgrace and shame to our city, and around which typhoid has this season been, and is now, alarmingly prevalent—and to build such a road, leading nowhere, the city is called upon to expend a large sum (tens of thousands—mark it—of dollars); build this, then follows a road through the "Park;" then, the assumption of the "Park" debt, for of course, though of but three acres, it has its debt; it's so easy to have things when you can get them by creating debt! That the building of this road would be a step in the direction of clearing the pond, is the sheerest hallucination.

Fellow citizens: With every interest depressed—(except beer-brewing and rum-selling) as never before; with the fearful depreciation in values under which the community is staggering, and which reaches every person in it; with imminent prospect of immediate increase to our already burdensome taxes; it is submitted that this is no time to indulge in any avoidable or unnecessary expenditure. Petitions (anybody, almost, will sign one) are before the Councils for various purposes of this nature, most of them doubtless just as unnecessary as this; and it is quite time that the voices of those who do not sign these petitions, who do not sanction these (as they think) useless and wanton expenditures, but who nevertheless have to pay for them, should be heard. If you think so, tax-payers, go and say so, to-morrow night. W.

N. B. This highway, as the petition has it, is to run "westerly along the shores of said pond to the inlet thereof," etc; most people would probably think that "the inlet thereof" could only be reached by going easterly.

A CORRECTION.

Eds. Chronicle:—Will you please allow a correction with reference to a statement in Tuesday morning's CHRONICLE. Last Sabbath afternoon I had the pleasure of preaching a sermon in the Free Baptist church on Pearl street, and not in the Advent church, as stated by your reporter. I am not an Adventist in the sense in which the term is popularly understood, and do not wish to pass for that which I am not, although I have great respect for the people to whom the term would more naturally apply.

Very Respectfully, J. E. BELL.

JOTTINGS.

We have received the report of the State Valuation and Apportionment Committee of 1876, giving the inventory of every place in the State for the years 1875-76. We don't know where it was printed or where it came from, (though we presume from the State Printer,) but it is a little the neatest specimen of tabulated work we have ever seen. We return our thanks to the sender, whoever he may be, for this valuable reference document.

Schooner "Light of Home," Seaward, of this port, and schooner "War Steed," Gookin, while beating out of the harbor at Newport, R. I., on Sunday, came in collision off Lime Rocks, the "War Steed" losing jibboom and rigging attached, and the "Light of Home" having main rigging carried away on port side, main rail and bulwarks cut down to the planksheer and foresail badly torn. The "War Steed," after making temporary repairs, proceeded.

The Charter Oak Insurance Company, (Morse & Ilsley, Agents for Portsmouth,) have issued a little book giving the electoral vote of every State in the Union at every election since the Nation was formed, with the names of all candidates, total popular votes and many other interesting statistics. It is very convenient for reference, and contains a vast amount of political information in a very small compass.

Schooner Mary S. Hontvet, Hontvet, arrived on Monday night from the Grand Banks with a fare of 120,000 lbs. of fish, mostly split cod.

We have received the first number of the Exeter Gazette, published weekly at Exeter by Wingate & Dunyon, and furnished subscribers at $1 a year in advance. The "patent outsides" are used; the inside is well filled with local matter, State news and advertisements, is well arranged and handsomely printed. It is to be "independent" in politics, not claiming to be "neutral." Farmington also has a new paper, the Advertiser, published weekly by C. W. Folsom, edited by Ed. E. Small; subscription price, $1.25 a year, in advance. It uses the "patent outsides," the inside being handsomely printed and largely filled with matter of local interest. It is "independent" in politics.

Schooner Active, of this port, from Hallowell for Philadelphia, with ice, was in collision on Monday night off Cuttyhunk with the schooner Mary F. Corson, from Boston for Philadelphia, and lost her bowsprit and head gear and met with considerable other damage. The Mary F. Corson had her main and quarter rail broken.

THE PLAY.

On Tuesday evening the Dickens Dramatic Combination was greeted by an audience good in point of members, and in quality such as only the highest order of entertainments can draw out. The performance was all it promised to be, and that it was appreciated by the spectators was evident from the close and silent attention bestowed upon it all through—it seldom occurring to such an audience, in this city, to bestow boisterous applause. We heard but one verdict,—that it was one of the best entertainments ever given here. In "Dombey & Son" about all of importance there is to do falls to the part of Mr. LeMoyne, as "Cap'n Ed'ard Cuttle," and he does it to the delight of all, the minor parts being also well taken. In "Heep vs. Micawber," Mr. Charles H. Thayer as Micawber was immense, and the 'umble Uriah was portrayed by Mr. LeMoyne in as hateful a guise as Dickens himself could have wished the arch hypocrite to be shown. Mr. LeMoyne had a very good house on this occasion; but we opine that a repetition of the same plays would crowd the Temple. We know it would deserve it.

News and Notes.

Squire Smith, of Indianapolis, was surprised at finding two dead bodies in his coal cellar on Monday morning. The bodies had been stolen from their graves and placed in the cellar by mistake. There is a medical college next door to the Squire's residence.

The fire at Cleveland, Ohio, was stopped by blowing up buildings, after it had destroyed some $250,000 of property. While the main fire was raging a church in another part of the city was burned, with a loss of $75,000.

More fighting in Servia is reported. The Montenegrins repulsed a Turkish detachment, killing 850 and themselves losing but about 100 men. It is possible that the efforts of "the powers" to preserve the peace of Europe will be successful, but the probabilities are not in that direction now.

Gustav Meunier, a Frenchman, of Holyoke, Mass., has been arrested for dealing in counterfeit money. A lot of his circulars, and a list of his patrons' names, were captured, showing that his dealings have been principally with his countrymen at North Brookfield. No plates or bills were found. Meunier is said to possess about $30,000.

Important successes of the Cuban insurgents are reported.

Steamer Southern Belle was burned at Baton Rouge, La., on Tuesday, and several lives were lost.

—"What's usee play pokel," remarked an almond-eyed denizen of Tuscon, Nev. "Me hold four kings and a lace; Melican man hold all same time four laces and a kling; whole week washee gone likee woodbine."

—There was a panic among the mothers at a Cincinnati hotel recently, when the bill of fare came out and announced "children pot pie" for dinner that day. It turned out, however, to be the printer's mistake for "chicken pot-pie."

How to Grow Cheerful,

Disease is in a great many—perhaps the majority—of instances the underlying cause of mental depression. It will a most invariably be found, for instance, that hypochondriacs are dyspeptic, bilious subjects, and all persons who have had any experience of such cases are aware that sufferers from diseases of the kidneys and bladder are especially subject to fits of despondency. The sure way to overcome depression is to try a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a cheering cordial which is peculiarly antagonistic to the "blues," as well as to the causes which produce them. This popular and efficacious corrective of a disordered condition of the system remedies the most obstinate cases of indigestion, biliousness and constipation, overcomes disorders of the urinary organs, purifies and enriches the blood, and restores vigor to the body as well as elasticity to the mind.

PROPOSALS FOR MATERIALS TO BE SUPPLIED TO THE NAVY YARDS UNDER THE COGNIZANCE OF THE BUREAU OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR,
Washington, D. C., September 28, 1876.

SEALED PROPOSALS to furnish Timber and other materials for the Navy for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1877, will be received at the Bureau until 12 o'clock M. of Thursday, November 16, 1876, at which time the bids will be opened.

The proposals must be addressed the "Chief of the Bureau of Construction and Repair, Navy Department, Washington," and endorsed "Proposals for Timber, &c., for the Navy," that they may be distinguished from ordinary business letters.

To prevent confusion, and facilitate the opening of the bids, parties bidding for supplies at several yards will enclose their bids in separate envelopes for each yard, indorsed with the name of the yard for which the bid is made.

Printed schedules for such classes as parties deal in and intend to bid for, together with instructions to bidders, giving the forms of proposal, of guarantee, and of certificate of guarantors, with printed forms of offer, will be furnished to such persons as desire to bid, on application to the Commandants of the respective Navy Yards, and those of all the yards on application to the Bureau.

The Commandant of each Navy Yard, and the purchasing Paymaster for each Station, will have a copy of the schedules of the other yards, for information only, in order that persons who intend to bid may judge whether it is desirable to make application for any of the classes of those yards.

The proposals must be for the whole of a class, but the Department reserves the right to reduce the whole class, should the interest of the Government require it, before the execution of the contract. All applications for information, or for the examination of samples, must be made to the Commandants of the respective yards.

Bids or offers will be received only from parties who are bona fide dealers in, or manufacturers of, the articles they offer to furnish. The guarantors must be certified by the collector of Internal Revenue for the district in which they reside.

The contract will be awarded to the person who makes the lowest bid and gives the guarantee required by law, the Navy Department, however, reserving the right to reject the lowest bid, or any which it may deem exorbitant.

Under the provisions of section 3722 of the Revised Statutes, the offer of any person who, as principal or surety, has been a defaulter in any previous contract with the Navy Department will not be received.

Sureties in the full amount will be required to sign the contract, and their responsibility must be certified to by the collector of the Navy Department.

As additional security twenty per centum will be withheld from the amount of the bills where the contracts shall have been completed, and eighty per centum of the amount of each bill, approved in triplicate by the Commandants of the respect ve yards, will be paid by the Paymaster of the station designated in the contract, or, if none is specified, by the Paymaster of the station nearest the yard where the goods are delivered, within ten days after the warrant for the same shall have been passed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

DR. QUAIN'S
MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of all their sufferings from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no purpose. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of any, as I did not need them. He has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried all the patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten years, and have used everything and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mobley, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or thrown them into the river below low-water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low-water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 15. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building vessel, or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or piggy, over either of the mill ponds in this city, or so placed that offensive substance therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds, or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his land into either of said ponds, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER.

Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round.

BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

Why the Trapper Didn't Smoke.

The following is John Norton's—the Old Trapper's—reason for not using tobacco, in Mr. Murray's Adirondack story now running in the Golden Rule. The author's humor and brilliant descriptive powers are clearly seen in every paragraph of this, his first serial story:

"Henry," said he, as he stood leaning over the end of his boat, "you come here and we will hist this boat into camp. I dare say I am an old fool, but somehow I sorter feel that this lake shore isn't quite the spot to leave an honest man's boat on. I can remember when to have done it would have cost a man his boat and scalp, too, unless the Lord mercifully kept his eyes open by dreams."

In a moment the boat was placed where the old man wished it, and setting his back against its side for a support, he unlaced his moccasins, and thrust his smoking feet out toward the fire. Taking a pipe from my pocket, I filled it with a choice brand of tobacco I had in my pouch, and proffered it to him.

"Thank ye, thank ye, Henry," said he, as he made a motion of rejection of the offer with his hand, "I thank ye for the kindness ye mean in your heart, but if it be all the same to ye I won't take it. I know it is a comfort to ye, and I am glad to see ye enjoy it, but I have never used the weed; not for the reason that I had a conscience in the matter, but because the Lord gave me a nose like a hound's, and better too, I dare say, for I doubt if a hound knows the sweetness of things, or can take pleasure from the scent that goes into his nostrils. But he has been more merciful to man—as it was proper he should be—and gave him the power to know good and evil in the air; and smellin' has always been one of my gifts, and I couldn't make you understand, I dare say, the pleasure I have had in the right exercise of it. For you know that nature' is no more bright to the eye than it is sweet to the nose; and I have never found a root or shrub or leaf that hadn't its own scent. Even the dry moss on the rocks, dead and juiceless as it seems, has a smell to it, and as for the arth I love to put my nose into the fresh sile, as a city woman loves the nozzle of her smellin'-bottle. Many and many a time when alone here in the woods have I taken my boat and gone up into the inlet when the wild roses was in blossom, or down into some bay where the white lily cups was all open, and set in my boat and smelt them by the hour, and wondered if heaven smelt so. Yes, I have been sartinly gifted in my nose, for I have always noted that I smelt things that the men and women I was guidin' didn't, and found things in the air that they never suspicioned of, and I feared that smokin' might take away my gift, and that if I got the strong smell of tobacco in my nose once I should never scent any other smell that was lesser and finer than it. So I have never used the weed, bein' sort of naturally afeerd of it; but what is medicine for one man may be pisen for another, as I have noted in animils, for the bark that fattens the beaver will kill the rat; and so you must take no offence at what I have said, but smoke as much as you feel moved to, and I will scent the edges of the smell as it comes over my side of the fire, and so we'll sort of jine works—as they say in the settlements—you do the smokin' and I will do the smellin', and I think I've got the lightest end of the stick at that." And the old man laughed in every line of his time-wrinkled face, at the smartness of his saying.

—The officers in charge of the Senate wing of the capitol at Washington are much troubled by the evidence that some malicious person or persons have deliberately gone to work to deface that wing. A short time ago nearly a gallon of oil, which must have been brought into the building for the purpose, was spilled on one of the inner flights of marble stairs. It was also discovered that a large quantity of blue ink had been poured over the outer balustrade of the corridor connecting the Senate wing with the main building. The ink was poured into two or three places and splashed about so as to do as much injury as possible. It cannot be removed without cutting into the marble.

At Beaver, Utah, on the 10th, Judge Brennan passed sentence upon John D. Lee for participation in the Mountain Meadow massacre nineteen years ago. In doing so he called attention to the atrocity of the crime and the inability heretofore of the authorities to procure evidence; that the conspiracy to murder was widespread; that Lee was finally offered up as a sacrifice to popular indignation, but that others equally guilty might hereafter expect punishment. The prisoner having the right, under the laws of the Territory, to choose death by hanging, shooting or beheading, and having chosen to be shot, was sentenced to be shot to death January 26, 1877.

—Men who have stood where thousands fell, who have gazed unmoved at the horrors of the battle-field and the wrecks of the storm cannot without emotion behold the devastation and mangled ruin which mark the progress of a woman with a scythe. Nature shudders when it sees a woman throw a stone, but when it sees a woman swinging a scythe it just tries to cover up its head and keep out of sight until the ruin is complete.

FOR PRESIDENT,

Rutherford B. Hayes,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

William A. Wheeler,

OF NEW YORK.

Hayes' Platform in War.

In 1864, when Hayes was in the army, being nominated for Congress he was requested to come home and stump his district. His reply was, "I have other business just now. Any man who would leave the army at this time to electioneer for Congress ought to be scalped!"

Hayes' Platform in Peace.

"Honest money for all, and free schools for all. There should be no inflation which will depreciate the one, nor sectarian interference which will destroy the other."

News and Notes.

The employes of the Portland and Ogdensburg railroad recently struck for their arrears of pay, many having five months wages due them. The strike embraced engineers, conductors, station-agents, brakemen, firemen, etc.

Patrick Maguire is under arrest in New York for repeatedly dashing his four children to the floor, causing the death of one and fatally injuring the other three.

The Trenton, New Jersey, grand jury have found a bill of indictment against Irene A. V. House for manslaughter in killing her husband. The slain man, it will be remembered, was a famous divorce lawyer, and the woman who shot him had previously been the wife of another man, from whom she procured a divorce by the aid of House.

Conrad Dearing bragged, while drunk in Columbus, Ohio, that two years ago he killed a negro. When he got sober he found himself in jail, with the chances in favor of his being hanged.

Nicholas Stier and his newly married wife of Jersey City are the victims of two mothers-in-law at once. Stier's mother wanted them to live with her, and they were agreeable, but, when they prepared to leave the house of the bride's mother, where they had been stopping, she said they must live with her, and, when they still prepared to depart, she locked up her daughter, drove poor Stier out of the house and pitched down stairs a deputy sheriff whom he had sent to arrest her.

Political.

Mr. R. A. Shotwell, of North Carolina, has a name so honored among democrats that he has been nominated for Congress. The judge who sentenced him to imprisonment in 1871, under the Ku-Klux act, remarked that the Hon. Shotwell was the "most prominent and active of all the conspirators." That little endorsement from the bench made him a solid man with the great reform party.

The Public, an independent and financial journal, says of the explanation of Tilden's income tax delinquencies: "All this wearisome maze of excuses leaves as much unanswered and as ugly as ever, the one fatal question, 'Did Mr. Tilden acquire millions between 1861 and 1871 on which he did not pay a tax?'"

The Christian Union hardly thinks "it consonant with the highest patriotism for any man to suffer the country, in its hour of peril, to lack his fair proportion of taxes because the tax officer did not know what it was."

One of the longest things about "Long" John Wentworth of Chicago is his memory. His recent speech was made up largely of recollections told in his dry and interesting manner, and among them was the following: "There are some bold, talkative men who say 'No.' You go away, and you say, 'Wait till he cools off and I will try him again.' But when you see a man who is mild, and he says 'No,' you generally think he means it. Oh, yes. Now Hayes is just one of that kind of men. Somebody came into my office the other day, and wanted to look up his record. He said, 'Wentworth, didn't you oppose that Northern Pacific railroad steal?' 'Yes,' said I, 'don't I oppose all steals? I know what you are after. You are hunting up something about Hayes. I can tell you. Whenever there was a steal in Congress we always said, "Hayes joins with us to fight it," and not one of those railroad jobs ever got his vote.'"

Blue Jeans Williams, in a speech at Columbus, Indiana, while talking especially to the greenback men, said "Read Kilpatrick's letter and you can plainly see that the republicans want to buy your votes. I have been told by different prominent lawyers that if the consideration of a bargain is $50 or more it is binding, but anything under that is not; so when the republicans come to you and offer you money to vote their ticket, take it, and say you will vote it, but when election day comes vote the democratic ticket." It is evident that all Blue Jeans' honesty lies in his breeches. He takes the green-backers for black-legs.

—"Can't help it, sir," said a Boston hotel clerk to a Massachusetts Senator, who came in about midnight after the Centennial, to get a room. "Can't help it, sir, if you're the Vice-President himself. Why, we've got ten Governors of States sleeping on dining-room tables, thirty odd Mayors lying around on the parlor floors, and a hundred country editors snoring like bulls of Bashan on the back stairs."

—A girl of St. Peter, Minn., has, in male attire, been serving as a brakeman.

"RIGHT HAS PREVAILED!"

[Portsmouth Times, Oct 11th.]

"HENDRICKS ASSURES INDIANA FOR TILDEN."

IT'S THE SAME OLD STORY.

OHIO.

SICK TRANSIT GLORIA TUESDAY!

[Latin Quotation.]

Gloria the Whole Week!

A despatch from the editor of the Cincinnati Times to the correspondent of the Boston Traveller, dated at 1:30 P. M. on the 11th, says: "Barnes has 5000 to 7000 majority and the other republican candidates more, Indiana returns come in slowly. Harrison is probably elected." Barnes, republican, is undoubtedly elected by at least 5000 majority, though he ran behind the republican candidate (Boynton) for supreme judge about 900 in the First Congressional District, on account of the beer-opposition. Sayler, dem., is re-elected to Congress from Hamilton county, but Banning is defeated. The republicans have probably elected twelve out of twenty Congressmen, a gain of five. Boynton, for supreme judge, will probably run far ahead of Barnes.

INDIANA.

Those Two Soldiers' Conventions!!

Indiana, instead of giving Blue Jeans Williams 17,000 majority, has most probable elected Harrison. A despatch from Indianapolis, dated 2 P. M. on the 11th, says the State ticket is in doubt, and both parties are confident. Returns from 220 places gave a net rep. majority of 3319, against a rep. majority of 2322 in 1872, and of 1395 in 1874. Nine out of thirteen Congressmen were claimed by the more sanguine republicans, a gain of four; but this is not conceded by the democrats.

Oct. 11th, 4:30 P. M.

To CHRONICLE: Chandler telegraphs, we have carried Ohio by from 7000 to 10,000 majority, and Harrison is elected in Indiana by 3000 majority. E. H. ROLLINS.

Blue Jeans Gone Up!

[The above excellent campaign likeness of the late democratic candidate for governor of Indiana is on sale at the bookstores, cheap.]

West Virginia.

He'll Get Better Next Year!

West Virginia voted for governor and State officers on the 10th.

West Virginia went democratic by anywhere from 4000 to 40,000 majority—about 6000, as nearly as we can make out. But as the republicans have carried Ohio and Indiana, — in which contingency certain democratic papers said (before the election) that Tilden might as well withdraw,—they are not disposed to dispute over a few thousands more or less in the dem. majority of West Virginia. Let her slide!

By Telegraph.

Oct. 11th, 7 P. M.

Harrison is elected — both branches of Legislature democratic.

Oct. 11, 8:10 P. M.

Returns from 346 towns and wards in 70 counties of Indiana give a net rep. majority of 1702. Same places in 1874 gave a dem. majority of 858.

INDIANAPOLIS, 11th, 6 P. M.

Democratic State Central Committee give result of returns up to this hour, showing entire democratic ticket to be elected. The returns come in slow and scattering; the city returns are not all in yet. The democrats claim the State by from 8,000 to 10,000 majority.

COLUMBUS, O., 11th, evening.

Republicans claim the State by 10,000 majority; democrats, by 2,000 majority. It is impossible to give any adequate idea as to which side has won in Ohio, the reports are so conflicting, but it is generally conceded to have gone republican by a fair majority. The republicans gain seven Congressmen, and the delegation will stand fourteen reps. to six dems.

INDIANAPOLIS, 8 P. M.

Republicans are now of opinion that the result of yesterday's election is doubtful, with the chances in favor of Williams. Democrats claim State by 5000 majority.

"USUFRUCT!"

New Hampshire Items.

A committee appointed by the Dartmouth students has just decided to put two crews of four members each into training immediately; from these the University crew will be selected. The committee voted to invite other institutions to form a New England Association for the Enjoyment.

Mrs. Fanny Sanborn of Chester, aged 79 years, widow of John Sanborn, was thrown out of a wagon recently, and was severely, perhaps fatally injured, fracturing both bones of the left leg above the ankle, and the collar bone near the shoulder.

Col. Horace S. Cummings has sent from Washington as a gift to the Exeter Natural History Society, thirty large, choice photographs of the United States public buildings in that and other cities of the Union.

—Military paradox.—It may sound like a paradox, yet the breaking of both wings of an army is a sure way to make it fly.

—"It may be very well, Mr. Henry," said John's wife the other day, "to stay out half the night working for the glorious republican cause; but if the republican party left that long yellow hair and that big grease spot on your new black vest it ain't the kind of a hair-pin I take it for."

—Getting up in a cold room to make a fire is like getting up in life. If you crawl timidly out of bed, go on tip-toe to the stove and allow the shivers to get control of you before the kindling starts, your fire will probably be a failure, and you will half freeze to death in the operation. But if you jump out bravely, bustle around, pull on your clothes, knock over a chair or two, and pitch in the stove-wood, you will probably be too warm by the time the fire gets to burning and have to open a window. So in life. Attack it timidly and you will fail. Grapple with it, hurry up things, stir around, conquer fortune, and you will be a success.

POLICE COURT.

Wednesday, Oct. 11, before Batchelder, Justice:

William Hennessey was charged with having been drunk. That was bad enough; but worse still, the charge was proved. The Court suggested two months at Brentwood, and $6.90 costs.

Charles Hammond, drunk; an old hand at it,—also an old hand at Brentwood, to which place he was advised to again retire, for four months; costs, $6.90.

Charles Stockbridge, charged with an indecent assault, was discharged, the complaint not specifying the act claimed to have been committed, as the law requires.

JOTTINGS.

The Times of Wednesday had a very neat yet showy fowl exhibition in honor of the great democratic victories—"Indiana democratic!" "Ohio democratic!" and (mercy sakes alive!) "West Virginia democratic!" Well, we were ahead of 'em. We had the Boston Post's rooster over a despatch posted on our bulletin board, two hours before the Times was printed.

The petition for another citizens' meeting relative to the debt of the Portsmouth and Dover railroad will be presented to the city councils this evening. It already numbers one hundred and twenty-six names of prominent residents, and still is increasing.

The part of "Esther, the beautiful Queen," which cantata is soon to be presented at the Temple, is to be taken by Mrs. Charles A. Sinclair of this city; "King Ahashuerus," Jerome C. Butler; "Mordecai," Lafayette S. Butler; "Zeresh," Mrs. Bennett, and "Haman," Dr. E. B. Goodall.

The committee appointed by the Young People's Social Union of the Methodist church to arrange a course of lectures the coming season, have decided to concentrate their whole force upon one man, Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, who as an orator is claimed by some to be without a peer in this country if not in the world. Although it costs almost a fabulous sum to secure his services for even one lecture, yet it was thought that the people would prefer him to a whole course made up of almost any other men in the country, and have therefore taken upon themselves the risk of securing his services for Tuesday evening, Oct. 31st, on which date he will speak at the Temple. In order to secure themselves against loss, the committee feel obliged to put the tickets of admission at 50 cents, reserved seats 75 cents and $1, which can be had at Preston's drug store on and after to-day. Those wishing to hear Mr. Beecher will do well to secure their seats at once.

On the night of the 9th inst. some thief effected an entrance into Mr. G. F. Plaisted's store, at York Corner, Me., by going in at a small cellar window and thence through the trap leading into the store. The burglar, from some cause, seemed a very liberal one, as he took only what scrip and a part of what nickels and coppers were in the money drawer, amounting to some four or five dollars. No other articles were missing, although articles of value were within reach.

A Texas Court Scene.

The court was in session; the presiding judge occupied the chair of state with all becoming dignity; the prisoner at the bar, arraigned for alleged cruelty to animals, sat with bowed head while the prosecuting attorney hurled his thunderbolts, and gave to the case and the prisoner the darkest coloring. The jury nodded until the speaker commenced berating the counsel for defense—using expressions not over complimentary, and then the six pricked up their ears and listened. The counsel for the defense reminded the speaker that he was not in the habit of receiving such high compliments in open court. But the prosecutor, not noticing the interruption, continued to send his shafts of sarcasm and abuse with a liberal hand. A table stood between these two loving disciples of Keat, and the much abused counsel mounting it, begun to lay his cane about the broad shoulders of the speaker with a touch which showed how much he was in earnest. "Lay on, Mac," cried a voice from the crowd. "Whatsoever thy hands find to do, do it with all thy might," shouted another. The belabored attorney, seizing a chair, hurled it at his opponent, but it missed its mark and went crashing against the wall opposite. The cries of the judge on the bench for "Order! order!" were drowned in the confusion. "Arrest the combatants," cried the judicial functionary. One of the attendant officers started for the hero of the game, but hadn't quite reached him when a friend of that lawyer knocked the officer down. The judge, seeing the turn of affairs, descended from his lofty seat, and, taking a six-shooter from the floored officer, said that he would restore order in the court, at the same time waving the deadly weapon over his head. The crowd knew the judge too well to doubt for a moment what he said, and stood not upon the order of their going, but went at once. When the clouds (created by the passage of musty law books, etc., through the air during the conflict) began to clear up, and somewhat of the dignity of the court returned, the judge said that he regretted such a thing should have happened in a Texas court, and regretted it the more that his court should be the scene of such a disgraceful affair; that in the future when lawyers could not control their tempers in his court he would give them an opportunity to repair to a more suitable field, where they might satiate their blood. The attorneys were fined twenty-five dollars each, and the gentleman who floored the officer was called on to pay $100 as his share in the entertainment.

Custer's Courtship.

I have heard from his lips the story of his courtship, and it was so characteristic of the man, so illustrative of his can't be beaten disposition, that it must be told. During his absence at West Point his family moved from Ohio to Monroe, Michigan, where they now reside, and after one of his campaigns in Virginia the boy general went home on a furlough. He was fresh from some of his raids, and he had already captured more flags and prisoners than any other officer in the war. There was an ovation for him at his home. The people of Monroe rejoiced at his successes then, as they mourn for his fate to-day. But there was one gentle maiden in that town, a Miss Bacon, the daughter of his father's neighbor, who had no taste for soldiers, and who rather frowned than smiled upon the gallant young cavalier. As Fate would have it, Custer was more attracted by her than all the other ladies in the new home he was visiting for the first time, and her repulses aggravated him until his obstinacy was aroused, and he determined to conquer this haughty country girl who refused to smile with the rest of womankind upon him. I remember how he described his feeling; how he proceeded in his suit, inquired about and ascertained the character of the lady, and how he resolved to lay a deliberate siege for the occupation of her heart. He called upon her one day, but the servant was instructed to ask that Miss Bacon might be excused. He called again and caught her at a window unprepared. Here the siege began; her aversion was conquered, and when he went back to the army in Virginia he took her with him as his bride. She rode beside him in all his marches, afterward in the war. She slept beside him many a night when they bivouacked with no coverlid but the stars; she watched his departure for many a battle and welcomed his return. She was the patron saint of his army, and her gentle sympathy and kindness are remembered by thousands of soldiers to-day.—The Folio.

— We had shipped a heavy sea," writes a reader, the furniture in the smoking room had become loose, and I crawled into the dining-room where I found Mrs. W. stretched upon a sofa, holding on by the curtains. "Are you ill?" I exclaimed. The Pereire gave a lurch in her usual style, and we clung to the curtain together. "No," she answered, "but how can we amuse ourselves? The water is in the cellar and it's too wet to go on the roof."

— "I understand you make very good cider?" "Yaw," said the Dutchman; "Hans, my poy, go pring a mugful." Hans soon returned with a mug brimming full and handed it to the Dutchman, who drained it to the bottom at one draught; then, turning to his astonished visitor, said, "Dere, now, if you dosh not dink dat ish goot cider, yoost schmell of te mug."

—"I guess dad wishes we'd all die and go to heaven," said a miser's son to his maternal parent. "Why so?" she asked, upon recovering from her astonishment. "Oh, 'cause Heaven's such a cheap place to live in."

—Says the Norwich Bulletin: Fossils of the pliocene period are not as scarce as Professor Huxley supposes. We have frequently heard them speak in the Thursday evening meetings.

Sanitary Stimulation.

When vital action is sluggish, a stimulant, provided it be pure and properly medicated, is the most reliable agent for imparting the necessary impetus to the semi-dormant organs, accelerating the languid circulation and arresting the maladies to which functional inactivity gives rise. Physicians who have employed Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in their practice pronounce it the most salutary tonic stimulant they have ever used, and especially commend it as a remedy for torpidity of the bowels, liver, stomach and kidneys, and a repositant of vital energy. The medicinal value of the Bitters is due to the fact that with their basis of pure old rye are combined, in perfect chemical harmony, the best restorative and life sustaining elements known to medical botany. The Bitters never deteriorate in the most unfavorable climates.

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their popularity is as great as their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels These Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 8, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of my Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. Enclosed $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and write you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Br. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only cure for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me care of Mr. Laura Burrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills. MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO., Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMO[illegible]

a so-new discovery. Twenty-th[illegible] was used by one of New England's mo[illegible] physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before [illegible] was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the Pulmocine Cordial is a sure remedy. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

— USE —

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER.

Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round.

BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

The Cause and the Cure.

Carl Schurz is keeping the financial question where it belongs, in the front of the canvass. "The times are hard and the people want a change." This is the burden of the democratic canvass, stripped of its personalties and the slang and cant of platform arraignments. Certainly the times have been hard, though there are happily signs of improvement. The people indeed do desire a change, but it is not a mere change of parties, least of all such a change as the restoration of the democratic party would involve. They are rather inclined to inquire into the cause of their financial troubles and to apply to them a remedy which is practicable and philosophical.

The position of the democrats on this foremost question is tersely defined by Mr. Schurz. Their candidates are "a hard-money man for president and a soft-money man for vice-president." Their platform declares "for hard-money in one sentence," and adopts "the battle-cries of the inflationists and soft-money men in another." There is design in this diversity; there is method in this madness of contradiction. The seeming inconsistency conforms to a consistent purpose. The hard-money features of candidates and platform were intended to carry hard-money States; the soft-money features, soft-money States. The contrivance was believed to be shrewd, but it really was very shallow. The democrats are fought in all the States as inflationists and repudiationists; and as such it is to be hoped that they will be defeated.

Mr. Schurz's exposure of the soft-money fallacy is a demonstration. Mr. Hendricks and his followers say that contraction is the cause of the distress, which dates from the panic of 1873. In that year there was an amount of currency, counting even in former years compound interest notes, nine millions of dollars greater than in 1872, twenty-nine millions greater than in 1871, fifty-one millions greater than in 1870, fifty-six millions greater than in 1869, and fifty-two millions greater than in 1868; and these latter years "have generally been called years of great, of unexampled prosperity." So contraction did not work the mischief, because the distress began when the volume of the currency was the greatest. Mr. Hendricks and his followers demand the repeal of the Resumption Act on the ground that it has brought about the ruinous contraction which has caused all the trouble. The perfect answer is that the trouble began in 1873, and the Resumption Act was not passed until 1875. That there is no scarcity of currency is proved by the well known fact that currency in millions is lying idle.

The first cause of the hard times, as Mr. Schurz shows, is over-production, a waste of capital in speculation; and in this respect the evil is working its own cure. What the people need of artificial relief, by means of governmental measures, is above all other things the restoration of honest money. The change which the people demand is in legislation that shall remove the obstructions, which exist by law, in the way of the secret of recovery; and such legislation the democratic party shows no disposition or ability to secure.—N. Y. Post.

Vermin on Cattle.

The American Agriculturalist, replying to a correspondent who writes that his cow died from the effects of kerosene applied for the purpose of killing lice, says: "Kerosene oil should not be used unmixed as a remedy for lice. To use a gill per day, for four successive days upon one cow would be injurious, although it is not probable that it would be immediately fatal. Kerosene properly applied is a good remedy for lice, but to use it recklessly is dangerous. It should be used with four times as much lard, and rubbed in well on the place where the lice gather, chiefly along the spine. In your case the oil may have been absorbed through the skin and caused the death of the cow."

A correspondent of the Farmers' Advocate says: "Some ten or twelve years ago an agricultural writer observed his bull to be free from lice, but not so the rest of his cattle; and, thinking over the matter, he came to the conclusion that the habit of pawing dirt over himself must have the effect of keeping lice off the bull, and he tried dry earth on the rest of his cattle with the best effect. Ever since reading the above I have used nothing but dry earth, and have repeatedly put it on cattle having lice, and have found it perfectly efficacious, both as a preventive and as a cure. If in winter I find it needed, and cannot get it otherwise, I go into my cellar and obtain a few quarts (no fear of using too much), and dry it on the stove; I then sprinkle it over the back from head to tail, and the earth working into and through the hair soon destroys all lice. I believe the earth to be just as efficacious, less dangerous and less expensive than tobacco or any of the acids recommended."

—The first bale of cotton this season has finished arriving.

—An English visitor to the Centennial wandered into a cheap restaurant and ordered a steak. After desperate efforts to overcome its toughness he next called for a napkin. The landlord came out from the kitchen in his shirt sleeves, and addressed the astonished guest in indignant terms, "Sa-ay, young feller, this ain't no Centennial. The next thing you'll be wanting, I suppose, is a grand pianner."

Editorial Peacilings.

CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 5.

We strayed into the new Tabernacle this evening and found an audience of several thousand people gathered to hear and see those popular revivalists, Moody and Sankey. The Tabernacle is made to accommodate an immense crowd, and has galleries all around it, that in the rear of the rostrum being occupied by a trained chorus of singers, and being less raised from the floor than those at the sides and in front. One of the secrets of the success of the revivalists lies in the fact that they never tire their audiences. Beginning promptly, the chorus of two hundred voices rendered very effectively "Rescue the Perishing," a hymn of exceeding smoothness and beauty of composition, which hushed the audience and brought quiet to floor and gallery. Following immediately with another, Mr. Sanky at its conclusion gave the audience an opportunity, and it responded in "O, happy day," producing an effect grandly impressive. The other selections were, "Free from the Law, oh, happy Condition," "'Tis the Promise of God," and "What means this eager, anxious Throng?" The two latter gave Mr. Sankey's voice ample play and revealed the basis of his great power. The voice is a manly one, while Mr. Moody's at times in his exhortations. Mr. Sankey is in more respects than one a powerful singer. His voice rings out in trumpet tones that occasionally approach harshness, and anon sinks to the pathetic, so that in his rich pronunciation of the line, "Jesus of Nazareth passeth by," the very height of poetry seems reached. The cadences are mellow with feeling, and the music, distinct in utterance and mellifluous in expression, touches the heart of the listener with a subduing effect that prepares the way for Mr. Moody to impress the minds of the throngs who flock to hear him. Mr. Sankey

PARTAKES OF A SNIFFLE

DOES A LITTLE EXHORTING

by way of preface, which shows him in a more favorable light in that regard than his co-laborer. Mr. Sankey is impressive with dignity where Mr. Moody is earnest and careless of manner. The hold both have acquired upon the public is something wonderful in its effects and yet easy of explanation. We see no more use for religious revivals than for stimulants when one has a great amount of mental labor to perform, yet there are thousands who do. These thousands for the most part care less about than learning what other people think. It is these people who are ready to be impressed, who go not once only but continuously to listen to the Moodys and Sankeys of this generation. To such people Messrs. Moody and Sankey are as great a necessity almost as meat and drink.

bounces into the evening's exercises with an astonishing amount of alacrity, and both the men have the faculty of making themselves at home with an audience on exceedingly short acquaintance. Before one has time to get an answer as to the speaker's identity from one's next chair neighbor, Mr. Moody has fired off a couple of hundred words, discounted the rules of grammar and secured the full attention of those who came to listen. In five minutes he has the attention of those who came to see, as well. We half imagined it was the voice of Oscar Laighton, of Appledore fame, which saluted our ears, but the absence of that jolly laugh and the presence of the aforementioned sniffle is convincing that first impressions are sometimes incorrect. But on goes the impetuous Moody, bending low over the railing at his front, gesticulating freely and running his address from conversation to sacred illustration. His subject is "sympathy," and his deductions and applications are trite and forcible. He tells what was the good Samaritan, and introduces a few experiences of his own. "Ten thousand men in Chicago to-night need sympathy," said he, and we guess he knew what he was talking about, judging from Chicago's experiences. In religion as in politics, frank Anglo-Saxon talk wins the most applause. The diction of a Curtis in politics makes no such stir as the bluffness of a Butler. The dignified argument of a Chapin, a Parker or an Alger, has not the immediate effect that the efforts of a Moody produce. Pathos is one of the latter's most effective weapons, showing him to be at once shrewd and simple-hearted, always effective. He rattles along at a rate that must fill the mind of a phonographer with an intense desire to murder him, while the quick-eared audience must occasionally wonder if there can be such a thing as a train of baggage wagons following with machines like those the ginger-pop manufacturers use, with which to bottle up the good things. For Mr. Moody

DOES SAY GOOD THINGS.

The air is full of them. Likewise is Mr. Moody. He shot them all out of him inside of twenty-five minutes, in a jerky style of delivery that reminded one painfully of the audience of burning Roman candles. And then he was done—and such a finish—like unto some singers we have heard, who strike a note, and then let it severely alone. He threw in "Let us pray" so closely after a pathetic period that it seemed like a furious interjection, and the benediction was likewise—no time wasted, signed, sealed and delivered as promptly as a package from A. T. Stewart & Co.'s retail store. The audience make their exit, and Messrs. Moody and Sankey go happily to their domiciles for fresh experiences and illustrations. A certain class of people need them badly, and to that class these men are doing a vast deal of good that every thinking person should be pleased for, but the great difficulty is to overcome the tendency of the wave to recede, for the higher it rolls the more powerful the undertow, which may sweep many a victim of unnatural excitement back beyond his depth.

A Specimen "Reformer."

The democratic candidate for Congress in the Fifteenth District of Ohio was William W. Poston. He is an earnest "reformer," and was nominated because he was so particularly down on the dishonesty, venality and corruption of the infamous radical party, which he left about a year ago, unable to put up any longer with its utter baseness. He started to run for the Ohio legislature on an "independent reform" ticket a year ago, but soon withdrew in favor of the democratic candidate, and went over, bag and baggage, to the great "reform" party now represented by John Kelly, John Morrissey and Samuel J. Tilden. How he came to withdraw is shown by the sworn statement of R. W. Jones, a prominent democrat and editor of the leading democratic paper of the district, the Athens Journal, from which we quote as follows:

"We distinctly, squarely, directly and emphatically charge that Wm. W. Poston supported the democratic ticket last fall for money—for so much cash in hand paid, and that he refused to support it or withdraw from the canvass as an independent candidate for the legislature until and unless a certain sum of money was paid him. That the editor of the Journal was asked to hand him the first installment of the purchase money, but refused to do it, and it was passed to him by a democrat of high character who will not deny the fact under oath. That Mr. Wm. W. Poston not only got the first, but the second installment of the purchase money. That Mr. Wm. W. Poston told us last Fall that the above installments of money had been paid him, that everything was satisfactory and lovely, and 'the goose hung high,' and authorized us to withdraw his name from the canvass as a candidate for the legislature. That Mr. Wm. W. Poston was not paid the third installment of purchase money he was to have, because its payment was conditioned upon a certain majority he was to give in York Township and utterly failed to give. That Mr. Poston attributed his failure to the fact that several hundred dollars, in addition to what he himself had received, had not been spent in that township on the day of the election."

Yet this fellow, although known by the "reformers" of his district to have been bought in open market, was by them nominated for Congress—the "Tilden reform" Congress, too!

Another "Negro Riot."

The Prairie News, a republican paper published at Okolona, Miss., gives the particulars of "another terrible negro riot," in Oktibbeha county in that State, in which thirty-seven negroes were killed and wounded, no whites being injured. The negroes, (a republican club) were desperately engaged at an open air meeting in nominating a candidate to vote for, which fiendish outrage was gallantly resisted with shot-guns by a White Line club from behind a fence on the opposite side of the road. Every negro shot was shot in the back and at the first fire, the negroes flying for their lives—all that were able to run away—without returning a shot. Oktibbeha county is expected to go solid for Tilden and reform, and honest government.

The Columbus (Miss.) Index, democratic, says: "Never have we been called upon to write up so unfortunate an affair as occurred last Saturday night in eastern Oktibbeha. We say unfortunate, because it will be misconstrued and certainly misrepresented by the Northern press in order to influence the elections now pending."

The Columbus Democrat says "there was a fight between whites and negroes at Salem Church, in Oktibbeha county, last Saturday night," in which "one negro was killed and nine wounded—three mortally," no whites being hurt in the "fight!"

The Meridian (Miss.) Mercury, democratic, gives a brief account of the "fight," and says that "fortunately, on account of the position they [the whites] occupied," none of them were hurt in quelling the disturbance.

No other people ever exhibited such total depravity as the colored republicans of the South, who are eternally conspiring to get themselves butchered by the ex-rebel democracy, for the sake of "influencing the elections" in the North. Thousands of them thus sacrifice their lives to their hatred of democracy every year, as it is the easiest thing in the world for a southern republican to get himself assassinated by the democrats and thus hurt the reputation of the democratic "reform" party.

—There is a colored man in Hartford who amuses himself by driving a nail into a plank with one thump of his forehead.

New Hampshire Items.

The History of Peterboro, by Professor Albert Smith, is completed, and is ready for delivery. It contains 735 pages, illustrated with thirty-two portraits of present and former residents. It is a valuable collection of early history, statistics and data.

Charles H. Holt, who was arrested at Hollis a fortnight ago, for stealing a horse and carriage at Norwich, Conn., made his escape Monday, the 9th. On his arrest he feigned sickness, and was allowed much liberty. Early Monday morning he entered the room of the gentleman in whose house he was quartered, demanded his watch, which had been deposited as security for his expenses, bid his host good morning, telling him to tell the officer he was going to the Centennial. Two confederates joined him on the road. The fact of their presence leads to the belief that a desperate attempt would have been made to effect his rescue if he had not succeeded in making his escape. Holtt is a desperate fellow and a noted horse thief.

The Boston Globe of the 12th says: "Mrs. Hannah Hawley, aged 102 years, one month and fourteen days, died Tuesday evening at the residence of her grand nephew, W. S. Rollins, No. 227 Roxbury street, Boston Highlands. She was born on the 26th of August, 1774, in the town of Stratham, N. H., and was the daughter of Lieutenant Rollins, who served in the Revolution, and was by the side of General Warren when he fell on Bunker Hill. Mrs. Hawley met an accident a day or two before she died, in going down stairs. She supposed she had reached the lower step, when she had not, and fell, breaking one of her hips. Mr. Hawley retained her faculties to a remarkable degree, and was greatly respected by those who knew her."

Political.

What's become of Colorado? We have not seen any report of the Colorado election for several days.

The republican uniformed companies of Boston and adjacent cities, to the number of 3000 or more, had a torch-light procession in Boston on the evening of the 11th. In Concord and Manchester, in this State, the republican clubs paraded on the same evening, in honor of the victories in the western elections and the great gains in West Virginia.

The republican majority in Ohio is about 6000 for Barnes, and 8000 or more for Boynton. The republicans gain five Congressmen.

Indiana is generally conceded to the democrats by the republicans. Hendricks claims 5000 to 8000 majority for the democratic ticket,—but he is an inflationist. The republicans claim to have gained four Congressmen, and carried the legislature, and that Blue Jeans' majority will be very small, if he has any at all.

Sanitary Stimulation.

When vital action is sluggish, a stimulant, provided it be pure and properly medicated, is the most reliable agent for imparting the necessary impetus to the semi-dormant organs, accelerating the languid circulation and averting the maladies to which functional inactivity gives rise. Physicians who have employed Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in their practice pronounce it the most salutary tonic stimulant they have ever used, and especially commend it as a remedy for torpidity of the bowels, liver, stomach and kidneys, and a resuscitant of vital energy. The medicinal value of the Bitters is due to the fact that with their basis of pure old rye are combined, in perfect chemical harmony, the best restorative and life sustaining elements known to medical botany. The Bitters never deteriorate in the most unfavorable climates.

For bronchitis and all disease of the throat and lungs use Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam. It cures every time. For sale by all druggists.

The new Atlas Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa., has communication, with street cars passing the doors continually, to all parts of the city.

THE PERSPIRATION to great extent depurates the Blood, that is, it carries off its impurities. If the pores become obstructed those impurities, when they do not remain latent in the circulation, cause eruptions. The remedy for this state of things is GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP.

Sozodont.

This word, which has been staring everybody in the face for the past few years, and is now getting into nearly everybody's mouth, is a preparation for cleansing, beautifying and preserving the teeth, sweetening the breath, and arresting the progress of decay.

Spalding's Glue, up to the sticking point.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

PILOT BREAD.

This kind of bread having come into extensive family use, it has been my purpose to furnish, from choice materials, an article which should meet the approval of the most fastidious as to neatness, looks and taste. Whether I have succeeded in giving to the public a PILOT BREAD, the consumer may be the judge; that the quality will not be suffered to depreciate, the past with the present is my best pledge. POLICE COURT.

Thursday, Oct. 12, before Batchelder, Justice:

William Devine, on a charge of drunkenness, received a fine of $3, costs $6.90; on a charge of brawl and tumult he was ordered to Brentwood for two months,—costs $6.90.

Michael Hickey, drunk, $9.90.

"CHEEK."

"Cheek" is a good thing, and in moderate quantities we admire it, (people always admire what they don't possess,) but some people have so large and inexhaustible a stock of it on hand that our admiration of the article becomes amazement at its amount, and our respect for its possessor changes to abject fear. In some lines of business cheek is absolutely necessary to success; though of course the possession of that moral—or immoral—attribute would unfit a man for being an editor or newspaper reporter. As in the case of other gifts of Nature, such as greenbacks and bread, there is undoubtedly enough of it in the world to go all 'round and give everybody a sufficiency; but (like the greenbacks and bread) the world's stock of cheek is very unequally distributed, some persons having a great deal more than they need for their own use, while others are lamentably deficient. Of the latter class the writer of the following letter (addressed to one of the CHRONICLE editors) is a specimen:

Dear Sir: I had posters printed at your office by Mr. Gardner, and paid for them. As it is customary to be liberal with notices under such circumstances, why is it that you did not notice either the sermon or lecture given by Mrs. C. in Portsmouth, especially when it was so favorably received?

Yours truly, A. H. CLAYTON.

There are several reasons why we "did not notice the sermon or lecture." As to the former, we did not hear it; the fact is that (incredible though it may appear to those who are acquainted with our habits), we did not attend church at all on the forenoon that sermon was preached. Also, we did not hear any lecture on that Sunday evening—at least, not any temperance lecture; in accordance with our usual Sabbath evening custom we probably remained quietly within doors, and read a book, or in some other manner improved our mind. We regret very much that our so doing led us to omit making a satisfactory notice of the sermon and lecture, thereby compelling Mr. Clayton to ask us why this is thus, and to remind us that it is our duty to "be liberal with notices" when people pay their printer's bills. [People sometimes get most liberally noticed by the papers for not paying their printer's bills.] This apology we think should be sufficient to mollify Mr. Clayton's indignation; if not, we would further remind that gentleman that we gave three notices of the lecture before it came off, for which we neither asked nor received payment, though the lecture was not advertised in the CHRONICLE at all. And lastly, we beg to explain to him that if Mr. Gardner printed some posters for him, and he paid Mr. Gardner for the same it was all right,—but in no way concerns the CHRONICLE. Mr. Gardner bears the name of being "a square man" to deal with; we have known him intimately, lo! these, many years, and always found him so; we know that he is reasonable in his prices, and endeavors to suit his patrons, and that those who patronize him once usually call again when they want anything in his line; and we have no doubt that he printed the posters as well and as cheaply as Mr. Clayton could have had them done anywhere. It was a simple business transaction, in which we were not concerned, and hardly entitles Mr. Clayton to assume the position of boss editor of the CHRONICLE, to dictate to us what is the proper thing for us to do.

But the newspaper man is not the only one who finds plenty of able volunteers to run his business for him,—in the interests of the volunteers aforesaid. Our good-natured friend, John S. Treat, Esq., President of the Reform Club, not unfrequently finds some disinterested person willing to take all the trouble of the position off his hands and run the machine on new and approved principles. One of them recently wrote him the following letter, which we marked "follow copy strictly" before giving to the compositor:

"I am coming to lecter under your sanclon at the tempel Sundy night. Want all the reform club to turn out. You hire the tempel, and ile give the reform club harf the proffets. You had beter git sume large hand Bils printed. I send this by the pedler of butons whole give it too you he singa at my meetings. Ive got a 1,000 Tickets so you wunt have to buy enny."

Now we submit that if Mr. Treat's correspondent and our own would only get rid of a little of their overpowering modesty, and sedulously cultivate their "cheek," they might both hope to get on in the world. We earnestly advise them to try it.

MILITARY VISIT.

The Heavy Artillery, Capt. Williams, have arranged the programme for the reception and entertainment of the Salem Cadets, Lt. Col. A. Parker Browne, on Monday next. The Cadets, accompanied by the Salem brass band (twenty-eight pieces), J. M. Flockton, leader, will arrive at 10:30 o'clock, A. M., on a special train. They will be received at the depot by the Artillery, and escorted through Deer, Market, Congress, Islington, Cabot, Middle, Court, Pleasant, Water, State, Pleasant and Congress streets to the armory of the Artillery on Market street. Here the arms will be stacked, after which the visitors will repair under escort to the Rockingham House, their headquarters during their stay. At 4 o'clock, P. M., a combined dress parade will take place on Market Square, for which the amplest arrangements will be made. In the evening a grand promenade concert will take place at Franklin hall from 8 to 9 o'clock, followed by dancing, music for which will be furnished by Upton's quadrille band of Salem. No one is to be admitted to the floor except members of the organization, invited guests and their ladies, the gallery also being reserved. Military men are expected to appear in full uniform.

JOTTINGS.

Wanted, at this office, to complete files, a GAZETTE of August 24, 1876.

At a meeting of the Reform Club on Thursday evening it was voted that a Levee be held at an early day under the auspices of the ladies of the organization, and a committee was appointed to decide upon the day and make other necessary arrangements.

Mr. L. Blumauer has a column advertisement in to-day's issue of this paper, which may be of interest and value to any one in want of articles in his line of business. Read it and see.

The number of tickets to Mrs. Bartlett's entertainment at Miss Morgan's seminary to-morrow evening is necessarily limited, as no more will be issued than the seating capacity of the hall warrants. So those who propose to attend should secure their tickets (at Foster's bookstore) to-day.

A very handsome set of parlor furniture was received at Faith Home on Thursday, a gift from Messrs. Mendum, Whidden & Co., the extensive furniture dealers of Boston. This furniture will be placed in the reception room of the Home.

The second company of Tilden and Hendricks Guards has been organized with the following officers: John S. Treat, Captain; George Lane, First Lieutenant; Chas. A. Canney, Second Lieutenant; Lewis Fisher, First Sergeant; Frank Webber, Second Sergeant. The battalion will wear a light Kossuth hat with rosettes on the side and cord and tassels, a white blouse, blue belt, and white leggings, and carry the patent swivel torches.

The new orchestral band organized by Mr. Henry L. Harlow, leader of the late Marine Band, is to be known as the U. S. Naval Quadrille Band," and composed of the following acknowledged talent: Henry L. Harlow, first violin, and leader; Joseph W. Harlow, second violin, and prompter; Ralph Reinwald, cornet; John F. Spillaber, clarionet; William F. Payson, bass vial; Daniel Payson, trombone. They are rehearsing first-class music, of course, and equally of course will render it in first-class style when called on.

News and Notes.

At the suggestion of Mayor Fessenden, the City Council of Portland have appointed five prominent gentlemen to fully investigate the affairs of the Portland and Ogdensburg and Portland and Rochester Railroads.

The various Grand Army Posts of the Department of Massachusetts had a parade in Boston on the 11th. The parade was a brilliant success as to numbers and good discipline. The object is to stir the people up to assist in providing a Massachusetts Home for Disabled Veterans.

A boiler exploded in a rolling mill at Pittsburgh, Pa., on the 12th, burying a large number of workmen in the ruins of the building and setting the wreck on fire. Ten bodies were recovered. The number killed is unknown.

—This year's Havana tobacco harvest, according to best accounts, is the worst for many years. This is the crop planted last Fall and gathered last Spring. The present is about the planting season for next year's crop, and how it may turn out is impossible yet to say. The crop already gathered is represented to be of a very poor quality, and such as to furnish hardly any or none of the best class. To increase the unpleasantness of the situation, the old stock has run out, and several of the leading manufactories have in consequence been obliged to suspend for want of leaf. Over 60,000 bales of leaf tobacco are exported annually from Havana to the United States—the average bale being about 100 pounds weight. It is all manufactured into cigars in this country. In the city of New York alone the manufacture of cigars gives employment to at least 10,000 persons. Many of these are girls and women, who make on an average $10 a week. Men average $14 a week. The price of the best tobacco, unlike that of most other commodities in these times, is stationary at present, but the dealers say it is more likely to rise than to fall, in consequence of the failure of the cotton crop. But no immediate change is apprehended.

Daily Chronicle.

—A man in Montana, a short time ago, squatted on another person's land and built a small frame shanty. When requested to remove, he positively refused to do so; so one night a squad of men came around, after the squatter and his wife were asleep, and, lifting the whole concern, shanty and all, with deliberate care, carried it to the river and set it on a small raft. Then they pushed the raft out into the stream and let her go. When the squatter got up in the morning to go out, he was surprised to find himself about sixty miles down stream, and making good time in a nine-knot current. This is all we shall say about that man. It would be extremely improper to report his remarks in full in this paper. Philadelphia Bulletin.

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be bought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get one of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I treat I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; the pain would go to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through an advertisement of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Lane, Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Lover Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy, and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

— USE —

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER.

Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round.

BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter countries around Philadelphia.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong taste of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

On Time.

"Dinner ready!" said the baggage-master to his wife.

"Of course!" said the wife, in a tone of astonishment.

"Yes, yes," said the baggage-master, "you're afraid of your glass."

And then they laughed together.

"You don't know what he means," said the little woman to me.

"Why, when I'm in a temper I smash things," said the husband, and went his way.

"In a temper," said his wife, "Why Tom couldn't be in a temper if he tried. Tom in a temper! Good gracious! But I'll tell you what he means, if you like—for you couldn't get it out of him. And as I've half an hour before me, and my darning in my hand, and you're waiting for the stage, it won't waste time for either of us. There was a time when I didn't think much about that, but that was a good while ago.

My husband was a baggage-master on this very line when I married him, and they said he was the most careful one ever known. No forgetfulness to him. Never drank a drop and never snubbed the poor, bewildered people who asked questions. Good natured he was as he could be, and as firm as if he hadn't been good natured; and I was a silly, irresponsible girl, who had been at school a day or two before that of my wedding, and knew as much of housekeeping as a mouse.

He had saved a good deal of money, and had built a pretty house with only four rooms in it besides the kitchen, but each as pretty as a picture, and a big bay-window in the parlor that had cost ever so much. In the window plants were set, and an aquarium. No one had a prettier parlor anywhere. It was the pride of my heart.

The great road run just past the corner—it was at Lilliput Junction that we lived—and down below was the depot. It took just five minutes to walk to the depot, and the train slacked up going through the town. When Tom eat breakfast at home, which was often, he kept ten minutes to get to the cars in before they started, and so was never in a hurry.

Well, one morning he had had breakfast at home, and had fifteen minutes to spare, when some one came rushing past on horseback, and cried out to Tom that old Hill, a brakeman on the road, had just been very much hurt by a train, and he was going for a doctor. Tom liked old Hill, and he started to his feet at once. 'Bessie,' said he, 'I must see the poor, old fellow. I have ten minutes or more for it. I can run to the depot in three. Now take my keys, my dear, and have them at the door for me when I pass. Remember how important it is.'

You see the great bunch of keys was heavy, and he didn't care to take them all down to where old Hill was and back. And I said I didn't wonder at it, as I lifted them from the table, checks, and chains, and all. And I meant to stand at the door as he came up; but there was time to spare. So I just ran into the back yard to tell Mrs. Jones, next door, over the fence, about the accident to poor old Hill—and I got talking, and the time passed as time will in chat; and ten minutes is nothing you know.

And our house was on the street—one of a row. There was no getting to the back door, without going around the whole of them. And the door had a patent lock, and the big bay window was fastened down; and while I was chatting like a magpie I didn't see my husband flying up the road, with good three minutes before him to get his keys and run to the depot in. 'Bessie,' he cried, at the gate; but I didn't hear. 'Bessie,' he shouted, 'Bessie,' as he shook door—and there were my ears filled with the interesting story my neighbor was telling me about the tipsy woman she had seen run over, and you see Tom had tried the window by this time and found it down, and he had two minutes and half left, and a man who misses his duty on a railroad pays for it, I tell you; and it wasn't temper, mark that; it wasn't because he felt like smashing my window because I kept him waiting; it was to do his duty come what might of it; and it was grand of him, I say. The next second Tom was through that plate glass window with a crash, and the bits lay scattered on the ground and floor, and some were in his flesh, but he had his checks and his keys and was off flying. There was never a man that ran a race that ran so fast before; and a minute after, when I without my bonnet, and not caring a bit what folks thought of me stood staring down the road, I saw the up train rush by, and my Tom standing on the platform of the last baggage car, with his keys and checks in a belt about his waist, tying up his bleeding hand in his pocket-handkerchief; and in the midst of it, hurt as he was, much as he had lost in that great window, angry as he should have been at me—for I'd been the cause of it all—my Tom nods his head to me, and shouts at the top of his voice, so that I heard him above all the sounds of the train—'All right, Bessie.'

But oh! it wasn't all right with me until I saw him again and would have gone down on my knees to him to beg and pray him to forgive me only he wouldn't let me, but took me in his arms instead. He's that kind of a great strong, splendid man, is Tom, that he couldn't get angry at a woman. But it was a lesson to me, and, as Tom says, I'm always on time, whatever I have to do. There's no delay. There's no put-tug off my house, and I gossip when there's nothing else to do.

"You see, you're anxious about your glass,' says Tom, when he's in a joking mood, as you heard him just now. But I've got to feel that I've my duty to do as well as Tom has, and that one of the duties we all have on the train of life, that flies on whether we want it to or not, is always to be on time."

Daily Chronicle.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1876.

FOR PRESIDENT,

Rutherford B. Hayes,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

William A. Wheeler,

OF NEW YORK.

Hayes' Platform in War.

In 1864, when Hayes was in the army, being nominated for Congress he was requested to come home and stump his district. His reply was, "I have other business just now. Any man who would leave the army at this time to electioneer for Congress ought to be scalped!"

Hayes' Platform in Peace.

"Honest money for all, and free schools for all. There should be no inflation which will depreciate the one, nor sectarian interference which will destroy the other."

The Elections.

Ohio's republican majority is 9000; on Secretary of State, about 7000. The republicans gain five Congressmen.

Indiana is democratic by 4000 or 5000 majority; but the republicans gain four Congressmen and carry the Legislature.

Colorado is republican by 1500 majority on the governor vote; on the legislative ticket the majority aggregates 2500.

Wants a Lower Rate of Interest.

Mr. Parke Godwin, a very learned man whose son holds an office worth $15,000 a year, under Gov. Tilden, supports the great advertising reformer for President. In a recent speech, referring to a republican showing of how much the National debt has been reduced under the republican administration of the government, he said:

"Now it sounds very well, as a campaign cry, that they are engaged in paying off this debt, but the prospect is less hopeful when it is understood that they are grinding men's bones to do it. The debt has to be settled, but it is no time to do it when the Treasury is empty and the country flooded with starving men unable to obtain food or work. At such a time the only wise and true policy would have been to have consolidated it and reduced the unnecessarily large rate of interest."

Mr. Godwin would have the rate of interest reduced, and to this end advocates the restoration to power of the democratic party. He overlooks the fact that the republicans have already very largely reduced the rate of interest,—that many millions of the debt has recently been funded at four and a half per cent.; and he (possibly—not probably) forgets that the last democratic administration the country ever had or ever will have—James Buchanan's—in a time of profound peace and of great prosperity, with but a trifling pension list and an infinitesimal National debt to look out for, instead of settling any debt ran the country into debt $60,000,000 in four years, and instead of borrowing what money was needed at four and one-half per cent., borrowed it at twelve per cent. interest! Four and one-half per cent. is an "unnecessarily large rate of interest" for the government to pay; therefore the party controlling the government that pays it should be ousted, and the party that paid twelve per cent. put in its place, as a measure of economy. Well, possibly Mr. Parke Godwin can make the people believe that twelve is a smaller sum than four and one-half, but we do not believe he can; but he will be more successful in making them believe him a thorough demagogue, if that will be any satisfaction to him.

"Et tu, Brute!"

Ex-Gov. Hoffman, of New York, is not an enthusiastic supporter of Tilden and reform. The Boston Advertiser's Washington correspondent sends that paper a despatch as follows, under date of Oct. 12:

"A prominent conservative citizen of New York, who has had frequent conversations with ex-Gov. Hoffman of New York, told the Advertiser correspondent to-day that Hoffman said he took very little interest in the present Presidential contest, and should vote for Tilden very reluctantly and with a mental protest. He ventured the opinion also that Tilden would lose New York by twenty-five thousand."

Oh, base ingratitude! "How sharper than a serpent's thanks it is, to have a toothless child." John T. Hoffman, the man who was elected Governor of New York by Tweed and Tilden, in face of an adverse republican majority of many thousands, will "vote for Tilden very reluctantly!" But then Hoffman knows the man who was chairman of the democratic State committee of New York throughout Tweed's reign,—the man whose name was appended to the famous circular calling for a return to Wm. M. Tweed of the election returns in advance of their declaration,—better than any one can tell him.

News and Notes.

On the 12th, "New Hampshire day" at the Centennial, New Hampshire's sons and daughters were out in large numbers to celebrate the State's participation in the Centennial exhibition and to memorialize her participation in the struggles of the old thirteen. The State building was handsomely decorated, and a great crowd gathered to see the arrival of the procession. The Cadets from the Lexington Military Institute in Virginia tendered an escort to Gov. Cheney and his staff, which was accepted. As they approached the New Hampshire building the Virginians drew up in line and presented arms while the State troops and Centennial officials passed by. Among the well-known New Hampshire people present were ex-Govs. Smyth and Straw, Secretary of State Prescott, Phineas Adams, and many prominent citizens.

Eight thousand Egyptians have been massacred in Abyssinia.

Fifteen hundred Turks were slain by the Montenegrins in a recent raid by the latter, who lost 130 men. A number of Turkish villages were burned.

Count Von Arnim has been sentenced to five years in prison.

A heavy steamboat train and a freight train on the Old Colony Railroad had a collision on Friday, by which three engines and six freight cars were wrecked, one fireman killed and three other railroad men injured. No passengers were hurt.

The "Bay Psalm Book" was sold in Boston on Thursday, for $1025, to a Providence bookseller.

Jay Gould is "short" on New York Central, and has won a loss of $1,500,000.

Political.

Gov. Chamberlain, of South Carolina, has information that on the night of the 9th, 300 armed men broke open the county jail of Edgefield and took from it 370 stand of State arms stored there. These arms were taken from the negro militia at a time of great disorder in Edgefield county in 1874, upon the condition that the rifle club would disband, and have since been stored there. They were principally breechloaders.

Gen. McClellan has entered the campaign and taken the stump for Tilden. We are glad he has at last taken something. He made many attempts out in Virginia, but always "took to the rear" without waiting to take anything else. He ought to make his speeches from a "gunboat."—Manchester Dispatch.

There is a terrible significance in a recent utterance attributed to that noble champion of his race, Frederick Douglass. It seems impossible, only eleven years after the war, only eleven years after the abolition of slavery, and only eight years after the establishment of manhood suffrage, that the tide of reaction should have swept the black man not back into his chains, but into that condition which is the border land between freedom and slavery. "The colored people are tired of resistance," says Mr. Douglass. "The franchise is a great privilege, of course, but life is sweeter to human beings than the ballot box. Murders and intimidations have done their work, and while some will vote the democratic ticket, others will wisely consult the peace and safety of their lives by not voting at all." This terrible statement, by one who has unequalled facilities for learning the exact condition of his race at the South, explains in a few words the revolution in Mississippi, the overwhelming democratic vote in Georgia and Alabama, and the reign of terror which threatens to overwhelm and crush out the 25,000 republican majority in South Carolina. Let it be remembered that every man who casts a vote for Tilden and Hendricks will vote to perpetuate this terrible wrong committed upon a million of American citizens.—Nashua Telegraph.

Cheese Factories in England.

British farmers are notoriously slow to accept innovations, and this may be said without fear of hurting their feelings, as they are well aware of it, and in fact rather pride themselves on their conservation. But they are now moving in a direction which possesses some interest to Canadian farmers. The United States and Canada may be said to have absolute possession of the British cheese market except for certain fine brands with which we do not compete. Our factory system has already made its way into Britain, and it is as successful there as it is here. And now they are going to adopt another of our institutions, the dairymen's association: Certain leading spirits think that it is a shame that English cheese makers can be beaten in their own markets, and they are going to leave no stone unturned in the attempt to regain possession. Dear land and high taxes will operate against them just as distance will against us. The future will show whether the new British dairymen's association, which was formally instituted at Birmingham recently, will enable the farmers over the water to drive us out of their markets. We opine that it will not. Nevertheless, it is never well to have only one string to one's bow. The move of our English brethren should teach us to be on the alert for new markets. And if it should also direct our energies more to the manufacture of butter by the factory system, it will benefit us as much as it will them.—Canadian Farmer.

—A skeptical young man one day conversing with the celebrated Dr. Parr, observed that he would believe nothing which he could not understand, at which the doctor grimly said, "Then, young man, your creed will be the shortest of any man's I know."

—An old woman who is crossing the street has a narrow escape from being run over by a hearse: "I am not at all superstitious," she says to her rescuer, "but it has always seemed to me that it would be unlucky to be killed by a hearse."

—A young man in Jersey City was urged to marry, but he replied: "I don't see it. My father was a single man, and he always got along well enough."

POLICE COURT.

Friday, October 13th:

Patrick Doyle pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness, and was sent to Brentwood $9.90 worth.

James Lynch and Andrew Bradey, marines; charge drunkenness; plea, not guilty; conclusion, guilty; appendix, $11.04 each. These men were not only drunk, but ugly drunk, when arrested, and gave the police considerable trouble. Whether they had $22.08 worth of fun out of it is doubtful, however.

John Sullivan, for an assault on Wm. Jameson, to which he pleaded guilty, received a sentence of $5, costs $6.13. Sullivan also received a free lecture from the Court, which we hope will do him some good.

CITY AFFAIRS.

In board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, Oct. 12.

Requests of R. C. Yeaton, for gravel, and of G. J. Greenleaf to have tree pruned, were referred to committee on streets.

Request of B. Cheever for painting fence on South street at expense of city, was referred to committee on claims with Mayor added, with power to act.

City Marshal's quarterly reports of arrests and fines were presented and accepted.

City Clerk gave notice that the appropriation for Fire Department is exhausted.

A petition signed by J. H. Foster and one hundred and twenty-six others, praying for a general meeting of citizens to consider matters in relation to Portsmouth and Dover Railroad, was accepted, and a meeting was granted, to be held at the call of the Mayor.

Hearing was had on petition of W. H. Y. Hackett and others, for highway from Pleasant street to Langdon Park, by way of South Mill-pond. Further hearing continued to next meeting of Board.

Voted, that the members of the Women's Temperance League be permitted to address the Board on the subject of their petition.

Voted, that the vote passed last Thursday evening, that said petition be taken up at the first full meeting of the Board, be reconsidered.

The petition was then taken up and considered, and it was voted that the subject be referred to the City Marshal, a proposed amendment having been rejected.

Moved, that at some subsequent meeting the Board appoint a City Agent for the sale of liquors. Rejected by a tie vote, four to four.

Adjourned for two weeks.

THE WOMEN'S PETITION.

On Thursday evening a committee of the Women's Temperance League, accompanied by Messrs. John M. Davis, Alfred W. Haven and others, appeared before the Board of Mayor and Aldermen to urge action on their petition previously submitted, for the more effective enforcement of the prohibitory liquor law. Mr. Davis was the chief speaker, and urged greater effort on the part of the city authorities to close the liquor shops. He said he saw in the papers of the city, not long since, a warning from the City Marshal against the exposure of poison in any public place, on penalty of the law. This public warning was occasioned by what? It was due to the fact that two dogs had been poisoned. Yet the liquor dealers were allowed to vend their poison freely, to the ruin of the health and happiness and homes of men and women, causing not only moral but physical death to human beings, and the law against such sale of such poison was allowed to be a dead letter on the statute books. Were men of less value than dogs? If not, the laws for the protection of men should be at least as well enforced as those for the protection of dogs.

Ald. Marcy explained that he was in favor of temperance, but considered that the people did not really want an absolutely prohibitory law. He thought a license law would be more effective. He knew that at sea, men put on short allowance of food would eat more than if they were furnished with all they wanted. [Mr. Marcy did not explain where they would get the extra quantity of food, when placed on allowance.] He told a story about when he was in the legislature years ago, we believe at the time the prohibitory law was passed. A representative who had just concluded a ringing and able speech in favor of the act, met Mr. Marcy on the stairs as they were leaving the State House, and said, "Come, Marcy, let's go and take a drink before that law goes into effect!"

Mr. Davis hoped Capt. Marcy did not mean to imply that the ladies present to urge the enforcement of the law would go and take a drink on leaving the building.

Ald. Spinney strongly objected to being driven, and thought the present movement looked very like an attempt to drive the Board.

A lady—"You have been against us before."

Mr. Spinney, a little indignantly—"I should like to know when I was against you."

An alderman suggested that if proof of selling was given against any liquor dealer, he would be proceeded against, the same as any other person is who breaks a law, when his offence is discovered.

Mr. Haven thought the frequent appearance of drunken men on the streets, the Police Court records and the liquor-saloon signs, were evidence enough.

The Mayor said that while men's drunkenness made it morally certain that rum was sold, by somebody, it was not legal evidence to convict any particular dealer.

The committee wished the city to appoint detectives especially to collect evidence against liquor-sellers.

Ald. Yeaton moved to instruct the City Marshal and police to use all proper and practicable means to enforce the law; but the motion was defeated. [If carried, we cannot see that it would have been anything more or less than an implied censure on the police, who are bound to use all proper means to enforce all laws.]

Finally, the whole matter was referred to the City Marshal.

RUM AND REVOLVER.

From Kittery we have a report of the following circumstance: On the evening of the 11th a young lady left her father's house at the Foreside, at about nine o'clock, to call on a lady friend living across the street. A marine, who had previously visited this city and surrounded enough bad whiskey to make him enterprising and aggressive, attempted to surround the terrified young lady, and did succeed in cutting off her retreat either to her home or the residence of the friend she had started out to visit; but two young men coming along in a wagon she appealed to them for protection, and one of them jumped from the team and escorted her home, the marine,—a big fellow, by the way,—flourishing a revolver and threatening to blow out the brains of anybody who interfered with him. The lady's protector is a much smaller man than the marine, and the latter's revolver (which he carried in his hand) also had a soothing effect, and the two men proceeded down the street to a spot near Trefethen's Block, keeping at a respectful distance from each other but occasionally bandying disrespectful remarks. At that point something struck the marine under the ear and knocked him into the middle of the street, and it is said there was for a few moments a vision as of boots flying through the air in the vicinity of his ribs; and the affair was wound up, we are informed, by his being carried to the barracks hospital on the navy yard, his revolver being kept on the Foreside lest he might hurt some one with it.

JOTTINGS.

The Hayes and Wheeler Guards, with the Fife and Drum Band, had a torch-light parade Friday evening in honor of the republican victories in the West,—Colorado, with its Congressman and two U. S. Senators; Ohio, with its gain of five (possibly six) Congressmen; and Indiana, with its gain of four Congressmen. They made a fine appearance and kept up the march until after nine o'clock, dismissing in front of the City Building with rousing cheers for the victories and the republican candidates. During the march one hundred guns were fired near South road; and at nine o'clock a bonfire of tar-barrels was kindled on Market square.

Mrs. Bartlett's entertainment at Miss Morgan's seminary, this evening, will be a source of pleasure to the full and select audience it is sure to attract. A few of the limited number of tickets issued can still be procured at Mr. Foster's bookstore.

Bow Mission service Sabbath afternoon; subject, "Paul, the Christian Soldier."

There is to be an auction sale of fifty horses at Merrymeeting farm, Bowdoinham, Me., next Wednesday, for a statement of which we refer to our advertising columns. Those wishing to purchase a horse would do well to attend this sale, which will be the largest one ever held in Maine. Persons from this city can attend the auction and take the evening train to return.

As a train from Boston was entering the depot in this city, Friday forenoon, at a good rate of speed, owing to some cause of which we are uninformed the air brake refused to work, and in consequence the train went through the depot flying. An engine was standing on the track some little distance from the depot, waiting to hook on to the train and haul it to Portland; and the engineer, seeing the train coming faster and farther than was proper, opened the throttle and scooted over Noble's island bridge, followed by the train, which gained rapidly on the fugitive engine at first, but was distanced as soon as the latter got fairly under way.

The democrats of Dover had a torchlight procession and jollification, Friday night, over the glorious democratic victories in Ohio and Indiana; a special train went up from this city, carrying quite a number of democrats. The Hayes and Wheeler Guards of this city, with a hundred torches and a band, had a procession and jollification, Friday night, over the glorious republican victories in Ohio and Indiana. Most satisfactory election that ever was. Pity the Young Men's Tildea Reform Club Cadets hav'n't got their uniforms, so both the local clubs could have joined in a union glorification and made a ripping big thing of it.

The Times is idiotic. It is with sorrow we make this statement; but it is the truth, so we have to speak it, for truth is mighty, and though crushed ever so flat will manage to crawl out of it somehow. The Times figuratively thumbs its nose at us because we crowed when we did over the defeat of the old blue breeches and cowhide boots the democrats of Indiana ran for governor. The simpleton—to think we didn't know when was the proper time to crow! Were we to wait until the returns were all in, when perhaps the old boots would belong to our side instead of to the wicked? Not much. Rather would we follow the noble example set by the Portsmouth democrats four years ago, when they fired a hundred guns in honor of the democratic victory in North Carolina—which had given ten thousand republican majority! Does not such magnanimity as that deserve a return?

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 21, 1874

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.25.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Three Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 5th, and I wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken four weeks ago I was reduced one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but as I am gaining in health I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I feel like giving them my praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I need to not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines, but to the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and I thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins County, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me one package more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
— USE —
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

SEC. 16. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein: and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building vessel, or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds in this city, or so placed that offensive substances therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds, or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading therein. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his land into either of said ponds, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

New Hampshire Day at the Centennial.

The Ceremonies were begun with music by the band, after which Gen. Hawley made a pleasant speech, welcoming the Governor of New Hampshire and the people of the State, and alluding in general terms to the success of the Exhibition. Gov. Cheney officiated as Master of Ceremonies and began by saying that by the marked courtesy of the Centennial Commission, and that of Gen. Hawley in particular, he was present in an official capacity. As preliminary to the exercises he thanked the Commission for its various attentions in behalf of the State, after which he called upon Rev. Henry Powers of Manchester to offer prayer. This was followed by singing by the Hutchinson family, who gave their song, "We come from the mountains of the Old Granite State," and were lustily encored by the immense crowd gathered around the building. The Hutchinsons acknowledged the encore through the medium of one of their number, announcing that they intended to be at the next Centennial Exhibition. The following is

Gov. Cheney's Address.

Gov. Cheney made quite a lengthy address. He said that no matter how insignificant and unimportant New Hampshire may appear in the great galaxy of States at the present time, the record of the past is one of honor and renown, and is indelibly written on the pages of history. She gave freely of her best blood and treasure to secure a republican form of government is full sympathy with the action of the Continental Congress. She exhausted every means to aid and encourage it in organizing resistance to subjection. Prior to the Declaration of Independence she took upon herself a form of civil government, adopting a Constitution which is the first on record of any State or Colony. This action was succeeded by boldly making a declaration of independence which was presented to every male inhabitant of the State over twenty-one years of age; and to their lasting honor be it said that all but seven hundred and seventy-three of this entire class attached their names to the document, and the several town rolls, as returned to the Committee of Safety by the selectmen of the respective towns, are among the treasured and carefully preserved State papers. When the greatest apprehensions possessed every mind as to the results of this action, so strong was the love of liberty in the hearts of the people of this colony that they signified to the Congress at Philadelphia their earnestness of purpose by signing their names to an instrument that was unmistakeable in its meaning, being no less than a solemn promise, at the risk of their lives and fortunes, with arms, to oppose the hostile proceedings of the British fleets and armies against the united American Colonies. Subsequent events proved that these were no idle words; The blood of every subsequent battlefield attests to the sacredness of their obligation. Governor Cheney alluded to the rally of New Hampshire in defence of the flag, and added that if at the present time she suffers by comparison with some of the younger and more populous States, she can with great satisfaction refer to many of the distinguished and eminent citizens who, leaving the land that gave them birth, have gone to seek wider and more fruitful fields. The Governor closed with a stirring appeal for the overthrow of sectionalism, and for a mutual effort which shall make the Republic as permanent as the everlasting hills; and then introduced as "the orator of New Hampshire's Centennial day, Prof. E. D. Sanborn, whose well know connection and standing with the literary men of the nation is a sufficient guarantee that you are to be agreeably entertained in the presentation of State details."

Prof. Sanborn's Address.

About forty years ago De Tocqueville, the distinguished French savant, visited our country to make a critical examination of its social and political condition. He recorded the results of his observations with so much candor and magnanimity that the Americans themselves were satisfied with his judgments. Speaking of the rapid growth of our country, he said: "This gradual and continuous progress of the race toward the Rocky mountains has the sublimity of a Providential event; it is like a deluge of men rising unabatedly and driven by the hand of God." Since these words were penned this "deluge of men" has risen above the highest mountains and swept down their western slope toward the setting sun. The Teutonic race, to which we trace our genealogy, has ever been advancing, both in geographical position and in intellectual culture; they have been the discoverers, inventors, conquerors and law-givers for 2000 years. The Goths, the second great tidal wave of poplation that rolled over Northern Europe, are a very ancient race. They have traversed continents and oceans, till now the weary emigrant bathes his feet in the waters of the Pacific, and the new and old civilization meet on the shores of that great and wide sea. The fathers and the children to-day here meet and mingle on common ground.

Each of our sister Republics has received special notice to present on a given day its claims to a respectful consideration in this great brotherhood of Nations. This day belongs to New Hampshire, which like the birth-place of our Saviour, is not the least among the princes of our native land. We may say of her what Cromwell said of his Government, "This is a thing which speaks for itself." For nearly two centuries after the first settlement of New Hampshire, her entire record is blotted with tears and blood. No pages of human history are more touching and pathetic than the records of the Indian wars, the French wars and the English wars which almost crushed the life out of the pioneers of the Granite State. There fell upon our fathers a storm of woes such as can scarcely be parallelled in history. Indians lay in wait for their blood; proprietors sought to rob them of the farms they had cleared; monarchs usurped their government; pestilence thinned their ranks; famine wasted their strength. In the four French wars the people of New Hampshire reached the very acme of human suffering. In every instance, without notice and in defiance of treaties, the savages from Canada were sent down the valley of the Connecticut to murder the defenceless colonists. They were sold as slaves on the frontier of Canada. About one-third of the entire population of New Hampshire fell by Indian barbarities during the old French and Indian wars!

It is safe for me to affirm that the Revolutionary war would have been a failure without the troops from New Hampshire. A majority of the men who fought on Bunker Hill were from the Granite State. The most experienced and skillful leader there was John Stark. You know the story, how with a rail fence and new mown hay for a breastwork, the New Hampshire farmers nearly annihilated a whole regiment of Welch Fusileers. New Hampshire soldiers shared every defeat and victory "in times that tried men's souls." Even Washington felt his own great arm lean on Stark for support.

In the war of 1812 New Hampshire furnished her full proportion of men and money to secure the freedom of the seas and the rights of sailors.

In the great rebellion her motto was the declaration of the hero of New Orleans: "The Union; it must and shall be preserved." The time has not yet come to speak of the actors in that great drama. They still live.

Let us turn now to the men New Hampshire reared, the institutions she founded and the success she achieved when war's rude alarm was hushed to silence, for

"Peace hath her victories,
No less renowned than war."

New Hampshire's clergymen have been the chief supporters of sound morals and pure religion. Academies have been built and sustained by their paternal care. Dartmouth College was founded by a clergyman. The institution a century ago but the voice of one crying in the wilderness, now speaks through her eloquent sons to listeners in all civilized lands, where the sun shines or the grass grows. She has always been poor in resources but rich in her sons; these are her jewels. In medicine we can present a noble record. In 1798 a medical school was established at Dartmouth College, which to-day has as able a staff of professors as can be found in any college. Among the professors have been such men as Reuben D. Mussey, Daniel Oliver and Dixi Crosby. During the first third of this century there were more eminent lawyers in New Hampshire than in any other State in the the Union. Among the distinguished teachers of New Hampshire we may mention with pride Dr. Abbott, Dr. Soul, Dr. Richards and Dr. Taylor. Among the teachers who have been the authors of popular test books are Adams, Chase and Greenleaf.

With "confident boasting" I ask can any man before me name a citizen of any State, except a few of the founders of the Republic, who has held more important trusts than Meshech Weare? Can any State present a braver hero than John Stark? a more gallant officer than John Sullivan? a greater lawyer than Jeremiah Mason? a more illustrious orator than Daniel Webster? a more profound jurist than Joel Parker? a more skillful financier than Salmon P. Chase? a more competent ambassador than George P. Marsh? a more erudite scholar than George Ticknor? a more successful statesman than Franklin Pierce or Thaddeus Stevens? a more popular journalist than Isaac Hill or Horace Greeley? a more accomplished Grecian than Alpheus Crosby? a more honorable Governor, Senator and jurist than Samuel Bell? a more acute advocate than Joseph Bell?

Three distinguished jurists, all graduates of Dartmouth College died within the past year, Joel Parker, Isaac Redfield and Ira Perley. Within a decade no less than eight members of the Senate of the United States were natives of New Hampshire—Fessenden, Clark, Chase, Wilson, Hale, Dix, Cass and Nesmith. The most brilliant of all New England's sons—Rufus Choate—was educated in New Hampshire. One hundred and twenty-five thousand of her sons now reside in other States, and are laboring to promote the higher culture and establish the best institutions in their new homes. But I must pause in this pleasant recital. I will only add "the Yankee blade," with the New Hampshire stamp upon it, will bear the clash of arms, and the harder it is struck the louder it will ring.

We do well, therefore, to cherish the land of our birth; we do better to hold fast to the Union of these sister Republics; we do best when we reverence the Constitution of these United States as the noblest production of human wisdom.

After Mr. Sanborn had finished speaking Governor Cheney introduced ex-Gov. Straw, for whom General Hawley responded. The Hutchinson family then sang another song, after which Governor Cheney and staff received many hundreds of people at the reception in the State building. More than 100,000 people were on the grounds during the day.

—An old pilot, on being asked why a certain point on the Mississippi was called Malden Bluff, innocently answered, "I suppose it's 'cause it's a virgin' on the river."

Daily Chronicle.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1876.

FOR PRESIDENT.

Rutherford B. Hayes,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

William A. Wheeler,

OF NEW YORK.

Hayes' Platform in War.

In 1864, when Hayes was in the army, being nominated for Congress he was requested to come home and stump his district. His reply was, "I have other business just now. Any man who would leave the army at this time to electioneer for Congress ought to be scalped!"

Hayes' Platform in Peace.

"Honest money for all, and free schools for all. There should be no inflation which will depreciate the one, nor sectarian interference which will destroy the other."

The Results of the Elections.

The smoke of the battle has not yet all cleared away, but it is not too early to take a look over the battlefield and sum up the results of the late State contests between the two great political parties.

Colorado, as a Territory, in 1874 elected a democratic Delegate to Congress by a majority of 2163. This year the republicans have carried it, electing their candidate for Governor by about 1300 majority, a gain of nearly 2500, the aggregate majority in the legislature being 2500; also electing the Congressman, and securing more than two-thirds of the Legislature, thus assuring the election of two republicans to the next United States Senate, and three Hayes and Wheeler electors. There is nothing in the Colorado elections to raise the hopes of the democrats very high, that we can see.

Ohio has for years been a close State, its republican majority in 1872 being: on the governor vote, 12,000; on the presidential vote, 34,000. In 1873 the democratic candidate for governor had 847 more votes than the republican one; in 1874 the democratic Secretary of State had 9,387 majority; and in 1875 Gov. Hayes was elected by 2951 majority, his plurality being 5544. The democrats expected to carry Ohio high and dry at this election, for their candidate for Secretary of State. The Concord Patriot of Sept. 23d said: "Bell, the Democratic candidate for Secretary of State in Ohio, will be elected by about twenty thousand majority;" and on the 9th of October, the day before the election, it said: "Indiana will undoubtedly go democratic by not less than ten thousand majority, and Bell, the Democratic candidate for Secretary of State in Ohio, will be elected by at least ten thousand majority, if not twenty thousand." Said the Concord People, shortly before the election: "Cheering intelligence comes from Indiana and Ohio, indicating the success of the Democracy in both these States;" and Foster's Democrat of October 4th announced that "reports from sources that we have been in the habit of considering as reliable as is possible to be before the election, claim that we shall certainly carry Ohio." But Bell, the democratic candidate for Secretary of State of Ohio, did not get his twenty thousand majority, nor yet ten thousand; he did not even get elected. On the contrary, the republican candidate, Barnes, is elected by a larger majority than Gov. Hayes had last year, though he (Barnes) ran behind his ticket some thousands of votes; and the republicans carried certainly five (and probably six) Congressional districts now represented in Congress by democrats. If this is a democratic victory we don't care how many victories they win.

Indiana, like Ohio, is a close State. In 1868 it gave 900 republican majority for Governor and 9000 republican majority for President. In 1872 it gave 1148 democratic majority for Governor, and 21,688 republican majority for President. In 1874 it gave a democratic plurality of 17,252 for Secretary of State, the majority against the republican candidate being 33,485; this year, as in 1874, there was a third party ticket in the field. The democrats certainly expected to hold their own, and if their pre-election boasting is to be taken as a criterion we are safe in saying that they expected to sweep Indiana by at least 20,000 majority. They had eight of the thirteen Congressmen, and in the Legislature on joint ballot a majority of thirty-six, their plurality over the republicans being forty-seven. By desperate exertions (and unscrupulous trickery, as is charged,) they have managed to elect their candidate for Governor, as they claim by 7000 or 8000 plurality; but the republicans have carried the Legislature, and (what is of far more importance than the governorship,) have wrested from the democrats four Congressional districts. The republicans have certainly good reason for rejoicing over the Indiana election, and the democrats have a right to jubilate over it too, if they choose, but we shouldn't think they'd want to.

West Virginia in 1874 gave 9000 democratic majority, on a total vote of 66,000; the republicans this year had no expectation of redeeming that State, and but little attention was paid to it. It has gone democratic, probably by 12,000 majority; so that party can boast that it has held its own in one State, anyway, though it gains nothing but a "percentage"—which the democrats have always been very fond of.

Georgia, for years strongly democratic, this year is "solid" for Tilden and reform, its majority ranging anywhere from 75,000 to 100,000,—it matters little which. "There was little or no opposition." One county, which at the last election gave 700 republican majority, this year only threw 300 republican votes, all told; and in many districts not a republican vote was returned. The "reformers" we think have overdone the business there.

The result of all these elections, if they do not discourage the democrats should certainly encourage the republicans; but they also indicate that the Presidential race is not to be a walk-over, and that work is needed to ensure the triumphant election of Hayes and Wheeler. Three weeks between now and election day should be improved to the utmost, that New Hampshire may roll up even a better majority for the republican ticket than was given last March.

The Boston Post, which (in common with the other democratic organs) insisted, for a week after the truth was known, that Colorado had gone democratic, now graciously admits that the republicans have carried the new State.

In the United States Circuit Court, Thursday, at Exeter, in the case of Grout vs. the National Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for the full amount claimed, $2790.-41. The Court adjourned to October 24, when criminal cases will be in order for trial, before Judge Clark.

the consumer may be the judge; that the quality will not be suffered to depreciate, the past with the present is my best pledge. But two towns in the county have anything entered opposite their names in the column headed "decrease," viz: Newcastle and Windham,—the former $5000, the latter $17,542. Gosport's "deposits in the savings banks" and "total appraised value" are alike, $2,334, neither polls, lands, live stock, bank stock, buildings or anything else being specified in the inventory; the "increase" is $20,000; "equalization value" $22,334; and the town's proportion of each $1,000 of the State tax is eleven cents.

[Communicated.]

REV. H. W. BEECHER.

We think the citizens of Portsmouth are to congratulate themselves that an opportunity is to be afforded them of hearing such a man as Rev. Henry Ward Beecher. There is no question but what in many respects he is the greatest man of this age—in our own country if not in the world. If events have any logic then it is also becoming more and more apparent to the best-disposed men that Mr. Beecher is the greatest martyr of the age, if not of the world's history. Good men by thousands and tens of thousands hail him not only as a great man, but as an innocent and immensely good man. Let Portsmouth honor itself and the man by giving him a hearty and enthusiastic reception on Tuesday evening, Oct. 31st, at the Temple. †

JOTTINGS.

Winter is hurrying up more than is necessary. On Wednesday night an inch of snow fell in several towns in the northern part of the State; and on Sunday the snow came down freely, in this city, for the first half of the day, Although it melted as fast as it fell, in the streets, the roofs of buildings, the trees and the grass-plats were white all day. Nothing but a change of administration will save the country from such infamous weather.

The Portsmouth Cavalry, Capt. Peirce, will make their first appearance in full uniform on Wednesday afternoon at half-past two o'clock, the occasion of their monthly drill at the Plains.

Mr. Moses Garland, of Rye, while picking apples on Saturday fell from a tree and was seriously injured.

A meeting of citizens is called by Mayor Broughton, at Franklin Hall on Wednesday evening, to consider the question of extending further aid to the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad. The advertisement may be found in another column.

Col. William H. Hackett, Clerk of the United States Circuit Court, has succeeded in obtaining a nearly complete set of the U. S. Patent Office reports (Mechanical), for the use of the bar of the State practicing in the U. S. Court, where patent cases are heard, and for general reference at the Clerk's office. Mr. Hackett lacks to complete this set, vols. 1 and 2 of 1858, vol. 1, 1863, vol. 1, 1864, all vols. of 1865, vol. 2 of 1866, and would be glad to receive these volumes if any one has them to spare.

Auctioneer Morse on Saturday sold five shares of the Mechanics and Traders' Bank for $114.25 each, to Mr. E. A. Peterson, and five shares of the Portsmouth Trust and Guarantee Company for $100.50 each, to the same person. Five shares in the Portsmouth & Dover railroad were disposed of at $50 each, to Mr. Justin V. Hanscom.

The Salem Cadets will arrive at the Eastern depot this forenoon at half-past 10 o'clock. They will be received by the Heavy Artillery, as previously announced.

Schooner H. B. Gibson, while on the way to Newmarket with a cargo of 169 tons of stove coal consigned to the Sovereigns of Industry, struck on the rocks about twenty times between Wharf hill, so-called, and her moorings, losing her shoe, besides sustaining other injuries.

The Times of Saturday evening says: "The democratic victory at the West begins to assume definite form." We should judge so. Colorado retaken from them and its two U. S. Senators secured for the republicans; Ohio's republican majority of last year doubled, and five Congressmen gained by the republicans; and Indiana's democratic majority of 17,000, in 1874, cut down over one-half (taking the democratic figures for it), and four Congressmen and the State Legislature gained by the republicans. The "democratic victory" is that they have anything left.

Eighty-three Portsmouth people registered at the New Hampshire building on the Centennial Exhibition grounds, on Thursday, "New Hampshire day."

Second Lieutenant B. B. Russell is detached from the marine barracks at this naval station, and ordered to the barracks at Norfolk.

In pursuance of orders received at the navy yard on Saturday, the U. S. S. "Enterprise," 3d rate, will be hauled under the sheers this morning, to have her lower masts stepped. The remainder of her spars will probably be stowed on deck, and the vessel then towed to Boston navy yard to be fitted for sea.

The Times on Friday still held out that Colorado had given a democratic majority, and that evening published a telegram from Denver, Col., to the effect that the democrats had 287 majority in the State. What's the use of talking that way any longer? It was perhaps all right for the big metropolitan papers to lie about the election returns as long as such lying would tend to improve the prospects of Tilden, honesty and reform; but when even the Boston Post commences to tell the truth about Colorado the country press surely need not talk democratic any longer.

In the athletic sports at Dartmouth, on the 11th, Mr. O. J. Pfeiffer of this city, class of '77, won the second prize for throwing the heavy hammer. The hammer weighed eighteen pounds, and Mr. Pfeiffer threw it fifty-seven feet, four and three-quarters inches; the winner of the first prize, Mr. C. W. Stevens, '77, threw it sixty-one feet and three-fourths of an inch. Mr. Pfeiffer also won the first prize in "putting the shot," throwing the nineteen-pound weight a distance of twenty-seven feet, seven and three-quarters inches.

Horton's Old Virginia Minstrels and Variety Troupe, which company includes Howard and Ashcroft, Tony Washburn and other local talent, is giving entertainments in the neighboring towns, meeting with good success and giving general satisfaction. They recently played in York, Me., and our York correspondent spoke of them in very complimentary terms. They will visit Newmarket on Tuesday, the 17th, and Exeter at a later date.

The Portland office of the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company (whose office in this city is located in the Custom House) is now open for the reception and transmission of messages.

Mr. John E. Rider, late of this city, is now Storekeeper at the Mare Island Navy Yard, California, and in addition to that is Division Superintendent of the Grand Trunk Railroad, with headquarters at San Francisco.

The following is the report of city marshal Dame of arrests during the quarter ending Sept. 30, 1876: Drunk 112; assaults, 22; Sabbath breaking, 12; vagrants, 5; brawl and tumult, 6; disorderly, 4; tramps, 3; disorderly houses, 2; breaking the peace, 2; malicious mischief, 2; selling liquor, 2; keeping open bar after eleven o'clock, 2; peddling without a license, 1; insult, 1; desertion from county house, 1; truants, 1; larceny, 1; suspicion, 1; common railer and brawler, 1; cruelty to animals, 1. Total 182. 117 persons were furnished with lodgings at the station house during the quarter. The total amount of fines and costs received during the quarter was $209.95.

Henry Hickman of Seabrook, who placed obstructions on the Eastern railroad at Seabrook, Thomas Lord, charged with burning buildings at Exeter, Levi T. Harlow, for the same crime at Windham, Joseph Goodhough, Edgar W. Warren and William Hoyt for larceny, have been brought down from Exeter and lodged in jail here to await trial at the next term of the Supreme Court.

The New Hampshire Teachers' Convention was held in Concord, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week. Stephen W. Clark, Esq., of this city, was chosen one of the Vice Presidents for the ensuing year.

News and Notes.

Thomas H. Hunter, of Pittsburg, Penn., was shot and fatally wounded on the 11th by Charles Burke of Philadelphia, who had just arrived from Indianapolis, where he confesses he went for the purpose of repeating in the recent election.

At Bucksport, Me., an old man of 70 years, named Trim, his daughter, Mrs. Thayer, and a little girl of four years, are supposed to have been murdered for their money. Mr. Trim's house and other buildings were burned Friday night, and his charred remains have been found in the ruins; the others have not been heard of, but much blood has been found in the vicinity.

The fair at Farmington, Me., was interrupted Friday by an accident. A portion of the upper floor of the building fell, carrying some two hundred people to the floor below. Luckily none were killed. Several were seriously injured, and one will probably die.

James Ryan, a wealthy merchant of Peterboro, Ont., was tried last week for the murder of his wife on the 8th of May last. The jury after a short absence returned a verdict of guilty, with a recommendation of mercy. The prisoner was sentenced to be hanged the 21st of November.

Schooner James D. Shute, a new vessel, left Gloucester March 6th for a trip to Grand Banks. The was provisioned for a six months' trip, and was a staunch, able-vessel. She has now been absent upwards of seven months, and since leaving port she has not been seen or heard of by any of the fleet. It is conjectured that she was either sunk by an iceberg or came in contact with schooner Janet Middleton, lost on the Banks in the Spring. She had a crew of fourteen.

Three cars fell down a coalpit in Pennsylvania recently, and four men were killed.

Miss Stule, Custom House Inspectress on the Cunard Dock, at Jersey City, having reason to suspect one of the lady passengers by the steamer Abyssinia, searched her, and found concealed on her person a quantity of diamond jewelry, valued at $20,000.

A two-story dwelling on Walton road, in Seabrook, owned and occupied by Sewall Walton, was destroyed by fire which accidentally caught the wood-work around the kitchen chimney on Friday evening. The neighbors saved some of the furniture, and a well-filled barn within a short distance of the house was preserved by their exertions. The house was recently thoroughly repaired. Mr. Walton had insurance to the amount of $1500 on the house and $300 on his furniture.

Sa utary Stimulation.

When vital action is sluggish, a stimulant, provided it be pure and properly medicated, is the most reliable agent for imparting the necessary impetus to the semi-dormant organs, accelerating the languid circulation and averting the maladies to which functional inactivity gives rise. Physicians who have employed Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in their practice pronounce it the most salutary tonic stimulant they have ever used, and especially commend it as a remedy for torpidity of the bowels, liver, stomach and kidneys, and a nourishant of vital energy. The medicinal value of the Bitters is due to the fact that with their basis of pure old rye are combined, in perfect chemical harmony, the best restorative and life sustaining elements known to medical botany. The Bitters never deteriorate in the most unfavorable climates.

THE PERSPIRATION to great extent deputates the Blood, that is, it carries off its impurities. If the pores become obstructed those impurities, when they do not remain latent in the circulation, cause eruptions. The remedy for this state of things is GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP.

Sozodont.

This word, which has been staring everybody in the face for the past few years, and is now getting into nearly everybody's mouth, is a preparation for cleansing, beautifying and preserving the teeth, sweetening the breath, and arresting the progress of decay.

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pains so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 23, 1.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking Dr. Quain's CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of them, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PI. LS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I used I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was going to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. FATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy, and Headache.

LAGONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

TROS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not know ing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

A Prince Finds His Heart.

There was once a young prince who was old enough to marry, but had never been able to find any one whom he liked. Other young men fell in love, not once, but fifty times, before his age. He did not even know what love meant. All the beautiful court ladies had made themselves as charming as possible; but now it was known all over the land that young Prince Stuffwell had no heart, and that therefore, there was no use of trying to captivate him.

However, the king, his father, and all the counselors and great men about the court, declared that in love or not, he must marry; and he promised to do as he was told if he could be permitted to travel for a year and visit the most beautiful ladies in the world.

Of course, permission was accorded, and he set out with his suite, sending embassadors before him to inform every man of title who had a pretty daughter that Prince Stuffwell was coming. As soon as this news reached the palaces and castles where these fair ladies lived, each one set to work to see that her wardrobe was perfect. Some bought lotions and potions to make their skins softer and fairer. Some practiced singing, and others dancing. Amongst them all was only one who had no hope of being the prince's wife.

In a fine castle on a high hill lived my Lord Chilliwilli and four daughters. Three of these daughters were lovely, the fourth was very plain indeed. Everybody said at once there was no chance for little Midge, and she said so herself.

However, she was a good natured little thing, and helped as well as she could to make her sisters beautiful, and as week after week they heard the news that Prince Stuffwell had not made his choice yet, she said, with a smile:

"Well, well, one of you may be princess yet."

At last, having seen five hundred ladies, and chosen none, the prince's embassadors arrived at Chilliwilli Castle. Their trumpets were heard at the gates, and when they were opened the chief herald uttered these words:

"Prince Stuffwell, who is now on his twelve month journey in search for a wife, will be here in an hour."

Therefore all the young ladies fell into a flutter of excitement. Rosabella, the fair one, rushed away to dress herself in a white satin and pearls; Araminta, the dark one, to put on her crimson velvet and rubies; and Seraphina, who was neither, to attire herself in blue silk and diamonds.

"I," said little Midge, "shan't dress at all; but I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll go into the kitchen and make one of my famous apple-puddings, and that will make him good natured. They say he's fond of nice things to eat."

So Midge tied on her cooking-apron and went into the kitchen, and there, peeping from the window behind the dresser, she saw the prince arrive; a very fat prince, with small eyes and a big mouth. But princes, as you know, are always handsome. So Midge and the cook cried:

"Oh, isn't he splendid!"

Up in the drawing-room my Lord Chilliwilli introduced his beautiful daughters, and every one bobbed and courtesied. The ladies looked wonderfully well, but Prince Stuffwell did not seem to care. Seraphina sang, and he was found to be sound asleep. Araminta and Rosabella danced together, and he never looked. They all talked and he did not listen. What to do then no one knew, when suddenly the door opened and in came a page with an apple pudding on a silver salver. Midge, who had an idea that matters were rather dull up stairs, had sent it up to improve them.

"May I offer you a piece of apple pudding, your highness?" said Lord Chilliwilli.

"Of course you may," said Prince Stuffwell; "I've been wondering you didn't give me something to eat this half hour."

"Ha! ha! how witty!" cried the whole suite.

"He! he! he! how witty!" cried Lord Chilliwilli.

"Isn't he brilliant!" screamed the young ladies.

Then the pudding was served and the prince sat down to eat.

"You have a good cook," he said.

"Yes, your highness," said my lord.

Then the page, to whom Midge had been very kind, bowed low and said:

"But the cook did not make this, your royal highness. Miss Midge made this, an't please your highness."

"It does please me very much," said the prince. "Which is Miss Midge, my lord?"

"A little daughter of mine; who is very, very plain, poor child," said Lord Chilliwilli.

"Tell her to come here," said the prince.

The page ran to call little Midge, and she dared not stop to take off her cooking apron. The prince looked at her with interest as she came in.

"You made this pudding, my child?" said he.

"Yes, your royal highness," said she. "Begging your pardon, I made so bold."

"It's delicious," said he. "Sit down, child, and cut slices for me while I eat."

So Midge, in her cooking apron, sat down, whiles the ladies, her sisters, all the suite, and her venerable father, stood before Prince Stuffwell. All was silent in the great hall; nothing could be heard but the sound of Midge's knife slicing the apple-pudding, and the smacking of the prince's lips as he ate his slices up. At last all was gone, and then the prince, suddenly arising, went down upon his knees before Midge, and took her hand.

"Divine little pudding-maker," said he, "here on my knees I choose thee for my bride. Before this moment I never thought I had a heart. I have found it at last. It is as large as that of any one else, only it is differently situated. My heart is in my stomach, and the apple-pudding has touched it. Let us be married at once, and you shall always make puddings for me!"

"But I'm so ugly!" said Midge.

"Bah! I never look at a woman's face," said the prince.

"And I've got on my cooking apron," said Midge.

"Very well; that's the best thing a woman can wear," said the prince. "I don't care for fal-lals. Any one who can make a pudding like this, is fit to be a queen."

Then he took her by the hand, and the old Lord Chilliwilli bowed low, and the sisters courtesied, and the heralds went away to publish all over the kingdom that Prince Stuffwell had found his heart at last.

Daily Chronicle.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1876.

FOR PRESIDENT,

Rutherford B. Hayes,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

William A. Wheeler,

OF NEW YORK.

Hayes' Platform in War.

In 1864, when Hayes was in the army, being nominated for Congress he was requested to come home and stump his district. His reply was, "I have other business just now. Any man who would leave the army at this time to electioneer for Congress ought to be scalped!"

Hayes' Platform in Peace.

"Honest money for all, and free schools for all. There should be no inflation which will depreciate the one, nor sectarian interference which will destroy the other."

Free Speech and "Reform."

The disgraceful disturbance of the republican meeting at East Providence, Wednesday evening, was in the exact line of democratic authorities and precedents. The democrats do not believe in free speech, any more than they believe in free men. Not only are they unwilling to hear the other side, but they are unwilling that others should hear it; they are unwilling that the republicans should meet in peaceful assembly to discuss the political questions of the day. We know that respectable democrats in East Providence must repudiate this rowdyism, which is more injurious to them than to us; but they cannot control the disreputable classes of their own followers. Nor is it strange that when violence is carried to the point of murder in one section of the country, it should rise, at least, to the height which it reached in East Providence, Wednesday evening. The mode in which Alabama and Mississippi were carried, and in which the contest is now waged in South Carolina, has met with no rebuke from the Northern democracy, and it is difficult to make men believe that it is right to kill a negro for being a republican in South Carolina, and not right to stone a political procession in Rhode Island. — Providence Journal.

Another democratic victory. The Tilden "reformers" of Brooklyn, N. Y., stoned a republican procession Friday evening, and killed one man. One vote less for Hayes and Wheeler. The murdered man was an ex-Union soldier, which makes the victory all the more gratifying. Several other persons were severely injured, but it is thought none fatally.

At Newburyport, Thursday night, Hon George B. Loring began his speech by showing the audience a big rock which had been thrown through a transparency, stating that that was the usual democratic argument. The procession was stoned several times by the democratic roughs, and late in the evening the police arrested three in the act of throwing rocks.

Gen. McKee, for many years republican Representative in Congress from Mississippi, and now republican candidate for elector, was recently struck down by a bludgeon in the hands of a Tilden and reform assassin and pushed from the platform, while addressing a republican meeting at Canton. His injuries are very serious, and he will probably die. His cowardly assailants attacked him from behind and precipitated him from the steps into a crowd, where their confederates knocked him senseless with a club. His offence was declining to divide the only hour he had in which to address his friends during the recess of the court, with the democrats. Gen. McKee has been a member of Congress three successive terms since reconstruction, and is recognized as one of the ablest and most courageous men in Mississippi. In politics he has always been fair, honorable and moderate. He is a resident of Madison county, and owns a large plantation only a few miles distant from Canton, on which he resides. This was the first attempt to hold a republican meeting in that county (where there is a legitimate republican majority of 2000) since the revolution of last fall, and is likely to be the last of the present campaign unless immediate and effective protection be given.

Earnest Reformers.

The republicans of Indiana and Ohio have claimed that the "soldiers" who were induced to attend the Tilden convention at Indianapolis just before the late election in those States, by having their fare paid both ways over the railroads, were mainly professional democratic repeaters from New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, sent out by Tilden's managers to work for the party. A large proportion of the "Killers," "Plug Uglies," and "Blood Tubs" remained in Indiana and Ohio after the convention dissolved, and no doubt labored nobly for the cause of reform. How well they wrought is indicated by the following figures, which show the number of votes polled in excess of the adult male population of several wards in Cincinnati: Fourth Ward, excess 93; Sixth Ward, excess, 99; Fifth Ward, excess 171; Eighth Ward, excess 170; Ninth Ward, excess, 155; Eighteenth Ward, excess 427; Nineteenth Ward, excess, 165; Twenty-first Ward, excess 316; Twenty-fifth Ward, excess 80. The above wards are largely democratic. Cincinnati elected two democratic Congressmen, one of them by less than one hundred majority. 'Rah for Tilden and reform, a pure ballot and honest government.

News and Notes.

Asher B. Covell of Ticonderoga, N. Y., has made full confession of the murder of his wife on Friday night, October 6. He had been, accompanied by his wife and a young lady, to a neighbor's, returned about 11 o'clock and soon after went to bed. During the night he arose, got a stick of wood and mashed in her skull. She lived until next morning but was unable to speak. He says he killed his wife at the instigation of one Burns, who wished to marry Covell's daughter, to which his wife objected. He at first denied the murder. His clothes were missing and he said they were stolen, but they were found a little distance from the house where he was seen by a passer-by early in the morning, and then he admitted his guilt.

The severe penalties imposed by Congress and inflicted by the Naval Academy have not, it seems, stopped the "blue-blooded" midshipmen from hazing the plebs. Two midshipmen are now in jail for breaking the law. They had better be sent adrift, to earn an honest living if they know enough.

The Old South Church matter is still in the hands of the committee. The New England Mutual Life Insurance Company will take a mortgage for $225,000 on the property, and a second mortgage of $75,000 will be taken by private parties on certain conditions. Six persons have agreed to make up the sum of $100,000 to complete the cash purchase of $400,000, with the agreement that it shall be donated when the popular subscription, now amounting to $60,000, shall have reached $100,000. Mr. R. M. Pulsifer will hold the property in trust for the several mortgagees, and it is to be offered, for a reasonable length of time, to the public for purchase.

As no intelligence has been received concerning the crew of the schooner Walter M. Falt, of Gloucester, before reported dismasted and waterlogged upon Grand Bank, the conviction that they must have been washed off the wreck and drowned grows stronger. The Falt had a crew of twelve, all young men, and with one exception supposed to have been unmarried.

Bennington, Vt., has been for some time past infested with a gang of outlaws, who have blown up or burned the houses of prominent temperance men, and committed other outrages. Some months ago a hat dresser named Cooney settled in Bennington, and soon came to be regarded as a nuisance; he was a wretched botch at his trade, but was hail fellow well met with all the most dangerous roughs of the place. On Thursday the worthless bummer, Cooney, appeared in a new character, and caused the arrest of John Reeves and Charles H. Cole, two of the principal liquor dealers of Bennington, and of Mike Coffee and Jimmy Fitzgerald, on a charge of having blown up a house and burned a large mill. Mike and Jimmy turned State's evidence, and the others were held to bail in $3500 each. Mr. Cooney was a detective.

An extensive European war seems imminent.

Another one of the Northfield, Minn., bank robbers, Frank James, one of the infamous "James brothers," has been captured by detectives. He was wounded in the knee at Northfield.

Gen. Rufus King, formerly Minister to Rome, died in New York on Saturday, aged 62 years.

There is to be a convention of the Young Mens' Christian Associations of Massachusetts at Newburyport on Wednesday and Thursday of this week, the welcome meeting taking place this (Tuesday) evening. Extensive preparations for the occasion have been made, and exercises of great general interest have been arranged for.

A dispatch from Annapolis states that W. N. King of Georgia, F. B. Pearson of Massachusetts, George A. Scott of Indiana, J. F. Luby of New York, and W. W. Russell of Maryland have been dismissed from the Naval Academy for refusing to disclose names of students engaged in "hazing." The discharged students were not guilty of having taken part in hazing, but refused to disclose the names of their classmates engaged in the matter. And a precious set of "high-toned" curs the guilty parties must be, to keep their identity concealed when they found their classmates would suffer from their so doing.

The body of Mrs. Thayer, one of the victims of the Bucksport, Me., tragedy, was found in the debris of the burned buildings on Saturday. The body of the child had not been found up to a late hour. Frank Sanders was arrested at Hampden on suspicion of being the murderer, and it is said the evidence against him is very strong.

Steamer Matamoras blew up at Galveston, Texas, on Saturday, killing three men and wounding two. The steamer then burned.

The snow-storm of Sunday extended over a wide area, Quebec, Montreal, Bangor, New York, Washington and all the country between the cities named, experiencing it.

A remarkable discovery was made Thursday in the town of North Canton, Conn. A farmer named Ruick, while working on a part of his farm which was never before under cultivation, unearthed two slabs of light colored sandstone, containing the imprint of a foot of a bird, evidently gallinaceous, and also of the perfect cast of the human foot, eleven inches long, and perfectly formed, except that the inferior toes were unusually long and the great toe unusually short.

New Hampshire Items.

A hearing in the case of the Ashuelot Railroad vs. John Henry Eliot, Trustee, and Cheshire Railroad, was opened at Keene, Friday morning, before Geo. W. Ramsdell, Master. After considerable discussion as to the proper interpretation of the Court's opinion, the hearing was adjourned to Nov. 8, 1876. The only points unsettled are the exact amounts due plaintiffs from defendants.

George B. Davidson was fatally injured at Franklin on Saturday, by the premature discharge of a cannon while a salute was being fired.

Merrill & Pearson's sash and blind factory in Laconia was burned Friday night; loss $6000; insured. A few hours later the Freewill Baptist church was burned; loss $12,000; no insurance. Both fires were incendiary.

Two small barns, owned by Catharine Carey and Patrick Doyle, in the rear of Park street, Manchester, were destroyed by fire Sunday night. Loss about $600.

The Groveton House, owned by P. J. Toohey, and a blacksmith shop and barn owned by George Henman, at Groveton, were burned Saturday morning. The fire was incendiary. Toohey losses $5000; insured $3750. The blacksmith shop insured $300. Upwards of 500 cords of wood belonging to the Grand Trunk Railroad Company were also burned.

Wheeler's shoe factory, at Salem, was burned on Thursday night, the origin of the fire being unknown. Fifty hands are thrown out of work. The loss by the fire is estimated at between $5000 and $8000.

THE AMERICAN CENTENNIAL, 1876.

Wheeler & Wilson Victorious!

Again the WHEELER & WILSON Sewing Machines triumph over the world. The Centennial Commission have officially announced the awards and decreed for the New Wheeler & Wilson Machine two Diplomas of Honor and two Medals of Merit. This is a double victory, and the highest award which it was in the power of the Centennial authorities to bestow. No other sewing machine received such a recognition. More than thirty of the best producers of machines in this and other countries entered for competition, and at Philadelphia in 1876, as at Vienna in 1873, and at Paris in 1867, Wheeler & Wilson lead the list. After a careful, rigorous, and exhaustive examination, the judges unanimously decided that the superior excellence of these machines deserved more than one medal or diploma, and, consequently, they recommended two of each. The Centennial Commission unanimously ratified the action of the judges and the public will indorse the decision of these ablest of mechanical experts. A claim of equally distinguished honor for any other sewing machine is only an attempt to hoodwink the phople. Read the following, which stamps the "New Wheeler & Wilson" as the Standard Sewing Machine of the World.

[From the Official Report.]

AWARDS TO WHEELER & WILSON.

1. A Medal and Diploma for "The New Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine," for the following reasons:

THE COUNTY INVENTORY.

From the inventory of Rockingham County, as contained in the report of the State valuation and apportionment committee for 1876, we copy the "equalization valuation" (on which the State tax is apportioned) of all the towns in the county, and the amount of each thousand dollars of State tax each town has to pay:

	Valuation.	Tax.
Atkinson	$355 102	$1 79
Auburn	352 360	1 78
Brentwood	371 035	1 87
Candia	583 313	2 95
Chester	558 931	2 81
Danville	232 059	1 17
Deerfield	733 435	3 70
Derry	1,021 339	5 15
East Kingston	259 986	1 31
Epping	702 245	3 54
Exeter	2,565 397	12 91
Fremont	237 516	1 20
Gosport	22 334	11
Greenland	449 448	2 77
Hampstead	414 777	2 09

Kensington	350 011	1 76
Kingston	508 388	2 57

Nottingham	426 550	2 16
Plaistow	374 263	1 89
Portsmouth	10 067 755	50 65
Raymond	485 346	2 44
Rye	750 378	3 78
Salem	680 485	3 42
Sandown	232 739	1 17
Seabrook	333 253	1 68
South Hampton	266,585	1 34
South Newmarket	457 948	2 30
Stratham	684 093	3 28
Windham	381 681	1 93

From this it will be seen that of each $1000 of the State tax, Rockingham County pays $151.60, of which Portsmouth has to contribute a trifle more than one-third. The total valuation of the county foots up $30,118,579.

THE MILITARY VISIT.

The Salem Cadets, Lieut. Col. A. Parker Brown, to the number of about eighty, with the Salem Brass Band, arrived at the Eastern depot by special train at half-past ten o'clock Monday forenoon, as previously announced. They were received at the depot by the Portsmouth Heavy Artillery, Capt. Frank Williams, with the Kearsarge Fife and Drum Band, and escorted on a march through the principal streets of the city, and then to the Artillery's armory on Market street, where the Cadets left their arms and then marched under escort to the Rockingham House. The day was disagreeably cold and windy—more like a misplaced section of March than a decent October day; but the military show attracted a large number of spectators to the streets. The quarters of the Artillery were handsomely dressed with evergreen, flags and mottoes, and the front of the building was made bright with bunting; the Franklin Hall building's Congress street front was also handsomely decorated. The Artillery made their usual fine appearance and maintained their reputation for proficiency in drill, which is all that need be said. The Cadets' uniform consists of red coat, blue pants and French hat with pompon, and they are armed with the improved Springfield breech-loader. Their neat, soldierly appearance and fine marching won admiring comments from all; but the organization ought to be well drilled by this time, having had a continuous existence, it is said, since 1685—almost two hundred years.

At four o'clock there was a review and dress parade of the Cadets and Artillery on Market square, and the counter-attractions of warm fires indoors did not prevent a large crowd from gathering to witness it, and hear the fine music of the excellent band.

In the evening there was a promenade concert and levee at Franklin Hall, to which the military and invited guests only were admitted. Upton's Quadrille Band, of Salem, furnished the dancing music, and a large and brilliant company kept up the amusement until a late hour.

Yielding to the expressed wish of many citizens, Major Dalton, commanding the battalion of Salem Cadets (in the absence of Lt. Col. Browne), has consented to favor the people of Portsmouth with an open-air concert on Market square from nine to ten o'clock this forenoon, by the splendid band accompanying the corps.

The Cadets will take the cars for Salem this forenoon, the local company escorting them to the depot.

JOTTINGS.

The October term of the Supreme Court commences in this city to-day, Judge Doe presiding.

Mr. Clarke, of the High School, after spending three days at the Centennial, was called home by the illness of his little child. He left Philadelphia Sunday and arrived home on the ten o'clock train Monday morning, and found the little one out of danger. School will commence again on Thursday morning.

Schooner Lucy, Capt. Solomon Rowe, passed down the river on Saturday bound to Gloucester, with 250 bushels of Great Bay oysters.

It has been recorded and believed for generations that one Capt. Mason and the "Laconia Company" were the earliest settlers of New Hampshire. A document found not long ago among the Winthrop papers shows that David Thompson (for whom Thompson's Island in Boston harbor was named) made a permanent settlement at the mouth of the Piscataqua river at least six years before the organization of the Laconia Company.—Portland Advertiser.

If you want your old silk hat made over as good as new, just leave it at the barber's shop of either John S. Roberts or Joseph E. Goodrich, and it will be done for one dollar. Mr. Chas. H. Smith, a former resident of Portsmouth, is here for a few days for the purpose of renovating old hats. And he does it in good style, too. In these hard times, many cannot afford the price of a new hat, so Mr. Smith steps in and offers to make an old one about as good as new for one dollar. Try him.

The Times of Saturday evening says: "Charles R. Littlefield of Kennebunk, late clerk in the navigation department at this navy yard, has been appointed an assistant paymaster in the navy." This is a mistake. Col. Charles R. Littlefield is still chief clerk in the navigation department at the navy yard; his son, Mr. Charles W. Littlefield, is the recent appointee.

Icicles which formed on the eaves of buildings in this city on Sunday, and snow which fell on roofs with a slope to the north, did not disappear until after noon on Monday, though the sun shone brightly all the forenoon.

The following conundrum was sent us through the Post-office: "When a good, broad, solid, McAdamized 'boulevard' or highway is built around the South Millpond to Langdon Park, won't it exemplify the case (as Lord Dundreary puts it) of "the tail wagging the dog?" We don't know, really.

The author of the communication regarding Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, published in Monday's CHRONICLE, thinks "eminently good man," as it was in the copy, preferable to "immensely good man," as it appeared in print. There is no accounting for tastes.

A Raymond correspondent writes: "A good audience assembled in the Town Hall on Thursday evening of last week, to hear a lecture by J. Horace Kent, Esq., of Portsmouth, on Temperance; but he failed to be present. There was some speaking, but it is difficult to satisfy a disappointed audience. We hope to hear him yet."

The Rockingham Quarterly Meeting will be held at the Pearl street church in this city on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Reports from the churches, and preaching.

SEABROOK.

For some time the people of Seabrook who own poultry have been exercised in their minds over the fact that their flocks became smaller as they grew older, without any discoverable reason for such eccentric conduct; and fruit and vegetables have been havested between two days in a most perplexing and (to the owners) unsatisfactory manner. On Saturday evening a party of fellows were loafing in the store of Mr. Bryant Eaton, and he noticed that a series of winks and signs passed between them, followed by the departure of one of their number, one Frank Fowler. Satisfied that something was wrong, Mr. Eaton stepped out of the back door of his shop just in time to see Fowler (appropriate name) snatch a chicken from its roost on a woodpile and prepare to wring its neck. He seized the thief, who at first showed fight and offered to punch Mr. Eaton's head at the most reasonable rates; but the latter declined to strike a bargain on any terms, and (being a police officer) took Fowler into custody, as a sort of compromise. Mr. Eaton has within a few weeks lost twenty-five hens, and four turkeys within as many days. He has noticed Fowler prowling about his premises before, on one occasion just at the time a fine lot of squashes were stolen.

Fifty-three citizens have petitioned the selectmen of the town to replace the lock-up which was burned down some months ago.

Political.

The Brooklyn Argus (democratic) calls Tilden the boldest imposter who ever faced an American public; having taken pains to make particular enquires of the trade with respect to "my brother's extract of coffee," it is found that it has not been manufactured for fifteen years. It was a worthless article, which no one ever purchased the second time, got up especially to palm off under army contracts, and never heard of after it was ruled out of the commissariat department.

The deliberate trickery of the democrats in persistently claiming a victory in Colorado up to the day of the Indiana and Ohio elections, is shown by the fact that a private letter from Hughes & Williams, of Denver, acknowledging the defeat of the senior partner, Hughes, for Governor, was received by a lawyer in Chillicothe, Ohio, Oct. 9th.

Reports from sources that we have been in the habit of considering as reliable as is possible to be before election, claim that we shall certainly carry Ohio.—Foster's Democrat, Oct. 4.

Ohio has probably gone republican by some 5000 or 6000 majority, which is a much smaller majority than we expected. We never counted on that State, so we have lost nothing there.—Foster's Democrat, Oct 13.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity for a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges. —A Scotch minister who was famous for his dryness in the pulpit called on one of his aged parishoners, and, as usual, partook of a cup of tea. He remarked to the guidwife that her teapot ran very slowly. "Deed, ay," quoth the guidwife; "it's like yersel'. It has an unco' bad delivery."

—A jester in the Court of Francis I. complained that a great lord threatened to murder him if he did not cease joking about him. "If he does so," said the king, "I will hang him in five minutes after." "I wish your Majesty would hang him in five minutes before," replied the jester.

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.00.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and eighty, fat, and I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am feeling the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no avail. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been one free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving away half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

(DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if these pills will cure me they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and send to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy, and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—SIR:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend the Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the cause of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY and DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief it will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER.

Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round.

BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

The Butter Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

Ingersoll on Inflation.

The solid good sense as well as the brilliancy of Bob Ingersoll appears in his handling of the financial question in his speech at Terre Haute, as follows;

There are some other questions. One is the question of finance. Everybody you ever heard on the subject was dry, I presume. Our greenback gentlemen tell us that the government in some way supported us, and can in some way furnish us money. I do not understand it that way. The government does not support us. We support the government. The government is an everlasting chronic old pauper. Everybody has to throw in his share for the support of the government, and everybody does throw it in except Tilden. [Laughter and cheers.] The government is simply an agent to carry out your will. The idea that you can live upon your agents, upon the men you employ; that they can make your money for you! You might as well say that my hired man could issue certificates of my indebtedness to him for me to live on. [Laughter.] They tell me that the government can make money upon its sovereignty; that that makes money.

The other day I saw a piece of silver bearing the sovereign stamp of Julius Cæsar. Julius has been dead about 2000 years, but that piece of silver was worth just as much as though Julius Cæsar was at the head of Roman legions. Was it his sovereignty that made it valuable? Suppose he had put his sovereignty on a piece of paper; it would not have been worth any more than a democratic platform after election. But they stick to it that the Government can whack a little sovereignty on a piece of paper. What is the use of sovereignty on one dollar bills? Why not make ten dollar bills? Why not make million dollar bills at once, so we can be millionaires? If the Government can make money, why don't it make what money it wants, take the taxes out, and give the balance to us? [Loud laughter.] Why should the sun get a candle from us? Mr. Greenbacker, if your doctrine is correct, I say make all the money you want, take the taxes out, and send me my share. [Renewed laughter.]

Now, it seems to me if our Government can make money by impressing its sovereignty on a piece of a paper, don't you think it is heartless and cruel to be following us day after day begging for taxes, putting a bayonet behind us and saying: "Pay your taxes or we will put this bayonet into you?"

Let me ask you another question. Is it possible that certificates of indebtedness can be a basis of wealth, especially to the debtor? Mr. Greenbacker, why don't you go one step further, and make a law that every man shall take every other man's note? Then we would have all the currency we desire. There is this trouble in the greenback currency; you have got to have something to measure values. That which measures the value of anything must be of the value of the thing it measures. In other words, a dollar in gold will buy the same amount of labor in every other direction that it took to make that dollar, taking into account all the work that was ever done digging for the gold. You have got to have a standard of value of the thing you measure, otherwise there can be no measurement.

Trapping a Whale.

A white whale, weighing 15,000 pounds, has recently been placed in an aquarium at New York city, and the Evening Post gives the following interesting account of the capture of the monster of the deep: "Early in June a party went to St. Paul's bay, on the St. Lawrence, and drove down piles on the shore so as to make a large enclosure, with a narrow entrance, in the region where the whales come up. The tide there is sixty feet, and at high water the tops of the piles are out of sight, thirty feet below the surface of the sea. It was two months, however, before a whale accepted the invitation extended to his tribe, and directed his foolish course into the captivity prepared by his foes. As soon as his 'blowing' revealed his presence where he was wanted, two small boats hurried to the entrance of the enclosure and stayed there until the tide receded and left the captured animal hopeless on his belly in eighteen inches of water. He was trapped at last, but too chagrined, probably, to give expression to his emotions as he felt the rope lashed around his tail to keep him from 'flopping,' and found himself rolled over and over into the box which his enemies had floated into the enclosure from their schooner. When the water began to rise again, the schooner itself was brought in, and by the help of a derrick the box and its contents were hoisted successfully on board. There the animal lay packed carefully in seaweed, the roof of the box being removed in order to secure for him plenty of air. There he stayed, with a man constantly by his side to keep his 'blowhole' wet, else he could have revenged himself by dying; and when the vessel reached Quebec the express company and the railroads took charge of him—a faithful attendant still remaining to dampen assiduously the all-important 'blow-hole.' On arriving in New York the derrick again was brought into requisition; the heavy box was transferred to a dray, and thence to the large central tank at the aquarium. No sooner did the coverless box sink to the bottom of the tank than the whale, again in his native element, stretched himself, and swam out and up to the surface. It was his first swim in seven days. And all this time he had fasted also, his nourishment being derived from his 'blubber.'"

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1876.

FOR PRESIDENT,

Rutherford B. Hayes,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

William A. Wheeler,

OF NEW YORK.

Hayes' Platform in War.

In 1864, when Hayes was in the army, being nominated for Congress he was requested to come home and stump his district. His reply was, "I have other business just now. Any man who would leave the army at this time to electioneer for Congress ought to be scalped!"

Hayes' Platform in Peace.

"Honest money for all, and free schools for all. There should be no inflation which will depreciate the one, nor sectarian interference which will destroy the other."

The Rebel Raid on the Treasury.

Studious endeavors have been made to mislead the public as to the amount of claims which were introduced in the House of Representatives last winter. Democratic speakers maintain that no considerable number of claims was passed. This is so, but it was an electioneering trick. These bills were purposely and avowedly withheld until after the Presidential campaign. The official books of the House have not been accessible to republicans, but from advance sheets of the Congressional Record of the session it is now possible to give the number and the amount of these claims definitely. The result is astounding.

The total sum proposed to be appropriated is $400,000 more than our entire national debt, and amounts to $2,503,622,386. This was done at the first session of the present Congress in one house. The classification of these claims is as follows: Rebuilding levees on the Mississippi River, $5,250,000; rebuilding bridges in West Virginia, $200,000; refund of cotton tax, 68,072,000; supplies used or destroyed, $1,265,163,000; use and occupation of property, $1,205,163,000; returns of captured property, $9,000,000; refund and remission of direct tax, $5,153,886; disloyal mail contractors, $350,000; disloyal claimants, under the repeal of Section 3480 of the Revised Statutes, $500,000; private relief bills, $4,770,500; total, $2,503,622,386.

The democratic papers are much given to indignantly scouting the idea that the "Confederate debt" is to be paid in case of a democratic National victory, as there is no "rebel debt," and a Constitutional amendment provides that no debt incurred on account of the rebellion shall be paid. But these claims do not come under any such head; they are on precisely the same footing as the claims of loyal Southern citizens that have already been paid, except that these claimants were disloyal—and that disloyalty would be no bar to any claim whatever, with a democratic administration, the following bill, which was introduced in the United States House of Representatives on the 28th of February last, read twice and referred to the judiciary committee, plainly indicates:

"H. R. 2864. A bill directing compensation for the use and occupation of property by the United States army during the late war:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that the Secretary of War be, and he is hereby, authorized to allow reasonable compensation to all citizens of the United States for the use and occupation of their property by the United States army, or any part thereof, during the late civil war, in the same manner and under the same regulations as compensation is now allowed for quartermaster stores used by said army; provided, however, that the affidavit of the claimant supported by the competent testimony of any reputable citizen, shall be sufficient proof to establish the fact of the use and occupation of such property by said army. But it is not the intention of this act to limit the parties to the amount of proof herein specified; but other and additional testimony may be taken to establish the fact of the use and occupation and the rental value of the property occupied."

That bill, when passed, will open the doors of the Treasury for the payment of all the claims of the secessionists—claims that already aggregate four hundred thousand dollars more than the National debt!

The "Democratic Victory" in Indiana.

Complete returns from Indiana enable us to judge how much of a "victory" the democrats won in the recent election. Williams, the democratic candidate for governor, has a plurality of 5494 over Harrison, the republican candidate; the greenback candidate received about 7000 votes, mostly drawn from the republican ranks, the democratic greenbackers, after all their loud talk, quietly voting the straight democratic ticket. The republicans gained four Congressional districts from the democrats, three or more State Senators, and at least twenty Representatives, giving them the Legislature; and yet they failed to elect as Governor a candidate who ran far ahead of his ticket. This is accounted for by the enormous and disproportionate democratic gains in a few strongly democratic districts—gains so large that they could only have been occasioned by colonization or some of the kindred methods of defeating the real wishes of the people which Tammany Tilden so well understands how to employ; these frauds being necessarily confined to a few points, (as in New York, where Messrs. Tweed, Tilden & Co. overthrew the vote of the State by a few democratic precincts in New York city, at the time they elected Hoffman and gave the State to Seymour and the city and county treasury to Tweed,) would only affect the State ticket, and could not hinder the republican gains on Legislature and Congressmen in other districts. Two years ago the democratic plurality was 17,252; four years ago the democratic majority in October was 1148, and the next month the republicans swept the State for President by 21,098 majority; from this it appears that the democrats have less likelihood of carrying the State for Tilden than they had of carrying it for Greeley, for Hendrick had an actual majority in 1872, while Williams is in a minority of several thousand as against the combined opposition. The democratic victory lies in the fact that they lost but little more than two-thirds of the plurality they had at the previous election, in addition to losing four Congressmen and the Legislature.

Political.

Gov. Chamberlain, of South Carolina, having issued a proclamation ordering the bands of assassins called democratic "rifle clubs" to disband and allow a fair election, the northern democratic press raves thereat, asserting that there are no such organizations as the republicans charge, and therefore it is a gross infringement of democratic rights to force them to disband. The South Carolina papers tell the clubs that if the strong arm of the government really does prevent them from carrying on the business of murder and intimidation as an organization, the members can still act almost as efficiently for Tilden and reform, as individuals.

In the Charleston News and Courier (democratic) of September 19, appears this statement as reproduced from a correspondence to the Cincinnati Commercial: "The outsider is apt to be puzzled by accounts of affairs here. He may not understand the formation of the "rflie clubs," "rifle teams," "artillery companies," among the whites. What are they afraid of? They are not afraid of anything. Why, then, this arming? They intend to carry this election, if it is possible to do so. The programme is to have "rifle clubs" all over the State, and, while avoiding actual bloodshed as much as possible, to so impress the blacks that they, or a number of them, will feel impelled to vote with the whites out of actual fear. The blacks are timid by nature, timid by habit, timid by education. A display of force unnerves them. The whites understand this, and an immense marching about at night, and appearing at any republican meeting to 'divide time' is with a view to impress the blacks with the sense of danger of longer holding out against white rule. Add to the number they can scare, the number they can buy, and they hope to have enough, united with the solid white vote, to gain the day, elect Hampton and secure the legislature."

Is not that (the election of the democratic State ticket) worth fighting for and paying for as well as praying for? * * The colored majority in the county may run as high as 5000 or 6000 votes. Can it be said, shall it be said, that the 7000 white voters in Charleston cannot control 3000 or 4000 colored men?—Charleston News and Courier, (dem.)

The New York Herald figures up the net value of the official salaries in that city as $3,038,400, over and above the political assessments to the amount of $442,600. No wonder that such mercantile democrats as John Kelly and John Morrissey should wage a desperate warfare for such a place.

The Albany Journal makes some queer revelations about the signers to the Tilden call for a soldiers' and sailors' convention at Albany. One of them is just out of the penitentiary, another was dishonorably dismissed from the service, a third spent twenty months in the guard-house, and a fourth suffered imprisonment for two years at the Dry Tortugas.

Cincinnati reports that in the democratic wards the number of votes polled exceeds the population. We suggest an examination of the Indiana returns, where the democratic majorities in four Congressional districts are 7000 votes in excess of the aggregate republican majorities in nine districts. It can hardly be that the districts are gerrymandered, for in 1874 only five of the thirteen went republican and only one majority was much above 2000.

The admirers of coincidences in election figures will be pleased to learn that Banning, in the Second Ohio District, and McMahon, in the Dayton District, are credited with similar majorities,—95 votes. It is also noteworthy that the Columbus Statesman, a democratic paper, came out Wednesday morning with a bulletin claiming that Banning was defeated by fraud; that 200 fraudulent votes were cast against him; but that he would be counted in by 95 majority,—which was a good guess.—Chicago Tribune.

A despatch from Charleston, S. C., says another "terrible negro riot" occurred on Monday, at Cairnhay, nine miles from that city, in which the negroes were the aggressors, they firing upon the unarmed whites, killing two and wounding fourteen, no negroes being hurt. The difficulty occurred at a public joint-canvass meeting of both parties, which it had been agreed both parties would attend without arms. A body of armed whites left Charleston Monday evening, to get the bodies of the slain white men. Such is the story as it first arrives; but we shall be greatly surprised if it does not turn out to be like the Cousbatta, Colfax and Hamburg affairs,—a deliberate massacre of unresisting and terrified colored republicans by white democrats "for the good of the party."

An investigation shows that there were discharged from the doorkeeper's department of the House of Representatives at Washington last winter, 23 Union soldiers; from the clerk's office, 19 Union soldiers; from the post-office, 13 Union soldiers; from the capitol police, 2—making 57 Union soldiers discharged by the democratic House. A number of these soldiers were disabled in the service. There were appointed in their places, as far as can be ascertained, in the doorkeeper's department, 19 Confederates; in the clerk's office 10, in the post-office 14, capitol police 1, and 3 committee clerks—making 47 Confederate soldiers appointed in their places. The names of many of the employes of the House, such as extra messengers, folders and extra committee clerks, cannot be ascertained for the reason that they are paid upon vouchers instead of a regular roll, but a great number of them are ex-Confederates. This is a startling fact, and should be borne in mind, as the election approaches, by every patriot in the land.

During the recent farce in Georgia, yclept an election, thousands of colored voters were kept from the polls upon various pretexts. A correspondent in Atlanta writes that he saw dozens of negroes deprived of the ballot, being told by the managers that they were "too old to vote," and unless a voter had grey hairs he was admonished that he was "too young to vote." With such glaring frauds, it is not surprising that democratic journals in Georgia are attempting to explain away their large majority! While other States are wont to boast of their majorities it remains for unreconstructed Georgia to offer excuses for the wholesale manner in which they intimidated voters.—Washington Republican.

A Basket of Babies.

While Major Howrigan, the ever active and watchful manager in the depot shed, was directing the Eastern arrivals to their trains yesterday morning, his watchful eyes lighted upon a basket. It was a common clothes basket, carried by two men. Howrigan stopped them and inquired: "What's that in your basket? Take it to the baggage car." "It's a basket of babies." "Twins?" "No; two boys and a girl, all that are left of four." "Good Lord deliver us! You can pass on," said the Major, almost dumbfounded at the sight of three healthy looking infants nestling down to sleep in the center of the basket. Then the mother came up—a bright, buxom, rosy-cheeked woman, as pretty as a peach. She blushingly smiled upon the dumbfounded Major as she remarked: "Yes, sir; those are mine; I am their mother. There were four of them, but one is dead." The happy couple had been married five years, and have had nine children during that period; eight of them are alive and healthy. They come from Grantville, Licking county, Ohio. The proud father has sold enough photographs of his triplets to pay his family's expenses out to Kansas.—Kansas City Times.

Sanitary Stimulation.

When vital action is sluggish, a stimulant, provided it be pure and properly medicated, is the most reliable agent for imparting the necessary impetus to the semi-dormant organs, accelerating the languid circulation and averting the maladies to which functional inactivity gives rise. Physicians who have employed Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in their practice pronounce it the most salutary tonic stimulant they have ever used, and especially commend it as a remedy for torpidity of the bowels, liver, stomach and kidneys, and a resuscitant of vital energy. The medicinal value of the Bitters is due to the fact that with their basis of pure old rye are combined, in perfect chemical harmony, the best restorative and life sustaining elements known to medical botany. The Bitters never deteriorate in the most unfavorable climates.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

JOTTINGS.

Mr. Charles E. Campbell, one of the proprietors of Hotel Wentworth, at Newcastle, was recently kicked by a horse and badly though not permanently injured.

On Tuesday the Police Judge talked thusly to John J. Sullivan who had been drunk: "fined $3, costs taxed at $6.90." Mr. Sullivan was so displeased at this address that he left town, and will reside at Brentwood for a while.

Mr. Frank W. Rand has been appointed master of the Lafayette school for the fall and winter term, which begins Monday, Oct. 23.

This evening at 7 o'clock, at Franklin Hall, meeting of citizens to consider question of extending further city aid to Portsmouth & Dover Railroad. See adv.

To-day the great horse sale at Merry-meeting Farm, at Bowdoinham, Me., commences at half-past twelve o'clock. Every horse is to be sold, to the highest bidder, and warranted as represented. A full list of the animals offered has already been published in this paper. An ample collation will be furnished strangers. Parties taking the ten o'clock train from this city this forenoon will be in time to attend the sale.

A good deal of complaint has been made, —and very properly, too,—about the obstruction of the side-walks on pleasant evenings by persons standing on them to talk, or to stare at and (when they dare) insult the passers-by. The police are expected to keep this nuisance down to bearable limits, at least; but the police think they should hardly be expected to keep the walks clear of loafers and young-men-about-town, if the better class of citizens—the very ones who complain the loudest of the sidewalk-loafer nuisance—themselves practise holding meetings on the sidewalks, and indignantly resent any remonstrance by the police against their so doing. We think so too.

Hon. Francis O. J. Smith died at Deering, Me., Saturday night, aged 70 years. He was born in Brentwood, in this State, was educated at Phillips Academy, Exeter, and studied law with the late Hon. Ichabod Bartlett of this city. He moved to Maine when quite young, was admitted to the bar at the age of 19, was chosen President of the Maine Senate when but 27, and was elected to Congress the same year, being twice re-elected. He was connected with Prof. Morse in introducing the telegraph, and made a large fortune out of it. He established the Augusta Age, and at one time owned the Portland Advertiser, and was in other ways connected with the press. He was also a great railroad and canal operator and promoter.

The Newcastle Bridge Company proposes to repair its three closed bridges on funds raised by pledging the property of the company.

The Hayes and Wheeler Guards, with the Fife and Drum Band, go to Dover this evening to take part in a grand republican rally. Members will muster at headquarters at six o'clock, sharp.

News and Notes.

Countess Hadich has been received as a Freemason in a Hungarian lodge under the Grand Orient of Hungary. The countess is a highly educated lady, and having studied and become well versed in Masonic literature, she was regularly proposed and seconded in open lodge, balloted for, and in due course was duly initiated. The Grand Orient of Hungary, however, declare the initiation to be null and void on the ground that a woman is disqualified from being a Freemason; and this curious question now arises whether, as the Countess was actually initiated, she can be refused admission to her lodge. The London Freemason is authority for the statement.

The sandstone slabs containing the supposed fossil tracks of a man and bird, discovered at North Canton, Conn., and which occasioned some excitement in Hartford, are now believed to be bogus. They were to have been examined by scientific gentlemen, Saturday, per agreement; but early in the morning the man having possession suddenly left town with them. He gives the name of Wm. Doolittle, and is believed to have gone to Bridgeport, expecting to sell the slabs to Barnum.

The schooner Maggie Hunter, from Oswego for Toronto, Ont., has undoubtedly foundered. Captain Nixon, the mate, and the cook, together with the crew, consisting of six other men, are supposed to be lost. Another schooner, the Woodcock, sailed at the same time as the Maggie Hunter for Toronto, and has not been heard from and is now so long overdue as to leave but little hope for the safety of the crew.

Oliver Jackson, a negro, has been bound over for trial at Vergennes, Vt., on three charges of burglary, to one of which he pleaded guilty. During a visit to the house of Mrs. Z. G. Warner, Wednesday evening, where he stole about $50, he committed an outrage upon a daughter of Mrs. Warner.

The first of the series of challenge-races between Smuggler and Great Eastern took place at Mystic Park on Monday. Smuggler won the first heat in 2:28, but acted so badly in the second heat that he was distanced, Great Eastern doing the mile in 2:24. Smuggler was leading when he broke. The second race will come off at the same place on Friday.

An incendiary fire in East Haven, Conn., Monday night, destroyed two houses and three large barns, the property of Samuel Forbes. But little of the contents of the houses or barns were saved. Loss $15,000.

Mendota, Ill., had a $60,000 fire on Monday.

Richard Tibbets of Prince Edward Island fell overboard from the Gloucester fishing schooner Charles P. Barrett in Massachusetts bay on Thursday night and was drowned.

Miss Harriet D. Williams, a wealthy and highly educated lady of Boston, committed suicide by drowning, Sunday night, while under the influence of religious monomania. Her age was 55 years.

New Hampshire Items.

The Phœnix Manufacturing Company, of Peterboro, has decided to purchase new machinery, worth $8000 to $10,000, and to start up as soon as it can be placed in position. The Union Mills at West Peterboro will also purchase some new machinery.

The body of Charles Emory, a soldier who died in Washington, D. C., in 1863, and was buried in Jaffrey, where he belonged, was taken up last week for the purpose of rearranging the family lot, and was found to be turned to stone. It was estimated that the weight was from 600 to 700 pounds. When alive his weight was 125 pounds. His features, clothing and the flower wreath around his face were all as perfect as the day he was buried.

The down passenger train on the Concord and Claremont Railroad ran off the track at Melvin's Mills Monday afternoon, wrecking two cars. No one was seriously injured.

At 10 o'clock Monday night, Timothy Funnehan, intoxicated, fell into a cellar window at Dickerman's saloon, Manchester, and cut five bad gashes in his head.

The workmen on the Manchester & Keene Railroad are still in a destitute condition. Sixty of them have received about forty per cent. of their dues, and have gone to their homes. Twenty have gone to the Wilton poor-farm, and some 250 remain in their tents, in idleness.

The New Hampshire Baptist anniversaries commenced in Keene on Tuesday.

Saturday evening some persons entered the office of the Northern Advocate, Claremont, Joseph Weber, editor, and stole his account books and subscription lists. About a year ago some one broke into the same place and carried off parts of his printing press.

Fred Sherburne, of Great Falls, having been arrested for stealing from the freight cars of the Boston & Maine and Eastern railroads at Dover, on Monday confessed his guilt, but tried to make out that he was only a tool for his brother-in-law, one Charles Mildram, of Dover, a young man of previously good character and an employee of the Boston & Maine. Sherburne proved himself a thief and liar, whatever he may have shown concerning Mildram.

—Lady Charlotte Lindsay, who died at a good old age in 1849, used to give an amusing account of her marriage. It took place in the drawing-room of her father's house. The clergyman brought no prayer-book with him, thinking there would be no difficulty in finding one in the mansion of an English nobleman, a member of the Established Church. But not a prayer-book could be found, and the clergyman was forced to perform the marriage by memory. The novelty of the situation so confused him that he forgot the words of the service, and came frequently to a dead stop. Then some one in the company would prompt him, and thus the ceremony was pieced out by fragmentary reminiscences. "Somehow or other," said Lady Charlotte, "I do not think that I was ever rightly married at all."

—The treasurer of Hull, England, retired a few months ago, after fifty-five years' service, during which time he had done so good service and won so golden opinions that on retiring he was allowed a pension equal to the full amount of his salary. Now he has acknowledged himself guilty of default to the extent of $50,000.

—"Funny monkey," said Mrs. Partington, as she saw him patiently sitting, "but he sets as if he had plumbago in the back, and I could wish there wuz more hair on his reprehensible tail. I cannot yet believe, neither, that they're our posterity."

Daily Chronicle.

—Charles Bradlaugh was interrupted in a lecture in an English town the other evening, and said the next man who did so would be put out. A local tradesman dared Bradlaugh to do it, and he came down and did it.

—A circus that travels in Texas has an uncovered canvas enclosure. At Brackett a tree overhanging the ring was occupied by men and boys, who thus saw the show free of cost. A performer's feat included firing a revolver on horseback, and at the first discharge a spectator fell dead from the tree. Thereupon the circus men were mobbed, and escaped only by a practical use of their skill in horsemanship.

MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as DR. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. They persist are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cure by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick I weighed 180 pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been slower since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been a free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve YEARS with Neuralgia in the face and head. I used to not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room, most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mashie, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anyone. I live in Palestine and send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars, send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nervous I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, really stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the cunce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

— USE —

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

Bright Girls at the Centennial.

Last week, in one of the most conspicuous places in Memorial Hall, a hard-fisted, sandy-haired Ohio farmer had paused with his two daughters before the memorial altar to Mrs. Wetherell. The old man took it in as something wonderful. The girls, dark-haired, and crowned above the eyebrows with preceptive faculty, were puzzled. It was fun to watch the genuine appreciation of art in the girls, and to see that they did not know that the charming group of pictures and figures, including the Nativity and the Crucifixion, were not oil paintings, but mosaics. A bystander turned schoolmaster, and explained to them the difference, and the real character of the objet de virtu. In an instant after they got the name, those bright, quick and well-schooled girls knew the whole thing. It was object-teaching for them. They were thoroughly read, and from their reading alone were able to distinguish between Byzantine, Florentine and Roman Mosaics, all of which were represented in the centre pieces or panels of the altar. But the space between the rail and the Mosaic was too broad to get at the construction of the Mosaic, and so they were directed around to the Pio Nono collection in the northwest room, where the works of art are so conveniently lined that any good eye can detect their construction, whether they are Mosaic, Gobelin, or oil. And people get cheated at that. Passing hurriedly through the south entrance, a gentleman who had seen all the choice galleries of Europe said: "There is a Madonna del Siglie. Of all the copies made of that painting, not one is satisfactory to him who has seen the original." Suddenly he halted, this reverend gentleman did, and with a mild asservation, declared the picture a Mosaic. And so it was. An hour afterward he was sold himself on the Wetherell Memorial, mistaking it, as the Ohio girls did, for an oil painting. But what hit me most closely was the keen appreciation with which these Ohio girls took their lesson in object-teaching, and how much they knew about real art without any opportunity of seeing it except through the pages of a book. And the sturdy old farmer, who was only anxious that his daughters should "see everything," and who himself was honestly interested, was another study in the better class of human nature.—Newark, N. J., Advertiser.

—A granger read this item in his paper: "A professor declared that an ordinary squash would lift a doorstep weighing over half a ton one inch in one night." The granger thought he would try the experiment, so he placed a pretty good sized squash on his front doorstep, drew a mark all round the stone, and took a seat just inside the door to await developments. He watched and listened for five hours, but neither the step or the squash moved. He thought perhaps the squash was aware of his presence, and wouldn't get down to business so long as he kept vigil. So he quietly closed the door and retired; but was up at daylight inspecting the step. When he discovered that it had not been moved the thirty-seventh hundredth part of an inch, he got mad. The squash was lying placidly on the step just where he placed it—and the next minute it wasn't. He gave it a vigorous kick and frightfully "squashed" it all to pieces, and, as he was going into the house, trod on a fragment of the fraud, which impelled his legs to shoot out horizontally and himself to sit down on the step with a force almost sufficient to move the step about two inches more than the professor said the squash would do it. So the experiment was not altogether a failure after all. Maybe he used the wrong kind of squash—one that wasn't enjoying good health.

—The water system of Dubuque is quite a novelty. In one of the bluffs a lead mining company met obstruction from water, and to obtain relief the bluff was tunnelled, when it was found that a copious fountain had been struck which ran to waste for several years. But the water was most excellent, the supply exceedingly liberal, and head so elevated that the idea of utilizing it was seized by a company, the property purchased, and a system perfected which gives the cheapest and best water supply known in the country.

—In the London divorce court, lately, a woman prayed for dissolution of her marriage on the ground that she was insane at the time it took place. She was then so prostrated with grief at the loss of her husband as to lose her reason, and a man in a much humbler station of life than herself persuaded her to marry him. She had since been in an asylum, but was now sane. The evidence being perfectly satisfactory, the marriage was dissolved.

—There is published in Berlin the Journal of Cooks and Housemaids, in which housekeepers who lock up their butter and sugar and inflict other indignities upon their servants are held up to public obloquy by name. A large number of the subscribers of the paper have bound themselves not to enter the service of any woman who has been thus advertised three times within the year.

—A prominent New York woman clairvoyant who tells "all secrets" and "reveals the abiding place of absent friends" for $1, invariably in advance, lost her own daughter a few days since, and immediately went weeping and begging to the police department, asking that she might be found.

Daily Chronicle.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1876.

FOR PRESIDENT,

Rutherford B. Hayes,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

William A. Wheeler,

OF NEW YORK.

Hayes' Platform in War.

In 1864, when Hayes was in the army, being nominated for Congress he was requested to come home and stump his district. His reply was, "I have other business just now. Any man who would leave the army at this time to electioneer for Congress ought to be scalped!"

Hayes' Platform in Peace.

"Honest money for all, and free schools for all. There should be no inflation which will depreciate the one, nor sectarian interference which will destroy the other."

A Very "Thin" Plea.

An Alabama correspondent writes to the Boston Globe, denouncing the northern republican press for insisting that the lives and liberties of northern men are not safe in the South, the writer maintaining that northern enterprise and northern capital are gladly welcomed, and that northern men, even though they were in the Union army, are treated as well as southern rebels are in the North. He says:

"Though a southern man myself, and four years in the 'Rebel' army, as you of the North were pleased to term it; yet I have two neighbors from the North, both officers in the Federal army during the late war, whom I consider my best friends in the place, and the most friendly and intimate relations exist between their families and mine."

That is very good, as far as it goes. But unfortunately for the impression the writer wishes the northern people to get from his assertions, he goes on to explain why he thinks so much of his two northern-born neighbors, both of whom "were officers in the Federal army." He says:

"They have settled among us, invested their money here, and become bona fide citizens of Alabama, and are both high-toned gentlemen of refinement and culture and have too much honor and honesty to descend to the low, mean act of fermenting discord between the whites and negroes."

That last quotation makes it plain why the fire-eater who "served four years in the 'rebel' army, as you of the North were pleased to term it," is so fond of his northern-born neighbors. They are both "high-toned gentlemen," and possess "too much honor and honesty to descend to the low, mean act of fermenting discord between the whites and negroes." In other words, they vote the democratic ticket, and are in full accord with the theory that a black man has no right to vote unless he also votes that ticket. Any man who holds the opposite view—who believes that a negro or a white Unionist has a right to vote as he pleases, even though he please to vote against the democratic party—is held by the chivalry to be guilty of "fomenting discord between the whites and negroes," and is visited with social and business ostracism, or murder, according to the apparent necessity of the case. No one pretends—no one ever has pretended—that a northern man who is willing to give up all his political rights is not well enough treated in the South; it is only when he is obstinate enough to vote and speak as his conscience dictates that he becomes a mark for the social ostracism of the "high-toned" ex-slaveholders, or for the knife or bullet of the ex-rebels. The gushing Alabamian would have made out a much stronger case had he given the names of his beloved neighbors, and shown that they were republicans, and yet well treated. His blather about democrats being well treated does not amount to shucks. That the advocacy of republican principles is just what this southern gentleman means when he refers to "fermenting discord between the whites and negroes," is plain enough from the following, which we take from the democratic Southern Mississippi Herald of Sept. 1st:

"The negroes, so far as we know, are not making any attempt at reorganizing the republican party in this county. But we should watch them closely, and any one, no matter who he is, black, white, or copper colored, who attempts to create afresh the race prejudices here between the whites and blacks should be dealt with severely, and banished from the country. Such a thing should never be allowed here again: No, never!"

From the open avowal of the democratic newspaper that any man who works for the republican party is attempting to "create race prejudice" and should be "banished from the country," and the assertion of the Alabama democrat that his northern-born neighbors are too "high-toned" to be guilty of such conduct, it is easy to make out the source of his love for them. They vote the democratic ticket!

The Right Move Made at Last.

On Tuesday, the 17th, at a cabinet meeting at which the Secretaries of War, of the Interior, the Navy and the Treasury, with the Attorney-General and Assistant Secretary of State were present, it was unanimously decided that the condition of affairs in South Carolina is such as to demand the interference of the General Government to protect citizens of the State from outrage for exercising their political rights. In accordance with this decision President Grant issued a proclamation setting forth that it having "been satisfactorily shown to me that insurrection and domestic violence exist in several counties of the State of South Carolina, and that certain combinations of men against law exist in many counties of the said State, known as 'Rifle Clubs,' who ride up and down by day and night in arms, murdering some peaceable citizens and intimidating others, which combinations, though forbidden by the laws of the State, cannot be controlled or suppressed by the ordinary course of justice," and the Constitution providing that in such cases, on application of the executive of the State in which the trouble exists, the President shall employ the National forces to protect the people of such State, and such application having been made,

Now, therefore, I, U. S. Grant, President of the United States, do hereby make proclamation and command all persons engaged in said unlawful and insurrectionary proceedings to disperse and retire peaceably to their respective abodes within three days from this date, and hereafter abandon said combinations, to submit to the laws and constituted authority of said State, and I invoke the aid and co-operation of all good citizens thereof to uphold the laws and preserve the public peace.

In accordance with the President's proclamation, the Secretary of War at once directed Gen. Sherman to order all the available forces of the Atlantic district to report at once to Gen. Ruger, at Columbia, S. C., to be ready for action in case of resistance to the authority of the United States. Some of the democratic leaders of the bands of assassins called "rifle clubs" have been loud in announcing that they would "clean out" the United States troops if the government attempted to interfere with their murders and intimidations of republicans; said one of them, "we have fought them before, and we will do it again." We shall now see what they will do.

We have but one fault to find with the proclamation and movement of troops; they were too long delayed. While talk has for weeks been going on at Washington, the colored republicans and white Union men of South Carolina have been hunted to the swamps, shot down and hung in cold blood, and driven from their homes in terror of their lives, by the Confederate legions as reorganized by the "chivalric" Wade Hampton, Modoc Butler, the Hamburg butcher, and others of their class. But even now, if the administration will convince these fellows that the Nation which the democratic party in vain sought to destroy by the sword has still vitality enough to protect its citizens even in the South, the movement made, although late, will not be altogether too late.

News and Notes.

Fishing boat Minnie Bell, of Gloucester, went to sea on the 7th with two men, to catch herring, and has not since been heard of.

Steamer Providence ran upon a rock and disabled her rudder, while entering Newport (R. I.) harbor on Tuesday, but managed to reach her wharf. She had 1200 passengers on board at the time. She will be in running order in a day or two.

Louisville, Ky., had a $600,000 fire on the 17th. Two wholesale clothing stores and two wholesale liquor stores were burned.

Schooner Attempt, coal laden, went ashore on Cape Tormentine during a gale on the 15th, and all hands, numbering five, were lost.

A woman calling herself Mrs. Cora Cheeseman, who either shot herself or was shot by the man she called her husband, at a New York hotel last week, has been identified as Cora Heywood, well known in Lynn and Boston as a clairvoyant. She has also called herself Cora Campbell, and under this name was known to a Mrs. Blanchard of Boston, who has for some time had a child of Cora's to board. It is thought the wounded woman will get well.

An application made by the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company for an injunction against the Western Union Telegraph Company and Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad, to restrain them from tearing down the former company's wires from along the line of the railroad, has been granted at Davenport, Iowa, on the presentation of the following facts: Several prominent officials of the Atlantic & Pacific Telegraph Company were riding over the railroad in company with the Superintendent of the road, when they discovered parties tearing down the wires; these officials then stopped at Davenport and at once applied for an injunction; the application charges that the lines of the Atlantic and Pacific Company were torn down at the instigation of the Western Union Telegraph Company.

Mrs. Edward Grant of South Boston surprised her husband Sunday morning with three baby girls. Mother and children doing well.

One white and two colored men were killed on the 17th at a coal mine near Richmond, Va., by the explosion of four boilers.

A correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, under date of Oct. 5, wrote that paper an account of a cremating furnace erected at Washington, Penn., by Dr. F. Julius Le Moyne; and a correspondent of the Pittsburgh Leader, under date of Oct. 6, gives an account of the artistic manner in which Thomas Collins, (rather a suspicious name,) one of the builders of the furnace, was turned from a corpse into about six quarts of ashes in forty minutes from the time he was put in to cook. The latter correspondent says 10,000 persons were present to witness the ceremony.

A few days since, as an excursion train of eighteen heavily loaded cars, on the Vermont division of the Portland and Ogdensburg Railroad, had commenced the descent of a heavy grade between St. Johnsbury and the Connecticut River, the engineer suddenly descried three cattle upon the track just in advance of him. To drive or frighten them from the track, or to seasonably stop the train, was impossible. Instantly he decided upon his course. He sent his fireman to disconnect his engine and tender from the train, whistled "down brakes," and with full steam on plunged forward alone, and with the fearful impetus thus gained threw the cattle from the track. He then quietly allowed the train to overtake him again, connected it and continued on, his passengers knowing nothing of the fearful danger they had escaped by his bravery, his quick wit, and his fidelity to duty.

J. A. Bryan, the defaulting treasurer of Jackson County, Ia., by the request of members of both political parties has been released. The defalcation amounted to $61,000, but his property and money advanced by his friends has been sufficient to repay the county. He has served two years in the penitentiary and had but one more to serve when he was released.

The lately deposed Sultan Murad, of Turkey, died some days ago. We meant to have mentioned it before, but forgot it.

The Countess de Montijo, the ex-Empress Eugenie's mother, has brought action against several Paris journals for merely saying that Eugenie was born three years after her father's death.

Tweed's escape from Cuba on the bark Carmen, was not as a passenger, but as a landsman, compelled to serve as deckhand; and barefooted, barelegged and barearmed, forced with squilgee and swab, to wash down the decks. In this disguise he was discovered and taken into custody in Vigo bay. This harsh experience did not seem to have in any way discouraged Tweed or impaired his health.

Advices from all the principal cities of Europe report a gloomy feeling prevailing in the financial and commercial exchanges over the situation in the East, and a prolonged war is considered imminent. It is not believed any satisfactory arrangement for an extended armistice will be reached, but that the negotiations now going on will be futile. The Eastern difficulties appear to be increasing, and in view of the prospect the interference of the great powers cannot, it is thought, be much longer delayed.

New Hampshire Items.

Hon. Mason W. Tappan was in the mail car which was smashed by the accident on the Concord & Claremont railroad, Monday, and was badly injured, having his leg hurt and several teeth knocked out.

Cider is selling at $1 per barrel in Sandwich, and thousands of bushels of apples will be fed out to the cattle and remain on the ground, as the farmers have no casks to put the cider in when made.

Major Jonathan E. Lang, a prominent citizen of Concord, dropped dead in the street on the evening of the 17th. He was recently Register of Deeds in Merrimac County. He was a graduate of Dartmouth college, was sixty-years old, and leaves a wife, two sons and four daughters.

—A Duluth girl married a young man because he lifted his hat so beautifully as he passed her. She got a divorce because he lifted the table so beautifully when dinner didn't suit him.

—This happened at the Centennial. A stout, coarse American woman leaned over the counter to the smiling Chinaman and sharply demanded "What's your name?" He smiled and bowed, but gave no sign of understanding her. "Take off yer hat," was her next abrupt command. "Madam," said a German, who was standing near, "he is not on exhibition."

Emaciation a Remediable Defect.

Leanness not only detracts from personal comeliness, but is an index that the blood is deficient in nutritive properties. To remedy emaciation, enrich and purify the blood, which will then develop healthy flesh. This object is most readily attained through the agency of the great blood fertilizer and depurent, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which enables the stomach to extract from the food taken into it ample nourishment for the system, removes all obstacles to complete digestion and assimilation, and by stimulating the kidneys to vigorous action, incites those organs to strain from the vital fluid in its passage through them impurities which would otherwise impair its flesh creating qualities. Not only do the Bitters promote the development of solid fiber, but they also increase muscular power and elasticity, overcome nervousness, banish mental depression, and protect the system against disease.

The Only Remedy.

Those who suffer from foul breath are open to the charge of carelessness. It is an offence that can be specially abated, as a single bottle of the fragrant SOZODONT will unmistakably accomplish the work. No toilet table should be without it. It will preserve and keep the teeth white, and the breath pure and sweet.

Spaulding's Glue, who would be without it?

Let that cough continue and die of consumption or be cured by Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam. Free sample bottles at all the drug stores.

The new Atlas Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa., for quietness, pure ventilation, light and cool rooms is unexcelled.

TO AVOID THE DANGER OF INFECTION, the linen of persons suffering from skin diseases of a contagious nature should be washed with GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, which is not only a remedy but a disinfectant.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot. dawtr1277

the consumer may be the judge; that the quality will not be suffered to depreciate, the past with the present is my best pledge. THE "BOULEVARD."

Messrs. Editors: In a communication in your paper of the 17th inst., signed "W," the writer starts out by asking a conundrum, —which I cannot answer, for I do not know what the improvements on Richards avenue cost, neither do I see the comparison between the improving of Richards avenue and the obviating of the South Millpond nuisance; but I never did pride myself on conundrums. "W" acknowledges all that is claimed with reference to the South Millpond being a nuisance, and has even gone so far as to say that he would be obliged to leave the city if it was again so bad as it was in the summer of 1875,—and we are very glad he is able to stand such an expense, but there are thousands in the city who can not afford it, although it would undoubtedly be cheaper than to have typhoid fever, as residents in the immediate vicinity had this season. Therefore, the question appears to narrow down to the modus operandi of overcoming the evil. The reason "W" appears to give for his opposition is that certain persons advocate it, he claiming that they "are the same ones who saddled the Dover Railroad debt upon us." This appears to be more of a bid to personal pique than to sound logic. Now if we were to appeal to the prejudice of the masses we would say that "the opposition to nearly every needed improvement in the city came from parties who have no particular sympathy with the masses or business of the city, and who, when they desire a pound of coffee or yard of calico, post haste to Boston to spend their money, no one at home ever deriving a particle of benefit from their residing in the place." But all (or nearly all) agree that something must be done, and the only questions are "What shall it be?" and "Who shall advocate the movement to make it acceptable?" Non quo, sed quomodo, should be the motto; and to determine this question, a committee was appointed by the City Government and their report is now on file in the city rooms, and is the basis of action in the petitioning to the city authorities for the laying out of a highway along the north shore of the pond.

REVILO.

POLICE COURT.

There was but one case before Judge Batchelder on Wednesday morning. James Murphy, a deserter from the House of Correction, was sentenced to thirty days in addition to his former sentence.

In the afternoon George Smith was brought up for drunkenness, and fined $3 and costs, $9.90 in all. George said he wouldn't pay the amount demanded, and that his wife wouldn't pay it. Result, Brentwood.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The October term of the Circuit Court opened in this city at 11 o'clock on the forenoon of the 17th, Chief Justice Doe presiding. Hon. Wm. B. Small, County Solicitor, and Col. J. Horace Kent, Sheriff, were in attendance. Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Grant, of the Universalist church; after which the business of the term was proceeded with in regular order.

The following divorces were granted: Carrie Pike of Newton from Elbridge Pike; Elizabeth H. Hall of East Kingston from Charles B. Hall; Leonard E. Webber of Hampstead from Sarah E. Webber; Andrew Cassidy of Exeter from Lucy Cassidy; James E. S. Pray of Exeter from Nellie A. Pray; Alfred Sanborn of Portsmouth from Mary O. Sanborn; Charles M. Green of Portsmouth from Linda E. Green.

On Wednesday forenoon medical testimony was taken relative to the condition of David L. Magoon, the alleged wife poisoner, the prisoner claiming that he is not able to be tried. The conference was private, and we are unable to give the result.

JOTTINGS.

On Tuesday, the 17th, the Piscataqua Association of Congregational ministers held a session at Rye. The name of B. F. Sanborn, formerly Congregational Minister at Eliot, Me., was dropped from the rolls. He was suspended from the ministry at a meeting of the Association held in Kittery, in October of last year; at the session held in Newcastle in July last a committee of three was appointed to enquire fully into the case and report what seemed best to be done in the premises, and this committee recommended that his name be dropped.

The third company of the Tilden and Hendricks Cadet Battalion was organized in Ward Three on Monday evening. Alexander Robinson was elected captain, John A. Rand first lieutenant, and Charles L. Hoyt second lieutenant. This company is composed principally of the employes of the breweries of Messrs. Jones and Eldredge, and numbers one hundred.—Times.

Morse & Ilsley will sell at auction, at noon to-day, the three-story dwelling No. 23 Vaughan street. See advt.

H. F. Wendell will sell at auction to-day, commencing at 10 o'clock A. M., the furniture in the house on the "Judge Pickering Farm" in Newington, recently occupied by the late Mrs. M. E. P. Emery. Also the live stock, carriages, farm tools, etc. See advertisement.

The Portsmouth Cavalry, Capt. E. G. Peirce, Jr., made their first public appearance in their new and handsome uniform on Wednesday, when they had their regular monthly drill at the Plains. On returning to the city they had a short drill on Market square, showing most commendable proficiency, and attracting a great deal of attention.

Sheriff Kent has removed C. Dwight Hanscom from the position of Deputy Sheriff of Rockingham county at his own request.

The evening train for Newmarket Junction, Manchester and Concord, over the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad, now leaves at five minutes before five o'clock instead of at ten minutes past five, as heretofore. Mails for Concord and the North, and way stations, close at the Post-office at 4:35 P. M., instead of 4:45, as formerly. The Concord mails have closed at 4:45 and the Concord train left the depot at 5:10 for so long a time that it is quite likely many letters and passengers will find themselves belated before the new order of things becomes a matter of general knowledge.

On the return of the Salem Cadets from their fall field day at Portsmouth, to their homes, the corps, by invitation of its commander, Lieutenant-Colonel R. Parker Browne, who has just returned from Europe, sat down to a dinner at the Essex House. Colonel Browne made a few remarks of welcome, expressing his pleasure at again returning to his command. Major Dalton, who has commanded during Col. Browne's absence, relinquished his position. A series of resolutions was adopted thanking the Portsmouth Heavy Artillery for its handsome treatment of the corps.—Boston Globe.

Political.

The Boston Post has elected Tilden, sure pop—just as it elected Horace Greeley after the October elections in 1872. The Post gives 197 electoral votes as sure for Tilden,—twelve more than a majority of the electoral college. Wisconsin, Pennsylvania and New Hampshire it puts in the "doubtful" column.

"Prominent democrats" are making estimates on the presidential election. Tweed is a prominent democrat.

"Dear father, come home," writes a Baltimore girl to a Tilden soldier in Indiana. He said, "Can't come, my darling. Got in jail before I voted."

Old style—Hurrah for old Hickory. New style—Hurrah for old Chickory.—Albany Times.

One of the junior clerks in Governor Tilden's office said to a colleague the other day, "How can I hide the worn places in my coat sleeves?" "Ink 'em," replied the other promptly, "ink 'em, ink 'em." And the reformer, who was passing, stopped and cuffed the boy's ears and ordered him to go to the cashier's desk and get his time. "Impudent rascal," muttered the pure old man, "talking about income right under my nose. Won't have it; won't have it."

We have concluded not to contradict the current rumor that we are getting immensely wealthy by publishing this paper, but we wish it fairly understood that the happy position was only reached by selling to a wholesale junk dealer the vast amount of "original editorial matter" so kindly furnished us weekly for gratuitous publication by Samuel J. Tilden, through his New York bureau of correspondence.—Milford Enterprise.

An examination of the records of the Southern Claims Commission shows that a number of rebel soldiers, who guarded the prison pens at Andersonville, Salisbury, and Libby, have claims pending. In every instance there is of course an abundance of manufactured evidence to show that they were always bitterly hostile to secession and loyal to the Union.

Putnam County, Georgia, has 700 more republican than democratic voters. Three republican votes were cast in that county at the last election. "There was no opposition to the democratic ticket in twenty counties."

One precinct in a democratic ward of Cincinnati gave 234 majority; but a careful examination of the tally sheet shows that 260 persons who voted in that precinct do not live in the city at all. Judge Matthews will contest Banning's election.

The Vicksburg (Miss.) Herald, a democratic paper, says: "We are having too much of Judge Lynch and the pistol in the State of late. The authorities must repress these dark and bloody stains and disgraceful crimes. Let them speak out to silence the echo of shot-guns and the stretching of hemp which receive undue coloring from the hostile political press." It may not be a very noble incentive to the democratic State authorities to put a stop to "disgraceful crimes," that the "hostile political press" gives "undue coloring" to them, but we presume the hunted-down republicans of Mississippi will thank God for anything that will "silence the echo of shot-guns and the stretching of hemp" which have left only "dark and bloody stains" where once were thousands of Union-loving men.

Daily Chronicle.

—The English Home Secretary has commuted the sentence passed by the Horncastle magistrates on an old widow named Elizabeth Richson. She had been sent to jail for three weeks for being found in a garden at midnight, with her apron full of new mown hay. This desperate criminal was seventy-six years of age, and of feeble mind as well as body, and having a rheumatic leg, thought she could cure it by obtaining some hay for a bandage.

—One of the wildcats in Barnum's great show got loose the other day, and tried his claws on the face of the gentle hippopotamus. The beast, not insensible to the attack of his small enemy, opened his huge mouth and took him in. But the keeper saw the movement just in time to catch the cat by the hind legs and save him from a worse fate than Jonah's.

—A lady who took nearly $150 in prizes at an exhibition in Ontario for excellence in nearly every class of the art department, was subjected to an investigation. It appeared that she had been exhibiting purchased articles. Her prizes were accordingly all forfeited, and she was ruled out of future exhibitions.

PROPOSALS FOR MATERIALS TO BE SUPPLIED TO THE NAVY YARDS UNDER THE COGNIZANCE OF THE BUREAU OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR,
Washington, D. C., September 28, 1876.

SEALED PROPOSALS to furnish Timber and other materials for the Navy for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1877, will be received at this Bureau until 12 o'clock M. of Thursday, November 30, 1876, at which time the bids will be opened.

The proposals must be addressed the "Chief of the Bureau of Construction and Repair, Navy Department, Washington," and must be indorsed "Proposals for Timber, &c. for the Navy," that they may be distinguished from ordinary business letters.

To prevent competition and facilitate the opening of the bids, parties bidding for supplies at several yards will enclose their bids in separate envelopes for each yard, indorsed with the name of the yard for which the bid is made.

Printed schedules for such classes as parties deal in and intend to bid for, together with instructions to bidders, giving the forms of proposal, of guarantee, and of certificate of guarantors, with printed forms of offer, will be furnished to such persons as desire to bid, on application to the Commandants of the respective Navy Yards, and those of all the yards on application to the Bureau.

The Commandant of each Navy Yard, and the purchasing Paymaster for each Station, will have a copy of the schedules of the other yards, for examination only, in order that persons who intend to bid may judge whether it is desirable to make applications for any of the classes of those yards.

The proposals must be for the whole of a class, but the Department reserves the right to reduce the whole class, should the interest of the Government require it, before the execution of the contract. All applications for information, or for the examination of samples, must be made to the Commandants of the respective yards.

Bids or offers will be received only from parties who are bona fide dealers in, or manufacturers of, the articles they offer to furnish. The guarantors must be certified by the collector of Internal Revenue for the district in which they reside.

The contract will be awarded to the person who makes the lowest bid and gives the guarantee required by law, the Navy Department, however, reserving the right to reject the lowest bid, or any which it may deem exorbitant.

Under the provisions of section 3722 of the Revised Statutes, the offer of any person who, as principal or surety, has been a defaulter to any previous contract with the Navy Department will not be received.

Sureties in the full amount will be required to sign the contract, and their responsibility must be certified to the satisfaction of the Navy Department.

As additional security twenty per centum will be withheld from the amount of the bills until the contracts shall have been completed, and eighty per centum of the amount of each bill, approved in triplicate by the Commandants of the respective yards, will be paid by the Paymaster of the station designated in the contract, or if none is specified, by the Paymaster of the station nearest the yard where the goods are delivered, within ten days after the warrant for the same shall have been passed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

The classes of this Bureau are numbered and designated as follows:

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past two years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I can eat and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. Inclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, and as I am coming in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk without pain, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardships on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving publicity to it, so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Pains for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines, but with no result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought it was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when Mr. Stoughton, the kindness of Dr. H. M. Stoughton, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have sent the applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Cobbereil, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lungs trying climate of New England!

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

— USE —

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

AH SAM AND SIN NOT.

Judge Sinnot fully explains the income business.—New York World.

Which I wish to remark—
And my language is plain—
That for ways that are dark,
And for tricks that are vain,
The reformers are very peculiar;
Which the same I would rise to explain.

Sin Not was his name,
And I shall not deny
That he failed to observe
What that name might imply,
But Sin Not was only a lawyer,
And Ah Sam he employed him to lie.

'Twas the year sixty-two,
And soft were the skies,
And perhaps it's inferred
That Ah Sam was likewise,
But he played it that time on our uncle
In a way that he thought mighty wise.

Which they had a small game,
And Ah Sam took a hand,
'Twas a swindle—the same
He did not understand—
But he smiled as he swore to his income,
With a smile that was child-like and bland.

But the stocks that were "slid"
By this smiling Chinee,
And the funds that were hid
It was frightful to see,
And among them was that twenty thousand
Which the "Alton" had paid unto he.

But he was not so sly
As he meant for to be,
And he swore once too much
In that "Alton" melee,
And the boys got a hold on the papers
And they went for that swearing Chinee.

In the scene that ensued
He did not take a hand,
But Sin Not was imbued
With the courage to stand
And declare such a thing as a swindle
Was what Sam did not understand.

But his purse, which was long,
Had been used to conduct
The proceeds of the wrong
To the one "confiding;"
And they found that his nest was well feathered,
From the numerous geese he had plucked.

Which is why I remark,
And I do not complain,
That for ways that are dark,
And for tricks that are vain,
Ah Sam is the "chief of his equals,"
Which the same I shall ever maintain.

—All the women in Paris are in favor of placing the Prince Imperial on the throne of his fathers, as he is a sweet young man, only nineteen years old. The other pretenders are all ancient scrubs.

—Jefferson Davis, Theodore Tilton, and John S. Phelps, of Missouri, are going to sign a tripartite agreement fully exonerating each other, but pledging themselves never to travel by night any more.

—A correspondent divides brides into two classes—the serious and the smiling. The first enters with a queenly step, and seems to say: "Don't look at me. Don't you see I'm married, and that those days are over?" The other comes up smiling, as much as to say: "I've landed him. Isn't it good fun?"

—The grand jury at Montreal has indicted M. Enlcide Roy for mentioning in the National that M. Dansereau and his wife, were at one of Aimee's performances. A Toronto man has sued the local paper for stating that his friends had presented him with a meerschaum pipe, when they hadn't.

—An elderly darkey was inquiring of a policeman if he knew anything of his son Pete. The policeman replied that there was a young darkey in the lock-up, for breaking up a prayer-meeting with an axe handle. "Dat's him," exclaimed the overjoyed parent; "he told me he was gwine to 'muse hisself."

—An audible smile was manifest throughout the large audience in one of our churches last Sabbath evening, when a sleepy individual who had been taking a nap yelled out: "What's all this noise about," just as a lady closed a touching appeal to sinners. We are afraid the good impression her remarks seemed to have made was destroyed by this sleepy fellow.—Gt. Falls Journal.

—A Baptist paper in Ohio was sent for nine years to a subscriber who never paid a cent for it. The other day the newspaper was returned to the patient and long-suffering publisher with the affecting pencil note on its margin: "Gone to a better world." The editor is a very pious man, but it is reported that his faith is terribly shaken in regard to the accuracy of the information.

—On Saturday a Parisian painter, who had all the week been studying an old model bearded like Neptune, says: "Well, good-night. See you to-morrow." If it will be equally convenient, let us say Monday. My wife and myself make a custom of taking the little ones on Sunday to see their grandfather." "Ah! What is their grandfather?" "He is a skeleton in the museum of the Jardin des Plantes."

—Oh, the artless prattle of an innocent childhood! How the sweet music of their hearts and voices calms the wild yearning of the sorrow-crowned years of maturity. At a happy home the other evening, where the family were gathered around the tea-table entertaining unexpected guests, the fond mother said to the youngest darling, "Weedie, darling, be careful; you mustn't spill the berries on the table-cloth." "Tain't a table-cloth," promptly responded darling, "it's a sheet." And late at night, when the company had gone away, and that sweet child was standing with his head nearly where his feet ought to be, catching the fleeting slipper that fluttered in the air in eccentric gyrations, one could see how early in stormy years of this brief life one may begin to suffer for the truth.

Daily Chronicle.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 20. 1876.

FOR PRESIDENT,

Rutherford B. Hayes,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

William A. Wheeler,

OF NEW YORK.

Hayes' Platform in War.

In 1864, when Hayes was in the army, being nominated for Congress he was requested to come home and stump his district. His reply was, "I have other business just now. Any man who would leave the army at this time to electioneer for Congress ought to be scalped!"

Hayes' Platform in Peace.

"Honest money for all, and free schools for all. There should be no inflation which will depreciate the one, nor sectarian interference which will destroy the other."

The Rebel Debt vs. Rebel Claims.

It cannot be possible that any intelligent man, be he democrat or republican, having the evidence before him, as furnished by the preparatory efforts made in the House of Representatives at the last session, can doubt for one moment that, in the event of the election of Tilden and the continuance of democratic ascendency in the popular branch of Congress, provision will be made for the payment of rebel claims for damages sustained during the war. These claims will be presented in such shape as to evade the application of the inhibitory clause of the Constitution. That such evasion may be made plausible, it is only necessary to refer to the wording of the Constitution on this subject. It is as follows:

"Neither the United States, nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal and void."

Now, of the 1,287 Southern war claims pending in the House of Representatives, not one of them is in contravention of the letter of this provision. They are not represented to be for supplies furnished "in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States," but are for individual damages sustained by the people of the South in the prosecution of the war, in so far as supplies for the Federal Army were taken from them. The law permits the payment of a certain class of claims, always provided the claimant can establish his loyalty to the United States Government. This embraces supplies or material taken for the use of the army of the Union. It is the intention to strike out this provision and put the rebel on the same footing with the loyal citizen.

But it is not to be disguised that the South will demand far more than compensation for supplies and material taken by our army during the war, as a reward of fealty to the democratic party, in elevating it once more to power. The Southern political leaders hold that all our losses of whatever kind, the money expended, the debts contracted now represented by Confederate notes and Confederate bonds, the private losses of any description whatever, all were the consequences of a war of invasion by the North to subjugate them, and that equity demands the payment of all of them from the National Treasury. Let this be recognized by an administration elected by a solid South, and the National debt would be more than doubled. This and human liberty are involved in the issue now presented. If the people will take a serious views of this question, they will promptly settle it on the 7th of November.

"Rev." J. W. Dungee's Sentiments.

The democratic papers of the North have gushed fearfully over a letter written by "a leading colored clergyman of Richmond, Va., Rev. J. W. Dungee," denouncing the republican party and announcing his intention to stump among the colored voters in the interests of Tilden and reform. He is now canvassing Virginia for the democratic party, and in a late speech at Lynchburg gave utterance to the following sentiment. Speaking of freedom, he said:

"Why, colored men, Lincoln was a pettifogging demagogue, and was continually bowing the knee to slavery, and had he not been driven to it, would never have issued the proclamation."

Referring to the Irish race, Dungee used the following complimentary language, which must be very gratifying to the northern wing of the party that employs this refined and dignified orator:

"You colored people have been told that there were many instances wherein the Irish had been your good friends, (quoting from the speeches of O'Connell in the British Parliament, and saying many things to prove his position.) I tell you that the Irish race are a brutal and inferior set of people, and the bitterest enemies you and I, as colored people, have on the face of the earth. It was these damnable Irish that hung colored men to lamp-posts in New York in 1863, and I warn you colored people to avoid an Irishman as you would a snake."

The democratic papers published in Lynchburg say that Dungee's speech was one of the best ever delivered in that city. Further comment is unnecessary.

Political.

Gov. Hendricks, at a mass meeting at Mount Vernon, Ill., on the 18th, said "not so many Southern claims had been presented in the democratic Congress as in the last two republican Congresses." So the papers report; but if Mr. Hendricks said that he told a deliberate lie. The Southern claims presented in the democratic Congress, and referred to committees (until after the Presidential election), amount to $400,000 more than the National debt; and the bill introduced by a democrat expressly to clear the way for the paying of all the claims introduced and all others that can possibly be raked up, provides that the testimony of one single person shall be accepted as conclusive proof of the validity of any claim, and that the question of the loyalty or disloyalty of the claimant shall not be considered at all.

If the New Hampshire republicans expect to carry that State without working for a victory they will wake up and find they have been mistaken, three weeks from to-morrow. In that State the Tildenites are so well disciplined that "a still hunt" of an active character is certain.—Traveller, 17th.

There was a meeting of the democratic State committee at Concord on the evening of the 18th. Speeches were made by Col. John H. George, Hon. Daniel Marcy, E. C. Bailey, John G. Sinclair, Henry O. Kent and others. The speakers urged a vigorous campaign in New Hampshire, and claimed that the democratic prospect for carrying the State is flattering.

We accept the facts of the 14th and 15th amendments as an inevitable sequence of war, but not by any means as a legal finality. We do not believe any of the late amendments to be valid.—Manchester Union, (dem)

The republican Congressional Committee has advices which give strong reason to hope that Hayes and Wheeler can carry North Carolina. It appears that the joint debate between Judge Settle and Vance has been of very great service to the republicans, and has revived the Union feeling among the old whigs of that State, which might not have been arrayed on the side of the republican party except for Vance's atrocious disunion sentiments and record. It appears also that the democrats do not dare to enter upon a course of intimidation toward the negroes in North Carolina, as they have been advised officially by the republican Union men that any resort to violence would be resisted by force. The North Carolina democrats know that the white Unionists of the State are numerous and resolute enough to make good their word.

The San Francisco Post of Sept. 25 says: "H. C. Bennett, the defaulting pension agent, whose disappearance three years ago, leaving behind him the evidence of a defalcation amounting to about twenty-five thousand dollars, created quite a sensation, was arrested last week at Black Hawk, Col., where he was editing a campaign newspaper devoted to Tilden and Reform."

Ex-Attorney General Williams, who has returned to Washington from Oregon, says there is no possible doubt that the electoral vote of that State will be cast for Hayes and Wheeler. He says that the democrats have never been able to secure a majority when the republicans were united. A republican bolt has always been necessary to secure a democratic victory. The present democratic Congressman was elected by a majority of only 267 votes over his republican opponent. This year there is no republican bolt. The dissensions are all healed. The bolters and liberals are all within the ranks, and Oregon is as sure for the republicans as Maine is.

Twelve companies of troops have been ordered to South Carolina, to be in readiness to protect the lives and liberties of peaceably disposed citizens from the democratic "rifle-clubs," if the latter's work of wholesale murder and intimidation is not at once given up.

In Indiana the democratic candidate for governor has 5119 plurality over Harrison, but a minority of 7107 on the total vote. The legislature stands: House—republicans 53, democrats 45, independents 2; republican majority 6. Senate—republicans 23, democrats 25, independents 2; republican minority 4. Republican majority on joint ballot, 2,—counting the independents as democrats, though they are more likely to vote with the republicans on most measures. At the last election the democrats had an actual majority of 1,119 on the secretary vote, and a plurality of 17,252; they also had a majority in the legislature, on joint ballot, of 36, the republicans being in a minority of 47. Rah for the great democratic victory in Indiana!

John Morrissey has left the Anti-Tammanyites, they not being sufficiently devoted to Tilden and reform to suit the elevated notions of Mr. Tilden's right-hand man, the ex-prize fighter and gambler.

Abram S. Hewitt, chairman of the democratic National Committee, has been renominated for Congress by that main-stay of purity in politics, and only hope of Tilden and reform, Tammany Hall.

The democratic and "independent" papers assert that the use of the National power to protect citizens of the Nation in the exercise of their National rights will cost the republican party dearly. Then what are they howling against it so for?

The great "negro riot" at Cainboy, S. C., where the negroes "attacked the whites and killed two of them, with provocation," turns out to have been started by the democrats themselves, who attempted to break up a republican meeting, according to the regular Wade Hampton programme, but were successfully resisted by the colored men. The Associated Press agent at Charleston is also editor of the democratic News and Courier, a rabid advocate of the "Mississippi plan" in politics; and all the reports he sends North are doctored "for the good of the party."

Foster, of the Dover Democrat charges at the head of a serried column of adjectives upon the republican party and the National administration, because the President and Cabinet have decided that the wholesale butchery of republicans in South Carolina by Wade Hampton's followers must stop, even if the State should thereby fall to be carried for Tilden and reform. If we had before entertained any doubts as to the propriety of President Grant's proclamation we should now be satisfied that it is all right.

The Los Angeles (Cal.) Star says that it is authorized to accommodate parties who wish to bet on Tilden and Hendricks carrying California, to the extent of $20,000, in sums to suit.

New Hampshire Items.

An attempt was made on the 18th to throw an express train on the Concord Railroad from the track, near Martin's Ferry, by putting a stout plank on the track. The train ran safely over the obstruction.

A man named Edward Reynold, who though deaf and dumb has managed to serve a six-years term in Sing Sing prison, made a nuisance of himself on Wednesday in Walpole, insulting and assaulting women, striking a man over the head with a club, and otherwise acting very badly. The scoundrel was lodged in jail, and in the evening attempted to burn the building. He did not succeed, but came near being burned to death himself.

—A few months ago one of the masters of a country grammar school died. The school building was closed on the day of the funeral. Johnny Smith passed the time in playing by a pond near his house. A few days since his mother sent him to school as usual, but Johnny preferred playing by the pond, where he met his father, who inquired why he was not at school. Johnny said there was no school, and, when pressed for a reason, replied triumphantly, "That man is dead again!"

—The Baltimore Gazette says Gen. McClellan will probably be Mr. Tilden's secretary of war. The selection, we presume, would be made on Artemus Ward's principle that the less a man knows about a thing the better able he is to write upon the subject. But why Gov. Tilden, soon to become a private citizen, should want a secretary of war, is a mystery we shall not attempt to solve.—Norristown Herald.

—Now take the hen's nest out of your sleigh and get ready for snow.

Emaciation a Remediable Defect.

Leanness not only detracts from personal comeliness, but is an index that the blood is deficient in nutritive properties. To remedy emaciation, enrich and purify the blood, which will then develop healthy flesh. This object is most readily attained through the agency of the great blood fertilizer and depurent, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which combines the stomach to extract from the food taken into it ample nourishment for the system, removes all obstacles to complete digestion and assimilation, and by stimulating the kidneys to vigorous action, incites those organs to strain from the vital fluid in its passage through them impurities which would inevitably impair its flesh creating qualities. Not only do the Bitters promote the development of solid fiber, but they also increase muscular power and elasticity, overcome nervousness, banish mental depression, and protect the system against disease.

The Only Remedy.

Those who suffer from foul breath are open to the charge of carelessness. It is an offence that can be speedily abated, as a single bottle of the fragrant SOZODONT will probably accomplish the work. No toilet table should be without it. It will preserve and keep the teeth white, and the breath pure and sweet.

Spaulding's Glue, who would be without it?

Let that cough continue and die of consumption or be cured by Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam. Free sample bottles at all the drug stores.

The new Atlas Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa., for quietness, pure ventilation, light and cool rooms is unexcelled.

QUARTERLY MEETING.

The Rockingham Quarterly Meeting held the first day of its session with the Pearl street church in this city, Wednesday, the 18th. Rev. L. L. Harmon was chosen Moderator; Rev. J. Fullocton of Raymond is Standing Clerk. Quite a portion of the ministers of the organization were present; also Rev. W. H. Waldron, from western New York. Reports from the churches were read in the forenoon, showing a degree of prosperity. The church at Kittery Point reported that the pastor, Rev. F. W. Towne, is about to close his labors there.

In the afternoon Rev. G. J. Abbott of Hampton gave a discourse; subject, "Patience and Hope in Christian Labor." In the evening, preaching by Rev. J. Malvern, of Newmarket.

Thursday forenoon, sermon by Rev. W. H. Waldron; in the afternoon, by Rev. G. C. Waterman, of Dover. J. F.

SUPREME COURT.

On Thursday morning David L. Magoon, the Raymond wife murderer, retracted his plea of not guilty, and pleaded guilty of murder in the second degree. He was sentenced to thirty years in State Prison,—virtually a life sentence, for he will never see the end of it.

A divorce case, heard privately, occupied the Court the rest of the day.

JOTTINGS.

We return our thanks to our old friend Anthony F. Nowell for copies of GAZETTE to complete files.

House No. 23 Vaughan street was sold at auction on Thursday by Messrs. Morse & Ilsley, for $1750, to Mr. Thomas J. Spinney.

A new trial having been granted the Eastern Railroad in the case of Broad and wife, of Portland, against that road, for expelling them from the Eastern Railroad train, on the ground that the tickets offered for their fare were issued for the opposite direction, has now resulted in a verdict for plaintiffs,—Gustavus B. Broad, $16.79: Emily Broad, $5.59.

We are pleased to announce that George W. Guppy, Esq., of the Times, has so far recovered from the effects of the serious accident which confined him to his house for some two weeks, as to be able to attend to his editorial duties, though it will be a long time yet before he grows together to be as good as he was before he got broken.

The Hayes and Wheeler Guards, of this city, with the Fife and Drum Band, went to Dover on Wednesday evening to take part in the second republican rally there under the direction of the Hayes and Wheeler Continental Guards. A rousing meeting in City Hall was addressed by Hon. Henry W. Blair, New Hampshire's only republican Representative in the National House, and Hon. Samuel M. Wheeler of Dover. Mr. Blair's address was very able and convincing, and Mr. Wheeler as usual succeeded in interesting his audience. After the speaking, a torchlight procession paraded the streets in the following order: Escort of Cavalry; Dover Cornet Band; Hayes and Wheeler Continental Guards; Hayes and Wheeler Cadets; American Brass Band; Hayes and Wheeler Guards of this city; citizens with torches. The illuminations have never been surpassed in Dover, and flags and fireworks were displayed on the route.

A gentleman called our attention on Thursday to a trace of corn raised on the farm of C. E. Caswell of Dover, a cluster of ears perfect in every kernel and filled out flush to the end of the cob. Some of the ears were thirteen and a half inches in length. Ten acres of this corn yielded on an average eighty bushels to the acre, and with only twenty bushels of unsound ears in the whole lot, too. Mr. Caswell has a pair of two-year-old steers that girth six feet and nine inches, and whose weight is upwards of three thousand pounds! We should judge that they must have been fed on the corn above alluded to; and either or both are hard to beat.

The crew of the Life Saving Station at Rye Beach, in common with the other crews of New England stations, are ordered by the Secretary of the Treasury to repair to their positions on the 1st of November.

THE CITIZENS' MEETING.

The meeting called by Mayor Broughton for Wednesday evening at Franklin Hall, in accordance with the petition of Mr. Jos. H. Foster and one hundred and twenty-five other opponents of any further city expenditure in behalf of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad, and of a resulting vote of the Board of Aldermen, was largely attended. The subject of the railroad's debts, and the propriety of lending further aid to the road, were earnestly and spicily discussed, the meeting being divided in opinion like the first one; and its being impossible to come to any conclusion the meeting adjourned, to meet again at the call of the committee appointed at the previous meeting to examine into the affairs of the road.

Marcellus Bufford was chosen chairman, and Jos. H. Foster secretary. In answer to an enquiry, John R. Reding stated that the examining committee had not yet commenced their duties. A motion to adjourn was then made, but was not put to the meeting. Mark H. Wentworth then offered the following preamble and resolutions:

Whereas, The property of the Eastern Railroad Company of Massachusetts, a party to the lease of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad, has gone out of the hands of its stockholders and there is grave cause to apprehend that the lessees of the last named road will not observe the obligations of the lease, therefore—

Resolved, That in the judgment of this meeting, it is the duty of the councils of this city to ascertain if the present management of the Eastern Railroad Company of Massachusetts will indorse the lease of the Portsmouth & Dover road, at least for and during the time it shall remain under its control.

Resolved, That in the opinion of this meeting, in case of default on the part of the lessees of the Portsmouth & Dover road, there is nothing tangible against which the obligations of the lease could be enforced; and that it would be inexpedient and unwise for the city to make further advances on account of that road, unless sufficient guarantees from the present managers of the Eastern Railroad can be had that they will recognize and carry out the obligations of the lease.

James W. Emery, W. H. Y. Hackett, Albert R. Hatch and Charles W. Gardner spoke in favor of aiding the road; Gideon H. Rundlett, J. G. Moses and Mark H. Wentworth against it. Albert R. Hatch offered as a substitute for Mr. Wentworth's resolutions, one declaring "It is expedient to subscribe the sum asked for," pending the consideration of which a motion to adjourn was carried.

EASTERN RAILROAD.

The locomotive engineers on the Eastern Railroad have been notified that by orders of the President of the road the wages of all the "branch" engineers will be reduced fifty cents per day on and after Monday next. The Eastern Railroad, with its branches, gives employment to about eighty-five engineers, and the wages paid to the "regulars" is $3.50 per day, and to the engineers engaged in "shifting," $3. As the road has about a dozen branches over which most of the engineers run, the proposed reduction will be quite general and will undoubtedly result in trouble before the matter is settled. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers is without a doubt the strongest labor organization in the United States, and as it has within a few months made very reasonable concessions to the above mentioned road, as regards wages, the organization will probably resist the proposed "cut down." The members of Division 61 held a meeting at their headquarters on Hanover street, last evening, to consider this matter, but, it being a private meeting, their action has not been made public. Some of the employes of the road think that as the locomotive engineers are so well organized, it is the intention of the management of the road to capture that body of men and then make a general reduction of wages in all the departments of the road.—Boston Globe, 19th.

News and Notes.

While the University crew of Middletown (Conn.) College were practising in their shell on the river, on the evening of the 18th, they ran the shell on a rock and stove her, and Cyrus P. Marsh of West Newton, Penn., the captain of the crew, was drowned.

Mrs. Rosa Gleason and her eighteen-years-old daughter were killed while walking on a railroad near Joliet, Ill., on the 18th.

Mrs. Irene House, who shot her husband, a noted divorce lawyer who procured her a divorce from her first husband and then married her himself, has been acquitted by a Trenton, N. J., jury. She is very handsome,—though that probably had nothing to do with her acquittal,—and her father is immensely rich. It was a queer case, and the parties concerned seem to be a mighty queer lot, all through; but then they are all rich.

Schooner George Kilborn, of Bangor, bound for Boston, lumber laden, was wrecked off Cape Elizabeth, her crew being taken from the water-logged wreck on the 17th. On Sunday, the 15th, at 8 o'clock P. M., the Kilborn encountered heavy weather, with a strong north-northwest wind, off Cape Elizabeth Lights. The vessel leaked badly, and at 9 o'clock all hands were at the pumps with five feet of water in the hold. The deck-load of lumber was thrown overboard, but despite all efforts, at 3 A. M., Monday, the vessel was full, and the sea breaking over her in a clear breach. At 10 o'clock the cabin washed off deck, and all provisions and water were lost. From that hour, till taken off what remained of the vessel, twenty-eight hours, the crew were without food or water. They left the vessel when she was rolling heavily and rapidly breaking up. All lost everything they had except the clothing they wore. The men suffered acutely from cold, being obliged to stand knee deep in water which covered the deck. Schooner Howard Steele rescued the crew.

The Spanish government is daily becoming more and more arbitrary, the ultramontane party evidently ruling the king as they formerly did Isabella. The liberal organ, La Tribuna, has been suspended for six months for publishing an article written by Senor Castelar.

The yellow fever has so far abated at Savannah that no further assistance is needed from outside parties.

—John Ryan, the man sentenced to death for wife murder at Toronto on the 12th inst., is a merchant of Peterborough, forty-five years old and worth $500,000.

—The Dublin Nation concludes an editorial note on the Hell Gate explosion with the remark: "Henceforth the traveller from Europe will be able to enjoy an unbroken view of a bay which is not less picturesque than that of Naples." Dublin people evidently think it was Staton Island which was blown up.

—A tall man having rallied a friend on the shortness of his legs, the friend replied, "My legs reach the ground, what more can yours do?"

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions Trade Marks or Designs

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one Dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity for a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON,

Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

Daily Chronicle.

—"No girl gets along well without a mother," says a moral exchange. It is certainly impossible for her to get a start in the world without one.

—Fast day is likely to be abolished in Scotland on account of the hard drinking which characterizes it. This day is now observed chiefly for purposes of revelry.

—In tearing down an ancient house in Philadelphia, the other day, the workmen came across a score or more of old continental hats, packed under a floor, and in some of them bricks were found. This confirms previous painful rumors as to the convivial habits of our forefathers.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 29, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effects. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and fifty-two, and I feel as active in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and am gaining in strength every day, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no purpose. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been an hour's time out of the house complained for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been truly ailing and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mabie, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure everybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

For Children Teething, greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is Sure to Regulate the Bowels. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and Relief and Health to Your Infants. We have put put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered. The Wisconsin War Eagle.

The Philadelphia correspondent of the St. John (N. B.) Globe writes as follows of "Old Abe," the famous Wisconsin eagle:

Some one, I believe has described the American eagle in a state of nature as a mean looking animal that stands on his hind legs. This being a description of him in a state of nature, thought I, as I went for the first time to pay him every respect,—what must he be in a state of civilization? I was prepared to see an animal too mean to stand even on his hind legs, in fact I should not have been surprised to have found him standing on his head, that being, I believe, the highest accomplishment of civilized bears and other animals. In all this, however, I was agreeably disappointed, and was pleased to learn that he never so far forgot his native dignity, or the dignity of his nature, as to stand on his head or in any other way imitate human beings, whom he evidently considers very greatly his inferiors. "Old Abe" is a genuine American eagle, a fair average specimen of the so-called bald-headed eagle, the identical species selected nearly a century ago as the national emblem. He weighs between ten and eleven pounds, and his wings measure over six feet from tip to tip. He was originally purchased from an Indian in Wisconsin for a bushel of corn, and on the forming of a company of volunteers at Eau Claire in that State, he was purchased for two dollars and a half, and presented to them as a standard, by one of the citizens.

Companies were then (in 1861) no sooner formed than they were pressed forward to the battle field. At La Crosse, where the Eau Claire volunteers joined their regiment (the 8th Wisconsin), the sight of the live eagle standard created the wildest enthusiasm, and the men who hesitated in paying two dollars for him a few days before were now offered two hundred, but by this time he was not for sale. Chicago was electrified by the novel sight, and at St. Louis five hundred dollars was offered for the eagle; but money could not buy him and away he went with his regiment to the front. Through three long years of war he was an omen of victory to his friends and of vengeance to his foes. It is said that he seemed to take a peculiar interest in the excitement of the battle-field, and his piercing shriek would frequently be heard above the din of the battle, and it had a most marked effect on the morale of the forces of either side. On several occasions he broke his strap or it was cut by bullets in the thickest of the fray and he would be seen through clouds of smoke circling overhead, while his screams carried terror to the hearts of foes and nerved with new strength his failing comrades.

On more than one occasion "old Abe" was grazed by a flying bullet. He bears to this day the scar where a minie ball cut away the feathers and a portion of the flesh from his breast, and the southerners made many determined efforts to capture him. Gen. Price, of the Confederate army, who frequently urged his men to capture "that screeching Yankee bird" alive or dead, was heard to say on one occasion that he would rather take that eagle than a whole brigade, or a dozen battle flags. Notwithstanding all this he completed his term of service, mustered out with his regiment at the end of three years, was presented by them to the State of Wisconsin, and lives to-day the hero of twenty battles, and may be seen any day near the centre of Agricultural Hall, proudly surveying a little crowd of humble, almost adoring, admirers. Since the war he has indirectly contributed thousands of dollars toward the support of soldiers' orphan asylums, etc., by means of the sale of his portraits, and he would no doubt be a paying investment at the enormous price of $25,000, which the great showman, P. T. Barnum, is said to have offered for him.

He was Mistaken.

This morning, says the Cincinnati Times, a gentleman entered a shop on Eleventh street, and asked the young clerk: "What is the price of knit undershirts with breast pockets?" He added: "I travel a great deal, and carry large amounts of money, and I think the idea of pockets an excellent one, and I am very much surprised that some person has not thought of it before." "Really, sir," replied the clerk, "I think myself it would be a good plan, but I am sorry to say that we are not supplied with the article, and I did not know there were any made." "You did not?" said the customer. "Well, that's singular. They are exhibited in your own window, and caught my eye as I was passing." "You must be mistaken," said the astonished clerk. "I know every article in the store." "But I am not," persisted the gentlemen. "Step around and see for yourself." The wondering shop-keeper did as requested. He stepped briskly to the front of the window, looked in, then looked at the gentleman, then coughed, and acted as though he had just felt a sudden pain in the stomach, and then crammed a handkerchief into his mouth and stepped behind the counter. "Well," exclaimed the customer triumphantly, "ain't they there?" "He-yes," said the clerk, appearing as though he had a fish bone in his throat. "They are there, sure enough. But, sir, those undershirts are not for men, and those pockets are"—and at this point he dived under the counter and disappeared, while a young lady clerk standing near smothered a convulsive giggle in a cambric handkerchief, and started off on important business in the rear of the store.

Daily Chronicle.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1876.

FOR PRESIDENT,

Rutherford B. Hayes,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

William A. Wheeler,

OF NEW YORK.

Hayes' Platform in War.

In 1864, when Hayes was in the army, being nominated for Congress he was requested to come home and stump his district. His reply was, "I have other business just now. Any man who would leave the army at this time to electioneer for Congress ought to be scalped!"

Hayes' Platform in Peace.

"Honest money for all, and free schools for all. There should be no inflation which will depreciate the one, nor sectarian interference which will destroy the other."

A Terrestrial Hell.

"The infernal XVth amendment has made South Carolina a terrestrial hell."—Augusta (Ga.) Constitutionalist, (dem.)

This is article XV. of the Constitution:

SECTION 1. The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States, or by any State, on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

SEC. 2. The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

A Retrospect.

The democratic papers and stump speakers have prated long and earnestly of the need of reform in the civil service, and sturdily maintained that the only way to secure that reform—to stop the bestowal of offices on partisan workers for party reasons—is to restore to power that immaculate party whose first National success was the election of Andrew Jackson to the Presidency. In "Barnes' Centenary History, or One Hundred Years of American Independence," we find the following account of the "civil service reform" instituted by the first democratic President, which was faithfully followed by every one of his democratic successors, down to and including James Buchanan. Speaking of Jackson's administration, the author says:

"The change in the cabinet was no more complete than that which followed in the public offices of the government. Formerly displacements had been confined to the most prominent positions, but now they reached the lowest. Under Washington's administration, there has been nine officers removed, of whom one was a defaulter; under John Adams', ten, one being a defaulter; under Jefferson's, thirty-nine; under Madison's, five, three being defaulters; under Monroe's, nine, six for cause; and under John Quincy Adams', two, both for cause; the whole number of removals by the six Presidents being seventy-four. During the recess, before the meeting of the Twenty-first Congress, Jackson removed one hundred and sixty-seven political opponents from office, appointing his friends to the positions. Within less than a year, four hundred and ninety-one postmasters alone were displaced."

Of the terrible suffering during Van Buren's administration, which followed Jackson's, the author speaks as follows:

"Financial ruin was the legacy left by the preceding administration. Speculation had begotten extravagance. Foreign goods had been imported heavily. These had to be paid for in gold and silver, which were sent abroad in large quantities. Just before the close of his terms, Jackson issued the famous 'specie circular,' requiring payments for the public lands to be made in hard money. This swept the gold and silver into the Treasury. Then came the inevitable crash and the panic of 1837, with the financial ruin of hundreds and thousands of business men. During the first three weeks in April, two hundred and fifty houses in New York stopped payment. In two days, the failures in New Orleans reached twenty-seven million dollars. Property of all kinds declined in value. Eight of the States in part or wholly failed. Even the United States government could not pay its debts. Consternation seized upon all classes. Confidence was destroyed, and trade stood still."

In proportion to the wealth and importance of the country at the two periods, the great financial crash of 1837, under democratic rule, was much more disastrous than that of 1873; and it was repeated, though not quite so extensively, but again under democratic rule, in 1847; and in 1857, still under a democratic administration of the National government and with a large majority of the several States under democratic control, came the great crash that ruined thousands of business men, caused all the banks in the country to suspend specie payments, shut up the workshops and manufactories, and threw one-third of the working men of the country out of employment, for more than a year. Yet the democratic demagogues of to-day cry out, "If you don't want hard times, all you have to do is to vote the democratic ticket!"

How the payment to Southern rebels (as rent for the battle-fields and camping-grounds of the Union armies during the war, and damages to the roads they marched over) of a sum exceeding by $400,000 the entire National debt,—which undoubtedly will be done in case of a complete National victory by the democrats,—is to benefit the workingmen of the North and "make times easier," is something we are not political economist enough to understand. Those who can understand it, and can see that the best way to hurry up the revival of the country's now rapidly-reviving trade will be to double the National debt in order to recompense the men who caused the war for their "sacrifices" in behalf of secession, should vote for Tilden and Hendricks; those who think the National debt already large enough should vote against the democratic candidates and the payment of rebel claims.

A Blunder of "The Literary Bureau."

All doubt of Tilden's opposition to the war for the suppression of the Rebellion—if any remain after the abundant proof already given—is removed by the evidence afforded by the "Literary Bureau" engaged in furnishing matter in his support for the democratic press in all parts of the country, but varied to suit the latitude. It seems that one of the bulletins from this bureau, no doubt intended for some Southern newspaper, was by mistake addressed to the Waukesha Democrat, of Wisconsin, the editor of which, without stopping to question anything received from the source of information to which he was accustomed to look for supplies, inserted in his paper the explicit statement which is subjoined:

"Mr. Tilden's opposition to the war has been made the most of by our antagonists, but it avails them nothing. The war is over, and it is remembered that some of the best and purest men in the United States opposed the war. President Buchanan, Millard Fillmore, Franklin Pierce, Stonewall Jackson, Robert E. Lee, John C. Breckenridge, Hozatio Seymour, George B. McClellan, and hundreds of others were averse to the war, and especially to the employment of colored troops and to the emancipation of the slaves. A majority of tee leading statesmen of Great Britain, and many on the continent of Europe, sided with the South. There was a clean-cut and honest difference of opinion all over Christendom as to the right and wrong of the late Rebellion. Mr. Tilden, with many other distinguished men of our own and other countries, leaned toward the South during the contest, but was no less an American. And now that section naturally gives him its united support; it goes solid for him. There has been a disposition among the timid friends of Mr. Tilden to deny that he was opposed to the war. But Mr. Tilden himself has never sanctioned such a denial. He stands now where he stood from 1861 to 1865, opposed to the war for coercing the dissatisfied States of the Union to remain in it. Mr. Tilden is still a good, old-fashioned, State-rights democrat of the John C. Calhoun stripe, and the presidency cannot tempt him to forswear his faith. And that is why the people like him; that is why they will vote for him. He refuses all importunities to make him say that the invasion of the South was justifiable, because he believes it was not justifiable."

Political.

Bell, the democratic candidate for Secretary of State in Ohio, will be elected by about twenty thousand majority.—Concord Patriot, Sept. 23d.

The democrats had no expectations whatever of Ohio.—Concord Patriot, Oct. 18th.

Smith Ely, Jr., one of the County Board of Supervisors under Boss Tweed, has been nominated for Mayor of New York by Tammany Hall.

Mr. T. L. Davis, a delegate to the St. Louis Convention and now running for Congress on the democratic ticket in Kansas, on one of his stumping tours in behalf of the cause of Tilden and reform fell in with a beautiful young widow from Kentucky. The ardent reformer was captivated, made love to and was accepted by the fair widow, and all was going nicely until the fiancee was informed that the democratic reform candidate for Congress already possessed one wife and three children. The course of a democratic reformer never does run smooth, and this one is threatened with a thrashing by the lady's brother-in-law, who has also handed some of the politician's tenderest love-letters to the editor of a republican paper, who has published them. It is now thought the cause of reform will have to get along the best way it can, without Mr. Davis' aid in Congress.

Edgar K. Apgar, chief manager of Tilden's campaign in New York, and one of his office-holders, was arrested for desertion during the war, tried by court martial and dishonorably dismissed the service on February 10, 1863, the facts being a matter of record at the War Department. Here is good material for a "reformer."

Gen. M. C. Butler, the leader of the whites in the Hamburg (S. C.) massacre, has advised the rifle clubs to disband, and organize as democratic clubs, without arms. So the rifle clubs were not formed to protect the whites from imaginary assaults of the blacks, but were really, as every one supposed, democratic bodies, organized and armed to intimidate republicans. Gen. Butler has made a damaging admission.

Colonel Mosby publishes a card replying to many democratic attacks upon the administration through him. He says that the charge that any person who ever served under him is in any of the departments at Washington or at any navy yard, is an unmitigated lie, and that he has never himself received the slightest benefit, directly or indirectly, from Gen. Grant's administration.

The democratic candidate for Congress in the Second Ohio District, Banning, was serenaded on election night, and wound up his speech in response as follows: "I have a barl of punch. I invite you to help me drink it." They helped him.

The democrats in Washinton are beginning to feel great concern over the indications which Ohio and Indiana give that their majority in the next House will be overcome. The news from all parts of Pennsylvania is such as to make it seem certain there that the republicans will gain nine Representatives from that State. The democrats also agree that if the next House is carried by the republicans, both Howard in the Dayton District and Matthews in the Second Ohio District will have no difficulty in proving their titles to seats.

The Pittsburg, Penn., Gazette says that a rebel flag was carried in a democratic procession in that city Saturday evening, but the democratic managers assert that they thought it was an old German battle-flag. Poor innocent souls. If they had been to the front during the rebellion they would have known a Confederate flag.

The Concord Patriot beats even the Boston Post in democratic brag and bluster. The Post, no doubt acting, like the other Tilden and reform organs, under the express orders sent out by the old usufructuary's Literary Bureau, stoutly stuck to a democratic victory in Colorado until after the elections in Ohio and Indiana; but as soon as they were over it acknowledged a republican victory in the new State. The Patriot sticks to a democratic victory there still!

Emaciation a Remediable Defect.

Leanness not only detracts from personal comeliness, but is an index that the blood is deficient in nutritive properties. To remedy emaciation, enrich and purify the blood, which will then develop healthy flesh. This object is most readily attained through the agency of the great blood fertilizer and depurent, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which enables the stomach to extract from the food taken into it ample nourishment for the system, removes all obstacles to complete digestion and assimilation, and by stimulating the kidneys to vigorous action, incites those organs to strain from the vital fluid in its passage through them impurities which would otherwise impair its flesh creating qualities. Not only do the Bitters promote the development of solid fiber, but they also increase muscular power and elasticity, overcome nervousness, banish mental depression, and protect the system against disease.

The Only Remedy.

Those who suffer from foul breath are open to the charge of carelessness. It is an offence that can be speedily abated, as a single bottle of the fragrant SOZODONT will unmistakably accomplish the work. No toilet table should be without it. It will preserve and keep the teeth white, and the breath pure and sweet.

Spaulding's Glue, who would be without it?

Let that cough continue and die of consumption or be cured by Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam. Free sample bottles at all the drug stores.

The new Atlas Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa., for quietness, pure ventilation, light and cool rooms is unexcelled.

TO AVOID THE DANGER OF INFECTION, the linen of persons suffering from skin diseases of a contagious nature should be washed with GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, which is not only a remedy but a disinfectant.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms; elevators, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

JOTTINGS.

Tilden's "Boys in Blue" met at Albany, N. Y., on the 19th. Capt. J. Albert Sanborn of this city was the Vice President representing New Hampshire.

Praise Service at Bow Mission on Sunday. Dr. Goodall, assisted by a quartette, will sing pieces new and old; also, exposition of the 148th psalm. All are welcome.

Capt. John Williams of Kittery Point, Me., has a yellow dahlia in his garden that has attained the height of seven feet and eleven inches, and is still growing.

Before the Supreme Court, now in session in this city, was heard a divorce case in which it appeared that the combattive element that sometimes give zest and vanity to the married state, frequently prevailed in the family. To illustrate the temper of the wife on such occasions, the opposite counsel enquired of a witness as to her disposition, etc., on such occasions. "Well," said the witness, "when they had a row down there, they say old F. usually had his match. That lady, it was apparent to the Court, was master of the situation.

We have received the November number of the Folio, containing besides the usual amount of reading matter and choice music, a portrait of Miss Gertrude Corbett, the American opera singer.

SUPREME COURT.

Thursday afternoon, Lucy M. Willey vs. William S. Willey; divorce asked for, on account of cruelty. Argued by counsel Friday morning. Judgment reserved.

Friday. Mary E. Shaw vs. Andrew J. Shaw, of Kensington. Divorce asked, on account of cruelty. The testimony between man and wife seemed quite contradictory. Frink and Saunders for libellant; Hatch for libellee.

The Grand Jury seem to have an unusual amount of business at this, and not to be as early in reporting as in former terms. They are expected to come in this forenoon.

News and Notes.

James Aiken, a salesman for a liquor firm in New York city, was murdered on the 17th, near Harrison, Penn., by two strangers. He had some $3000 with him.

Steam-tug Godfrey, from Philadelphia for Galveston, ran ashore on a reef near Key West. On Thursday, as indications portended a hurricane, the captain and crew were urged to leave the steamer, but refused. A storm raged during the night, and on Friday morning no vestige of the vessel remained.

James Myers, of Jefferson City, Missouri, having been improperly intimate with the daughter of George Busekus, an aged German, was by him forbidden the house. So he went there with the favorite Missouri argument, a shot-gun, and murdered the old man in cold blood. The assassin was arrested, but his father is sheriff of the county and a prominent democratic manager, so the murderer was not subjected to the indignity of being locked up, but was allowed to walk the streets "accompanied by a friend." The old German was a republican.

The evidence adduced on the trial of the wife of the celebrated divorce lawyer House, who killed him some months ago on their farm near Trenton, New Jersey, showed that House was brutal, and at the time of the shooting was trying to kick in the ribs of his fair spouse and smash the head of his step-son. The most curious part of this affair is that Mrs. House has been writing letters upon morality, and at the same time asking her friends if it would be improper for her to marry one of the brothers of her deceased husband, who came on from Kansas to revenge his brother's death, but instead fell in love with the fair murderess.

Matters in Europe are rapidly approaching a crisis. It is said 22,000 Russian troops have crossed the frontier into Bulgaria. England is expected to promptly send a powerful fleet to Constantinople. Greece is preparing to call out an army of 50,000 men. France will be neutral (if she can) in case of a big war. Germany apparently favors Russia, and a powerful party in Austria does the same, though Count Andrassey is determined to act with England. On Friday the British insurers demanded a war risk of five shillings per cent. on British vessels trading between England, Australia and the East.

Edward Warren was killed in a prize fight in Chester county, Pa., by James Moore, and Warren's friends then fatally beat Moore, the whole affair winding up with a small riot among their brother miners at night.

The wife of ex-Rev. Mr. Buffum, of Hartford, who was turned out of the ministry a year or more so ago for immorality, has secured a divorce from him, Mrs. Buffum being granted custody of their four children. The evidence adduced not only proved the fellow immoral to the last degree, but brutally cruel to his wife.

Two men were fatally and four others severely burned in St. Louis on the 18th, by the bursting of a mould in the steel works.

Francis Preston Blair died at Silver Springs, Md., on the night of the 18th, aged 85 years. He was a trusted friend of President Jackson, and for fifteen years editor of the Washington Globe, the central organ of the democratic party. After the repeal of the Missouri Compromise he became a republican. Montgomery Blair, Lincoln's Postmaster-General, and Gen. Francis P. Blair, were his sons.

Russian troops have crossed the Pruth, and war between Turkey and Russia is considered begun.

Ship Rydal Hall, from Cardiff, Wales, for San Francisco, was wrecked on the evening of the 18th on the rocks near Spanishtown, thirty miles from San Francisco. Nine men were drowned in trying to get ashore, and the rest (all but the captain, who refused to leave and was probably drowned when the ship went to pieces,) were taken off next morning by a whaler.

New England's Dying Race.

When Dr. Allen of Lowell said that the native New England race was dying out, and that the foreign population was taking its place, he was denounced as an alarmist and assailed as an enemy to his section. But the Massachusetts census for 1875 proves that he was right. Special care was taken to ascertain how many children every married woman had, and whether she was native or foreign origin. The number of children born from one mother ranges from one to twenty-five, while the average among New England mothers is three and one-half, and the average among foreign mothers is nearly five; and most of the foreign population are Irish. This is conclusive, for the tables were made with great care and cover the entire State. They show that the native New England race is less than two-thirds as productive as the foreign races, and that the latter are rapidly gaining on the native population. It would be interesting to ascertain the causes of this decline in fecundity, and also whether the Americanized descendants of Irish parents show any falling off in this respect. It may be gratifying to the decaying population of Massachusetts to know that Herbert Spencer says the fecundity of a race diminishes with its cultivation, and the more highly civilized and refined a people is the fewer children it will have and better care it will take of them. Spencer ought to be very popular in Massachusetts in these days.—Graphic.

The Rival Stage Lines.

In Utah Territory there were two rival stage lines, one run by a man named Smith, and another run by a man named Johnson. The competition was so great that at last both lines carried people for nothing, and gave them premiums besides. Smith offered a free ride and a Barlow knife to each passenger. Johnson offered a boiled shirt. Smith saw that and went one better by giving a pound of bologna with the shirt. Johnson adopted the sausage and distributed gold-headed canes and copies of Watt's hymns. Smith rallied and offered all of Johnson's premiums with a litter of pups and a bunch of toothpicks to each man. But Johnson took all the travel by paying the old debts of each passenger and deeding him a cemetery lot. Smith turned the tide immediately in his direction by giving every fellow a pair of mules, a church pew, and 1,500 shares of stock in the Pacific Railroad. Then Johnson determined upon his master stroke. He went to Brigham Young and got special dispensation; and then he offered to marry all the women who rode in his stages, to take all the men into partnership, and to give gum-rings to all the babies. Smith was broken up, and had to sell out and abandon the business. Johnson now has 1,426 wives, 1,500 partners, and he is indebted to an India-rubber man for six bushels of gum-rings. But he killed Smith and he is now happy.—Phil. Bulletin.

Amos's Book-Keeper.

We asked Amos how his boy was getting on at school. "Pleg take dat boy; I done tuck him 'way from that school." "Why, what for?" "Uh, oh! he wus gettin' 'mos' too smart down dar wid dat book larnin'. 'Twon't do fer some niggers ter be too agikatid." "Why not, Amos?" "Well, sah, jess take dat boy, frinstance. I put dat boy ter keep books fer me 'bout de sellin' ob de garden truck, dis summer. Well, sah, he jess rit down charges dar in de book fer all de truck dat I tuck out de garden, an charges fer all dat I sole an' charges fer all dat we eat in de house, an' den credit hisself wid de little 'mounts dat I let him hab 'long at odd 'casions, an' den he go an' add dem all up, and struck er balunce, he say!" "And how did you come out?" "Come out? 'Fore de Good Marster, I didn't come out at all! Dat boy gone stuck me for 'bout thutty-fibe dollars, 'sides his wages as de book-keepah. Now dat's what de figgers sed." "Well, what did you do?" "I jess burn up dat book right dar an' den, 'scharged de book-keepah, an' hire him ober agin to saw wood for his board an' close." "You did?" "Yes, sir, I did dat. Why, boss, ef dat boy had kept dat book on me tell now he'd own dat house an' gyardin' patch an' bin chargin' me an' his old mammy fer bed an' bread! I tell yer dis hyar book-larnin' is rumin' dis young breed ob niggers—'tis, shore!"—Atlanta Constitution.

—The choir at the Auburn, N. Y., State Prison is composed as follows: De Mirski, organist, grand larceny; McKeon, first violin, murdered his wife; Crozier, first tenor, murdered his wife; Burdick, double-base viol, killed a negro; Hinman, second tenor, burglary and rape; Hall, basso, burglary; King, basso, forgery; Darling, basso, forgery; White, soprano, burglary; Bishop, soprano, forgery; The Professor, alto, forgery and false pretences. These men have all good voices and they sing hymns of praise every Sunday, including the Bliss and Sankey collection, which has been introduced by the chaplain, Dr. Leroy.

—A stump speaker boldly announced the other day that "the country is drifting into arnica."

SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,

SUCCESSOR TO

Dr. TELLER,

DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr. Limpenhard and for a number of years its affairs were practiced over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—190 pages—full of plates, price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichol's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting he Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 29, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the last two years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship in the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 19, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I feel bound to do all I can for others, so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been a free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. FEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patented medicines, with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been trusting and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anyone. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy, and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me three packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMONICE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMONICE CORDIAL.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMONICE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMONICE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMONICE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

Buchman's Pulmonice Cordial.

The Pulmonice Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. His offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

A Costly Gem.

A wonderful diamond is the famous "Moon of the Mountains," now one of the finest stones in the Russian Imperial collection. The history of this stone is one of murder and bloodshed, and has a tragic interest.

Many years ago three brothers bearing the common name of Chafras, were walking leisurely up one of the narrow streets of Bagdad. Suddenly the eldest stopped, and, pointing to a stranger, said to his brother:

"Here is the Afghan that we have been looking for so long."

"He shall not escape us this time," replied one of the others.

"Allah is great! Fear nothing!" said to him the eldest of the brothers. "I am Chafras, whom thou wast seeking everywhere, some time ago, to sell him the diamond called 'Moon of the Mountains.' These are my brothers, and we are now ready to close the bargain without delay."

"Ah, my good sirs, I am sorry for you, but I am no longer the owner of that superb diamond," replied the Afghan.

"What hast thou done with it?"

"Allah be praised! I have sold it to Mordecai, the Jew, for 65,000 piastres and a pair of fine horses."

Upon request of the three brothers, the accommodating Afghan led them to the residence of the Jew, of whom they attempted to purchase the precious gem. But he refused all their offers, frankly telling the three brothers he was well aware of the diamond's great value.

"Infidel dog!" exclaimed the eldest of the brothers, when they had retired from the humble dwelling of Mordecai, "he is too sharp for us."

But as the sequel proves he was not too sharp for them, for that very night the brothers Chafras returned to the residence of the Jew, forced an entrance, and after murdering the unfortunate man in his bed, secured the "Moon of the Mountains," and departed. This did not satisfy them, however, and so they invited the Afghan to dine with them; he accepted the invitation, and poison was placed in his wine by his murderous hosts. The brothers then took the 65,000 piastres which their victim had received of Mordecai, and in great haste fled the country.

But, owing to the exceeding great value of the "Moon of the Mountains," much trouble arose when the brothers came to divide their spoils. The eldest finally proposed that all should retire for the night, and to the one who should receive the plainest token of love and preference from Allah, the great diamond would be given. So each retired, thinking that before day he would conceive of some account of a dream to tell his brother that would secure to him the coveted prize. But during the night the two younger brothers were murdered by the eldest, who became possessor of the great stone as well as of the other ill-gotten property of his victims. Chafras then journeyed to Amsterdam for the purpose of selling his great gem, but in that city he waited years without finding a purchaser. He then went to St. Petersburg, where he began negotiations with the agents of Catharine II., who much desired to gain possession of the jewel. The price demanded was very great, however, and not even a royal purse could effect its purchase in a prompt and royal manner. The agents of the Empress then resorted to strategy. Leading the possessor of the famed stone into dissipation and debt, they hoped to compel him to sell at a lower figure. But the wily Chafras detected their designs, paid his debts, and abandoned the gay Russian capital. Catharine, however, was a woman and an Empress, and paid Chafras' price—$650,000, an annuity of $20,000, and a patent of nobility. So the criminal became wealthy, and a Russian nobleman. His life was unhappy, however, and he died a violent death. Many of his grandchildren are now living in extreme poverty in Astrakhan.

Washington as a Freemason.

A controversy having arisen as to George Washington's connection with the Masonic order, John Edwin Mason, a prominent member of the body in Washington, writes to the Chronicle of that city denying a statement made by a former correspondent, to the effect that Washington was made a Free Mason in 1777 at Morristown, N. Y., while the army was in winter quarters there. Official Masonic records show that George Washington was initiated in Fredericksburg Lodge, No. 4, of Fredericksburg Va., on the 4th of November, 1752, passed the degree of Fellow Craft on March 3d, 1753, and was raised to the degree of Master Mason on the 4th of August of the same year. He remained in connection with this lodge until February 3d, 1783, when he withdrew in order to unite with Alexandria Lodge No. 22, which was situated more conveniently to his residence. His signature on the books of both these lodges place the matter entirely beyond dispute, and in addition Washington is known to have participated in various Masonic celebrations on public occasions. The charter of Alexandria Lodge and the records of the Grand Lodge of Virginia show that he was named as Master of the former body. A letter of doubtful authenticity, purporting to have been written by Washington to G. W. Snyder in 1798, stating that he had not been in a Masonic lodge more than once or twice in thirty years, is evidently a forgery. His active interest in Masonry is shown by many public acts, and his funeral was conducted with Masonic honors.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1876.

FOR PRESIDENT,

Rutherford B. Hayes,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

William A. Wheeler,

OF NEW YORK.

Hayes' Platform in War.

In 1864, when Hayes was in the army, being nominated for Congress he was requested to come home and stump his district. His reply was, "I have other business just now. Any man who would leave the army at this time to electioneer for Congress ought to be scalped!"

Hayes' Platform in Peace.

"Honest money for all, and free schools for all. There should be no inflation which will depreciate the one, nor sectarian interference which will destroy the other."

Pure Democracy.

The average democrat of Chicago is a being who would furnish a new study for Darwin, if we may judge from the character of the democratic conventions there. The reporter for the democratic Chicago Times gives the following picture, taken from one of them:

"Roseate nosed delegates and representatives shaking the perfume of onions and whisky from their garments, paced the floor as far as the crowd would let them, yelling and howling, each for his own personal measure. 'Take that man to the stand,' yelled one; 'Kick the other one out,' shouted another. One ill-kept individual swearing a blue overcoat faced with grease spots, contented his soul with crying, "Ye be's all frauds.' The racket and row continued for some time, and things looked blue."

Editorially the Times says, of the same meeting:

"A gathering of persons representing chiefly the bummers, the shoulder hitters, the thugs, the plug uglies, the ballot-stuffers, and other depraved classes in this city,—a gathering which cannot be redeemed from disgrace by styling it a convention,—took place in this city yesterday, and named as a candidate for representative of the First Congressional district, a person of the name of John R. Hoxie."

Yet the Times supports Tilden, and this was a "reform" convention.

News and Notes.

Jotham Jewett, a highly respected citizen of Alfred, Me., died at his residence in that place on Friday, the 6th inst., at the greatly advanced age of ninety-nine years and two months. He was at the time of his death the oldest person in that town and probably in York County. His wife died three years ago at the age of ninety-six years. He has voted at every Presidential election since that of Washington. Mr. Jewett was a son of Benjamin J. Jewett, who removed from Stratham, N. H., in 1775, and was one of the early pioneers of Alfred, and lived and died on the same farm rescued from the wilderness by his father a century ago.

The express train was bowling along at the rate of forty miles an hour on the Toledo, Wabash and Western Railroad, near Huntington, Ind., last Friday afternoon, when the whistle sounded, the airbrakes creaked, and the cars were set back with a shock. The passengers ran forward to learn the news. The grimy fireman lay on the ground with a broken arm and a bruised face, and in the grass near him was a little girl about three years old, with a torn dress. She had been running along the track, and the brave fireman in leaping forward to save her was thrown aside and badly hurt. The child was terribly frightened, but uninjured.

The hurricane which struck Key West on Thursday night was off the North Carolina coast Saturday morning, travelling northeast, but was expected to keep well clear of the New England coast. Cautionary signals were ordered for Boston.

A beautiful tablet, or headstone, recently purchased by the Masonic fraternity of Greenville, Me., has been erected by them at the grave of the old Indian chief Lewis Annance, a member of the order, who died at that place Dec. 25, 1875. Three Masonic lodges participated in the ceremony of placing the tablet.

The oldest member now in practice at the York County (Me.) bar is Moses Emery, Esq., of Saco, who was admitted to the bar in 1821—fifty-five years ago.

While the times are improving in this country, in spite of all the democracy can say and do to prevent any improvement until after the Presidential election, the state of affairs in England is growing worse. The Lancashire weavers are booked for a hard winter. The Cotton Spinners' and Manufacturers' Association of northern and northeastern Lancashire have voted to close their mills on the 23d of November. This will throw eighty thousand workmen out of employment.

Mrs. Ira Baker, of Glen Lock, Pa., killed three of her children and attempted to smother her infant on the 20th, while insane. She then took to the woods.

The second race of the series of three to be trotted between Smuggler and Great Eastern came off on Friday at Mystic Park, and was won by the latter in their three straight heats; time 2:21, 2:24 1-2, 2:25.

The dead body of Herbert O. White, of Windsor, Vt., who has been missing since the 6th inst., was found Friday morning at the bottom of a well that had been filled up on Henry Gravlin's premises. He was the main witness against Gravlin in a law case with one James Weston, and was known to be at Gravlin's on Friday, the 6th inst., since which time he has not been seen. Gravlin is in Woodstock jail, and the excitement of the people is intense.

Political.

A meeting of the republican State Committee was held at Concord on Friday evening. Prominent members of the Committee from every county in the State were present. After the transaction of some general business pertaining to the campaign, of no general interest, speeches were made by prominent republicans, representing various parts of the State, on the situation in the State and nation. The situation in New Hampshire was reported in nearly every instance as very flattering. Unanimity prevails in the party, with a firm determination throughout the State to win in the approaching election. The canvass is well under way; a large corps of speakers will at once be put on the stump and an aggressive campaign inaugurated. No prominent speakers from other States will be employed, the Committee relying on home talent for campaign speaking. The meeting was largely attended.

F. W. Dawson, editor of the Charleston News and Courier, is a democratic "carpet-bagger" from New York city. That accounts for the virulence of his hate toward the leading republicans of that State. He advises that they be arrested on trumped-up charges and forced to leave the State. "If they cannot be gotten rid of in that way," he adds, "let the foreign adventurers bite the dust at the hands of brave Southrons."

The Richmond (Va.) Republican says that at a recent public performance in that city the appearance of a United States flag upon the stage was greeted with a storm of hisses. An effort was made by a part of the audience to drown the hisses with shouts, yells, whistling and stamping, and it was finally successful, though at times the result seemed uncertain.

It is noteworthy that no matter how many negroes are shot in cold blood, nor how many whites are butchered for voting the republican ticket or entertaining republican principles at the South, the democratic press is a unit in its silent acquiescence. But let a governor of a southern State call upon the national government for assistance—not to kill nor destroy, but to preserve life and order—and straightway they howl in chorus, and condemn the act as a radical usurpation. Manchester Dispatch.

Hon. J. K. Tarbox, the democratic nominee for Congress in the seventh Massachusetts district, in a speech at Methuen, said: "The democratic party in the years immediately preceding the war, became indifferent to the sacred trusts of duty, and it fell to pieces, and the people hurled it from power because it was untrue to public duties." As the boast of democracy is that it has never changed but is the same to-day it has ever been, and as it rallies now under the leadership of those who were "untrue to their public duties in the years preceding the war," on what ground can Mr. Tarbox ask the people to trust it again?

Among the soldiers in attendance upon the reunion of the Society of the Army of the Tennessee, in Washington, were some gentlemen from Mississippi who have recently seen General McKee, the republican speaker who was so brutally assaulted. It appears that McKee not only had his head crushed in by a bludgeon from behind and was pulled off the platform, but that after he had been removed to a frail wooden building to have his wounds dressed, more than a hundred rifle bullets were shot into the building by the democrats in the expectation of killing him. This little shanty was entirely riddled with bullet holes. McKee's friends only saved him by making barricades of mattresses around the spot where he lay, which, fortunately, the bullets did not fully penetrate.

The Concord People, in its eagerness to get some "republican testimony," calls the Springfield Republican "the leading organ of the republican party in New England!" This is an undeserved slur on the Boston Post, which is quite as much a "republican organ" as the Springfield Republican is or has been for many years.

The betting in the New York pool rooms on the general result of the Presidential election is as follows: Hayes $150, Tilden $135. On the Presidential result in the State of New York, Tilden $130, Hayes $100.

At the same time we do not disguise the fact that the condition of society in the Southern States is far from peaceful, far from satisfactory. The argument of the pistol and rifle is repugnant to Northern civilization, and exaggeration aside, it has been used at the South with terrible effect. The spectacle of county after county in Georgia voting solidly democratic, without a ballot in opposition, is not pleasant to the lover of the form of government which is the pride of the Americans in this Centennial year. There can be but one interpretation. The rights of the minority, the weaker party in strength if not in numbers, have been trampled on and beaten out. There is no better proof that freedom of speech and political action has been outraged in the Southern States than the entire absence of republican votes in certain sections of Georgia. Newspaper correspondents may exaggerate for party purposes, carpet-baggers may lie to keep themselves in power, but these figures are not disputed by any man. They point to but one inference.—Worcester Gazette, (Ind.)

Some weeks since Demas Barnes, editor of the Brooklyn Argus, a democratic paper, wrote a letter to the Ohio State Journal, denouncing Tilden as a democratic candidate. Democrats pronounced the letter a fraud, and Lewis C. Mead, of Ovid, Michigan, wrote Mr. Barnes asking him if he wrote the letter in question, and if he knew positively that the charges against Tilden were true. Mr. Barnes replies that he wrote the letter, and that the charges are true. He regards Mr. Tilden's antecedents as worse than those of Aaron Burr, or those of any man who ever before sought such high office in this country. He pronounces Governor Tilden corrupt, ambitious, unscrupulous, and despotic.

—Advertisement from a Black Hills newspaper: "It having been quite generally given out that Captain Ben had departed from this vale of tears, an opportunity is here offered to view his remains and witness the urbane corpse deal out tea, flour, shoulders, bacon, hams, coffee, shelf goods, and a complete wholesale stock of the finest liquors and cigars ever brought into the Hills."

THE proprietors of the American House, Boston, have always been among the first to introduce new inventions and appliances for the convenience and comfort of their guests, and the well known hotel was never more completely fitted and furnished or more popular with the traveling public than at the present day.

The patent electro annunciator, made in Paris for the "American," is probably the finest instrument of the kind ever seen in this country.

Emaciation a Remediable Defect.

Leanness not only detracts from personal comeliness, but is an index that the blood is deficient in nutritive properties. To remedy emaciation, enrich and purify the blood, which will then develop healthy flesh. This object is most readily attained through the agency of the great blood fertilizer and depurent, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which enables the stomach to extract from the food taken into it ample nourishment for the system, removes all obstacles to complete digestion and assimilation, and by stimulating the kidneys to vigorous action, incites those organs to strain from the vital fluid in its passage through them impurities which would otherwise impair its flesh creating qualities. Not only do the Bitters promote the development of solid fiber, but they also increase muscular power and elasticity, overcome nervousness, banish mental depression, and protect the system against disease.

The Only Remedy.

Those who suffer from foul breath are open to the charge of carelessness. It is an offence that can be speedily abated, as a single bottle of the fragrant SOZODONT will unmistakably accomplish the work. No toilet table should be without it. It will preserve and keep the teeth white, and the breath pure and sweet.

Spaulding's Glue, who would be without it?

Let that cough continue and die of consumption or be cured by Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam. Free sample bottles at all the drug stores.

The new Atlas Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa., for quietness, pure ventilation, light and cool rooms is unexcelled.

TO AVOID THE DANGER OF INFECTION, the linen of persons suffering from skin diseases of a contagious nature should be washed with GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, which is not only a remedy but a disinfectant.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Depot and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

JOTTINGS.

Mr. Joshua Stackpole fell from a staging outside his joiner shop on Mechanic street, on Saturday, striking on the rocks some thirteen feet below. He was insensible when picked up, his face being badly bruised and his neck hurt, but it is hoped his injuries will not prove serious.

The Times says: "The Fourth Company of the Tilden and Hendricks Cadet Battalion was organized at the rooms of the Tilden Reform Club on Thursday evening. Frank W. Hilton was elected captain, Geo. W. Hall first lieutenant, and Henry Wendell second lieutenant. The battalion now consists of three companies of fifty men each and one company of one hundred men. They have a drum corps of eight members."

The following have been appointed officers for field day,—Tuesday: Capt. J. H. Higbee, United States Marine Corps, colonel; Capt. Jacob Haddock, Portsmouth Light Artillery, major; Lieut. David Whipple, U. S. Marine Corps, adjutant. The Heavy Artillery will have the post of honor. The officers and staff will be mounted. The services of the Dover cornet band have been engaged for the event, and the Marines from the navy yard and the Dover Battery invited to participate in the general exercises with the five local companies.

The battery company recently stationed at Fort Preble, in Portland harbor, passed through this city Friday forenoon on the eleven o'clock train over the Eastern railroad, bound for Columbus, South Carolina, where they are to be placed to assist in preventing the further intimidation of voters.

Capt. Frank Hilton, of the Rockingham Housef has been chosen Lt. Col. of the Tilden and Hendricks battalion, and George E. Hodgdon, Esq., Major.

Always carry Scriptural quotations in your pocket-book. A lady who did so and lost her pocket-book, with $20 enclosed and her address, on the Eastern Railroad, recently, has received $30 in money in an envelope, which also contained the following quotation from Ephesians, iv., 28: "Let him that stole steal no more, but rather let him labor, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give him that needeth."—Globe.

On Tuesday, on the occasion of the field day at the Plains, the "Hourly" teams will run to that point from Market square, one carriage going by way of Islington street and the other through Middle street. Fare, ten cents each way.

There was quite a little excitement raised on Friday afternoon, near Spring Hill, by the conduct of a man, and a number of other men, and a lot of boys. The first man was pretty drunk, and whipping an old crow-bait of a horse—in rather too bad a condition to be driven, and not quite bad enough to cause the driver's arrest. Bystanders took the matter up and argued with the drunken man, with potatoes, rotten apples, jeers, etc., wherent he became more angry and beat the poor old horse worse. An officer of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty then appeared and was going to arrest the inferior of the two brutes, who showed fight at first but was finally carried away by some improvised friends. A big crowd collected to see the "fun."

Foster's Democrat, of Dover, speaking of the Hayes and Wheeler demonstration in that city Wednesday evening, says: "The Portsmouth red-shirts made the most show. They were a good-looking set of fellows, and those red-shirts sort of 'set 'em off' to better advantage than almost any other could. We are told that there were about a hundred of them, all bearing torches. They were led by a drum and fife corps that made the most peculiar music ever heard about here. Those musicians attracted a good deal of attention."

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

At a meeting of the School Committee, Saturday evening, the appointment of Mr. Frank W. Rand as teacher of the Lafayette school was confirmed.

The resignations of Miss May Pickering and Miss Nellie Bufford, as teachers in the Spaulding school, were accepted, and Miss Nellie Moers and Miss Ida E. Shackley were appointed to fill the vacancies.

Miss Nellie E. Rand was appointed assistant teacher in the Bartlett school, vice Miss Moers, transferred to the Spaulding school.

SUPREME COURT.

Saturday. The grand jury reported in the forenoon, and were discharged. One hundred and seventy-three indictments were found, about 140 of which are for liquor selling, brought about principally through the influence of the reform clubs. The hearts of the democratic lawyers will be gladdened at such a lift as the defence of so many clients at this term of the Court. The jury were longer in session and reported a larger number of cases, it is said, than was ever before known in Rockingham county. The court adjourned until Monday forenoon at eleven o'clock.

New Hampshire Items.

Work has begun on the new street across what is known as the Valley of Jehosophat, in Dover.

Charles H. Clark's house and shed, in Bethlehem, were burned, Thursday night. Loss $2000; insured $500.

Mr. Alfred Lucier, a provision dealer of Nashua, was out on a gunning excursion on the 20th, and while removing the gun from the wagon the lock caught and discharged the fowling-pieces, the charge entering Mr. Lucier's side and bowels, making a fearful wound. He was immediately conveyed to the residence of Mr. Luther A. Roby and a physician called. He was conscious, but lived only half an hour after the accident took place. His age was about forty years; he leaves a wife and five children.

The fourteenth annual conference meeting of the Unitarian Churches of New Hampshire was held at the Unitarian church in Manchester on Thursday and Friday of last week. The meeting was organized with the following officers: President, Governor P. C. Cheney; Vice-Presidents, William H. Haskell, Esq., Portsmouth, Mrs. James B. Straw; Secretary, Rev. A. Powers; Treasurer, J. C. A. Hill, Concord; Directors, Rev. T. L. Gorham, of Nashua, Rev. A. W. Jackson, of Peterboro, Rev. C. A. Allen of Dover, Charles Burley of Exeter, Mrs. J. S. Lincoln of Wilton and Miss Stevens of Concord. In the evening an interesting sermon was preached by Rev. C. C. Carpenter of Boston, on the subject, "The Ministry of Reconciliation." Friday morning the conference meeting was held, after which Rev. J. S. Lincoln of Wilton delivered an essay on the duty of persons to properly prepare themselves for the Sunday service. The meetings this year were not so largely attended as in former years, but deep interest was manifested. At the close of Friday morning's meeting dinner was served in the vestry.

Objections to Hayes.

John Morrissey thinks Governor Hayes' former associations were so degrading that he cannot support him.

"Twenty-dollar" Robbins, of South Carolina, says that Gov. Hayes' method of conducting this campaign amounts to absolute bribery, and he cannot vote for such a man.

Proctor Knott says he has reason to believe that Mr. Hayes was guilty of withholding some important election returns in Ohio, several hours, before making them public, for selfish and partisan purposes, and he cannot support such a man.

Mr. Tilden says he cannot but believe that Mr. Hayes was guilty of positive evasion in the matter of taxes, and he cannot countenance such fraud by supporting the man who committed it. We must have reform.

Boss Tweed says that he believes Governor Hayes is positively dishonest.

Jefferson Davis says it is his impression that Governor Hayes was guilty of tacit if not actual disloyalty during the war, and he can't endure that.

Ben Hill says he is not satisfied with Governor Hayes' war record. This is probably true.

Sunset Cox says he is too much of a buffoon; too fond of acting the clown; and he never did like that in public men.

Blue Jeans Williams says Governor Hayes doesn't wear good enough clothes to suit him; there isn't tone and style enough about him for President.

Wilbur F. Storey says he doesn't consider Governor Hayes a strictly truthful man, and that is his great test of fitness in any man.

Henry Watterson says he believes Governor Hayes drinks, and that bars him from the support of the Courier-Journal.

Fernando Wood says his only objection to Governor Hayes is that he gambles, he knows he does.

John Kelly says he was a Fenian.

Henry Clay Dean says he isn't cleanly enough in his habits nor sufficiently particular about his personal appearance to command the support of men who, like himself, believe in physical as well as political reform.

General McClellan says he lacks energy and decision.—Burlington Hawkeye.

Agricultural Societies Take Notice.

Scattered thickly over France may be seen posted the following notice from the Minister of Agriculture:

MINISTRY OF AGRICULTURE.

This placard is placed under the protection of good sense and public decency.

The Hedgehog lives on mice, small rodents, slugs and grubs, (vers blancs), animals hurtful to agriculture. Don't kill the hedgehog.

The Toad, farm assistant; destroys from twenty to thirty insects an hour. Don't kill the toad.

The Mole is constantly destroying grubs, (vers blancs), larvæ, palmer worms, and insects injurious to agriculture. No trace of vegetation is ever found in its stomach. Does more good than harm. Don't kill the mole.

The May Bug and its larva or grub, mortal enemy of agriculture; lays from seventy to eighty eggs. Kill the May Bugs. Children will be paid 25 centimes for every 500 May bugs placed in the hands of the garde champetre.

Birds, Each department loses several millions annually through insects. Birds are the only enemies able to contend against them victoriously. They are great caterpillar killers and agricultural assistants. Children, don't disturb their nests.

Here is an example for agricultural societies to follow, and it might be profitably extended to incinde other insects and insect destroying creatures, according to the circumstances of a particular section. Since we cannot expect a move from our sleepy department of Agriculture, nor have a representation at Washington to stir them up, such movements must begin with the societies, and probably no work which they can do will be rewarded with better results.

—A negro town crier in Palmyra, La., was sent out to ring his bell and shout, "Colonel Anderson will speak at the town hall to-night on the greenback and Peter Cooper question." He made the announcement correctly several times, and then it got changed to, "Oh, yes! oh, yes! Col. Copperback will speak on the Green Peter question!" When last heard he was yelling, "Whoop-a-la! Green Peterson will speak on the Coop question this evening!"

—None but the Grangers deserve the agricultural fair.

—When a man is in rum he will do as the rum ones do.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

No. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE RILEY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity for a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON,

Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

Daily Chronicle.

What She Wants.

Here is the sort of a husband a San Francisco girl advertises for in the Chronicle of that city: "A man with good looks and plenty of money, generous to a fault and easy to manage, who keeps his carriage and will give his wife another, who has a good time himself and will let his wife go to the matinee and opera without getting jealous or looking cross, who will give her an open credit at a first-class dry goods store and ask no foolish questions about what she does with her pin money. A lawyer or leading merchant would do; a stockbroker having a seat in the big board would be preferred. I would not be unreasonable; in case of failure I would be willing to travel for a time in Europe, and as a matter of reasonable and prudent business precaution, I would have my husband put a first-class residence and all the valuable silverware, furniture and diamonds in my own name, where they would be safe from the importunate demand of avaricious creditors."

—A Virginia editor says "everybody will smoke two centuries hence." He is evidently not a Universalist.

PROPOSALS FOR MATERIALS TO BE SUPPLIED TO THE NAVY YARDS UNDER THE COGNIZANCE OF THE BUREAU OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR,
Washington, D. C., September 28, 1876.

SEALED PROPOSALS to furnish Timber and other materials for the Navy for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1877, will be received at this Bureau until 12 o'clock M. of Thursday, November 16, 1876, at which time the bids will be opened.

The proposals must be addressed to the "Chief of the Bureau of Construction and Repair, Navy Department, Washington," and must be indorsed "Proposals for Timber, &c., for the Navy," that they may be distinguished from ordinary business letters.

To prevent confusion, and facilitate the opening of the bids, parties bidding for supplies at several yards will enclose their bids in separate envelopes for each yard, indorsed with the name of the yard for which the bid is made.

Printed schedules for each classes as parties deal in and intend to bid for, together with instructions to bidders, giving the forms of proposal, or guarantee, and of certificate of guarantors, with printed forms of offer, will be furnished to such persons as desire to bid, on application to the Commandants of the respective Navy Yards, and those of all the yards on application to the Bureau.

The Commandant of each Navy Yard, and the purchasing Paymaster for each Station, will have a copy of the schedules of the other yards, for examination only, in order that persons who intend to bid may judge whether it is desirable to make application for any of the classes of those yards.

The proposals must be for the whole of a class, but the Department reserves the right to reduce the whole class, should the interest of the Government require it, before the execution of the contract. All applications for information, or for the exam ation of samples, must be made to the Commandants of the respective yards.

Bids or offers will be received only from parties who are some how owners in, or manufacturers of the articles they offer to furnish. The guarantors must be certified by the collector of Internal Revenue for the district in which they reside.

The contract will be awarded to the person who makes the lowest bid and gives the guarantee required by law, the Navy Department, however, reserving the right to reject the lowest bid, or any which it may deem exorbitant.

Under the provisions of section 3722 of the Revised Statutes, the offer of any person who, as principal or surety, has been a defaulter in any previous contract with the Navy Department will not be received.

Sureties in the full amount will be required to sign the contract, and their responsibility must be certified to the satisfaction of the Navy Department.

An additional security (twenty per centum) will be withheld from the amount of the bills until the contracts shall have been completed, and eighty per centum of the amount of each bill, approved in triplicate by the Commandants of the respect ve yards, will be paid by the Paymaster or the station designated in the contract, as may be specified, by the Paymaster of the station nearest the yard where the goods are delivered, within ten days after the warrant for the same shall have been passed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

The classes of this Bureau are numbered and designated as follows:

MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Opiates. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I never tried or took no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking Dr. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of their aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

[EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 16, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, I feel it my duty to have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no avail. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them. He has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried all patent medicines I ever heard of with no result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten years. I have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst they had ever met with, and had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter. I thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when there came to my house Rev. H. H. Mathis my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have no testimonials to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Emma Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me three packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the luxurious trying climate of New England,

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

ARMSTRONG'S LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER.
Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round.
BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.
Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.
In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

Daily Chronicle.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1876.

FOR PRESIDENT,

Rutherford B. Hayes,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

William A. Wheeler,

OF NEW YORK.

Hayes' Platform in War.

In 1864, when Hayes was in the army, being nominated for Congress he was requested to come home and stump his district. His reply was, "I have other business just now. Any man who would leave the army at this time to electioneer for Congress ought to be scalped!"

Hayes' Platform in Peace.

"Honest money for all, and free schools for all. There should be no inflation which will depreciate the one, nor sectarian interference which will destroy the other."

What Will You Do About It?

They don't do things by halves this year. The latest edition of Tilden bureau tables puts Massachusetts among the doubtful States and claims New Hampshire as sure for Tilden.—Republican exchange.

The republicans of New Hampshire have no need to trouble themselves about Massachusetts, or Connecticut, or New York, or Indiana; all they have to do is to look out for their own State, and see to it that the great victory of last March, won against the most tremendous odds, is not worse than thrown away on the 7th of next month by allowing Tilden to secure New Hampshire's electoral vote.

At the meeting of the State Committee in Concord on Friday evening, it was resolved that an aggressive campaign should be at once commenced, and pushed until election day. Very good; if that is done it will secure the State for Hayes and Wheeler by at least the majority of last Spring, and we believe by even a larger one; but we do not believe the State is to be carried at all without work, and up to this time the republican canvass has been terribly languid in most places. We should think the republicans had tried the "still hunt" game in this State often enough not to want to try it again; in a hotly-contested canvass the republicans have always won; in a "still hunt" they have always been beaten; and the democrats are and have been working earnestly, under the general management of the consummate wire-puller, Tilden, hoping the republicans will not wake up until the State tumbles out from under them in November. The still-hunt tactics were tried in Ohio; and the result of the election in that State, after the red-hot canvass made during the month preceding election day, showed that had the republicans not taken the alarm when they did, and gone to work, the Ohio election would probably have gone by default in favor of the old usufructuary.

With any kind of a canvass at all worthy the name, the democracy have no more chance of carrying this State than they have of reaching Heaven; but we must confess that while some towns seem wide awake and determined to do all that should be done, there is a dangerous apathy and indifference apparent in many districts; the party seems to be quietly resting on the assumption that the State is surely republican,—a course which, if kept up until the 7th of November, will quite possibly result in justifying the democracy for putting it in the "doubtful" column, if not for putting it in the "sure for Tilden" list. The victory of last Spring was not won without work—and work of the most thorough and energetic kind; and though no such campaign as that one is now probable or necessary, it is necessary that some work should be done.

But two weeks remain in which to work, and the time should be well improved if a decisive and glorious victory is desired. Every town, every ward, every school district should be thoroughly canvassed, and everything possible done to secure the polling of every republican vote. Every absent voter's presence on the 7th of November should be assured, and the principles involved in the contest discussed from the platform and in private conversation, as well as by the press. And the republican party of New Hampshire should remember that while the carrying of New Hampshire for Hayes and Wheeler is all they have to do in this campaign, they have got it to do or it will not be done,—and that it cannot be done by sitting idle and saying "we have an undoubted and liberal majority in the State," while the Tildenites are doing all that desperation urges and a liberal supply of money enables them to do.

Since the foregoing was written we learn that proper measures have been taken by the republican managers to make things lively from now until election day, notwithstanding the apparent (but only apparent) indifference and inaction of the democracy. On Thursday evening, in the town hall at Exeter, there is to be a meeting of working republicans—one delegate from each school district in the county; and in every county in the State similar meetings are to be held on the same evening, the only difference being that in the democratic counties there will be two delegates instead of one from each school district. This was the plan adopted last Spring, and indicates that the "still hunt" campaign is at an end.

"The Bloody Shirt!"

Twenty years ago, when it was about as damaging to a man's character to call him an "abolitionist" as to call him a thief, and the slave-holding aristocracy of the South dictated to their subservient followers in the North whom they should vote for and what "principles" they should support, any hint by a "black abolition" orator or paper that slavery was not a Divine institution was greeted with a warning, "'S—s—sh! Don't talk that way; don't enrage the South!" Now, when the old slave-party of the South, having failed in an attempt to destroy the Union by violence, is engaged in a desperate endeavor to regain control of the government by violence, if a northern paper or speaker refers to such a state of affairs up goes a pitiful wail from the still subservient northern democracy, "Don't wave the bloody shirt! Don't keep alive the passions of the war."

If a republican paper prints statistics showing that counties in Missouri where the colored population is much the more numerous, and which at one election threw thousands of republican votes, at the next election threw not a hundred,—and to explain this quotes from democratic papers of Missouri shameless boasts that the "radical majority" of 30,000 was changed to a democratic majority of 30,000 by intimidation and violence, and open threats that the radical majority shall be kept down in the future by the same means,—then comes the squeal from the northern doughface, "Oh, do let us have peace. This is the Centennial year and the era of good feeling. Don't wave the bloody shirt!"

When a northern paper copies from the democratic papers of Texas assertions that murders and crimes of all kinds are of daily occurrence in that State, that negroes are shot down or hung up by the score for the crime of being negroes, and white republicans assassinated everywhere "on suspicion" that they favor the negroes, and that the State authorities take no steps to prevent such horrors or punish the criminals—that the public schools have been closed and the school fund stolen, and the State debt increased from a few thousand dollars to over five millions by the democratic State government—when such statements as these are copied from a Texan democratic paper by a republican paper of the North, even though no comment is made,—then comes the plaintive query from the Centennial gushers, "Why will you persist in waving the bloody shirt?"

Any reference to the brutal massacre of unarmed republicans—made prisoners for no other pretended reason than that they were republicans—by their democratic guards, in Louisiana; any reference to the Colfax and Coushatta horrors; any mention of the murder of Gen. McKee in Missouri for the crime of daring to attempt making a republican speech; any suggestion that the hundred thousand democratic majority in Georgia, where not a republican vote was cast in many strongly republican counties, was due to such "intimidation of the black vote" as Ben Hill boasted gave the democrats the State at the time they won their first victory after the war;—to mention any of these little incidents of southern political tactics is "waving the bloody shirt!"

When the South Carolina and Georgia chivalry butcher a dozen terrified negroes at Hamburg or Aiken, "for the good of the party;" when the South Carolina "rifle clubs" ride about the country, breaking up republican meetings and varying the fun by frequent murders of obnoxious republicans; when "Gen." Cary openly advocates on the stump the murder and mutilation of the "radical leaders," and Wade Hampton swears "by the Eternal God we mean to have the State," and the democratic organs boast that the democrats can and will overcome an acknowledged republican majority of 25,000 by proscription and terrorism, the northern democrat can see nothing wrong in it; but if a republican paper quotes the brutal boasts and savage threatenings of the fire-eating orators and papers, that is a most reprehensible "Waving the bloody shirt!"

The cry of "bloody shirt" is raised by the same party, and to a great extent by the same men, that yelled "black abolitionist" at every man who dared defy the slave-holding oligarchy before the war—the same party that tried to turn to ridicule the horrors inflicted on the hardy settlers of the West by sneering at "bleeding Kansas,"—the same party that applied the term "freedom-shriekers" to the men who upheld the Union during the slaveholders' war. But a great crime, even though the crime of a great nation or a great party, is not to be covered up with a sneer; and so long as murder is recognized by the southern democrats as a legitimate means of carrying elections, just so long will the northern republicans "wave the bloody shirt," despite the yelpings of the northern patriots who consider assassination all right so long as the victims are republicans, and regardless of the wailings of the "independent" gushers who think the sensibilities of the ex-rebels of so much more importance than the lives of the men who fought against them and would (unless prevented by force) vote against them.

How Tilden Reduced the Taxes.

The strongest and most often-repeated argument of the democratic press in favor of Tilden is that "he reduced the taxes of New York $6,000,000 in a single year, and would be just as efficient in reducing the taxes of the Nation." Tilden himself brazenly claims having made that reduction, just as he claimed that "the people" did the job which his advertising and his money really accomplished—his nomination; "the people did this; they wanted reform, and they knew they could get it here" [pointing to himself.] As there may be some few who really believe that Tilden deserves the credit for the reduction of taxes in New York, it may be well to state the facts once more, so that they can judge for themselves instead of taking Tilden's word for it,—what an income-tax collector would'nt do, probably, if Tilden swore to it.

All the chicanery and deception and thimble-rigging of Governor Tilden's partisans cannot change the clear, simple facts about the taxes, which are as follows:

I. The bounty debt of the State—a debt which grew out of the democratic rebellion—amounted in 1867 to more than $25,000,000. The law established a sinking fund for its payment, and imposed an annual tax to be sacredly applied to that purpose.

II. For the next four years the democrats had control of the financial administration, and ought, under the law, to have paid about $12,000,000 of the debt; but instead of doing so, they robbed the sinking funds in order to make up excessive and extragagant appropriations, and so paid off only $5,000,000 of the debt.

III. For the four succeeding years, the republicans, having the same control of the financial administration, made up the democratic deficiency, and provided for paying $19,500,000 of the debt—thus paying nearly four times as much as the democrats in the same length of time.

IV. The republicans at the close of their financial administration left only $705,982 of the debt remaining to be paid, and so much less tax to raise.

V. In 1875 the tax levied to pay off the debt was $6,337,567; in 1876, it is only $822,089; and, therefore, the reduction of tax from the reduction of debt is $5,515,478.

VI. The total reduction of tax this year is $5,677,505—a sum almost identical with the reduction for debt purposes. Counting in an excess from last year, applicable to this year, there would be hardly any difference.

VII. If we make the comparison with 1874 the only change to note is that in that year there was a tax for extraordinary repairs which has been cut off since by a Constitutional amendment passed in 1874, before Governor Tilden came into office.

VIII. The only reduction in the tax is in that part of the tax levied for debt payments, over which the Governor has no control, or influence. The tax for the current running expenses of the government is substantially the same in 1876 as in 1874 and 1875.

IX. Finally, as absolutely proved by these facts, the tax is reduced simply and solely because the debt is paid off, and not because the running expenses are decreased; Republican Administration paid off the debt, and the claim that Gov. Tilden has produced this reduction of taxes is utterly without foundation.

New Hampshire Items.

Mrs. Mary W. Hill, wife of J. B. Hill, proprietor of the Massabesic House, Manchester, died suddenly Saturday night of heart disease, aged sixty-seven. Previous to her death she was in good health.

The right of redemption, subject to all claims, property of the Sturtevant Man'g Co., of Lebanon, was sold by order of the U. S. Dist. Court on Saturday, for $300, by the holders of the heaviest mortgage on the concern. The liabilities on the property amount to over $76,000. The works will in the future be run by the new owners, who are responsible parties.

The United States Circuit Court will begin an adjourned session at Exeter at 12 o'clock to-day, Judge Clark presiding.

On Saturday evening the engine Bellows Falls, of the Cheshire Railroad, while "running wild," met a freight train five miles west of Keene, and a smash-up resulted. The engine of the freight train was completely wrecked, and the engineer and fireman killed. No other person was seriously injured, and the "wild" engine and the freight cars were but little damaged. The engineer of the wild engine was to blame.

The Western New Hampshire Poultry and Pet Stock Association will hold its annual meeting at Keene, Nov. 9.

Attempts were made to burn Joseph Perry's house and David Batchelder's barn at Laconia, Friday night. Both were extinguished without damage. The Selectmen have offered $1000 reward for the detection of the incendiaries.

Collins Brothers, woollen manufacturers, of Harrisville, will probably suspend operations in the course of a few weeks. They are desirous of manufacturing wide goods, and the machinery of this mill does not admit of it; consequently they will remove before their lease expires.

A fire in Mullin's block, Nashua, Saturday night, damaged the building $100; damage to G. F. Allen & Co., in the bedding and batting business, about $50.

Political.

The Albany Times, democratic, published where Mr. Tilden passes his official life suggests: "A thorough investigation of the census bureau in Albany, within a stone's throw of the executive chamber, would discover some sweet specimens of 'reform'—such reform as Tildenism begets and has Bigelow and Dorsheimer for its apostles. One of the first things the next legislature should do is to appoint a committee with power to send for persons and papers and ascertain whether any incompetent and improper persons have been employed, and how many have drawn salaries when doing no work, in the census bureau. And this, irrespective of politics; for the giving of places to Tilden republicans in preference to democrats is merely a party matter with which the legislature can not be expected to concern itself."

Rev. Robert Poindexter, colored Tildenite of Louisiana, who has been stumping that State for Nicholls, Tilden and reform, to the great admiration of the democratic press North and South, was recently furnished with $400 with which to buy up the registration papers of colored republicans so that they could not vote for Hayes and Wheeler; but even the honor of being a "reform" orator, and the pure bliss of being referred to in the democratic papers as "the prominent colored cleygyman," did not suffice to overcome "the root of all evil" in his heart, and he has scooted with the $400, leaving the widowed democracy of Louisiana to mourn.

PILOT BREAD.

This kind of bread having come into extensive family use, it has been my purpose to furnish, from choice materials, an article which should meet the approval of the most fastidious as to neatness, looks and taste. Whether I have succeeded in giving to the public a PILOT BREAD,

SUPERIOR IN EXCELLENCE,

the consumer may be the judge; that the quality will not be suffered to depreciate, the past with the present is my best pledge. That I can compete with all the various qualities of Pilot Bread in the market, as to price, I make no pretensions,—but in price, all things being equal, I fear no competition.

JOHN PEARSON, Jr.,

POLICE COURT.

THE GRANGERS.

Eds. Chronicle;—The rapid and immense growth of this new Order seems strange to the outside world, but not so to the initiated, especially when it is borne in mind that the farming interest exceeds all others combined in importance, and that this is the first Order that admits women to full equality with men.

At the Centennial, few things were shown more wonderful, and to me none more interesting, than the steady and triumphant progress of the Grange movement. At the great headquarters of the Order, at Elm station, three miles from Philadelphia, where an immense temporary hotel was built, to accommodate no less than 4000 guests, with plain farmer's fare, about 100,000 grangers and farmers from all parts of the country have found a pleasant and cheap home during the great exhibition. Although built in the coarsest, cheapest manner, the great extent of the Encampment, as it is called, or barracks, made it cost about $80,000 to erect. The design was not to make money, but to furnish a good and cheap stopping place for farmers and others visiting the Centennial.

Here a score or more of the Portsmouth party found acceptable quarters, with hundreds from other parts of New Hampshire. Grange meetings were held nearly every evening, with attendants on one occasion from eighteen different States and from Canada!

It was also announced that during the past summer the first Granges have been authorized and organized in England; and last week the ritual was translated into the French language, and one of the members of the French agricultural commission to the Centennial was, at his own urgent request, commissioned as Deputy to organize new Granges in France. So that ere long this newest and greatest Order of all, will complete the circuit of the civilized world.

It was likewise stated that the growth of the Grange shows no abatement in this country, as more new Granges were chartered during the last quarter than in any previous one. And yet certain of the "world's" papers—notably the Boston Journal—are occasionally, and not seldom, in the habit of announcing that the Grange is declining, or losing power as a political organization, etc. Not as it knows of—though partisan politics and sectarian religion are as strictly tabooed in the Grange as in Franklin's junto or a Free Mason's Lodge.

In New Hampshire there are about 4000 members of the Order, of which Portsmouth Grange has on its roll more than 100, and is steadily growing and prospering. Good, so—and let us have peace, in this centennial year.

In the words of our Order, I am yours truly, in Faith, Hope, Charity and Fidelity,

ONE OF 'EM.

JOTTINGS.

Big time to-day. Field day of local military, U. S. marines and Dover company, including march to the Plains and review there, and dress parade on Market Square. Grand democratic turn-out in the evening.

His Honor Mayor Broughton has issued invitations for a complimentary levee and dinner at the Rockingham House to-day, tendered to His Excellency the Governor of New Hampshire.

The field-day exercises set for to-day will not be postponed for anything short of an absolute rainstorm—fog won't stop 'em.

Henry F. Wendell, Esq., President of the Tilden Reform Club, is to have charge of all public demonstrations and political meetings and is to act as chief marshal during the campaign. The die-hards have won in the contest with the new dealers, after all.

Mrs. Weeks, a widow lady of Kittery, residing at the Point, committed suicide on Sunday by cutting her throat with a razor, dying almost instantly. Her husband died about a year ago, since which time she has been very much depressed, her health also having been impaired by her constant attention upon him during his sickness. She is spoken of by her neighbors as a most estimable lady.

Charles Cottle, stable keeper of Kittery, lost a valuable horse on Sunday night through his getting cast in his stall.

The opposition in Dover to lending any further aid to the Portsmouth & Dover railroad is stronger than in this city, it is reported, and a meeting for the free expression of opinions is to be held.

The Portsmouth Light Artillery have arranged for a course of assemblies, to be held in Mechanics' Hall, the first of the course to take place on Wednesday evening of this week. Tickets fifty cents each. The floor directors will appear in uniform at each assembly, and all that could be thought of has been done to secure a pleasant time for those attending.

Mr. Thomas K. Shannon was appointed to teach the school at Gravelly Ridge for the winter term, by the school committee on Saturday evening.

Rev. James DeNormandie will lecture on Sunday evening next, upon The Religious Lessons of the Centennial.

News and Notes.

The President, at the written request of Gov. Tilden, has given instructions that no person shall be allowed to communicate with Boss Tweed on the arrival of the U. S. S. Franklin in New York harbor, but that he shall be delivered directly into the hands of the State authorities, unquestioned and uninterviewed. The Cincinnati Enquirer and other democratic papers West and South have been publishing editorials from the Tilden Bureau warning the democracy to place no faith in any "exposures" of Tilden by Tweed. Is the great "reformer" afraid of his former associate? There is a good deal of smoke, whether there is any fire or not.

Alexander Sullivan, Secretary of the Board of Public Works of Chicago, was on trial last week for the murder in August last of Francis Hanford, a school teacher of that city, by shooting him.

The Franklin, with her precious cargo of democratic "reform," Boss Tweed, arrived at New York on Monday. Even workmen were excluded from the navy yard as soon as the Franklin arrived.

Quimbo Appo, a Chinese gambler, who killed his wife and two men fifteen years ago, had a row with one John A. Kelley, a big, powerful bully, shortly after midnight on Friday, and fatally stabbed him, in New York. The murderer, who is a desperate character, was arrested.

"Dr." David R. Brown, a Boston abortionist, is to be sentenced for two offences committed in 1874, his trial having been dragging along ever since that date.

William Dygert of Ilion, N. Y., who had been separated from his wife for some time, called at her residence Saturday night and shot her, the bullet entering just over the left eye.

Homer Hayne, twelve years of age, shot an old lady sixty-five years of age in Yates City, Ill., Saturday. The wound is in the abdomen and will prove fatal.

Reeves and Cole, the Bennington, Vt., bandits who were recently arrested for blowing up and burning buildings a year ago, have been lodged in State Prison for safe keeping, having nearly escaped from jail Saturday night.

The whaling fleet has met with another disaster, somewhat similar to the one by which twenty-nine ships were lost some five or six years ago. The Arctic fleet was surrounded by ice near Point Barrow, several of the vessels crushed and others (to the number of twelve in all) abandoned. Most of the officers and men of the wrecked vessels have reached Honolulu and San Francisco; others remained behind, hoping to save some of the ships, but will more probably lose their own lives; and several men were drowned or frozen at the time of the abandonment. The names of the vessels are given as the ships Onward and Clara Bell of San Francisco; ships St. George and Marengo and barques Cornelius Howland, James Allen and Java of New Bedford; ship Camilla, and barques Josephine and Acors Barnes of New London; and barques Desmoff and Arctic of Honolulu. The vessels had on board 1500 barrels of sperm oil and a considerable quantity of whale oil, walrus ivory, hides, etc. The total loss is about $500,000, exclusive of oil, etc., taken. About fifty men remained on board the captive ships, not daring to face the hardships of a journey over the ice-pack.

A boy named Charles Plummer accidently shot himself through the hand at Saco, Me., Friday.

In Thomaston, Me., last week 700, bushels of apples were sold at auction for $10, or a little less than one and a half cents a bushel.

Osmer Henin, an old citizen of Terryville, Conn., was thrown from a wagon and instantly killed by a frightened horse, Thursday afternoon.

—A long, lean, lantern-jawed chap, with a slouch hat and squeaking voice, entered a saloon and said: "Gentlemen, how many of you will drink at my expense?" "I will!" was repeated by the crowd in chorus. "This proves to you, gentlemen," continued he, putting down a nickle for his own beer, "how little can be depended on first expressions. You love me now, filled with the anticipation of a good square drink. Your anticipations will be blasted, and then you will hate me. Let this be a great moral lesson to you!"

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity for a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges.

Daily Chronicle.

—An "Enoch Arden" case recently happened in Michigan, but with an unromantic denouement. Eighteen years ago one McDonald left his family in that State and sought his fortune in California. On returning recently, he found his wife keeping house comfortably as Mrs. Munsell. The wanderer made himself known, whereupon Mrs. McDonald-Munsell went into hysterics, upon recovering from which her first question was: "What is to become of Mr. Munsell?" "Why, I shall leave him alone," quoth the degenerate Enoch; "I was married myself a little over seventeen years ago."

Emaciation a Remediable Defect.

Leanness not only detracts from personal comeliness, but is an index that the blood is deficient in nutritive properties. To remedy emaciation, enrich and purify the blood, which will then develop healthy flesh. This object is most readily attained through the agency of the great blood fertilizer and depurent, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which enables the stomach to extract from the food taken into it ample nourishment for the system, removes all obstacles to complete digestion and assimilation, and by stimulating the kidneys to vigorous action, incites those organs to strain from the vital fluid in its passage through them impurities which would otherwise impair its flesh creating qualities. Not only do the Bitters promote the development of solid fiber, but they also increase muscular power and elasticity, overcome nervousness, banish mental depression, and protect the system against disease.

The Only Remedy.

Those who suffer from foul breath are open to the charge of carelessness. It is an offence that can be specially abated, as a single bottle of the fragrant SOZODONT will unmistakably accomplish the work. No toilet table should be without it. It will preserve and keep the teeth white, and the breath pure and sweet.

Spaulding's Glue, who would be without it?

Let that cough continue and die of consumption or be cured by Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam. Free sample bottles at all the drug stores.

TO AVOID THE DANGER OF INFECTION, the linen of persons suffering from skin diseases of a contagious nature should be washed with GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, which is not only a remedy but a Disinfectant.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot. dawtf277

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 23, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of your Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled for twenty years with Rheumatism more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing of them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been an free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most incessantly. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The improvement here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed find one dollar; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 22, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England;

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the omen of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

— USE —

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP!

For Children Teething, greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is Sure to Regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY and DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief it will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a centrated British recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the United States and Canada.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc., and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

Men We Don't Want to Meet.

The man who grunts and gasps as he gobbles up his soup, and at every other mouthful seems threatened with a choking fit.

The man who, having by an accident been thrown once in your company, makes bold to bawl your name out, and to shake your hand profusely when you pass him in the street.

The man who, pleading old school-fellowship, which you have quite forgotten, never meets you without trying to extort a five pound note.

The man who volunteers his criticism on your new play or picture and points out its worse faults in presence of your wife.

The man who artfully provokes you to play a game of billiards with him, and though he feigns to be a novice, produces his own chalk.

The man who can't sit at your table on any set occasion without getting on his legs to propose some stupid toast.

The man who, thinking you are musical, bores you with his actions of the music of the future, of which you know as little as the music of the spheres.

The man who wears a white hat in winter, and smokes a pipe when walking, and accosts you as "old fellow" just as you are hoping to make a good impression on some well-dressed lady friend.

The man who, with a look of urgent business, when you are in a hurry, takes you by the button-hole to tell you a bad joke.

The man who, sitting just behind you at the opera, destroyes all your enjoyment by humming all the airs.

The man who makes remarks on your personal adornment, asks you where you buy your waistcoats and what you paid for your dress boots.

The man who lards his talk with little scraps of French and German after his return from a continental tour.

The man who spoils your pleasure in seeing a new play by applauding in wrong places and muttering in stage whispers his comments on the plot.

And, to finish with, the man who, when you draw back slightly to appreciate a picture, coolly comes and stands in front of you, and then receding, also treads upon your toes.—Punch.

SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,

SUCCESSOR TO

Dr. TELLER,

DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find medically furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—200 pages—full of plates,—price $2 in one. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichol's Hollas Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Motte's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

"Honest money for all, and free schools for all. There should be no inflation which will depreciate the one, nor sectarian interference which will destroy the other."

Tilden Encourages His Followers.

One of the last letters from Tilden's "Literary Bureau" for furnishing correspondence and original editorials" to the democratic papers free of cost and trouble, commences as follows:

With Indiana and West Virginia rescued from republican control, and Ohio so nearly democratic that we have fair hope that she will vote for Tilden and Hendricks in November, defeat is no longer possible. We lost Ohio by half of one per cent., and solely on the temperance issue.

"Indiana and West Virginia rescued from republican control!" That is not a bad exhibition of cheek, even for Tilden. West Virginia has not gone republican since 1868; Even in the Greeley year, when so many democrats refused to vote, West Virginia gave the democratic candidates 3000 majority, and in 1864 it gave 9000 democratic majority. How much it was "rescued from republican control" by the regular democratic victory this year we cannot figure out.

Then the way Indiana was "rescued from republican control" is not discouraging to the republicans. Indiana's Governor and State officers have been democratic for four years, the legislature has been heavily democratic; and the democrats have had eight Congressmen out of thirteen sine 1874. At the late election the Tildenites "rescued" the State "from republican control" by losing the legislature and four Congressmen, and more than two-thirds of their majority on the State ticket!

But the coolest assertion of all is that the democrats "lost Ohio solely on the temperance issue!" when that issue was what they mainly depended on to defeat the republicans, and when they worked it so well as to cause Mr. Barnes, the republican candidate for Secretary of State, to run 3000 behind his ticket on account of his ultra temperance principles.

Extracting sunbeams from cucumbers would be an easy job to do, for the man who can make democratic victories out of the Ohio and Indiana elections, and show that the latter State was "rescued from republican control" by the democratic loss of the legislature and four Congressmen. Sammy is "whistling aloud to bear his courage up," and to keep his followers from slumping altogether.

News and Notes.

A financial crisis is threatened in Russia.

On Saturday ex-Sheriff Low of Louisiana while on his way home from Brastrop, Moorehouse Parish, was shot and mortally wounded.

A petition was filed Saturday in the Circuit Court of Chicago by the Atlantic & Pacific Telegraph Company against the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad to be allowed to construct a telegraph line along the railroad track. The Company states that it owns and operates lines of telegraph in Illinois and Iowa and along the Union and Central Pacific Railroad to San Francisco, and in case of interruption all telegraph intercourse would be delayed till breaks could be repaired.

Thomas Platt and his wife Ellen, of Boston, got drunk Monday night and had a fight, during which the woman broke her lord's head with a poker, inflicting probably fatal wounds. The same night a drunken Italian was stabbed on Commercial street, and is not expected to live; it is supposed he was stabbed by a crowd of roughs, for fun. Another man was picked up in Bulfinch street, having been clubbed about the head until he was insensible; but he gives no account of himself or how he got hurt.

The war in Servia still goes on, the Turks having gained some important advantages over the Servians, and the Montenegrins having taken at least one Turkish fortress. Roumania is said to be intending to declare independence of Turkey. The Servian losses in the recent battles amounted to 3500 men. What the other great powers mean to do is hard to divine, but Russia seems determined to have a piece of Turkey, and Turkey seems bound to fight it out no matter what comes.

Schooner October, bound from Wiscasset to Gloucester with lumber, went ashore on Milk island, near Cape Ann, in a fog, and was totally lost. Crew saved.

Schooner Hannah Clark, of Ipswich, Mass., has been abandoned in a sinking condition, at sea. The crew were taken off by brig Golconda, of Boston.

Brig Almira, Capt. Pendleton, sailed from Portland on Sunday, Oct. 14, and was wrecked the same night, the crew, five in number, taking refuge on a hastily constructed raft, on which they remained until the 21st, when the mate and cook were rescued by schooner G. F. Huntress, of Gloucester. One man jumped overboad and drowned himself just before the Huntress hove in sight, and the captain and a colored seaman had previously died, from exposure and starvation, their dead bodies remaining on the raft when it was discovered by the rescuers. The raft was fallen in with ninety miles northest of Highland Light.

The office of the State Registrar of Louisiana, at New Orleans, was entered Monday night by thieves; the clerk was asleep in a room; he was bucked and gagged and all the available documents carried out. A policeman who attempted to arrest the robbers was beaten nearly to death, and another officer, who came to the rescue, was assaulted with slung shots. The men with the documents dropped them and escaped.

An unknown man threw himself in front of a train on the New York & New England Railroad, near the Bird street crossing in Boston, Monday night, and was cut to pieces.

Lillibridge Barber, of Worcester, Mass., went to Webster to attend a political demonstration, drank freely, displayed his watch and money in drinking saloons, and was brutally murdered in the evening.

Fishing schooner Barracouta, Capt. Newbury, from Georges for Gloucester, fell in with the wreck of schooner Ocean Ranger ninety miles from Thatcher's Island, and towed her into Gloucester. The Ocean Ranger was bound from Bangor for New York with lumber, and was abondoned off Boon island by her crew, who were taken into Boston by schooner Witchcraft.

General Ruger, at Columbia, S. C., reports to the War Office that everything is quiet throughout that State. The General says he does not anticipate any trouble of a serious nature. The presence of the military now distributed throughout the State seems to have the effect of deterring both parties from making disturbances.

New Hampshire Items.

The republican canvass is getting lively enough now, in the interior of the State. Nashua had the biggest torch-light demonstration ever seen in that city, Monday evening; notwithstanding the rain there were 1500 torches in line. Saturday night the republicans of Bristol had a torch-light procession and meeting. At Newmarket, Saturday afternoon, a Hayes and Wheeler flag was raised, and a large audience assembled in the town hall to listen to speeches by Hon. E. H. Rollins, Hon. S. M. Wheeler and others. The republicans of Manchester are preparing for a monster demonstration on November 1st, and for three mass meetings. The democratic "still-hunt" is played out in New Hampshire.

The late F. O. G. Smith, of Portland, left $10,000 to the New Hampshire Historical Society, and a like sum to Phillips Academy at Exeter.

The Norway Plains Mills are nearly all shut down for lack of water, the reservoir that feeds the Cocheco River being dry, and the river unprecedentedly low for this season of the year.

The corporation of the Manchester and Keene Railroad has taken the direction of the work of construction, and everything looks fair for a completion, within sixty days, of eight miles of the road, extending from the terminus of the Peterboro Railroad in Greenfield through the town of Bennington to Hancock.

Political.

Judge Abbot positively declines the democratic nomination in the Fourth Congressional District of Massachusetts. He don't want to be run out of sight by Mr. Frost, after having once been fraudulently given that gentleman's seat in Congress.

The South Carolina correspondent of the New York Times says that every one of the democratic candidates on the State, Congressional and County tickets were in the rebel army and took part in the war to break up the Union.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says "The democratic Greenbackers should all vote for Tilden and Hendricks. There is nothing to be hoped for in the event of the election of Hayes." That is, by inflationists and soft-money men—their case is rather hopeless if Hayes is elected,

The howl about the use of the army in South Carolina is all hypocrisy. Every man in the country knows that the bayonet will not interfere with any man's right to vote in South Carolina or anywhere else in this country. The question between Tilden and Hayes has become one between the Confederate and the republican National forms of government. All who are in favor of the Southern Confederacy will vote for Tilden; those intelligently opposed to the extension of the Southern Confederacy over the whole nation will vote for Hayes. Cincinnati Commercial (Ind.)

The heavy registration of voters in the city of New York is taken by the opponents of Tilden as preliminary to a large fraudulent vote, such as was undoubtedly cast, or at least counted in 1868. The Brooklyn Argus, a democratic paper, but bitterly opposed to the election of Tilden, declares that "there are ample proofs that frauds similar to those upon the ballot-box in 1868 are to be repeated this fall." It says that the talk of Tilden men about carrying the city by 65,000 majority is intended to prepare the public mind for a result which is to be secured by fraud.

Ex-Senator Willard Warner of Alabama, who supported Greeley in 1872, and whose name is paraded in democratic newspapers as a supporter of Tilden, has written a strong letter in which he says: "I cannot doubt my duty. I see in the democratic party nearly all the elements which threaten danger to the highest interests of the whole country. In its success I see a great reaction which will endanger the results of the war and the prosperity of the country through the delay of the resumption of specie payments. The return of good will among the people, and the honest payment of the war debt are wanted, and I fear the revival of that fierce intolerance of spirit at the South which the Greeley campaign did so much to assuage. I know Gov. Hayes to be an honest and honorable man, of great firmness and soundness of judgment, and I have full faith that his administration will be marked by integrity and economy, and by a wise liberality and charity towards the people of the South. If the South is to be made solid for Tilden by the revolver and the club, then public safety demands that the North shall be solid against him."

—Mr. Lincoln heard a dispute between Robert, his oldest son, and "Tad," a small boy, very self-willed. "What is the matter?" said the father. "Tad is worrying because I want my knife," said Robert. "Oh! let him have the knife to keep him quiet," said the good Mr. Lincoln. But the practical Robert replied: "No, sir; it's my knife, and I need it to keep me quiet."

Emaciation a Remediable Defect.

Leanness not only detracts from personal comeliness, but is an index that the blood is deficient in nutritive properties. To remedy emaciation, enrich and purify the blood, which will then develop healthy flesh. This object is most readily attained through the agency of the great blood fertilizer and depurent, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which enables the stomach to extract from the food taken into it ample nourishment for the system, removes all obstacles to complete digestion and assimilation, and by stimulating the kidneys to vigorous action, incites those organs to strain from the vital fluid in its passage through them impurities which would otherwise impair its flesh creating qualities. Not only do the Bitters promote the development of solid fiber, but they also increase muscular power and elasticity, overcome nervousness, banish mental depression, and protect the system against disease.

The Only Remedy.

Those who suffer from foul breath are open to the charge of carelessness. It is an offence that can be speedily abated, as a single bottle of the fragrant SOZODONT will unmistakably accomplish the work. No toilet table should be without it. It will preserve and keep the teeth white, and the breath pure and sweet.

Spaulding's Glue, who would be without it?

Let that cough continue and die of consumption or be cured by Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam. Free sample bottles at all the drug stores.

TO AVOID THE DANGER OF INFECTION, the linen of persons suffering from skin diseases of a contagious nature should be washed with GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, which is not only a remedy but a disinfectant.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

POLICE COURT.

Tuesday, October 24th:

Sarah Noland, a married lady whose husband is assisting to carry on a large public establishment at Brentwood, to console herself for her spouse's absence attacked the agent that inveigled him away—the bottle. She might possibly have conquered the enemy had not the police interfered just as her courage was raised to the highest pitch of don't-care-ativeness, and taken her to the lockup. $11.04, fine and costs. Mrs. Noland also brawled and tumulted a little, and Judge Batchelder, thinking it a pity so well-matched a couple as the Nolands should be separated, sent the lady to assist her husband at the Brentwood public house for thirty days, and as much longer as $8.04 will pay her for stopping. The previous assessment added will probably entitle the fair Sarah to three months' board at the county's expense, in all.

TORCHLIGHT POLITICS.

The Tilden and Hendricks Torchlight Battalion, Lieut. Col. Frank W. Hilton commanding, had a parade Tuesday evening. The Battalion is composed of five companies, as follows, the number of torches in each company being as nearly correct as a count while the procession was passing enable us to give it:

Company A, Capt. J. Albert Sanborn, 45 torches. This is the company which more especially represents the conflict betweed the die-hard and the new-deal wings of the local democracy.

Company B, Capt. John S. Treat, 45 torches. This company represents the compromise between the new-dealers and the die-hards.

Company C, Lieut. Hall, 40 torches. This company represents the aristocracy, —very select,—the natural rulers of the democratic party.

Company D, Capt. Crowley, 50 torches. This company is composed of lads, and if they lived in one of the Tammany wards of New York would represent three or four times their number of votes for Tilden and reform; as they live in this city, they but represent democratic votes in the future; that is, if they don't reform and the democratic party don't go to pieces as soon as Tilden is defeated. [This Company was not out.]

Company E, Capt. Robinson, 90 torches. This company represents the breweries. In its ranks was borne aloft a huge shirt with its front stained crimson—"the bloody shirt." On it was: "Will be washed Nov. 7." People were divided in opinion as to what this big shirt was intended to signify. Some thought it was intended to show how a man's shirt is likely to look if he drinks large quantities of beer; others thought it a fac simile of the shirt worn by Rutherford B. Hayes the day a rebel bullet went crashing through his shoulder,—while Samuel J. Tilden was at home endeavoring to find out on how little income he could pay taxes, and forwarding treasonable documents to the army of the Potomac as a member of the Society for the Diffusion of Political Knowledge; and others again thought it was intended to imply that the reddening of republicans' shirts with their hearts' blood will cease at the South as soon as Hayes and Wheeler are elected, on November 7th. Whatever the meaning intended to be conveyed, it is certain the "bloody shirt" can only be cleansed by the election of Hayes, for dipping it deeper still in blood, as would most assuredly be done should Tilden succeed in electing himself, would not whiten it any.

The Chief Marshal of the procession was Henry F. Wendell, Esq., representing the final victory of the die-hards over the new-dealers. No one can truthfully say he is not a first-rate marshal, and we have no doubt he deserves his triumph over the new-deal secessionists who dared rebel against their old-time rulers.

The uniforms of the companies of men consist of white coats and helmets, trimmed with blue, and white leggings. The drummers, eight in number, have blue coats barred across the breast with white. The Company of boys are to have a Continental uniform—three-cornered hats, blue coats and yellow breeches,—but they did not arrive in time for this display.

The show was a fine one, though we think the effect of the red uniforms of the Hayes and Wheeler Guards, by torchlight, is better than that of the white ones of the democrats. The Portsmouth and Dover Bands made music, and there was a crowd on the streets during the passage of the procession, which formed on Market Square, and dismissed at the same place after a march around town. Probably 500 persons were in the procession, a large proportion of them voters.

The democratic papers boast that the republicans have no more money to use for election purposes, a state of affairs on which they seem to count a good deal. Whether the republicans have any money or not it is evident the democrats have plenty; and if we may be allowed an opinion we should say, judging from the unprecedented liberality shown in fitting out democratic clubs with uniforms in this city, that one of the great reformer's "barl's" must have been pointed in this direction when its head was knocked out.

"PUMP SHIP!"

The dry dock at the navy yard was hauled into the stream at high water on Tuesday, preparatory to taking up the contract-built sloop-of-war "Enterprise," to find out where the water gets into her, she leaking more than a new ship ought to do. Her lower masts were stepped last week, and her other spars put on board, settling her down in the water a little, and it is possible the leak may be in the seams just above what was her water-line during the long period she has been lying exposed to the weather, since she was launched. It is also possible her bottom was injured on the rocks at the time she was launched, as the naval officer who took charge as soon as she was afloat, instead of taking her round to her assigned berth at the wharf, as he aimed to do, managed to put her on the rocks, where she laid for one tide. And it is also possible that she wasn't half built in the first place, and is now tumbling to pieces; but the contractor's reputation as a ship-builder stands high. Whatever the cause, the ship leaks badly, and the hole or holes where the water gets in must be filled with putty before she will be fit to brave the battle or the big breeze.

THE FIELD DAY.

Tuesday, the day appointed for the "general muster" and review of the local military organizations, in which the marines stationed at the navy yard and the Dover Battery and Strafford Guards had been invited to take part, opened rather unpromisingly, the sky wearing a threatening look and the streets being generously muddy from the rain of the preceding night. But the barometer, which promised nor'westerly weather, did not lie much about it, and before noon a broad strip of blue sky in the West indicated a pleasant afternoon, the sun coming out soon after twelve o'clock.

Gov. Cheney and Adjutant General Cross arrived on the 10:15 A. M. train over the Concord Railroad, and proceeded to the Rockingham House, where there was a complimentary levee (tendered the Governor by Mayor Broughton) at 11 o'clock, and a dinner, served at 12 o'clock.

At half past twelve o'clock the Heavy Artillery, with the Dover band, proceeded down Daniel street to the navy yard landing to receive the U. S. Marines, and escorted them to their assigned position on the right of the line. At quarter past one the battalion moved, in the following order, the Dover companies not having put in an appearance:

Platoon of Police.
Dover Cornet Band.
Marine Drum Corps.
Company U. S. Marines,
Capt. Geo. B. Haycock, U. S. M. C., comd'g.
Portsmouth City Guards,
Lieut. James Ford, comd'g.
Portsmouth Heavy Artillery.
Capt. Frank Williams, comd'g.
2d Lieut. Shirley Cunningham.
Portsmouth Light Artillery,
Lieut. W. O. Sides, comd'g.
2d Lieut. C. W. Gardner.
Portsmouth Cavalry,
Capt. Elbridge G. Pierce, Jr., comd'g.
1st Lieut. M. T. Betton.
2d Lieut. E. D. Coffin.

Behind the military, on horse-back, were Governor Cheney, Adjutant General Cross, and Col. Jerome C. Butler of the Governor's staff. Following them came two carriages, one containing Ex-Gov. Goodwin, Mayor Broughton, Hon. Marcellus Bufford and Hon. Daniel Marcy, the other being occupied by Hon. Moses H. Goodrich, Hon. John H. Bailey, Samuel Adams, Esq., and Rev. W. H. Alden.

The field officers were as follows: Capt. J. H. Higbee, U. S. Marine Corps, colonel commanding; Capt. Jacob Haddock, Portsmouth City Guards, lieut. col.; Capt. Thos. E. O. Marvin, Portsmouth Light Artillery, major; Lieut. David Whipple, U. S. Marine Corps, adjutant. The field officers and staff were mounted. The Heavy Artillery carried the colors.

The battalion marched by way of Pleasant, State and Middle streets to the Plains, where it was reviewed by Gov. Cheney and Adjutant General Cross.

Large numbers of people collected on Market square and the adjacent streets while the military were gathering, and notwithstanding the muddy condition of the road many accompanied the procession to the Plains on foot, while the excursion teams were packed with passengers and private conveyances were numerous. There was a throng of spectators at the Plains to witness the review, though there was room enough for all,—the Plains would hardly be crowded were the entire population of the city to gather there.

The show at the Plains was magnificent, and the large assemblage of citizens in carriages and on foot brought to mind the good old "training day" when the same spot was the arena of military glory. The only feature that particularly marked those old time occasions but was absent on this one was the long row of gingerbread and beer stands that was such an attraction to the boys whose early presence on the ground was only equalled by the lingering manner in which they took their departure at night. But the parade of Tuesday was short and sweet. The column arrived at the Plains about half-past two, each company marching on to the field separately and in different directions. A salute of seventeen guns was fired in honor of the arrival of the Governor and staff, after which the line was formed and the column marched in review by platoons, making a circle of the Plains. Coming again into line the usual salutes were exchanged, after which the column moved off by fours into town by the way of Islington road. Going out and coming in, while marching through the outskirts of the town the "route step" was taken, and the march was a very pleasant one,—and everything was orderly and quiet, in pleasing contrast to those days of yore, when the return from a "general muster" was characterized by orchard-robbing and promiscuous marauding, the expression of rum and rowdyism. The mud, on this occasion, was abundant, though greatly preferable to a dust, and not half so bad out of town as in it, the Plains and immediate vicinity being quite dry.

The dress parade on Market Square was very handsomely done and the line looked beautifully. The cavalry with its neat uniforms, together with the manner in which the members acquitted themselves, gave a very fine effect to the column, and made a favorable impression the Governor.

After the parade was over the Cavalry escorted the Governor and Adjutant General to the Rockingham House.

JOTTINGS.

The Boston Journal says: "We hear that the Eastern Railroad has declined to renew its notes secured by the ten-year coupon notes, the trustees under the mortgage claiming that by the recent act of the Legislature such notes are to be exchanged for certificates of indebtedness. It is probable that by assent of all parties the legal questions involved will be submitted to the Supreme Court in November."

Daily Chronicle.

—It was on a Broadway car, relates the N. Y. Herald. A gentleman from the rural district and his wife. As the car passed along they admired the sights in the bustling streets, and he compared them with those to be seen "to hum." As the car approached Twentieth street the wife became nervous, and when that street was reached clutched the conductor and asked if Lord & Taylor's was near there. "Yes," said the conductor. "Well, I am going there to buy a few things and won't be gone more than five minutes, will you wait?" "I will be back sure in a few moments—" "I cannot stop, madam, must go right along," said the conductor. Amid the looks of amazement from the passengers, the wife, turning to her companion, said: "Well, Jake, there's no use wasting two fares; so you keep right on, and I will come up as soon as I get through." With an utter contempt for the smiles of her travelling companions, she left, and the car rattled on with Jake.

—A Sheriff's officer was once asked to execute a writ against a Quaker. On arriving at his house, he saw the Quaker's wife, who, in reply to the inquiry whether her husband was at home, said he was; at the same time requesting him to be seated, and her husband would speedily see him. The officer waited patiently for some time, when, the fair Quakeress coming into the room, he reminded her of her promise that he might see her husband. "Nay, friend; I promised that he would see thee. He has seen thee. He did not like thy looks; therefore, he avoided thee, and hath departed from the house by another path."

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. I have not taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to your magic for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you my testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten weeks, and have been drawing and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, as that was the only chance for relief for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

TROS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Nervous Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me five packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL:

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Believe Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lungs trying climate of New England,

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy elief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted, BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

— USE —

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

THE REFORMERS' PARADE.

Did you see the bold tide
Of the unterrified
All tricked out in their symbolic white,—
A spontaneous storm
For Sam T. and reform, night?
As they marched through our streets, Tuesday

To show his true manner,
Aloft on a banner,
Sam, the ring-breaker, proudly was shown!
Then to hint to his kind
That he kept them in mind,
Sammy smirked in a ring of his own.

With unsteady paces,—
Reform in their faces,—
Came those saints of F. J.'s in a row,
Bearing high overhead
A shirt dirty and red,
Over those more uncleanly below.

Then came an ex-Judge
Who still owes us a grudge,
With no Yankee near but Yank Adams;
Then Albert R. Sin;
Next, a man who sells gin;
The rest were McGuffs and McFadams.

From reformers like these Will some Diogenes
Come along and throw light on the pate
Of a real honest man,
From a like motley clan,
Who'll correct the abuses of State!

R.

A Hero in Want.

Albany de Fonblanque, the British Consul at New Orleans, writes as follows to the Republican of that city:

On the 7th of October, 1859, the British steamship Connaught, 4000 tons, sprung a leak which gained upon her so rapidly that by the next morning the water had extinguished her engine fires, leaving her a coffin for 601 human beings, sinking slowly but surely in a heavy sea. In this condition, and while 150 miles from Boston Harbor, fire (which had been smouldering for some days unknown) burst out, and doubled the chances for death. She was an iron ship, and soon her sides became so hot that they hissed and steamed as she rolled, deeper and deeper. There was a race between fire and water for all, and those lives do the best they could the boats would not be able to save a third of them from one death or the other. The American brig Minnie Schnefer, 198 tons, Captain John Wilson, saw the blazing, sinking steamer, and bore down to her assistance. So slow and difficult was the labor of getting the passengers into and out of the boats that only 200 could be transferred to the brig before sundown. Then John Wilson said: "It is a horrible thing to see the sun going down, and so many people yet on board the wreck, settling down and burning up. I will do all in my power to save them." He nobly kept his word. As good a sailor as he was a man, he came down to the leeward of the wreck, made fast to her, and before midnight the last man on her deck—the captain—had passed into the brig safely. Try to picture it. A great ocean steamer, with water pouring in from without to fill her up and fire roaring within to burn her down; over 400 lives in the balance. Any lurch she made might have been her last, and if she had rolled over and sunk—what hope for the little brig? She did not sink just then. John Wilson left her, a sheet of flame, and landed his priceless cargo safe at a "generous Boston." In recognition of his courage, humanity and good seamanship the British Government gave him a gold watch and chain. The company to which the Connaught belonged presented him with $1500; Boston added a silver service and medals; testimonials and subscriptions in plenty came in. Nor were his crew forgotten in the general enthusiasm. Then came the war. Some sums granted to him were withheld; property in which he had invested his money was captured or destroyed. By which side? When I state that he is now sixty-four years of age, is disabled by failing eyesight from following his profession; that his wife is a confirmed invalid; that all his testimonial gifts have been sold or left in pledge for bread, and that this once self-reliant and always brave and true man is utterly destitute—is it worth while to ask? When he made fast to the burning Connaught he said nothing about politics. Humanity has no politics. Shall we not paraphrase his own words, and say: "This is a horrible affair, to see the sun going down upon the wreck with so much good yet on board. We will do all in our power to help him." Before I make an appeal abroad for this afflicted hero it is only fair that his countrymen should be given the opportunity—I may almost say the privilege—of assisting him. His residence is No. 340 Franklin street, New Orleans, and subscriptions may be sent to Mrs. Hill, No. 306 Baronne street; Mr. Creevy, corner of Union and Carondelet streets, or to your obedient servant, A. DE FONBLANQUE.

Daily Chronicle.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1876.

FOR PRESIDENT,

Rutherford B. Hayes,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

William A. Wheeler,

OF NEW YORK.

Hayes' Platform in War.

In 1864, when Hayes was in the army, being nominated for Congress he was requested to come home and stump his district. His reply was, "I have other business just now. Any man who would leave the army at this time to electioneer for Congress ought to be scalped!"

Hayes' Platform in Peace.

"Honest money for all, and free schools for all. There should be no inflation which will depreciate the one, nor sectarian interference which will destroy the other."

Tilden and the National Credit.

The New York Tribune some days ago published a statement that the syndicate engaged in funding the new four and a half per cent. loan declined trying to do anything more until after the Presidential election, as British and German capitalists did not care to run the risk of losing money in case Tilden should be elected and the ex-rebel party restored to power. August Belmont promptly came out with a card denying this statement, on which the Tribune's Washington correspondent says:

"In spite of the emphatic statements by August Belmont and others, letters have been received here from London, saying that the Syndicate will not make any effort to do anything in connection with funding American securities beyond what the contract compels them, until the question of the Presidential election is settled, and in case Gov. Tilden is elected, that they do not believe it would be possible to make any additional steps successful. Not only have such advices been received here from London, but it is also known that similar letters have reached persons representing certain syndicate interests in New York. Further than this, since Mr. Belmont's letter appeared emphatic statements from persons authorized to speak on the subject have been received here affirming its incorrectness. The publicity thus given to this complexion of the Presidential question has excited the democrats here more than anything which has appeared during the campaign, and the whole machinery under the control of that party has been set actively at work to deny the charge made."

Tilden and Rebel Claims.

At the last session of Congress a bill was introduced into the House of Representatives and now awaits action, providing for the payment of claims for damages done by the Union armies without regard to the loyalty or disloyalty of the claimants, and that a claimant's oath and the testimony of "any reputable citizen" shall be sufficient to establish a claim. The publication of this bill in the republican papers, with a list of claims already filed, to an amount exceeding the National debt by $400,000,000, has very naturally created a good deal of dismay in the ranks of the democrats of the North. We will give a couple of cases which would have been paid, under the provisions of the bill above referred to:

James P. Levy, of Wilmington, N. C., (brother of Commodore Levy of the United States navy,) put in a claim for $10,000. He swore to his loyalty; but in the rebel archives were found letters from him to the Confederate government—one asking to have his brother's estate in North Carolina confiscated to his use, to pay the Commodore for his loyalty, another offering to fit out and run a blockade-runner on certain conditions, another offering to burn New York with Greek fire, etc. He didn't get his money. But under the provisions of the bill introduced by Mr. Riddle, of Tennessee, Levy would are got his money, for his disloyalty would have been no bar, and he swore, and had more than one witness ready to swear, to his loss.

Wiley J. Davis, of Bolivar, Tenn., wanted $25,458.18, and under Riddle's bill would have got it, for he swore and others swore that stores to that amount were taken from him.—all that Riddle's bill requires to establish a claim. They also swore that Davis was loyal; but the government showed that not only was he a rebel but that he never had any stores taken as alleged.

These are but samples of the style of claims now pending in Congress, to the amount of thousands of millions of dollars! And these claims the South confidently expects will be paid in case of a National democratic victory. This claim business has been well ventilated by the republican press, and Tilden finds it so damaging that he has been compelled to write an open letter asserting that if elected President he will veto any bill coming before him providing for the payment of claims of disloyal persons. God, as far as it goes; but a more absolutely certain way to secure the National Treasury against such a rebel raid will be to elect Hayes and Wheeler, and a republican House; then no such bills will ever reach a Presidential veto. for they will never pass the House!

By the way, how comes it that nobody has thought of asking Gen. Rutherford B. Hayes what he will do should he be elected President and a bill for the payment of rebel claims come before him?

By the way again, isn't it funny that the great "reformer" can write a letter so promptly, over his own signature, and speak so squarely, as to what he will do in the future, when it took him so many weeks to get his law-clerk to write over his signature such a feeble and pettifogging explanation of the income-tax business?

The South Carolina Troubles.

The army is in its very nature unpartisan. It is the servant of the Nation, not of a party; and when detachments of soldiers were ordered to South Carolina to assist in keeping the peace—in accordance with the Constitutional provision that the Nation when called on shall assist any State in repressing internal disturbances which the State cannot repress—they had nothing to do but to obey; just as the soldiers sent to Kansas by James Buchanan to cram slavery down the throats of free-State men, and to disperse a legally-elected State legislature at the point of the bayonet, had no alternative but to obey.

When the recent orders were first issued, the democratic papers were filled with assertions that that the business of protecting colored republicans from the violence of white democrats in South Carolina was distasteful in the last degree to the army, and that bitter complaints were made by the officers who were ordered to that State with their commands, from which it is evident no undue favoritism to the republicans is likely to be found among them. Gen. Ruger, commanding that department, is a Southerner, and has been publicly thanked by the democratic authorities of Tennessee and Arkansas for his just and liberal administration of military affairs in those States; so he is not likely to be a very oppressive "military satrap,"—as the democrats are fond of calling army officers sent into Southern States,—in South Carolina.

The following report, therefore, will be of interest to those who credit the democratic assertions that there is and has been no violence by the South Carolina democracy toward the blacks,—that all the stories of massacres are but a "waving of the bloody shirt,"—this report coming from Capt. Thomas J. Lloyd, of the 18th infantry, endorsed by Gen. Ruger, to the Secretary of War, through the regular military channels,—in fact, being simply a regular official report. Capt. Lloyd reports that he left Aiken, S. C., at 10:30 P. M., and marched twenty miles to Rouse's Bridge, where it was reported "Butler's Cavalry" was operating, arriving there at 9:30 o'clock the next forenoon. He further says:

"Seven miles from Aiken we were challenged by a detachment of some fifteen or twenty men on the road, mounted and armed, and apparently organized as a regular company of cavalry. There were other men secreted in a barn near the road. In questioning the man who had charge of the party he stated he had been within a few miles of Rouse's bridge and found the road picketed and there had been some skirmishing, and that he had orders to report there in the morning. On arriving at Rouse's bridge we found a body of about one hundred negroes, some of them armed with old patterned muskets and shot-guns. They were very much excited and seemed to possess no organization. * *

A short time after a body of some 320 white men, all mounted and well armed, and under command of one A. P. Butler, were seen coming up the road from the direction in which the negroes had been fired upon. Lieut Hinton and myself went down the road to meet them, and on approaching the party found that they had thrown out a skirmish line in the woods, almost surrounding the negroes, while the main body marched up to the road. As soon as we were recognized as United States officers we heard the command given to the skirmishers to halt by a man who rode in the woods, evidently to give the skirmish line information of our presence. There was undoubted evidence of a well digested plan of attack, which, if carried out, would have resulted in the slaughter of nearly all the negroes in that place.

This man Butler has a regularly organized body of men known throughout this country as Butler's Cavalry, a well drilled and organized company. Besides this force there were other men from this vicinity and some from Augusta, Ga., all under the command of Butler. From what I can learn the party that I intercepted at Rouse's bridge was the largest that had got together, and included almost all those which had been raiding through the country for two or three days previous. After finding that there were United States troops on the ground these men proposed to disband, and go home, provided the negroes would do likewise. An agreement to that effect was easily made, as the negroes were already much frightened, and both parties left the vicinity.

On the morning of the 20th inst. we marched from Rouse's bridge to Ellentown, a distance of five or six miles. On the road I saw, at the house where we stopped for water, the bodies of three negroes, who had been killed. Two of them had been dead since Sunday. The negroes were afraid to bury them, as they said the white men who were there on Monday had ordered them not to. I saw two negroes at Rouse's bridge who had been wounded, and have positive information of five others who were killed, in the vicinity of Ellentown. As far as I can learn, only one white man has been killed during the four days' rioting. * *

Lieut. Hinton with one of the citizens rode down to Robbins, about six miles, and found there a body of twenty or thirty white men, who stated that they were a detachment from General Haygood's command, who were at Steel Creek. They stated that Haygood had authority from Judge Wiggin to make arrests and disarm the negroes, and that they had been sent there to protect the negroes while burying the body of Simon Coker, colored member of the Legislature, who had been shot near Ellentown on Tuesday morning. Lieut. Hinton saw Coker's body. This man was brought from his home at Robbins to Ellentown and deliberately shot.

I estimate the total number of white men engaged in the riot as not less than 800, coming from Edgefield, Aiken and Barnwell, S. C. The negroes at and about Ellentown were completely cowed. Many of them came in from hiding places in the woods while we were there. They were afraid to go to work, saying they were afraid of being shot down in the cotton fields. The Port Royal Railroad was torn up about ten miles above Ellentown during the riot. The General Superintendent said his men were afraid to work on the road, and requested me to leave him a small squad. Six men were left at Ellentown for that purpose, and were withdrawn and joined their company next day. The road was almost entirely repaired when the detachment returned."

Capt. Wm. Mills, 2d U. S. Infantry, commanding the post at Aiken, reports to the Secretary of War: "From what I have learned since my arrival here I am satisfied that Capt. Lloyd's arrival at Rouse's bridge was just in time to prevent a massacre of the negroes."

News and Notes.

Leonard Amblam, a Belgian, was arrested in July last on board an outward-bound steamer from Liverpool, England, accused of the robbery and murder of M. Murant, a banker, and his housekeeper, at Cron, near Brussels. He was delivered Friday to a Belgian officer, at Dover. Arriving at Ostend the officer and his prisoner (the latter manacled) took a special compartment in a Brussels train. On the arrival of the train at Brussels both were missing. The compartment occupied was deluged with blood, and bore marks of a terrific struggle. The body of the officer was found beside the track, with the skull and face battered. All the valuables were missing. It is conjectured that Amblam watched his opportunity to attack the officer with his wrist irons and beat him to death, after which he unlocked the manacles and escaped. He is not yet recaptured.

The engineers and firemen on the New Jersey Central Railroad struck work at 12 o'clock Monday night wherever the trains happened to be. The engineers dumped the fires and then left the engines. The consequence was that all traffic on the road stopped and many trains en route were unable to proceed.

Three persons were killed and fourteen injured by a disaster on the New Jersey Central Railroad, caused by a purposely-misplaced switch, Wednesday.

The United States surveying schooner Ernest, Capt. Hawley, was driven ashore from her moorings Oct. 16th, at Isle au Haut, Me., and became a total wreck; officers and crew saved.

The unknown man who threw himself under the cars near Boston on the 23d, was Ezra Sheriff of Dedham, Mass., 28 years old, unmarried, and suffering from delirium tremens.

Hiram Balley, of Higganum, Conn., a dissipated man, was burned to death in his house on the 23d. His remains were found in the cellar after the fire, burned almost to a crisp. His dog was near by howling piteously, but would not leave the body until driven away. It is supposed that the house was accidentally set on fire by the owner, and that in his drunken stupor he was unable to escape.

Paying teller Ellis, of the Park National Bank of New York city, has resigned his position without saying anything about it to the directors. Ellis took $76,000 or more with him when he resigned.

Political.

In the South the democrats increase majorities by shooting republicans; in the North by stuffing ballot-boxes. This is reform.

The Tilden reformers are making great preparations for an honest election in Brooklyn. In three days the number of registrations was 95,867, more than 15,000 over the highest number ever before registered! That kind of work is to be expected; a man who would engineer a fraud of 30,000 votes to elect another man governor of New York, cannot be expected to hesitate at a fraud of 50,000 votes to elect himself President of the United States.

An immense republican demonstration comes off in Boston to-night. It is expected that 20,000 uniformed men will be in line.

Gen. Butler is making things hot in the Seventh Congressional District of Massachusetts, where he is the regular republican candidate against Hon. Impromptu Speech-stealing Tarbox, the democratic nominee, Judge Hoar running as an independent republican candidate in favor of Tarbox.

PARTISAN COURTESY.

While the democratic procession was standing on Market square, Tuesday evening, waiting for the signal to start, some person called out "Three groans for Sam Tilden," and was immediately hit on the head with a torch in the hands of a reformer from one of the breweries; at least, this is as we are informed. While we recognize the facts that such an assault is a breach of the law, and that one man has as much right to call for three groans for Sam Tilden as another has to call for three cheers for him on the public streets, which do not belong to either the republican or democratic parties, we must say that we think attempting to annoy a political procession by hootings, yellings or irritating expressions is poor business for any republican to be engaged in. That style of conducting a political campaign should be left exclusively to the "reformers," with whom it has always been a favorite method of exhibiting their political zeal—for it is the same spirit of intolerance and disregard for the rights of others which prompts the democrats to greet a republican procession with a volley from shot-guns in Mississippi or South Carolina, with a shower of stones and rotten eggs in New York, and with a storm of jeers, hisses and yells in New England—the difference is in degree only, not in kind. The great mass of the democracy see nothing disgraceful or improper in annoying their political opponents by all means in their power; but the fundamental principle of the republican party is equal rights for all men, and the man who interferes with or insults a democratic meeting or procession, even though he may break no statute law, acts in direct opposition to the principles of his party. It is, we are happy to say, a rare occurrence in this city for a democratic procession to be annoyed, so when it does happen, no matter how slight the annoyance, it serves as a good text for a short lecture.

SUPREME COURT.

Wednesday, October 25th.

State vs. John Murphy, assault on William Quinn. Counsel moved to retract plea of not guilty and substitute a plea of former acquittal. Motion was passed to the court.

State vs. Frank G. Bean, of Raymond, selling liquor; found guilty.

State vs. Thomas Maguire of Newmarket—three indictments for selling liquor; plea, guilty; fined $50 and costs on each.

State vs. William R. Bunker, of Epping; plea, nolo contendere to six indictments for liquor selling; eleven more against same party were nol. pros'd.

JOTTINGS.

The Portsmouth Cornet Band have received their new uniforms from G. W. Simmons of Boston. The members have been to considerable expense in procuring these uniforms, and we hope our citizens will show their appreciation of this endeavor to please the public by employing this band upon all occasions where the services of a band are needed. "Encourage your own."

A republican says the two tunes most played by the bands in the democratic procession, Tuesday evening, were "When we were marching through Georgia," and "Hold the fort,"—which tunes he thinks not at all appropriate to the occasion. He forgets that there were two armies marched through Georgia; one, under Sherman; the other, under Wade Hampton (now democratic candidate for governor of South Carolina, on the rifle-club ticket,) and other eminent democrats, the latter marching through Georgia just ahead of Sherman's men. "Hold the fort" was probably but a piece of friendly advice to the republicans, who have held the National fort against democratic attacks with ballot and bullet for sixteen years, to persist in well doing and keep the Confederate brigadiers and Tammany reformers outside the fortification for at least four years more. The advice will be heeded.

Mr. Joseph R. Curtis, of the Portsmouth Light Artillery whose right hand and arm were badly injured while a salute was firing at the dedication of Langdon Park, is now under treatment at the Massachusetts General Hospital, and receiving no encouragement from the surgeons in charge that his arm will ever be of any use to him.

At the dedication of the Faith Home for Aged Women, which takes place next Tuesday afternoon, H. S. Hastings, editor of the Christian, and Elder Moses How are expected to be present and take part in the exercises. Dr. E. B. Goodall will have charge of the music and be assisted by a quartette. A collation will be served the invited guests.

The Journal recently suggested that for the United States Circuit Court to hold alternate sessions at Exeter and in this city, —Exeter being difficult to reach from many parts of the State, and the government being obliged to rent an inconvenient and unsuitable building for court purposes there, while the hotel accommodations for the large number of people frequently attending the sessions are very insufficient, whereas this city is easily reached, has ample hotel accommodations, and the government owns a spacious and costly building here, containing ample rooms most conveniently arranged for the business of the Court,—was rather absurd, the Journal suggesting that all sessions of the Court should be held in this city. We can see no reason why this should not be done, except that it has been the custom to hold Court at Exeter for a long time and old habits are hard to break off. We presume the Court officials would be quite willing to bid a long farewell to their Exeter quarters, and it seems positive that the government would save by the change, at least to the amount of the annual rental paid for the court room there.

In proposing the reduction of the wages of the "branch" engineers on the Eastern Railroad, the management has two objects in view; first, to equalize the salaries so that the engineers shall receive pay according to the number of miles run, for they claim that one who runs upon the branches a distance of forty miles a day ought not to receive the same wages as one who runs one hundred miles a day. The other employes of the road are paid upon that basis, and they see no unfairness in reducing the engineer's pay. The second object to be accomplished is to make the little which they have to do with go as far as possible.

Four or five men who were in town as witnesses on a liquor case before the Supreme Court, got drunk on Sunday and found their way into the lockup. They were discharged on Monday to appear against (or in favor of) the other fellow when called on.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT.

Adjourned term at Exeter, Wednesday, Oct. 25th. Patrick Maughan, convicted of illegal voting for Member of Congress at Manchester in 1875, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment in jail and to pay costs of prosecution.

James Lucy of Manchester, for illegal voting in 1875, was sentenced to sixty days in Manchester jail and to pay costs of prosecution.

New Hampshire Items.

Rev. J. Willis of Franklin has received and accepted a call to the pastorate of the Freewill Baptist Church at Meredith Centre, and has entered upon his labors.

A modest Manchester man aroused a resident of Canal street lately, and said, "Please sir, if it won't be too much trouble I should like to borrow a rope for a few minutes." "What do you want of a rope?" queried the resident. "Well, if it ain't too much trouble to you." "It's no great trouble." "Well, you see one of our fellows has fell into this canal down here, and we thought as how if it ain't too much trouble we'd like to borrow a rope to fish him out." The rope was obtained and the man in peril rescued.

—They have introduced a new sport in New Brunswick. A trained moose is trotting there in public with great success. A few days ago he made a half mile in 1:10, and he is matched to make his mile in 2:20.

Forestalling Disease.

When we see that death is so often the penalty paid for a fatuous disregard of the symptoms of approaching disease, should we not be warned against the folly of neglecting defensive measures when called for in our own case? Assuredly we should, and upon the first manifestations of ill health or decay of physical vigor, seek the aid of medicine. The fortifying influence upon the system of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters entitle that medicine of many virtues to the highest consideration as a preventive, and it cannot be too strongly recommended as a means of arresting the progress of malarious fevers, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, kidney and bladder troubles, gout, rheumatism, and other disorders which in their incipiency are far more easily overcome than in their maturity—albeit, the great alterative has repeatedly demonstrated its power to vanquish them in their worst phases.

The new Atlas Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa., is convenient to everything, and as for coolness its guests live in a park.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, "teaches the lesson of the times," by leading a reduction of rates. It offers the same accommodations as heretofore, at a reduction from $4.00 to $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

"What's to hinder?" says Miss Anna Dickinson. That's what everybody asks, when coughs and colds can be so easily cured by Adamson's Botanical Cough Balsam. 35 and 75 cents per bottle.

MARTYRS TO SALT RHEUM, Rejoice! The persistent use of GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP will cure you. Use it instead of the greasy ointments and astringent washes with which you have heretofore stimulated the disease. It is cleanly, safe and speedy.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

PILOT BREAD.

This kind of bread having come into extensive family use, it has been my purpose to furnish, from choice materials, an article which should meet the approval of the most fastidious as to neatness, looks and taste. Whether I have succeeded in giving to the public a PILOT BREAD,

SUPERIOR IN EXCELLENCE,

the consumer may be the judge; that the quality will not be suffered to depreciate, the past with the present is my best pledge. That I can compete with all the various qualities of Pilot Bread in the market, as to price, I make no pretensions,—but in price, all things being equal, I fear no competition.

All necessity for a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges.

Daily Chronicle.

An Incident of War Times.

A Columbus letter to the Cleveland Leader relates the following concerning Capt. Alfred E. Lee, Governor Hayes' private secretary:

At the battle of Gettysburg, while commanding his company in the Eighty-second Ohio Regiment, July 1, he was wounded and left for dead upon the field at night by his retreating comrades. The enemy taking possession of the ground, one of Jubal Early's aids carried him off the field, with certain robel wounded, and deposited them in an obscure farm-house, whence he had no means of communication with his regiment or friends. The news of his death reached Delaware, Ohio, where he had graduated in 1859, and where he was much beloved. His obituary was published in the Delaware Gazette, and Prof. McCabe had prepared a eulogy upon him to be delivered July 11, the Sunday of commencement week, in connection with other exercises appointed for the day.

Immense crowds were gathered in the Williams-street Church. After the opening of the exercises, Capt. Lee, pale as a ghost, unconscious of the thrill his presence would excite, hobbled in on crutches, and took a quiet seat among the worshippers. He had been left behind by his captors in the haste with which the enemy retreated July 4, and, not knowing himself reported dead, he had come quietly home to Delaware to recover, reaching there unannounced late on Saturday night. Those were days of intense dramatic experience, days of death in life, and life in the midst of death, and though every heart of those who knew him leaped for joy at seeing him, the decorum of God's house was preserved. The meeting was turned into a missionary anniversary, Rev. Dr. Harris, the then Missionary Secretary, but now a Bishop of his church, presiding. When donations to the missionary fund were in order, this young soldier, a poor man, pale and faltering, rose on his crutches and said briefly, "In token of gratitude to God for having spared my life upon the field of Gettysburg, put me down for $100." I do not think there was a dry eye in all that assembly—certainly not mine.

MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!
No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in flesh so rapidly, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another Condition. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be bought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, and I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know of, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and neck. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy, and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.
Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
For the terrible diseases engendered by the lungs, trying climate of New England!
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
— USE —
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP! For Children Teething, greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is Sure to Regulate the Bowels. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to your selves, and Relief and Health to Your Infants. We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation, has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in Thousands of Cases. It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic. We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY and DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief it will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. Be sure and call for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP," Having the fac-simile of "CURTIS & PERKINS" on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. dfeb15

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia. In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it. 35 Cents Per Package. Early Days of Steam-boating.

They say Commodore Vanderbilt is getting garrulous. His last reminiscence is a sort of lament against the law. He says: There's no more lively steamboating. They run 'em according to law now, and a captain has to keep his head full of rules instead of using it to engineer how to beat the other craft. Now, when I used to run the Brunswick I was captain, pilot, engineer, clerk and pretty near the whole crew, but I used to beat 'em if I was short-handed. We used to run down inside the island (Staten.) The channel was all right in any water, but in high tide we used to go over the flats when we were racing. Well, I reckon I knew every inch of the way better than any pilot going, and in just how much water to an inch I could skim over the flats. We were going down full drive one day when the tide was running out. I had the lead, as usual, and the other fellows were pushing close. I thought I'd fix them out and out for once. So when we got to where the channel was pretty narrow, I stamped on the deck to have the boy stop the engine. I didn't ring the bell, you know, for fear they would hear it and know I stopped a purpose. As soon as we stopped, the other boat thought we were stuck. So they hauled off to one side to go by in what they thought was the channel. Itstead of that, their old boat flamed head first into the mud, where I left 'em to wait for high water to lift 'em out.

Mrs. Swisshelm's Altered Views.

Mrs. Jane G. Swisshelm writes from Leipsic, Saxony, to the Chicago Tribune, as follows:

"I have now lived five months in Germany, and have paid close attention to the habits of the people, and am convinced there is not a tithe of the drunkenness among them that there is with us; and, so far as I can learn, there is not now, and never has been, a temperance society of any kind. I cannot learn that there has ever been an attempt to make the manufacture or sale of liquor disreputable. There certainly is no odium attached to it. The most respectable grocers keep a supply of fermented and malt liquors, and they are in universal use. Beer is as staple an article of household consumption as bread or cheese. Old and young, male and female, drink it. They take it in their meals instead of tea; and, in the five months in which I have been watching for drunken folks, I have seen two men partially intoxicated. There has been one frightful murder committed in cold blood for money, but I have not heard of any one being killed or seriously hurt in a drunken brawl, yet the people do not confine themselves to malt and fermented liquors, for brandy and whiskey are as easily obtained as wine, and I have not been able to learn that there is any more restriction on the sale than on that of tea or tobacco. There is no disgrace, no penalty attached to their manufacture, sale or use. These are reserved for the abuse. Each person is required to govern his or her own appetite, and failing to do so bears the consequence alone. It is the man who gets drunk, not the one who furnishes the means, who bears the penalty of drunkenness, and the result of the system is certainly admirable as compared with ours.

I look about here and back fifty-five years to the time when there was a barrel of "cherry-bounce" in the cellar of my father's house, and bottle of whiskey in the kitchen cupboard, and wine or cordial in the sitting-room closet; when my father, grandfather, and uncles all took "bitters" every morning as conscientiously as they held family worship and compelled every child in the house to take bitters. Not one of them ever was drunk, or, if they were, I never heard of it. My brother always had to take bitters when I did, and never learned to love them. In fact, I do not think either of us ever could have overcome the disgust we acquired for the taste of whiskey, for we always had to take a spoonful with our castor oil and Epsom salts.

If any one came to the house on a visit or on business he or she was not politely received unless offered something to drink, and when the Rev. John Black came to make a pastoral visit and ask us questions he took a glass of wine and some cake. I never heard of him being drunk, or even "the worse for liquor." In fact, I never knew in the list of our friends and relations of any one who did get drunk until long after I had enlisted to reform the world through the agency of temperance organizations. I joined them early, and have until quite recently labored faithfully to promote their growth, and have come to the conclusion that I had a good deal better have been otherwise employed."

Daily Chronicle.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1876.

FOR PRESIDENT,

Rutherford B. Hayes,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

William A. Wheeler,

OF NEW YORK.

Hayes' Platform in War.

In 1864, when Hayes was in the army, being nominated for Congress he was requested to come home and stump his district. His reply was, "I have other business just now. Any man who would leave the army at this time to electioneer for Congress ought to be scalped!"

Hayes' Platform in Peace.

"Honest money for all, and free schools for all. There should be no inflation which will depreciate the one, nor sectarian interference which will destroy the other."

Gov. Chamberlain's Record.

Up to the time of Wade Hampton's nomination for Governor of South Carolina, the leading democrats and democratic papers of that State were loud in their praises of Gov. Chamberlain's fearless opposition to the thieves, and his earnest and successful endeavors to cut down unwarranted expenditures. Particularly was he commended for his resistance to the judges, Whipper and Moses, who were denounced by democrats and Chamberlain republicans alike as being corrupt and dishonest to the last degree.

After Hampton's nomination and the inauguration of the rifle-club campaign, things were changed. At first the democrats asserted that there was no disturbance in the State, and in proof of their assertion produced statements to that effect from Moses and Whipper, the republican judges they had long been denouncing as thieves and liars, and who had been so persistently opposed in their corrupt schemes by Chamberlain. Then, when the evidence of the existence of ruffianism became too strong to be refuted by a sneer at the "bloody shirt," the democrats proclaimed that reform in South Carolina could only come through a democratic triumph, and democratic papers in the North held this up in palliation of the wholesale killing of republicans by democratic rifle clubs. That reform—genuine reform, not the Tilden article—had made great progress under Gov. Chamberlain, the following statement made by the Charleston News and Courier, the leading democratic paper in the State, shows:

Under the several heads, the savings that have actually been made are:

In the Bonanza bill	$400,000
In the Executive contingent fund	101,260
In Legislative expenses	350,810
In contingent expenses	355,000
In public printing	512,418
Total	$1,719,488

This is the record of Governor Chamberlain as shown by hard figures and unmistakable facts. We have strained or exaggerated nothing. The plain truth, as we know it, has been faithfully given, and we maintain that the record as it stands is one for which Governor Chamberlain has cause to be proud.

News and Notes.

A man named Brittain, living at Rushville, Ind., on the farm of his father-in-law, a Mr. Rhodes, on the 24th shot and killed Mrs. Rhodes, tried to kill Mr. Rhodes, but failed, and then killed himself. Brittain had demanded that the old people should give their farm to him, and their refusal occasioned the tragedy.

Henry Scales (colored) was recently hanged in the Illinois District, Cherokee Nation, by the Cherokee authorities, for killing a colored man. He had previously killed two men.

The Continental Life Insurance Co., of New York, has failed, but it is thought policy holders will lose nothing. J. J. Anderson has been appointed receiver.

Espaillat has been deposed from the presidency of San Domingo and ex-President Gonzales proclaimed his successor. The change was peacefully effected.

A Providence woman has recovered $2500 in a civil suit from Theodore A. Underwood, who had married her and was the father of her two children, because it was found that he had another wife living.

General Crook having become satisfied that the bands of Red Cloud and Red Leaf were about to join the hostile Sioux, surrounded their camp and captured the entire party without firing a shot. The savages were disarmed and Red Cloud deposed as head chief, Spotted Tail being made his successor.

A few weeks ago the authorities of Grand Rapids, Mich., took it into their heads to enforce the Sunday laws, and the results were very ludicrous. More than 150 arrests were made, the largest number being for going to the post office to send or receive mail. Milk peddlers were arrested for selling their fluid; barbers for opening their shops, and caterers for opening their restaurants; journalists for working after twelve o'clock, Saturday night, and several prominent citizens for driving on the streets.

A nolle prosequi has been entered at Riverhead, L. I., on the indictments charging Royal and Rudolph Sammis with the Kelsey outrage and murder, and thus ends a once famous tragedy with its mystery still unsolved and the victim of a cowardly and brutal crime unavenged.

The Official Gazette of Spain publishes a circular strictly limiting non-conformist worship to the interior of chapels and cemeteries. This circular is especially strict in its provisions regarding Protestant schools. It prescribes that such schools shall remain subject to the direct interference of the government, and that the schoolmasters must be Spaniards, with the proper academical degrees.

George Miller, a target-tender at the Worcester, Mass., rifle range, was accidentally killed on the 24th by a bullet, he having left his hiding place just as a shot was fired. No blame is attached to any one for the unfortunate affair.

Political.

The New York Nation and the Louisville Courier-Journal accused Mr. Blaine of misstating the record in the matter of Charles Francis Adams' proposed Constitutional amendment perpetuating slavery. The Nation has discovered its error and handsomely apologizes for it. The Courier-Journal is too high-toned to correct any errors.

The democratic Central Committee of South Carolina take pains to assure the people of the country that they have advised the "rifle clubs" to disband. Up to the time when the President's proclamation was issued, they had been assuring the country there were no rifle clubs to disband.

The democrats don't seem to care about working the Credit Mobilier mine to any great extent in this "reform" campaign. Honest Sammy was consulting engineer of the concern when it first started,—that's what's the matter with Credit Mobilier.

The democrats of Meriden, Conn., lost at least one vote by their folly in elevating a ragged "bloody shirt" in their procession. A returned soldier stepped from the ranks, tore up his uniform, and said that was the party he should vote against. He did not propose to meekly swallow the insult, as he had worn the "bloody shirt" on a southern battle field. The shirt was then dropped.

Gov. Hayes does not need to write a letter declaring that he will not approve the payment of the rebel war claims should he be elected President. The country knows that he would not, and what is better it knows that the party behind him would not vote to pay them. There is more in that fact than in all the promises that Gov. Tilden can make between this and election day.—Nashua Telegraph.

Representative Riddle, of Tennessee, who is stumping his district for re-election, and who has a bill pending in the House for the payment of the owners of land on which the loyal troops shed their blood in support of the Union, made a speech at Jamestown, in which he claimed that all losses caused by federal troops or by the federal government should be paid alike; that all the southern people are now loyal, and that no distinction should be made in the settlement of claims against the government, but everybody should be paid, and pledged himself to work to that effect. He will probably be re-elected; his doctrine is popular with the ex-Confederates; they say it will make money plenty and good times in the South.

Senator Sargent writes from California: "The political prospects here are bright for Hayes and Wheeler. The republican party is better organized than ever before. The spirit of 1861 is alive. We shall certainly elect three out of four Congressmen, with a good chance for the fourth, while the State is good for 6,000 on the presidential ticket. As goes California so goes Nevada, and our friends are also hopeful in Oregon. I do not think Tilden will have an electoral vote from the Pacific States, and have good reasons for my belief."

"In Boards."

Dr. Belknap's "History of New Hampshire" was printed at Philadelphia, under the supervision of Mr. Hazard. Its publication was preceded by the circulation of subscription papers, in which it was announced that the work would appear "in boards." As to the results following the circulation of one of these papers, in the neighborhood of the author's residence, Dr. Belknap wrote:

A difficulty has arisen here about the subscription, which would never have existed but in such a place. You must know, sir, that in this lumber country it is common to pay debts and give obligations to pay them in boards. When the phrase "in boards" came to be read, which immediately follows the dollar and one-third in the conditions, they were at a loss where the boards should be delivered, and who should receive them. Accordingly I was gravely made acquainted with the difficulty; and you may guess how I received their information. I was obliged to show them a book stitched and covered in the form I expected this would be, and tell them, as I would a child, that the boards mentioned were pasteboard with which the book was to be covered, and not pine boards received for the pay. Thus you have a specimen of Dover. How it will be understood, what effect it will have in other parts of this ignorant wooden world, I know not.

Wanted to See a Man.

Among the audience at Ford's Grand Opera House on Saturday evening was a gentleman connected with the reportorial staff of one of the daily papers of this city. Accompanying him was a beautiful and interesting-looking young lady. At the close of the first act of the "Two Men of Sandy Bar," he intimated to his fair companion that he desired to go out to "see a friend," and hoped that she would excuse him for a few moments. The lady, in a tone smacking somewhat of indignation, quickly replied, "If you go, sir, I'll excuse you forever." This somewhat startling announcement from one's intended convinced the gentleman that his friend, which was in the shape of a whiskey straight, would have to wait until the play was over and the lady escorted home. For the balance of the evening the young man endeavored to remove from the young lady's mind the bad impressions he had made, and convince her that he had never appeared before any bar but Sandy Bar. If all young ladies would behave with the same spirit on similar occasions as the above one did, there would be less going out of gentleman between the acts, the balance of the audience would not be annoyed by them coming in after the rising of the curtain, and the temperance cause be subserved.—Baltimore American.

—The Tuscola (Fla.) Enquirer says: On the banks of St. Johns River there lived two old Spanish planters, between whom existed a deadly feud. As one approached death he made his will, and inscribed in it this clause: "I wish to be buried near the line fence, in closest proximity to ——'s, that I may be able to haunt him and show him even in death he is unforgiven." The old man died, and friends assembled at the funeral. While the services were being held his unforgiven neighbor was hopping about on the other side of the fence, a cowbell tied to each knee, shooting a gun and blowing a horn as a charm to lull the evil spirit. After the friends of the dead had retired, the old man built a large fire on the grave, and then went to his own home perfectly satisfied that his former enemy's evil spirit is laid, and will not annoy him."

—"Awful Gardiner" was once a well known pugilist and sporting character in New York. On one occasion he went to Newark with a "select party" to give a sparring exhibition. The negro who had charge of the hall where the show was to take place was of a gigantic stature, and one of the party wagered a bottle of wine that "Awful Gardiner" could not knock the negro down with his fist. They all waited in the hall for the coming of the sable janitor with lights. He approached with a candle shaded in his hands, and, as he came within arm's reach, the "Awful" measured him, and struck square from the shoulder. The negro hardly winked. He simply turned his head round toward the pugilist and said: "Gemmen, please be a little car'ful ob yer elbows."

Forestalling Disease.

When we see that death is so often the penalty paid for a fatuous disregard of the symptoms of approaching disease, should we not be warned against the folly of neglecting defensive measures when called for in our own case? Assuredly we should, and upon the first manifestations of ill health or decay of physical vigor, seek the aid of medicine. The fortifying influence upon the system of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters entitle that medicine of many virtues to the highest consideration as a preventive, and it cannot be too strongly recommended as a means of arresting the progress of malarious fevers, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, kidney and bladder troubles, gout, rheumatism, and other disorders which in their incipiency are far more easily overcome than in their maturity—albeit, the great alterative has repeatedly demonstrated its power to vanquish them in their worst phases.

The new Atlas Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa., is convenient to everything, and as for coolness its guests live in a park.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, "teaches the lesson of the times," by leading a reduction of rates. It offers the same accommodations as heretofore, at a reduction from $4.50 to $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

"What's to hinder?" says Miss Anna Dickinson. That's what everybody asks, when coughs and colds can be so easily cured by Adamson's Botanical Cough Balsam. 25 and 75 cents per bottle.

MARTYRS TO SALT RHEUM, Rejoice! The persistent use of GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP will cure you. Use it instead of the greasy ointments and astringent washes with which you have heretofore stimulated the disease. It is cleanly, safe and speedy.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot. dawtr1277

LITTLE GIANT!

This Trade Mark is a guarantee that the medicine is genuine. Without it the Pills are a fraud and a cheat when it is represented by any dealer that they are selling the LITTLE GIANT PILLS, which have effected such wonderful cures in Portsmouth.

This medicine has been produced with the greatest care of the choicest ingredients for the cure of Sick Headache and Bilious Disorders. Its success has been very surprising, as the many cer. tificates of unknown citizens testify.

Parties in Portsmouth, well knowing this, are offering some other Pills, pretending that they are the same. GEO. E. HANSON, 41 Congress Street, is the Agent in Portsmouth who can produce the genuine Pills, put up in square boxes with the Trade Mark upon each box. Anyone who has bought any other, supposing they have bought these, has been imposed upon, and had better go back and get his money and buy a reliable medicine of the authorized agent;

SUPREME COURT.

Wednesday, October 25th.

Henry Beckman of Seabrook, convicted at the April term of the Court for placing obstructions on the Eastern Railroad and remanded to Exeter jail, was sentenced to State Prison for two years.

Josiah Stearns, of Epping, liquor selling, was sentenced to pay $50 each on three indictments.

John Shannon, of Plaistow, liquor selling, $100 and costs.

Thursday, October 26th.

In the morning, arguments were heard by the Court on the case of John Murphy, indicted for biting a section (described as being one inch long by one and one-half inches wide) out of the ear of William Quinn, 2d, in which case a plea of a previous acquittal was made. Case transferred to Law term.

JOTTINGS.

Howe Call, Esq., of this city, was admitted to practice as an attorney at the U. S. Circuit Court in Exeter on the 24th.

A reform club was organized at North Hampton on Tuesday evening, Oct. 24th, by Charles W. Hidden and other members of the "Blue Ribbon" reform club of Newburyport. The new club starts with twenty-three members, and is officered as follows: Rev. David B. Murray, President; S. A. Dow, J. Allen Fenwick, Hattie F. Marston, Vice Presidents; Miss Elsie Dearborn, Secretary; Joseph R. Leavitt, Treasurer; Rev. T. V. Haines, Chaplain. The club will meet weekly for the present, and will try and rescue the fallen, and keep many from the evils of intemperance. We hope the people of the town will engage heartily in this good work.

U. S. S. Tallapoosa arrived at the Navy Yard on Thursday afternoon, with naval supplies for the different departments.

U. S. S. Enterprise was placed in the dry dock on Thursday.

The meat, provision and fish store occupied by Elihu Dennett and Sullivan & Co., on Bow street, was broken into on Tuesday night, the thief smashing one of the large door-glasses and crawling through the hole. He got no money, but stole some fish.

Mr. Louis B. Marden, formerly one of the CHRONICLE force and for a number of years past foreman of the Times office, on Thursday left that office—for a trip to the Centennial with his bride, he having assumed the honors and responsibilities of married life on that day. Mr. Marden has stuck close by his business long enough to entitle him to a Centennial jollification,—which will be a temperance jollification, however, as we believe he does not and never did use intoxicating liquors. We wish the young couple a pleasant trip and a safe return, and prosperity and contentment after the honeymoon sets.

Lew Benedict, the well known negro delineator, with a first-class troupe of minstrels, will give an entertainment at the Temple on Wednesday evening, Nov. 1.

New Hampshire Items.

The second grand republican rally was held at Milford on Wednesday evening, the Town Hall being filled with an audience of 1100. A good number of ladies were present. Addresses were made by Hon. Cyrus Sulloway of Manchester and Hon. Ossian Ray of Lancaster. The meeting was the most enthusiastic one held in the town for years.

The trial of Sylvester W. Cone, for killing Paul Williams at Tamworth, on Sunday, Aug. 6, commenced at Ossipee on Wednesday, before the Supreme Court for Carroll county, Justices W. H. Hallem and George A. Bingham presiding; Gen. Tappan and County Solicitor Buel C. Carter for the State, and Josiah Hobbs and Samuel D. Quarles for the defence. Seventy-three jurors were ordered for this case, sixty-nine of whom were called before a jury was impanelled. The Court, jury, prisoner and counsel, with witnesses, visited the scene of the tragedy at Tamworth, and Thursday the case was opened by the State.

The republicans of Concord had a grand rally Wednesday evening, Phenix Hall being filled. Hon. C. H. Burns, of Wilton, and Ossian Ray, Esq., addressed the meeting.

Hon. Charles H. Burns of Wilton and J. H. Ela of Rochester addressed the republicans of Great Falls on Wednesday evening.

The second trial of Lapage will take place in the month of January next, it is expected. The day of the trial has not been fixed. We understand that some very strong evidence will be put in at the next trial in addition to the overwhelming evidence before presented, bearing upon his guilt. Concord Monitor.

Patrick Maughan, one of the Boston roughs imported into Manchester in 1875 to vote for a "reform" Member of Congress, has been sent to jail for six months and sentenced to pay costs of prosecution besides, so his services will not be available for Tilden and reform. Another of Manchester's Ward Five reformers, a pauper named James Lucy, has received a sentence of sixty days in jail and to pay costs, for fraudulent voting in 1875. These unlucky tools of the reform leaders of New Hampshire will probably not be anxious to help increase the democratic vote of the State again, illegally. We believe they have been in jail since March, 1875.

Vienna Coffee.

We have no doubt that those who have enjoyed a cup of coffee at the Vienna Bakery at the Centennial Exposition will be pleased to know how it is made; and those who have not had that pleasure, if they will follow the annexed directions will have some idea why it is that every one who has been to the Exposition is so enthusiastic over the coffee made at the Vienna Bakery.

"The two-gill measure level full of ground coffee; the same of cold coffee or water; one egg, shell, yolk and white, mixed together in a bowl. Rinse out your coffee boiler with boiling water, put this in, and pour over it three pints of fiercely boiling water, or two pints if you wish it strong. Close the spout and lid closely, and boil 15 or 20 minutes; pour in about four small tablespoonfuls of cold water to settle it. Rinse out the coffee urn with boiling water before pouring the coffee in. "The boiled milk" for the coffee must be fresh and new, not merely warmed, or even brought to the boiling point, but slowly simmered in a farina boiler till it attains a thick, creamy richness; then it must be sent to the table in a hot cream pitcher to keep it warm. "The whipped cream" is made by pouring a cupful of rich cream into a deep bowl, holding the churn about a quarter of an inch from the bottom, and churning it well. As fast as the stiffened froth rises to the top of the cream, skim it off with a spoon, keep it cool, and send to the table in a bowl. Put into each cup the desired amount of sugar, a tablespoonful or so of the boiled milk; pour on the coffee, and place on top a large spoonful of the whipped cream. Give a gentle stir to each cup before sending them round. Do not grind coffee too fine. A heaping silver tablespoonful of the ground is a liberal allowance for each person, and weighs half an ounce. An ounce of ground coffee to a pint of boiling water is the rule. Two gills of ground coffee weighs three ounces."

The Fire Fiend in All His Glory.

The following is the gorgeous and Oriental description of a local fire, in the Midland (Mich.) Independent, which shows that the reporter of that paper is equal to any emergencies:

"And now appeared one of the most terrible and magnificent spectacles it was ever our lot to witness. The whole broad and high front of the International Hotel was wrapped, as in its winding-sheet, in one lurid mass of flame, which, seemingly as in mockery of the puny powers of man and his appliances to stay its course, stooped toward the earth in the eddy of the wind with a hurling sound as of demoniac laughter, and then swerving and veering, as if in disdain tossing its head, it arose towering almost to the very clouds, and— ah, it needed no fervid Dantean imagination then to discover within the fringes of that gilt-edged hell the glaring eye-balls, yea, the very claws and bloody hair of the demon of the flames—with one fell swoop it hurled itself across the broad street over upon and wound itself around, fastened its fearful clutches in, took possession of and invested the whole immense building known as the Harris block."

About Cider.

To keep cider nice, take new cider and put it into a porcelain kettle, and scald it, skimming it well; bottle up while warm, and fill the bottle. Have cement or wax ready to dip the cork in, so that no air can get in. I have seen cider prepared in this way keep perfectly sweet two years.

Another. To a gallon of cider put a pound of granulated sugar; stir well together, then put into bottles, and let it stand uncorked till it begins to ferment; the scum will run over the bottle mouth; when it looks clean, cork and seal it tightly, and you will have a sparkling and delicious beverage, equal to champagne, and it will keep nicely for any time you wish.

Still Another. Put a teaspoonful of ground mustard into a quart bottle of cider; cork and seal, so no air will penetrate, and it keeps sweet and good.

One More. A quarter of a pound of raw, fresh beef, put into a gallon of sweet cider, will keep it sweet forever.

—The following story, at the expense of Edwin Booth, who is now playing in California, is going the rounds: "An agricultural admirer of the actor brought an enormous watermelon to the stage door as a present to him, and was admitted. He stood at the upper wings waiting for Booth to come off, when he suddenly recollected that he left his team untied. He laid the melon down and rushed out. In the meantime the melon rolled to the centre of the stage, down to where Booth and McCullough were in a very earnest colloquy as 'Iago' and 'Othello.' It much astonished 'Iago' by a blow in the legs, and, being kicked, rolled to the side of the stage and fell off. The orchestra made it a prisoner, and at the close of the act ate it."

Choosing Fowls For Table.

It is a little singular that taste or fashion as to the color of the flesh of fowls varies at different large markets. In the London market, yellow-skinned birds are not sought for, the pink or flesh-colored skin being the favorite there; while in New York, the yellow is preferred in a marked degree. The questions naturally arise, what is the reason for this difference in taste, and which are the best for the table as to flavor, delicacy, etc? There is no doubt that those fowls which are celebrated for their peculiar richness of flavor and delicate flesh mainly belong to the pink, or, as some people call them, the white-skinned varieties. Such fowls are the Games, Houdans, Dorkings, etc. Perhaps the reason for the preference for yellow in New York is that a proper discrimination is not made between the pink and dark or blue-skinned fowls in choosing fowls for the table, the latter of which are generally poor in quality, such as Spanish, Hamburgs, etc. Another reason may be that all the pink skins are very tender to dress, tearing easily, and extra care is required in dressing to make them look attractive, and if they come from a long distance and are at all damaged, they do not present as clean and nice an appearance as those with yellow skins.—H. H., in Rural New Yorker.

—Extracts from a Long Branch letter to the London Times: Englishmen who are accustomed to think of the President of the United States as one of the most powerful rulers in the world, a ruler compared with whom any monarch of a constitutional country is politically almost a cipher, are not a little astonished to find him leading the life of an ordinary private citizen of comfortable but modest means. There is nothing to distinguish his "cottage" from those of his neighbors, except that all day the passing excursionists have been craning their necks over his fences in the hope of getting a peep at him as he walks from room to room, some of them having taken the judicious precaution to bring opera-glasses. * * * Every Englishman must hope that in England he will be accorded the reception to which his high reputation and illustrious career, and perhaps to a certain extent the harsh treatment which has lately been dealt out to him here so amply entitle him.

MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!
Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty pounds, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the fields. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving you my mind; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been an free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me it could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anyone. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins County, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy, and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for my self and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO., Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

PULMOCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.
is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.
Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England;
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
— USE —
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a concentrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

A Grand Business Man of the New School.

Mr. Smith was a remarkable instance of "the merchant of the new school." He rose gradually to the eminent position he enjoyed by industry, frugality, natural sharpness of intellect, and natural hardness of heart. He early learned that honesty was the best policy; that cheating in small things was the greatest mistake an ambitious youth could make; that to keep his word and to pay his obligations were the conditions of commercial success; that knavery in such matters did not pay; and accordingly, with such a reputation for formal business integrity, he eventually rose to be one of the most accomplished leaders of business banditti that Wall street ever saw. Had he frequented gaming tables, and been known to lose or gain one or two hundred dollars a night, his character might have been ruined. That he frequently lost or gained a million in the mutations of the stock-market did not affect his reputation as a business man at all, or incapacitate him from being respected as a "worshiper" in a fashionable church. Had he organized a band of robbers, and shown eminent skill in petty larceny and burglary, acutely eluding the officers of justice always at his heels, and betraying his confederates the moment they rebelled against his leadership, he might have been a new Jonathan Wild; but he would have been a thoroughly disreputable man, with no position in the financial world, no station in society, no pew in the sanctuary. Besides, he could not have amassed more than a few hundreds of thousands of dollars in thus making obvious rascality a trade. He was too shrewd to be deluded, even when a boy, by the tempting promises which recognized dishonesty presents to the youthful imagination. He early perceived that a reputation for integrity was necessary to be established before any extensive acts of financial rapine could be successfully perpetrated. Swindling in small things he early learned to despise, in order that he might the more surely swindle in large things.

* * * Not the least noticeable peculiarity in Mr. Smith's character was the absence in him of most of those qualities of avarice which we associate with the idea of a miser. He never seemed to gloat over his wealth, but rather gloated over the power it gave him to prey on his less opulent or intelligent fellow-citizens. He pinched and starved his clerks, not so much because he was too mean to give them adequate salaries, but because he wished to demonstrate to them that they were, as long as they chose or were compelled to stay with him, his abject slaves. After his fortune was made, his avarice was concentrated in making himself a money power. As Napoleon only considered one conquest as a step to others, so this creature ruined his competitors in Wall street to-day, only to form new combinations to ruin fresh competitors to-morrow. He intensely enjoyed not his wealth, but the means his wealth afforded him of preventing others from acquiring it. Having no heart, his only happiness was in the play of his intellect and the indulgence of his malignant propensities. In studying him, I have been more and more impressed with two things—first, that human life is mercifully limited to seventy or eighty years; and secondly, that old men, divorced from all family connections, with no grandchildren playing about their knees, and with no memories but those which record the triumphs of their greed of power and gain, are apt to be the deadliest enemies of the human race. Their life has been an enormous failure, however large may be their property; they know the fact when they have become old, however much they have doubted it in their vigorous age; and such men are the real misanthropes of the business world—human wolves which only the decay of the physical powers prevents from becoming spiritual devils. Mr. Smith was saved from being a devil because the Lord did not accord to him the longevity of Methuselah. He died very respectably, with a number of goldly clergymen and philanthropists around his bed. In his will he left all his remaining property to certain rather heretical religious and benevolent associations, not one of which expected the old cynic would give it a dollar, because it had never troubled him. He had a grand burial—indeed, a weeping New York following his hearse to the tomb. On the next day he was forgotten, except by those he had cheated. The rage of the sect of Christians to which he was nominally attached, and whose ministers had condoned his offenses against Christian sentiments and principles in the hope that he would leave his ill-gotten money to its academies and churches, was secretly but not less bitterly expressed. The old man in making his will probably anticipated this pious indignation, and chuckled over it with a kind of senile glee. He doubtless thought, in his ironical scorn, that those who had been preaching, for the fifty years he had attended their services, against the devil would not condescend to accept the devil's dollars. Certainly every dollar he had earned belonged to the devil rather than to the Lord. As there was no church here on earth which was formally organized in the name of Satan, he probably felt that the best way he could adopt to reach his master was to leave his money to a class of persons he had always abhorred, because they assumed to be reformers, abolitionists, "liberal" Christians, and whom he was taught by his clergyman to consider as little better than atheists on account of defects in their religious creed. He according left his money to them in the hope that they would serve the cause to which he had devoted his life. What would be his rage could he know that the money he had obtained in inflicting suffering was devoted to allaying it—that the devil's money was strictly expended in advancing the cause of the good Lord? Peace to his ashes! I wish I could add, peace to his soul! But, alas! in the whole course of his life he never showed that he had any soul. Harper's for November.

Daily Chronicle.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1876.

FOR PRESIDENT,

Rutherford B. Hayes,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

William A. Wheeler,

OF NEW YORK.

Hayes' Platform in War.

In 1864, when Hayes was in the army, being nominated for Congress he was requested to come home and stump his district. His reply was, "I have other business just now. Any man who would leave the army at this time to electioneer for Congress ought to be scalped!"

Hayes' Platform in Peace.

"Honest money for all, and free schools for all. There should be no inflation which will depreciate the one, nor sectarian interference which will destroy the other."

The "Reformers" and the Spoils.

The two wings (Tammany and anti-Tammany) of the "reform" democracy of New York, on whom devolves the duty of carrying the State for Tilden and pure government, have had a terrible squabble, and it isn't settled yet. This dispute in the ranks of the "reformers," it would naturally be imagined, must relate to some great principle; and so it does,—to the "principle" nearest the average democratic reformer's heart—the principle of an equitable division of the spoils. The factions each had a convention, to try and reconcile their differences; and a committee of conference was appointed to divide the offices in such a manner as should satisfy both wings of the party. There was no pretence at concealment; no pretence that the trouble was occasioned by anything else than a desire on the part of each crowd to get more offices than the other side; but not a "reform" organ in the country has had a word to say concerning the disgraceful scramble and the shameless dividing out of offices as the avowed reward for political services. Tammany, under reformer Kelly, demanded two-thirds of the offices,—on the ground, probably, that Tammany only holds the secret of overcoming opposition majorities no matter how big those majorities may be; anti-Tammany, under reformer Jimmy O'Brien and reformer John Morrissey, demanded one half the offices. Neither party would give in, so Tammany nominated a full ticket. Reformer Morrissey, gambling-hell proprietor, etc., then seceded from anti-Tammany, saying he considered the triumph of Tilden and true reform of more importance even than a fair division of the spoils. O'Brien and his crowd assert that one of Tammany's reform candidates is a murderer and that all the others, with the exception of the candidate for Mayor, are about as bad. Tilden's friends, it is now asserted, are trying hard to get Kelly to resign his position as "Boss," fearing treachery from him,—treachery from John Kelly, leader of the great "reform" organization on whose support Tilden relies solely for victory in the most powerful State in the Union! But there is little wonder the venal and corrupt scoundrels who compose the Tammany Hall organization and through it rule the democratic party of the North, fight bitterly over the division of the offices, for the New York Herald (a democratic paper calling itself "independent" as many democratic papers are fond of doing,) publishes a list of the offices and salaries, with the political assessments levied on each salary by the "reform" leaders, from which it appears that the salaries amount to $3,481,000 annually, the political assessments taking $442,600 of that,—quite a nice little addition to the "bar'ls," for helping to carry the election for Tilden and reform.

Tilden's Letter.

If the republicans needed any encouragement in the present contest, they would get it in the fact that Tilden found himself driven to write his letter on the rebel claims, and that the democratic papers, having once published it in small type, are republishing it in larger type with a liberal admixture of italics and "small caps." It proves that the revelations concerning the enormous claims of the rebels, and the disinclination of foreign capitalists to invest any more money in United States bonds until the election is over, have aroused the property owners of the North to the perils of restoring the ex-rebels to power through the election of Tilden, and that Tilden and his supporters are fully aware of the damaging effect thus exerted upon his prospects.

When the Tribune correspondent first announced that the syndicate, alarmed at the possibility of Tilden's election, would do nothing more with the new low-interest bonds until after election, and that in case Tilden should win they did not expect any further success in placing them, the damaging character of the statement was instantly recognized by the democratic leaders, and August Belmont hastened to say it was untrue. Said he, "the safety and wisdom of investment in the funded debt of the government of the United States do not depend upon Presidential elections, in the opinion of European capitalists and bankers, any more than the soundness of English consols depends upon whether the ministry is Tory or Liberal." But notwithstanding this comforting assurance, the other members of the syndicate (Belmont is one) reiterate the first statement; and it is to do away as much as possible with the disastrous result to Tilden's prospects that Tilden wrote his letter and the democratic papers are reprinting it.

That capital has taken the alarm is not to be wondered at, for "capital is cautious." The rebel claims already introduced would more than double the National debt; and whatever Tilden may say, the men who have made those claims confidently expect them to be paid if Tilden is elected, and it is to those very men that Tilden will owe his election,—if he gets it. The South expects to ruin the North with these claims, as a punishment to the North for waging war to preserve the Union; at least, in no other way can be explained the prediction of the Louisville Courier-Journal that in case of a democratic victory ruin will come upon New England, her manufactories rust and rot in idleness, and her people suffer all the people of the South have suffered,—the warnings of the Richmond Whig, Petersburg Index-Appeal and other southern democratic papers, to New England, that she "will not be allowed to withdraw from the Union," no matter how oppressive she may find the Union to be after the "solid South" once more comes into power,—or the declaration of the Mobile Register that "the next secession will be of the North!" Such expressions as these may be only intended to "fire the Southern heart" in favor of Tilden and reform; but when they are considered in connection with the enormous amount of the rebel claims, the facts that Tilden and Hendricks were both sympathizers with secession and both opposed the war as being unconstitutional, and the sinister action of the democratic House of Representatives, there is little wonder that foreign capitalists button up their breeches pockets and conclude to keep their money where it is rather than invest it in the bonds of a country the bankruptcy of which would not be displeasing to a large part of its population.

No question is raised as to the value of the Nation's promises to pay, in case a republican victory places Rutherford B. Hayes at the Nation's head; but the question is very seriously raised as to what such promises would be worth should a democratic victory put Tilden in the Presidential chair, with a "solid South" and Tammany Hall behind him,—and the capitalists of Europe evidently do not believe, in the latter case, that the bonds of the United States would be worth what they have been paying for them.

News and Notes.

A cyclone in Central America damaged houses and crops to the amount of $5,000,000, 400 houses being blown down and many lives lost.

A fellow named McConochie has confessed that he was the murderer of Maggie Bauer, the little girl whose dead body was found in the woods near Valley Stream depot on Long Island in August last. It will be remembered that the murder was of the most brutal kind, and so mysterious that after half a dozen persons had been arrested and examined, they were discharged for want of sufficient evidence. McConochie was in prison some time on suspicion of being an accomplice of Kate Hoffman, who was last seen with the little girl, but both were set at liberty. The murderer's confession exonerates the Hoffman girl.

At Lyndonville, Vt., on Thursday, three men were badly injured by an explosion of nitro-glycerine, and two of them will certainly die, while the other is not expected to live.

Solon A. Wooley, of Grafton, Vt., on Wednesday shot and killed his brother, Frank Wooley. Both men have large families.

The jury in the Sullivan-Hanford murder trial in Chicago having disagreed, Judge McAllister has been petitioned to resign his seat on the bench, by a large number of the prominent citizens, it being charged that he displayed disgraceful partiality to Sullivan, in his rulings.

The six weeks armistice between Turkey and Servia is considered secured. The Montenegrins have cut Mouktar Pacha's communications, and invested Nicsic.

A dispatch from Barrington, Nova Scotia, announces the total wreck of the schooner D. B. Doane, Capt. Brewer. The mate and two men were drowned.

New Hampshire Items.

Two of the seven brothers Moulton, who originally settled the town of Lyman, are living, hale and hearty, at the ages of eighty and eighty-two.

At Hanover, recently, while Mrs. Ellen Dudley sat playing dominoes with her husband and two friends, she suddenly rose from the table, going toward the stove, saying, "I'm sick, send for a doctor," and in three minutes was dead, having choked to death through hemorrhage. She was twenty-four years of age.

A land slide from the summit of Rattlesnake Mountain, in Wentworth, occurred on Sunday night, Oct. 15th, taking in its course trees two feet in diameter. The sound produced by the slide was heard for several miles and resembled a first-class earthquake.

Andrew Randall, of Newmarket, had his forefinger blown off, and had his hand badly shattered by the accidental discharge of a gun, while gunning in Great Bay.

Mr. Augustus Bradford died at Rindge on Oct. 21st, aged nearly ninety years. He served in the United States army seven years, from 1808 to 1815; was in the battle of Tippecanoe in November, 1811, and was wounded early in the fight. He was probably the last survivor of the battle. His remains were taken to Newmarket for interment.

'Rah for Tilding!

"'Rah for Tilding!" It was not a very clear, but it was a terrible loud shout, and it smote the night air like twelve o'clock. The shouter was an elderly looking man, in that unkempt state that denoted an over devotion to election returns. His vest was buttoned two buttons wrong, and his necktie had slid around under his ear. His hat, by reason of too much putting on and slapping down by officious friends, and too much falling off and being stepped on, had assumed the appearance of a wrecked concertina. His cuffs were in his way, and his watch guard gave him no end of trouble, but he was democratically happy and very enthusiastic, as he came up Main street, a tall, lonely figure, making its devious way onward in a series of figure S's.

"'Rah, f'r Tilding! Whoop! Spatter 'ith us?" he added fiercely, to an Indian tobacco sign. Then he braced up, stood out toward the middle of the street, and bowled along at a ten-knot rate for ten or fifteen feet, then he suddenly tacked to port and came in toward the sidewalk, pitching and rolling heavily, evidently in a cross sea.

"'Rah fort — le! lilding! Samueltild'd sman fo'me. Betcher boots. Onstole Simmy Talding. S'fact young man. Wha's noose'f Indiana? Ol'ri! Jesbet. Onnestole man—ic! Whoop! Roffer Tendling'n Sambrix! I'm constu'n'l reform domicrat! Rofroffs! Roffer Sammel J. Hobden! Whoop pee! Lemme loose! Roffer Tibuel Samling! 'Rah!"

And the stalwart form of a policeman rose up in the gloom and took him in, and he was seen no more.—Burlington Hawk-eye.

—A man rushes into a post-office. "Quick; a postage stamp!" "Of what denomination, sir?" The cheapest you have." "But where is the letter to go?" "It isn't for any letter; I've cut my finger."

—A small boy, while passing through Boston Common by the side of his mother, as his eye fell upon one of the warning boards by the path, read, "Keep off the grass." Turning to his mother he asked, "Keep it off of what!"

Forestalling Disease.

When we see that death is so often the penalty paid for a fatuous disregard of the symptoms of approaching disease, should we not be warned against the folly of neglecting defensive measures when called for in our own case? Assuredly we should, and upon the first manifestations of ill health or decay of physical vigor, seek the aid of medicine. The fortifying influence upon the system of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters entitle that medicine of many virtues to the highest consideration as a preventive, and it cannot be too strongly recommended as a means of arresting the progress of malarious fevers, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, kidney and bladder troubles, gout, rheumatism and other disorders which in their incipiency are far more easily overcome than in maturity—while, moreover, the great alterative has repeatedly demonstrated its power to vanquish them in their worst phases.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. Remarkably low. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot. dawP17T

LITTLE GIANT!

REG. JUNE 6, '72.

This Trade Mark is a guarantee that the medicine is genuine. Without it the Pills are a fraud and a cheat when it is represented by any dealer that they are selling the LITTLE GIANT PILLS, which have effected such wonderful cures in Portsmouth.

This medicine has been prepared with the greatest care of the choicest ingredients for the cure of Sick Headache and Bilious Disorders. Its success has been very surprising, as the many certificates of well-known citizens testify.

Parties in Portsmouth, well knowing this, are offering some other Pills, pretending that they are the same. GEO. E. HANSON, 41 Congress Street, is the Agent in Portsmouth who can produce the genuine Pills, put up in square boxes with the Trade Mark upon each box. Any one who has bought any other, supposing they have bought these, has been imposed upon, and had better go back and get his money and buy a reliable medicine of the authorized agent;

CITY AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, October 26.

Petition of Mrs. Daniel Adwers, for relaying of sidewalk, was referred to committee on streets.

Petition of C. H. Mendum for leave to encumber Vaughan street in front of house lately owned by Miss Sarah Shores, was granted.

Communication from Eastern Railroad, declining to take action in relation to the claim of Stephen Weeks for damage done to his horse at the crossing on Islington street, was referred to the committee on claims.

Notice of claim of C. H. Sides for damages to his minor daughter by the upsetting of a carriage near the Eastern depot was referred to the committee on claims.

Petition of Chas. Walker for relaying of crosswalk on Richards avenue was referred to committee on streets with power.

John W. Wilson was appointed special police without pay, at Portsmouth Bridge.

The hearing on the petition of W. H. Y. Hackett and others for a highway from Pleasant street to Langdon Park was resumed. A. R. Hatch, J. P. Bartlett and O. M. Knight appeared in favor of the petition; C. H. Mendum and H. Peyser in opposition to the same. The whole matter was referred to a special committee consisting of Ald. Spinney, Norton and Botton.

The committee on fire department reported that Steamer No. One had been put in thorough repair at a cost of about $30. They recommended that a board of survey be appointed to examine Steamer No. Two, and report to the Board.

Voted, That the Mayor request the Treasurer to be in his office on the second Saturday of each month from 6 to 8 o'clock in the evening.

Adjourned for two weeks.

SUPREME COURT.

Friday, October 27.

State vs. Lewis E. Harlow, of Windham, for arson, was on trial. Marston and Hatch for deft. The following witnesses were examined for the State: Peirce S. Call, George W. Demott, George Richardson, Stephen S. Demott, Clara N. Davis, William C. Harris, Mrs. Knapp,—all of Windham.

POLICE COURT.

Thursday, Oct. 26. A man calling himself John Thomas was assessed $9.90 for drunkenness, and has gone to Brentwood to work it out.

Friday, Oct. 27. Robert Foster was brought before the Court on a charge of being a common drunkard, but escaped through a defect in the warrant.

JOTTINGS.

National Thanksgiving, Thursday, November 30th.

Number Eighty-five of Thomas' "Old Farmer's Almanac"—that for the year 1877—is out, and for sale at the bookstores. It has the usual tables; also times and places of holding United States and State courts, rates of postage, and other useful matter. From it we learn that there will be five eclipses next year, three of the sun and two of the moon. Only one of these will be visible in the United States,—a total eclipse of the moon on August 23d.

The Tilden clubs of this city, with other persons, to the number in all of four hundred or more, went to Dover on Thursday evening to participate in a "grand democratic rally." We are informed that Dover's streets were well filled with citizens of all sorts, sizes, sexes, ages and previous conditions, and visitors from Rochester, Great Falls, Farmington and other towns, and that quite a long procession marched over quite a long route, the Portsmouth clubs, however, being the only uniformed organizations present. Drunkenness was apparent, and a good deal of it; but we are informed that none of the Portsmouth delegation—at least, none of the uniformed men—showed any sign of undue indulgence in intoxicating fluids, all behaving with propriety. The party returned to this city shortly before midnight; the battalion drew up in line on Market square, gave some cheers for somebody or something—probably Tilden or reform—and then the clubs broke off and marched to their respective headquarters in an orderly manner.

Of Benedict's Minstrels, who are to appear at the Temple next Wednesday evening, the Philadelphia Ledger of Sept. 29 says: "Lew Benedict's Minstrels are giving excellent entertainments. The troupe embraces twenty-one popular performers, and they present new and original acts."

The tickets for Mr. Beecher's lecture at the Temple on Tuesday evening next are going rapidly. If you are intending to go you had better get your pasteboard at once.

The Tilden and Hendricks battalion, instead of employing the Portsmouth Cornet Band to accompany them on their trip to Dover, sent out of town for a band. This was their own affair, of course, and we find no fault with them for so doing; but we would remind the citizens that a local band is a very convenient thing to have around, and that one cannot be kept up unless it receives the local patronage. The Portsmouth band has procured a neat uniform, and we believe means to merit all the patronage it may receive; and we hope the organization will receive every reasonable encouragement.

We are requested to state that a lady in this city on Friday gave fifty dollars for the benefit of Faith Home for Old Ladies.

Subject at Bow Mission on Sunday: "Paul, the Christian soldier," continued.

The promenade concert and ball of the City Guards, in Franklin Hall, Thursday evening, was a pleasant and excellently managed affair, and reflected credit on the management and the corps.

Rockingham Lodge of Good Templars, of this city, paid a visit to Whipple Lodge of Kittery on Wednesday evening. Remarks were made by Rev. James Noyes of this city and Rev. C. A. Hutchinson of Kittery after which a collation was served.

Political.

The republican torch-light demonstration in Boston, Thursday evening, was an immense affair, between twelve and fifteen thousand people being in line. The transparencies were numerous and many of the hits effective, the battalions from Harvard College and the Institute of Technology carrying off the palm for cartoons.

The proclamation of President Grant was welcomed by twenty thousand democrats in South Carolina with a pleasure but little less than that of persecuted republicans. More than that number of conservative voters are hoping for the success of Chamberlain while wearing the red shirts, lugging the revolvers and doing the yelling for Hampton. More than that number have been conscripted into the Hampton legions now as they were thirteen years ago.—Columbia (S. C.) Union Herald.

And now it turns out that General Hooker's name, which appeared signed to the call for a soldier's Tilden convention (which convention was such a fizzle that it was not described at all by the democratic press) at Albany, was a forgery, Reform, reform!

Capt. Hall, U. S. Sixteenth Infantry, commanding at Monroe, La., reports a very unsettled state of things in some Parishes of that State, the white democrats making life very insecure for republicans. On Oct. 10 the white liners shot and instantly killed Primus Johnson, a colored preacher, and mortally wounded Eaton Logwood, eight miles above Monroe. No physicians dared go to Logwood's aid, for fear of the vengeance of the democratic rifle club under whose auspices the murders were committed.

The party which sixteen years ago had almost destroyed the credit of the country; had left the treasury in such a condition, had so weakened and disgraced the administration of the government, had so nearly rent the Union asunder, that the United States were obliged to pay bankrupt rates for the use of money—this same party now proposes to turn out of power the party under whose management the United States have secured a better foreign credit than they ever before have had; and the democratic party proposes to do this in order to "restore the public credit." Contrasted with this impudent proposal the demand of Sitting Bull to be allowed to come into the agencies and trade for ammunition, is a modest request: Your Sioux is a shy and timid person compared with your reformed democrat.—New York Evening Post.

The brutal folly of the democrats of Meriden Saturday night lost them at least one vote. To show their contempt for the murdered men whose bodies lie in the forests and swamps of South Carolina, they brought out a shirt besmeared with some red substance to represent the "bloody shirt." The contemptible device was too much for Mr. George W. Burnes, a brave and honorable soldier, who stepped out of the ranks, took off his uniform and declared his purpose to vote against a party that could mock at the sufferings of oppressed people.—Hartford Post.

Judge Magrath and General Desaussure, leading democrats of Charleston county, S. C., on Thursday called on Governor Chamberlain and General Ruger, to request the presence of United States troops in Charleston county, to insure peace and order at the coming election. They appeared as representatives of the white citizens. Governor Chamberlain and General Ruger gave them the assurance that perfect impartiality should be observed in their respective official acts. This visit of leading white citizens to seek aid of the United States troops is conclusive proof that troops are not regarded as partisan agencies, and that the Governor's purposes relate only to public peace and safety.

PILOT BREAD.

This kind of bread having come into extensive family use, it has been my purpose to furnish, from choice materials, an article which should meet the approval of the most fastidious as to neatness, looks and taste. Whether I have succeeded in giving to the public a PILOT BREAD,

SUPERIOR IN EXCELLENCE,

the consumer may be the judge; that the quality will not be inferior to deserving, the past with the present is my best pledge. That I can compete with all the various qualities of Pilot Bread in the market, as to price, I make no pretensions,—but in price, all things being equal, I fear no competition.

Daily Chronicle.

A Scandal Nipped in the Bud.

A couple of weeks ago a New Orleans journal published a rumor which affected the honor of Mrs. Romero, the wife of the former Mexican Minister in Washington. Mrs. Romero is an American lady, and became acquainted with her husband in the national capital while he represented there the Government of Mexico, then under the renowned Juarez. For several years past Mr. and Mrs. Romero have resided happily together in the City of Mexico. The rumor lately published was to the effect that Mrs. Romero had eloped with an editor living in the City of Mexico, and that she had taken with her a large sum of money belonging to her husband. Yesterday Mrs. Romero's mother, who was greatly annoyed because of the mischievous calumny which had been ventilated to the prejudice of her daughter's fair fame, called at the office of Dr. Juan N. Navarro, Mexican Consul-General in this city, and showed him a letter from the injured wife under date of Oct. 10th, which gives the lie direct to the falsehood which has caused the family so much uneasiness. General Navarro also states that many of the passengers who have just arrived from Mexico join their testimony in branding the report as an outrageous fabrication.

—The toast-master who delivered the following is dead now. "Old Bachelors—Like sour cider, they grow more crabbed the longer they are kept, and when they see a little mother they turn to vinegar, at once."

SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,

SUCCESSOR TO

Dr. TELLER,

DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by a gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichot's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to DR. S. Y. R. YOUNG, 9 Beaver St., Albany, N. Y.

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 29, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. Was relieved him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was just ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend them to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO., Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England!

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

— USE —

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

INCREASES THE QUANTITY IMPROVES THE QUALITY ARMSTRONG'S LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER. Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round. BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

Advice to Drinking Men.

The question is frequently asked, not only of Dr. Reynolds, but of others, what course a drinking man should pursue to rid himself of the craving appetite for liquor. None but one who has been there knows how terrible is this appetite and how difficult it is to resist its demands. The desire for just one more drink besets every man who has ever fallen a victim to the curse, and the cries for something to fill up the void without a return to the intoxicating cup are heard everywhere. It is a pleasure to announce that such a substitute does exist. A drinking man can supply himself easily with the remedies used at nearly all of the inebriate asylums and be his own physician at his own house, without the necessity, expense and publicity of visiting the Washingtonian Home or any other reformatory institution.

His laboratory needs contain only a small quantity of cayenne pepper, a pot of concentrated extract of beef and a few grains of bromide of potassium. When the desire for drink recurs, make a tea from the cayenne pepper, as strong as can be taken with any degree of comfort, sweeten it with milk and sugar, and drink. This tea will supply the same place that a glass of liquor would fill, and will leave no injurious effects behind. Repeated daily, or so often as the appetite returns, it will be but a few days before the sufferer will have become disgusted with the taste of the pepper, and with the appearance of this disgust disappears the love of liquor. The fact is proven every day. The extract of beef is to be made into beef tea, according to the directions on the pot, in quantities as may be needed for the time being, and furnishes a cheap, easily digestible and healthful nutriment, it being made to "stay on the stomach," when heavier articles of food would be rejected. The bromide of potassium is to be used carefully, and only in cases of extreme nervousness, the dose being from fifteen to twenty grains, dissolved in water. This is a public exhibit of the method of treatment adopted at inebriate asylums. In addition thereto the drinking man should surround himself with influences which tend to make him forget the degrading associates of the bar-room, and lift him upwards. He should endeavor, so far as his business avocations will permit, to sleep, bathe and eat regularly, and to obey carefully the ordinary laws of health. By the adoption of this course energetically and sincerely, no man who has the will to reform can fail to do so. Hundreds and thousands can attest the truth of these statements.—Traveller.

The Female Hoodlum.

An investigation shows the budding womanhood of San Francisco to be in a very demoralized condition and a crying disgrace to the society which permits such a state of affairs to exist. Worst of all, the evil has invaded a class of society not usually productive of the genus hoodlum, and in a manner that will not admit of its speedy suppression. In fact the curse of hoodlumism has seemingly leavened the whole rising generation, and both male and female now assert their right to breathe an atmosphere of absolute independence, and snap their fingers at parental authority of any degree or description whatever. In the case of girls, of all classes and conditions, the result is a most deplorable and damaging one. It has been remarked by strangers to our city that the behavior of girls in their teens on our streets is very brazen and unaccountable. They can be seen late at night trooping about in their short dresses, and smiling and smirking in the most maudlin way at the well-dressed, long-coated, cigarette-stained statues who disgrace the streets corners and themselves, for the purpose of catching the glances of these same little girls. The characteristics of these female hoodlums are a quick walk, the hair pulled down over the forehead and cut off square like the shock of a Washoe Indian squaw, and a complexity of attire that is far beyond their age and capacity to carry. It is no great trouble to pick them out, and the only thing that will bewilder the curious observer is the number to be met with. To study the species properly, one must be abroad on their field days—Saturday and Sunday.—San Francisco Chronicle.

—Connecticut once had a "Newgate." The vast subterranean vaults in Copper Hill, now included in the town of East Granby, were in 1773 converted into a prison for felons, who were employed in the mines. Dr. Trumbull, the historian, once observed that the mine was thus rendered "of much greater value to the State than all the copper dug out of it." This place, the famous "Newgate" of Connecticut, was, during the Revolution, the place of confinement for Tories, and afterward a general prison. After having been used for that purpose about fifty years, the whole mine was purchased in 1830 of the State for $1200 by two New Yorkers, who sunk their money in it. It is said that good specimens of copper coin made from the Granby copper now command a high price. There were several issues with different devices, some having a broad axe, with the motto, "I cut my way through." These pieces were current for many years, and were known as "Granby coppers," and were in demand by gold-beaters for alloy.

Daily Chronicle.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1876.

FOR PRESIDENT,

Rutherford B. Hayes,

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

William A. Wheeler,

OF NEW YORK.

Hayes' Platform in War.

In 1864, when Hayes was in the army, being nominated for Congress he was requested to come home and stump his district. His reply was, "I have other business just now. Any man who would leave the army at this time to electioneer for Congress ought to be scalped!"

Hayes' Platform in Peace.

Wade Hampton "Waves the Bloody Shirt."

From Beaufort, South Carolina, comes an account of a democratic meeting at which Wade Hampton and other prominent democrats were attempting to speak, being broken up the colored republicans, who hooted and yelled and made so much noise that the speakers could not get a word in edgewise. The report is from democratic sources, so it no doubt makes the affair out to be quite as bad as the facts would warrant; yet there is no pretence that any violence was offered to any of the democrats, and admitting all that is charged against the negroes to be true, it only shows that they have partially learned the lesson of intolerance and proscription so ably set before them by the democrats during this campaign. But the most wonderful thing in the democratic dispatch is the following:

"In view of the conduct of the negroes today, and in accordance with repeated representations made to him as to the necessity for such action, Gen. Hampton telegraphed Gen. Ruger this evening a request to send one or more companies of troops to this county at once for the purpose of protecting colored democrats, who are threatened hourly."

That statement strikes us as being rather comical. After all the howling of the democrats about "Federal bayonets," when the governor of South Carolina asked National aid to protect the people of the State in the exercise of their rights, no sooner is a democratic meeting broken up by a republican crowd's refusal to listen to what is said—for it is not even charged that the negroes went any further with the democratic "Mississippi plan" than to drown the voices of the speakers with shouts—no sooner is a democratic meeting thus disturbed than Gen. Hampton hastens to telegraph Gen. Ruger to "send one or more companies of troops at once!" It strikes us that Wade Hampton is not only going ahead of everybody else in the vigor with which he waves the "bloody shirt," but that in directing Gen. Ruger to "send one or more companies of troops to this county at once" he is assuming the duties of the governship of the State a little too previous, for he isn't elected yet. We expect a tremendous outburst of indignation from the northern democratic press over this infamous attempt of Hampton's to "employ Federal bayonets to carry the election." Or, more likely, the democratic press will come out and say that while the Beaufort correspondent told the simple truth about the bad conduct of the colored republicans, he lied like a democratic stump-speaker in saying Wade Hampton urgently called for troops on his own responsibility, without the formality of applying to the proper authorities—the governor or United States marshal of the district.

Of one thing we are assured, and that is that Governor Chamberlain and Gen. Ruger will do all that the force at their command enables them to do, to maintain the peace of the State and protect democrats and republicans alike; but we question very much whether they will regard Gen. Hampton as the commanding officer of the United States troops, and "send one or more companies" to whatever point he may designate, without some further proof of the necessity of such action then Wade Hampton's mere assertion that it is necessary.

National Thanksgiving Day Proclamation.

From year to year we have been accustomed to pause in our daily pursuits, and set apart a time to offer our thanks to Almighty God for the special blessings He has vouchsafed to us, with our prayers for a continuance thereof. We have at this time equal reason to be be thankful for His continued protection and for the many material blessings which His bounty has bestowed. In addition to the favors accorded to us as individuals, we have special reason to express our hearty thanks to Almighty God that by His providence and guidance our Government, established a century ago, has been enabled to fill the purposes of its founders, in offering an asylum to the people of every race, securing civil and religious liberty to all within its borders, and meting out to every individual alike justice and equality before the law. It is, moreover, specially our duty to offer our humble prayers to the Father of all mercies for a continuance of His Divine favor to us as a nation and as individuals. By reason of all these considerations I, Ulysses S. Grant, President of the United States, do recommend to the people of the United States to devote the 30th day of November next to the expression of their thanks and prayers to Almighty God, and laying aside their daily avocations and all secular occupations to assemble in their respective places of worship, and observe such day of thanksgiving in rest.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at Washington on this the 26th day of October, 1876, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and first.

U. S. GRANT.

News and Notes.

John Hill and John Fallen, for the murder of George Chrislett in August last, were hung at May's Landing, N. J., on Thursday.

Two aged women, sisters, were murdered in Laurens county, S. C., last week, with an axe.

In Pawtucket, R. I., Friday night, a ten-years-old daughter of Henry McNally was burned to death by her clothing catching fire from a candle with which she was playing.

An inquest on the body of Christopher B. Sawyer, found floating in the Merrimac river at Newburyport, Oct. 23d, has developed evidence that he was murdered before being thrown into the river. Robbery was the object.

Edward S. Stokes, the man who killed James Fisk, Jr., in a quarrel about a disreputable woman of the lowest sort, some years ago, was released from Sing Sing prison on Saturday, having served out his sentence. The world may not have gained much by his return to it, but it did not lose much when Fisk left it, either.

George Hobbs of the Atlantic House, Wells beach, had his jaw broken and received other severe injuries by an accident to an accommodation train on the Boston & Maine Railroad near Portland Friday afternoon.

Woodward's saw mill, at York, with all its appurtenances, was destroyed by fire on Monday night, Oct. 23d. Loss about $2000 on building and stock; $1000 insurance on former.

The companies that held insurance on the Eliot Academy, recently destroyed by fire, concluded to pay the full amount of insurance rather than go to court on the case pending against them.

Sam Tilden is contemplating a request to the Government to have the troops in South Carolina supplied with Brother Henry's extract of coffee.

Henry Carpenter, the man arrested on suspicion of complicity in the murder of White, recently found in Henry Gravelin's well at Weathersfield, Vermont, has confessed. He says Gravelin committed the murder, but he (Carpenter) was afraid to expose him for fear of his own life. Circumstances corroborate Carpenter's story.

Schooner Thistle, at Halifax from Fortune Bay, Newfoundland, reports that on the 20th of October schooner Annapolis, produce laden, drove into the bay on her beam ends. The body of a man and pieces of others were found lashed to the rigging. There is no doubt that all hands were lost. The vessel was probably bound from Annapolis to Boston, and got blown off.

Mrs. Burnham of Atlanta visited the Centennial exhibition and there met a man who said that he was Col. Delong of Boston and very wealthy. On the second day of their acquaintance they were married, and on the third day the bride was looking for her husband and $1300 which had disappeared with him.

Two Englishtown (N. J.) boys, fired with the sprit of many sensational tales, stole an oyster boat at Keyport and put out to sea in search of an island whereon to play Crusoe and Friday. Two or three days after an inward-bound vessel picked them up, nearly dead from exposure and hunger.

The United States, by its District Attorney, has entered suits against Gen. O. O. Howard as a defaulter of funds entrusted to him in connection with the Freedmen's Bureau and Howard University. For one of the suits $150,000 is claimed, and in the other $29,000. These actions are ordinary assumpsit suits, and the money is claimed to have been received by Gen. Howard for the use of the United States and not to have been paid over.

On Thursday night, at Hartford, Conn., Deputy Sheriff Woodward and Constables Reed and Price attempted to arrest a desperado named John Donovan, for wife-beating, when he plunged a knife into Price's bowels and narrowly missed Reed. Sheriff Woodward then shot Donovan dead with a revolver.

New Hampshire Items.

Alexander Caldwell of Bennington has in his possession a jacknife which he has owned sixty-nine years, and for fifty consecutive years carried it in his pocket. He was called to Portsmouth as a soldier in the war of 1812, and used this same knife while there to cut his rations with. He is now eighty-six years old, smart as many men in middle age, working more or less every day. He also has the gun which he carried in Portsmouth—one of the old English Tower pattern, which was made in 1742, and is consequently one hundred and thirty-four years old. The knife has been shown us by J. H. Fleming, Esq., and is quite a knife yet, though rather loose in the joint. It has a single blade, hawk bill shape, of which there is enough left apparently to last as many more years. It was carried several years by his father before it came into his possession.—Peterboro' Transcript.

Thomas J. Wentworth of Ossipee, an insane man about 70 years of age, wandered away from his boarding-house some four weeks since, and, notwithstanding a general search by the citizens has been made, nothing has been discovered to indicate his whereabouts or what has become of him.

"Paying High Interest."

"Paying high interest" is one of the charges which Gov. Seymour brings against the republican administration; and a correspondent asks for the facts of the case. Here they are:

1. Mr. Buchanan, at the close of his administration, found that for his term the expenses had exceeded the income by $57,989,523; and the Treasury placed $10,000,000 Treasury notes at a discount ranging up to twelve per cent., and in February, 1861, five per cent. bonds to the amount of $18,450,000 were sold at 89.10, or nearly eleven per cent. discount. That is the last democratic financial negotiation for the Government.

2. During the month of September last, four and a half per cent. bonds to the amount of $50,000,000 were sold at par in gold, the best sale of government bonds on record in the history of any nation. If this transaction had been made on the basis of Mr. Buchanan's loan, the cost to the Government would have been $5,500,000; while all the expenses are now about one twentieth of that sum. On the whole sum of four and a half per cent. bonds negotiated, the democratic discount would have been $33,000,000. As it is, the loan is sold at par, and the expenses of all kinds are limited to one half of one per cent.

3. In 1867 the Government paid $143,781,591 for interest on the national debt. Last year it was reduced to $100,243,241, and this year it will be nearly $5,000,000 less still. That is to say, the burden of interest has been reduced one third in ten years.

4. Had the democratic House perfected necessary legislation, the Treasury would now be selling bonds paying only four per cent. interest. In spite of the neglect of that body, the present administration has the distinction of having disposed of the four and a half per cent. bonds on better terms than any other nation ever negotiated its bonds for so large a sum.

This Government never before paid so low a rate of interest, as now, and no other government ever reduced the interest burden so rapidly as the present administration is doing.—Utica Herald.

—A horse ran away on a Jersey City wharf just as a man was crossing said wharf with a broom in one hand and a pail of water in the other. Hearing the shouting of "Whoa!" "Whoa!" the man threw down his broom, planted his feet firmly, and as the horse came up with him he let fly the contents of his pail, hitting the horse squarely in the face and eyes and stopping him as suddenly as if he had been shot. The astonished animal was immediately secured amid the hearty laughter from a number of amused spectators.

—"Ah!" said she, with a little sigh; "don't you think this the loveliest weather in the world for a wedding, George?" "Minnie," said George, "did you hear Jim Blaine? He's a fine speaker, I tell you."

—"I never sot my mind to writin' poetry till two years ago," said a young ruralist, tilting back in a grocery chair; "but the minute I took to goin' with that Johnson girl, by gosh! I couldn't help it."

Forestalling Disease.

When we see that death is so often the penalty paid for a fatuous disregard of the symptoms of approaching disease, should we not be warned against the folly of neglecting defensive measures when called for in our own case? Assuredly we should, and upon the first manifestations of ill health or decay of physical vigor, seek the aid of medicine. The fortifying influence upon the system of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters entitle that medicine of many virtues to the highest consideration as a preventive, and it cannot be too strongly recommended as a means of arresting the progress of malarious fevers, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, kidney and bladder troubles, gout, rheumatism, and other disorders which in their incipiency are far more easily overcome than in their maturity—albeit, the great alterative has repeatedly demonstrated its power to vanquish them in their worst phases.

MARTYRS TO SALT RHEUM, Rejoice! The persistent use of GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP will cure you. Use it instead of the greasy ointments and astringent washes with which you have heretofore stimulated the disease. It is cleanly, safe and speedy.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

TORCH-LIGHT POLITICS.

The republicans of this city, in order to make the last week before election a little bit lively, on Saturday arranged the following programme:

Monday evening — Distribution of uniforms to second battalion of Hayes and Wheeler Guards (250 men), at headquarters. Also, at same time and place, issuing of uniforms to Cadet Company of 100 lads.

Tuesday evening—Street drill of all the uniformed republican organizations.

Wednesday evening—Guards visit Manchester to take part in the great republican demonstration in that place.

Thursday evening—Grand street parade in this city.

Friday evening — Uniformed companies visit Dover to join in the great union demonstration of the Strafford county republican clubs.

SUPREME COURT.

Saturday, October 28th.

Lucy M. Willey vs. William S. Willey. Upon the coming in of the Court this morning the decision was announced. Divorce decreed; alimony $156 per annum, and one-third of the libellee's real estate, subject to his life estate. W. H. Y. Hackett for libellant; Frink and Hodgdon for libellee.

State vs. Harlow, charged with arson at Windham, was continued, and several witnesses were examined on behalf of the State. At 11:30 A. M. the Court adjourned until 11 A. M. on Monday.

JOTTINGS.

The Times of Saturday says: "Newington's check-list numbers 116 names, headed by the venerable Capt. John Adams, now nearly ninety years old, and a staunch democrat, who has led the list for more than forty years." Correct,—with the trifling exception that Capt. Adams never voted a democratic ticket in his life!

Faith Home will be formally dedicated to-morrow; the services will consist of prayer, reading of Scriptures, hymns, and addresses. The musical portion of the exercises will be conducted by Dr. Goodall; Bro. H. L. Hastings, editor of The Christian, will make the principal address. A collation will be provided for the visitors from out of town. Mr. Hastings will preach in the evening at Mechanics Hall, services commencing at 7 o'clock, so as not to interfere with the lecture at the Temple by Mr. Beecher.

Capt. C. Pfoundes, formerly an officer in the British Colonial Navy, later an attache of Her Majesty's Legation in Japan, interpreter to the Japanese Embassy, etc., has been lecturing in the British Provinces and Maine on "Japan and the Japanese," his lecture being highly spoken of by the press as an interesting and instructive description of the wonderful people of whom so little was known thirty years ago but who have attracted so much of our attention since. It is probable he will lecture in this city at some time in the near future.

The Portland, Saco & Portsmouth railroad offers to stockholders five hundred thousand dollars of first mortgage bonds, gold interest at 6 per cent, each stock-holder having the right to subscribe for as many bonds as he may desire.

A kerosene lamp burst in the house on Adams street occupied by Mrs. Parkinson, Friday morning, occasioning damage to the amount of $100.

A professional gentleman of Exeter, returned from the Centennial, describes the Exposition as "a net-work of greatness" and "the acmer of human ingenuity."

On Saturday we received a "bouquet" from the garden of Mr. Henry Fernald, of Kittery Foreside, said bouquet consisting of a half-dozen strawberry stems, on which were two good-sized ripe strawberries, eight or ten green strawberries, of various sizes, and a blossom,—quite a curiosity to be grown in the open air in this latitude at this time of the year, without any especial attention.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT.

In the United States Circuit Court, Thursday, James Dunphey of Beverly, master of the schooner W. H. Y. Hackett, was tried for an assault upon Joseph H. Barlow, cook of the vessel, while on the Grand Banks, engaged in a fishing voyage. The captain was irritated because he was dissatisfied with the manner in which Barlow served the meals, and threw a crockery plate at the cook, inflicting injuries on his forehead, etc.

Saturday, October 28. United States vs. Charles Crohan, charged with perjury in this Court at the trial of a repeater named O'Brien at the term one year ago; case given to jury this morning; verdict, guilty. Crohan was sentenced to three years in the State Prison and to pay a fine of $10.

Political.

The New York Tribune, referring to Tilden's rebel claims pledge, asks: "But are such pledges trustworthy? Let the history of Polk, Pierce and Buchanan answer! Polk promised to resist the known desire of his party for the repeal of the tariff of 1842. Pierce promised to resist the known disposition of his party to push slavery into the Territories. Buchanan promised that secession should have no countenance from him. Which prevailed—the men, or the party? Mr. Tilden has already betrayed, in this very campaign, that fatal submissiveness to the demands of party which robs his promise of value. No doubt he is sincere. So, no doubt, he was sincere when he proclaimed as his motto, 'Specie resumption; no step backward.' Yet he has found a pretext for consenting to repeal of the resumption act. Will he find no excuse for yielding once more?"

Maryland always was a sanguine little State. At the outbreak of the rebellion it was "red-hot" for the Confederacy, and if it did less fighting it was guilty of more boasting than any other southern State except South Carolina. And now its enthusiastic democrats are raising a fund to supply "President" Tilden with an escort on the day of his inauguration. Bide a bit, friends. Perhaps a very small sum put on interest will amount to enough for that purpose by the time "Sammy" needs it.—Dispatch.

Gen. M. C. Butler, known as one armed Butler, and Gen. McGary, the noted fire eaters who are the chief advocates of Wade Hampton's cause in South Carolina, have been discovered in questionable transactions in connection with the negotiation of the South Carolina bonds under the corrupt Moses government which Governor Chamberlain overthrew.

As an evidence of the disposition of the democratic House of Representatives to maintain the public faith, the New York Herald instances the appropriations for the interest of the public debt, which, it says, went through without any attempt to load them with offensive legislation. No appropriation was made at the last session of Congress, for the payment of the interest on the public debt; none was needed. The interest on the debt is provided for by one of the permanent appropriations, of which there are several. The law has not been so deficient as to leave the interest on the public obligations dependent upon the caprice of faction, or to permit it to become the make weight in political combinations. This security, at least, the country has, until the legislative powers of the government fall altogether under rebel control.—Providence Journal.

One year ago, at the State election, the democrats carried Baltimore by 15,000 majority; now, after a hard-fought municipal contest, and with the loudest injunctions from the literary bureau to "hold the fort," they have carried it by only 6000. Yet the democratic papers glorify the "great democratic victory in Baltimore!"

The last democratic candidate for the Presidency publicly said to the present democratic candidate for the Presidency: "You are as deeply implicated in the stupendous election frauds of 1868 as though your name were Tweed, O'Brien or Oakey Hall." This Mr. Greeley publicly declared over his own signature, on Oct. 29, 1869. Did or did not Horace Greeley lie?

"The fate of Governor Tilden," says the New York Tribune, "hangs upon the will of three men,"—and their names are Kelly, Morrissey and O'Brien. They are now fighting for the place of power in the event of Tilden's election, that is, the control of the party machinery in New York city, which is the centre and soul of democratic power in this country. They will unite their forces for Tilden at last,—no fear of that;—for however much they may dislike him, they have no hopes elsewhere. The fight now going on is simply to settle which of them, Kelly or Morrissey, shall be his chief dispenser of patronage. It is a pleasant outlook for the reform wing.—Salem Gazette.

—At a dinner party there were two sisters present, one a widow who had just emerged from her weeds, the other not long married, whose husband had lately gone out to India for a short term. A young barrister present was deputed to take the widow down to dinner. Unfortunately he was under the impression that his partner was the married lady whose husband had just arrived in India. The conversation between them began with the lady's remarking how extremely hot it was. "Yes, it is very hot," returned the young barister. Then a happy thought suggested itself to him, and he added with a cheerful smile, "But not so hot as the place to which your husband has gone." The look with which the widow answered this "happy thought" will haunt that young barrister till the day of his death.

—It is not often that a rural paper gets hold of any very thrilling news in advance of the city dailies, but recently a country paper made the blood-curdling announcement, "Dr. Jackson has about completed a new door-yard fence."

—The telegraph took the trouble to inform mankind that the equestrian statue of General McPherson represented that hero on horseback.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON,

Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. A Wife's Revenge.

In a Western city lives a certain married man who but for his quick temper would be all that the word gentleman implies. Unfortunately he occasionally lets his hot blood run away with his brains. Not many weeks ago his wife and he had some pretty sharp words, when he so far forgot himself as to strike his better half with a piece of rope which he chanced to have in his hand. He soon afterward left for down town, first telling the servant, however, that he would bring company home with him to dinner. Dinner hour came round, and so did Mr. B., with a couple of his most esteemed friends. The table was groaning under its load of good things when Mr. B. ushered his guests into the dining-room; but fancy his surprise on beholding in the center of the table, on a huge plate, a huge piece of rope neatly coiled up. With a sickly smile, he looked first at his guests and then at his wife.

"My dear," he exclaimed, "what is the meaning of this?"

"Oh, nothing, my dear," she answered; "only as you gave me rope for breakfast, I thought I would give you rope for dinner."

—A company of vegetarians, who were boarding at a water cure establishment, while taking a walk in the fields, were attacked by a bull, who chased them furiously out of the pasture, whereupon one of the ladies, panting with fright and fatigue, exclaimed: "That's your gratitude, is it, you great hateful thing! After this, I'll eat beef three times a day."

SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,

SUCCESSOR TO

Dr. TELLER,

DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transferred the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accomodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasure of marriel life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates, price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichol's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Gulvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all Diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are represented to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and from you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send another testimonial. My sister has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, as that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mobile, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

PULMOCINE

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating, increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the luxury trying climate of New England!

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

— USE —

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. His offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

ARMSTRONG'S LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER.

Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round.

BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

Too Late for the Train.

When they reached the depot, Mr. Man and his wife gazed with unspeakable disappointment at the receding train, which was just pulling away from the bridge switch at the rate of a thousand miles a minute. Their first impulse was to run after it, but as the train was out of sight and whistling for Sagetown before they could act upon the impulse, they remained in the carriage and disconsolately turned the horses' heads homeward.

"It all comes of having to wait for a woman to get ready," Mr. Man broke the silence with, very grimly.

"I was ready before you were," replied his wife.

"Great Heavens," cried Mr. Man, in irrepressible impatience, jerking the horses' jaws out of place, "just listen to that! And I sat out in the buggy ten minutes, yelling at you to come along until the whole neighborhood heard me!"

"Yes," acquiesced Mrs. Man, with the provoking placidity which no one can assume but a woman, "and every time I started down stairs you sent me back for something you had forgotten."

Mr. Man groaned. "This is too much to hear, when everybody knows that if I was going to Europe, I would just rush into the house, put on a clean shirt, grab up my grip-sack, and fly, while you would want at least six months for preliminary preparations, and then dawdle around the whole day of starting until every train had left town."

Well, the upshot of the matter was, that the Mans put off their visit to Aurora until the next week, and it was agreed that each one should get him or herself ready and go down to the train and go, and the one who failed to get ready should be left. The day of the match came round in due time. The train was to go at 10:30, and Mr. Man, after attending to his business, went home at 9:45.

"Now, then," he shouted, "only three-quarters of an hour to train time. Fly around; a fair field and no favors, you know."

And away they flew. Mr. Man bulged into this room and rushed through that one and dived into one closet after another with inconceivable rapidity, chuckling under his breath all the time, to think how cheap Mrs. Man would feel when he started off alone. He stopped on his way up stairs to pull off his heavy boots to save time. For the same reason he pulled off his coat as he ran through the dining room and hung it on a corner of the silver closet. Then he pulled off his vest as he rushed through the hall and tossed it on a hook in the hat rack, and by the time he reached his own room he was ready to plunge into his clean clothes. He pulled out a bureau drawer and began to paw at the things like a Scotch terrier after a rat.

"Eleanor!" he shrieked, "where are my shirts?"

"In your bureau drawer," calmly replied Mrs. Man, who was standing placidly before a glass, calmly and deliberately coaxing a refractory crimp into place.

"Well, by thunder, they ain't!" shouted Mr. Man, a little annoyed. "I've emptied everything out of the drawer and there isn't a thing in it I ever saw before."

Mrs. Man stepped back a few paces, held her head on one side, and after satisfying herself that the crimp would do, and would stay where she had put it, replied,

"These things scattered around on the floor are all mine. Probably you haven't been looking in your own drawer."

"I don't see," testily observed Mr. Man, "why you couldn't have put my things out for me when you had nothing else to do all the morning."

"Because," said Mrs. Man, settling herself into an additional article of raiment with awful deliberation, "nobody puts mine out for me. A fair field and no favors, my dear."

Mr. Man plunged into his shirt like a bull at a red flag.

"Foul!" he shouted, in malicious triumph. "No button on the neck!"

"Because," said Mrs. Man, sweetly, after a deliberate stare at the fidgetting, impatient man, during which she buttoned her dress and put eleven pins where they would do the most good, "because you have got the shirt on wrong side out."

When Mr. Man slid out of the shirt he began to sweat. He dropped the shirt three times before he got it on, and while it was over his head he heard the clock strike ten. When his head came through he saw Mrs. Man coaxing the end and bows of her necktie.

"Where's my shirt-studs?" he cried.

Mrs. Man went out into another room and presently came back with her gloves and hat, and saw Mr. Man emptying all the boxes he could find in and about the bureau. Then she said:

"In the shirt you just took off."

Mrs. Man put on her gloves while Mr. Man hunted up and down the room for his cuff-buttons.

"Eleanor," he snarled, at last, "I believe you must know where those buttons are."

"I haven't seen them," said the lady, settling her hat; "didn't you lay them down on the window-sill in the sitting room last night?"

Mr. Man remembered, and he went down stairs on the run. He stepped on one of his boots, and was immediately landed in the hall at the foot of the stairs with neatness and dispatch.

"Are you nearly ready, Algernon?" asked the wife of the family, sweetly, leaning over the banisters.

The unhappy man groaned. "Can't you throw me down that other boot?" he asked.

Mrs. Man pityingly kicked it down to him.

"My valise?" he inquired, as he tugged away at the boot.

"Up in your dressing room," she answered.

"Packed?"

"I do not know; unless you packed it yourself, probably not," she replied, with her hand on the door-knob; "I had hardly time to pack my own."

She was passing out of the gate, when the door opened and he shouted;

"Where in the name of goodness did you put my vest? It has all my money in it!"

"You threw it on the hat-rack," she called back; "good-bye, dear."

Before she had got to the corner of the street she was hailed again.

"Eleanor! Eleanor! Eleanor Man! Did you wear off my coat?"

She paused and turned, after signaling the street car to stop, and cried:

"You threw it on the silver closet."

And the street car engulfed her graceful figure and she was seen no more. But the neighbors say that they heard Mr. Man charging up and down the house, rushing out at the front door every now and then and shrieking up the deserted streets after the unconscious Mrs. Man, to know where his hat was, and where she put the valise key, and if he had any clean socks and undershirts, and that there wasn't a linen collar in the house. And when he went away at last, he left the kitchen door, side door and front door, all the downstairs windows and the front gate wide open. And the loungers around the depot were somewhat amused, just as the train was puffing out of sight down in the yard, to see a flushed, perspiring man, with his hat on sideways, his vest buttoned two buttons too high, his cuffs unbuttoned and neck-tie flying, and his grip-sack flapping open and shut like a demented shutter on a March night, and a door key in his hand, dash wildly across the platform and halt in the middle of the track, glaring in dejected, impotent, wrathful mortification at the departing train, and shaking his trembling fist at a pretty woman who was throwing kisses at him from the rear platform of the last car.—Burlington Hawkeye.

Correspondence.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.

Dear Chronicle: The gentleman who, many years since, "ran a stationary engine from Boston to Lowell," cannot hold a candle to me as a traveller. Here I am, in the home of Boss Tweed, John Kelley, Tilden, and other great reformers, and the spirit of Martin Luther doesn't seem to animate me at all.

By the way, a very good route by which to reach this modern "Gotham" is the Norwich Line from Boston, via the New York and New England Road. I had fancied the great steamers Bristol and Providence the finest our coast lines could show, but I found a more commodious and better fitted stateroom on the City of New York than I have ever secured on the other boats, to say nothing of the advantage the boats of the Norwich Line offer to parties liable to mal de mer in avoiding the terrors of Point Judith. The later hour for leaving the "Hub" by this line is also quite an incentive for its patronage by business men, and its close connection with the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Ferry will ever make it popular with through passengers to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Richmond and the great South.

"Old Probabilities," (as usual,) gave great disappointment to many New Englanders visiting here on Saturday. The fog in the night, the showers in the morning, and the mud all day, seriously interfered with the programme of pleasure seekers having but a short time to tarry. Portsmouth and vicinity seems well represented, and a favorite resort for most of those having a moderate amount of leisure is the St. Cloud Hotel, kept on the European plan by the Rand Brothers, at the corner of Broadway and 42d street. Close to the Grand Central Depot, connected by horse cars with all lines of rail and steamer, with telegraph office, elevator, and all conveniences of modern device, the St. Cloud has won so great favor as a leading family hotel in the metropolis that other hotels of a like character are being rapidly established in adjacent localities, yet they will all lack the active and united effort of the three worthy "Sons of Portsmouth" who have assured such a success to the St. Cloud. Mr. Brazell, the grand chef, still attends to the wants of the inner man, which is a guaranty to all who patronize the hotel.

If I were to say wherein New York should most defer to much maligned Boston for supremacy I hardly know where I should begin. Imprimis, I would have a great fire, say $200,000,000 worth, in the districts that border the water, and that are supposed to do a great deal of business. Possibly old Purchase and a few other insignificant streets destroyed by Boston's conflagration might have emulated the squalor and antiquity of Greene, Houston, Vestry, Grand, and a host of other streets, in many parts; but certainly Boston never was disgraced in any way by such dirty, uncomfortable horse cars as run on the leading thoroughfares of this great city. I know nothing of their safety by night, I have found the conductors courteous and obliging, but the squalor and filth of equipment is simply unworthy the patronage of the honest laborer who earns the nickel with which he pays his fare, to say nothing of ladies and children who may wish to avail themselves of a mode of transit which monopolizes a good portion of most the city's best streets and avenues.

Central Park, even in mud and mire, holds forth attractions worthy public attention. Its walks, drives, bridges and zoological and ornithological displays will ever attract, amuse and instruct the crowd, to whom this magificent park is as free as the air they breathe.

Of the condition of the streets I will say nothing. The New York papers have tried to cleanse this Augean stable too long.

Yours, M.

Tilden's Comment on Tilden's Promises.

"Should I be elected President, the provisions of the Fourteenth Amendment will, so far as depends on me, be maintained, executed and enforced in perfect and absolute good faith. No rebel debt will be assumed or paid; no claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave will be allowed; no claim for any loss or damage incurred by disloyal persons arising from the late war, whether covered by the Fourteenth Amendment or not, will be recognized or paid. The cotton tax will not be refunded. I shall deem it my duty to veto every bill providing for the assumption or payment of any such debts, losses, damages, claims or for the refunding of any such tax."—Samuel J. Tilden, in his rebel claims letter.

"Experience has repeatedly exposed the futility of self-imposed restrictions by candidates."—Samuel J. Tilden, in his letter of acceptance.

Mr. Tilden is right as to the worthlessness of the "self-imposed restrictions" of democratic candidates. James K. Polk promised to prevent the repeal of the tariff of 1842, Franklin Peirce promised to resist the extension of slavery into the Territories, and James Buchanan promised secession should receive no aid and comfort from him, just as earnestly as Samuel J. Tilden promises that he will resist the payment of rebel claims, and their promises amounted to no more than his would if he should be elected President. If Tilden is elected it must be by the "solid South" and Tammany Hall—intimidation and violence in one section and wholesale fraud in the other—and when the solid South demands the payment of the enormous mass of Southern claims, and Tammany (as represented by the immaculate Kelly and the sainted Morrissey) demands the privilege of distributing the government offices, Tilden will yield as readily as he did to his soft-money partner on the National ticket, on the financial question. Decidedly, Tilden knows whereof he speaks when he says the "self-imposed restrictions" of (democratic) candidates are futile; and we have no doubt the old rat laughed right out loud when he wrote that rebel claims letter, which he hoped would help him in the North without hurting him seriously in the South, and whose "futility" he could readily make manifest when the proper time arrived.

News and Notes.

The grand jury in Lowell, Mass., at its last session found a bill of indictment against Laura A. Mank, alias Lulu A. Martin, for the murder of Charles Ricker, and she will be tried at a special session of the Supreme Judicial Court.

Captain Brewer of the steamer Chilian, from Kingston, Jamaica, at New Orleans, reports the severest hurricane ever experienced. At the Grand Caymans Islands 170 houses and a large number of fruit trees were destroyed. A portion of the island was submerged and a large number of cattle washed away. The storm lasted from Oct. 17th to the 21st.

During the heavy gale of October 16, an American schooner, supposed to belong to Eastport, Me., struck on a bar at the east end of Sable Island, and soon after went to pieces. All hands were lost. Five bodies and part of the wreck were washed ashore. She had a cargo of herring from Newfoundland or Labrador. About 150 barrels were saved.

Three Methodist ministers were shot by illicit distillers in Arkansas, Oct. 26th, while riding along the road.

The Sultan of Turkey is reported to have accepted a six weeks' armistice, and a hopeful view of the prospect for preserving the peace of Europe is now entertained.

A trunk blew up while in a baggage car on a railroad between Philadelphia and New York, Friday, and did damage amounting to $400. In the wreck of the trunk was found the remains of an infernal machine, consisting of a common round clock and a small pistol, so arranged that the hour hand of the clock fired the pistol, which pointed into a mess of dynamite or nitro glycerine. No one was hurt by the explosion. It is supposed the infernal machine was contrived for the purpose of facilitating robbery; but possibly it was an attempt at vengeance by some one whose Saratoga had been bursted by baggage smashers.

The cuisine and excellent management of the American House, Boston, continue to command the most favorable comment, and a "full house" is the response of appreciation which the public bestow on the efforts of its proprietors.

The Albany Times says that Tilden has settled with Mr. J. V. Grant, who was thrown out of his buggy in a collision with the Governor's horse, last July, for $4000.

M. Du Sommerard, Chief Commissioner of France at the Centennial, has written a grossly insulting and maliciously false letter to a friend, and the Paris Figaro has published it. This precious epistle concludes with an attack upon the virtue of American women, too vile to appear in print. The Marquis de Talleyrand has written a letter to Figaro, flatly and indignantly denying the truth of Sommerard's statements, and Minister Washburne has sent a strong letter on the subject to Duke De Cazes. If Sommerard really wrote the letter he must have been pretty drunk at the time.

One hundred and thirty blackfish were driven ashore at Yarmouth on Friday and sold to Provincetown and Wellfleet parties for $8 per head.

Schooner George Kilburn, before reported abandoned at sea, was towed into Gloucester on Saturday, by fishing schooner Ossipee.

Twenty-five thousand coal miners are thrown out of employment through the stoppage of work by several of the great coal companies of Pennsylvania.

James Murray, while walking on the Eastern Railroad track near Salem, Thursday evening, was struck by an engine and died in four hours after.

Frank Woolley, the man shot by his brother at Grafton, Vt., died Saturday morning. The house of his brother Solon, where the shooting was done, was burned to the ground Friday night. The origin of the fire is not known, but it is supposed to be the work of an incendiary. Solon Woolley's wife is credited with being the instigator of the murder, and also the incendiary.

The Episcopal Church Congress is to hold its session in Horticultural Hall, Boston, from the 14th to the 17th of November inclusive. The object to be attained is the full and free discussion of points relating to important moral, social, and religious questions. Among these topics are: The Prevention and Cure of Drunkenness, The Morals of Politics, and Secular and Religious Educations. The speakers engaged are of commanding ability. The list includes such names as Hon. J. W. Stevenson, James Emmott, A. H. Bullock, Dr. Elliot, Prof. Weir, Bishops Huntington and Whipple, and many others equally well known. Admission to the sessions is free to all who are interested in the topics.

Edward Matthews, a real estate capitalist, at one time worth eight or ten million dollars, with an income of eight hundred thousand dollars per year, has gone into bankruptcy. A depreciation in property, together with the collapse of a Georgia railroad which he bought, caused his failure. A few years ago Mr. Matthews stood as one of the richest landowners in New York.

Lucius H. Rickard, of Killingly, Conn., prosecuting agent for Windham county, is under arrest for taking $1700 in "hush money" from liquor-dealers, and is also under $5000 bonds in another case for defamation. He was debarred and convicted of theft a few years ago, but, notwithstanding he was known as a notorious bad character, the Windham county commissioners appointed him because he was a good democrat. Mr. Rickard is enthusiastic for Tilden and reform.

TORCH-LIGHT POLITICS.

On Monday evening the 2d Battallion of Hayes and Wheeler Guards was organized, with W. O. Sides as Major and Wm. A. Payson as Adjutant. The companies are officered as follows:

Company A—Thomas J. Mitchell, captain; Thomas Entwistle, 1st lieut.; O. D. Bryant, 2nd lieut.; D. J. Spinney, 1st Sergt.

Company B—C. W. Gardner, captain; J. S. Tilton, 1st lieut.; W. A. Ashe, 2nd lieut; C. B. Mason, 1st Sergt.

Company C—Jacob Haddock, captain; O. S. Loomis, 1st lieut.; S. L. Marston, 2d lieut.; John Lewis, 1st sergt.

Company D—John Turner, captain; B. F. Winn, 1st lieut.; Thos. Kennedy, Jr., 2d lieut.; Wm. Y. Evans, 1st sergt.

JOTTINGS.

On Wednesday evening Portsmouth Grange, No. 22, Patrons of Husbandry, are to have a special meeting and social jollification. A brief business session of the Grange will be held, for conferring degrees; and at 8 o'clock the customary picnic supper furnished at the social festivals of the Grange will be served in the hall, to be followed by literary exercises, music and dancing.

Lew Benedict's Minstrels appear at the Temple to-morrow eveing. Benedict himself is well known here; and the Philadelphia City Item says "the company in every respect is first-class, the performance chaste and interesting, and at the same time fresh and sparkling." The Trenton State Gazette says this troupe gave "one of the best performances of the kind we ever attended."

Mrs. Thomas Neil has resigned her position as organist at the Unitarian church, to take immediate effect.

A number of heavy sticks of timber have been hauled across Market square recently, on their way to Kittery from Rye and Greenland, to be used in the construction of Capt. Marcy's new ship.

The local reporter of the Journal says the democrats "demonstrated" and made a credible appearance. Has the reporter, from too much fooling round a democratic office, become so demoralized that he thinks the democrats are entitled to any more credit than formerly?

We would call the attention of our citizens to the opportunity which is afforded them of hearing Rev. Henry Ward Beecher upon the subject of "Hard Times" at the Temple this evening. It is now many years since Mr. Beecher has appeared before a Portsmouth audience, and it will depend very much upon the encouragement that is given the Society which has incurred the expense of inviting him here, whether we shall have the opportunity of listening to any other first-class lecturers this season.

Tickets for the Centennial and return, good for Wednesday, Nov. 1, only, to go, but for thirty days for the return, can be procured of Mr. Barrett at the Eastern depot on Wednesday, at $9.70 each. See advt.

Portsmouth is fast introducing all the hitherto distinguishing features of the large cities. There is a man sells peanuts and roasted chestnuts on the street evenings.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT.

Jomes Dunphy, of Beverly, master of schooner W. H. Y. Hackatt, was fined $75 and costs for an assault on the cook of the vessel while on the Grand Banks.

John Harding, who kept railroad boarders on the line of the Portland & Ogdensburg Railroad in Upper Bartlett, and sold rum, and was indicted for being a retail dealer in liquor without paying a special tax therefor, was brought into Court on a capias. The United States Attorney stated that he was under instructions from the department to permit Harding's case to be dismissed on payment of costs.

Case will be disposed of to-day. Jurors will come in at 12 o'clock, noon, to-day.

THE DOVER DEMOCRATS' SHOW.

The Dover Democrat of Friday comes out strong in description of the democratic demonstration in that city on the previous evening. It says "nothing ever before attempted" in Dover "would bear any fair comparison to it. It was a real, genuine, spontaneous outburst of the people." Of the Portsmouth delegation it says:

Portsmouth was represented by over four hundred men, and the uniformed battalion from that city made the most splendid appearance that ever greeted the eyes of Dover people. The torches and the banners they bore, with their white frocks, set them out, the objects of universal observation and admiration. The entire delegation from that city were a splendid looking set of men.

Not "the entire delegation," neighbor, for there was one company composed wholly of boys, and the other companies had a percentage of young men,—too old to be called boys, but not quite old enough to vote except in such places as Manchester's ward five, or the democratic wards of Brooklyn and New York city.

The same number of the Democrat contains a card from the chairman of the democratic committee on procession, thanking Col. Andrew H. Young for the free loan of his valuable horse and equipments for the use of Col. Frank W. Hilton, commander of the Portsmouth battalion, and Charles E. Smith, Esq., of the Kimball House, Dover, for the free use of four horses and equipments—Col. Young and Mr. Smith both being ardent republicans.

In another item the editor says: "the other night republican ruffians spiked the democratic gun on Garrison hill, as base an act as any villain ever did. And thus again last night, one or two of the baser sort in our procession undertook to set on fire the National flag of Charles E. Smith, hung from the Kimball House, with the republican candidates upon it. We have no language to fitly describe the baseness of such fellows. We wish they would keep out of our democratic processions, and go and hang themselves. A ruffian is a disgrace to any party."

We heartily concur in the assertion that "a ruffian is a disgrace to any party;" and we are heartily thankful that so large a majority of that class throughout the United States are working for Tilden and reform and in opposition to the republican party.

New Hampshire Items.

By the falling of a portion of Blodgett & Young's new block, on the lower end of Elm street, Manchester, Saturday, five men were badly injured.

George Chase, a man about 30 years of age, brother of James F. Chase, a stablekeeper of Dover, died very suddenly in the office of the latter, on Saturday.

Francis Potter, a carpenter of Concord, a respected citizen, dropped dead on Friday afternoon while engaged in working at his trade at Warner's pail factory, in that town. Apoplexy was supposed to be the cause.

Some workmen digging a cellar at Exeter, unearthed a decayed box containing thirty pine-tree shillings, for the most part very bright, and all dated 1652.

The republicans of Manchester had a rally on Saturday eveuing, Smythe's Opera House being filled. Hon. E. H. Rollins and Maj. James F. Briggs addressed the meeting. There was a lively rally at Winchester on the same evening; State Senator Twitchell, of Louisiana, who had both arms shot off a few months ago by a democrat White Liner, made an effective speech, and was followed by Ex-Postmaster General Jewell, who is a native of Winchester.

Gov. Rice, of Massachusetts, is to be at Manchester on Wednesday as the guest of Gov. Cheney, and in the evening the two governors will review the republican procession as it passes Gov. Cheney's residence.

Miss Jane Wallace, of Concord, a lady about seventy-five years old, died suddenly Saturday morning of apoplexy, while sitting at the breakfast table.

The Supreme Court at Keene was engaged last week in trying a will case, that of Lovell M. Walton of Chesterfield, with very able counsel on both sides,—for the will, F. A. Faulkner of Keene and B. Wadleigh of Milford; counsel for children, who were virtually disinherited, Woodward & Wellington, Keene, and Judge Sawyer of Nashua. During the trial one of the jurymen was taken sick, but the trial proceeded with the eleven jurors, and they, by their verdict, sustained the will.

Capt. Joseph G. Roberts, of Dover, had an American ensign that was presented to him by Co. H of the 6th Maine regiment in the late war, and which he consequently valued very highly, suspended in front of his residence on Second street. On the night of the democratic demonstration in Dover, last week, some of the "reformers," incensed probably at having to pass beneath the flag of the Union, tore down and carried off the flag, leaving only a few tattered rags on the line where it hung. The cowardly sneak thieves who thus mutilated and stole the Union ensign are of course rabid for Tilden and reform. On the same night, while marching in the procession, some of the "reformers" attempted to burn the flag suspended in front of the Kimball House, by setting it on fire with their torches as they passed beneath it. Quite a respectable "demonstration" against the old flag to be made in one night by the democrats of one small city, and before the "solid South" has assumed the National government, too.

—Mrs. Jane M. Walker, President Polk's sister, who died at Columbia, Tenn., a few days ago, left just 100 grand and great-grandchildren.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity for a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

Daily Chronicle.

—In 1873 the number of bridegrooms in England who could not write even their names in the marriage registers amounted to eighteen per cent. The number of women entering wedlock, but who had to affix an X to their register, was as high as twenty-five per cent. In 1874, the abstracts of which have just been published, the percentage had decreased to seventeen and twenty-four, respectively. London, strictly controlled by the central school board, had only eight per cent. of men and thirteen of women who could not sign the marriage register, while Bedfordshire had twenty-seven per cent. of men and twenty-three of women laboring under this disability, and North Wales as many as twenty-six per cent. of males and thirty-four per cent. of females.

—A Sunday school teacher was giving a lesson in Ruth. She wanted to bring out the kindness of Boaz in commanding the reapers to drop large handfuls of wheat. "Now, children," she said, "Boaz did another nice thing for Ruth; can you tell me what it was?" "Married her!" said one of the boys.

Forestalling Disease.

When we see that death is so close on the penalty paid for a fatuous disregard of the symptoms of approaching disease, should we not be warned against the folly of neglecting defensive measures when called for in our own case? Assuredly we should, and upon the first manifestations of ill health or decay of physical vigor, seek the aid of medicine. The fortifying influence upon the system of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters entitle that medicine of many virtues to the highest consideration as a preventive, and it cannot be too strongly recommended as a means of arresting the progress of malarious fevers, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, kidney and bladder troubles, gout, rheumatism and other disorders which in their incipiency are far more easily overcome than in their maturity—albeit, the great alterative has repeatedly demonstrated its power to vanquish them in their worst phases.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial secon nodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Young's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pains, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1. Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free From Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty; but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come. Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of them, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. A friend asked him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mabrie, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure this, they can cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrill, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend these Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the luxurious trying climate of New England!

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

—USE—

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.
